

jhs

OUR LADY OF GETHSEMANI

TRAPPIST, KENTUCKY

July 30, 1959

Dear Victor:

Here is a text beginning with "E". I have cooked it up a bit, but I think it will do:

Erat in Scete quidam frater nihil habens in substantia sua nisi tantum Evangelium, et ipsum vendidit in pauperum nutrimento dicens: Ipsum etiam verbum vendidi quod jubet: vende omnia et da pauperibus!

This comes out a good length and has a good feeling about it, besides fortunately representing one of the sayings we have printed, more or less.

As to the text for the spine, I like better the one with the commas, and agree with you in not liking the brackets.

I think the cover will be very attractive and look forward to seeing the proofs of it. But still more I anticipate your visit. Thank Carolyn for the two books from the library which got in yesterday. I now have to get down to some pressing work, so close in haste, but with all blessings.

Faithfully in Christ Our Lord

Jm Louis