ABOUT THE LIBRARIES

The Library Under Scrutiny

The University Senate Library Community and the Library Administration are interested in the present perceptions of the Library System, and suggested improvements in its services. The two are conducting a survey among the faculty, and responses to the questions will be considered in the future planning for use of resources.

Music in the Gallery

Dan Brock, tenor and guitarist, will perform a program of Irish songs on Friday, March 23, 1979 at 12:00 P.M. at the King Library North. Assisting Mr. Brock will be Nancy Senff, piano, Ned Ferrar, violin and Rodney Ferrar, cello. The program will consist of Irish folksongs accompanied by guitar as well as settings of Irish folksongs by Beethoven and Benjamin Britten.

Library Associates Annual Dinner

The University of Kentucky Library Associates will hold their annual dinner meeting on Tuesday, March 27, 1979, at 6:15 pm at Spindletop Hall, Lexington. The guest speaker will be Donald Hall, a prominent poet and editor. Mr. Hall will be introduced by Wendell Berry. Dinner reservations ($10 each by telephone (606-258-2651) or mail (c/o Special Collections, University of Kentucky Libraries, Lexington 40506); deadline is Friday, March 23.

Mr. Hall is an alumnus of Harvard and Oxford Universities. His most recent books are Remembering Poets (1978) and Kicking the Leaves (1978). The first contains Hall's account of personal encounters with T.S. Eliot, Robert Frost, Ezra Pound, and Dylan Thomas. The second are poems, many of them reflecting Hall's recent experience of returning to live on his ancestral farm in New Hampshire.

Publications from the King Library Press and music by the Farrar Trio will complete the evening.

The Library Associates are a group of library-minded alumni, faculty and friends of the University. Membership is open to anyone contributing $10 or more in funds or library materials. The associates help develop the library collections and sponsor programs; in the past they have brought to campus distinguished speakers such as Elizabeth Hardwick and Cleanth Brooks. Members of the Executive Committee who planned this year's program are: Morris Beebe, Jacqueline Bull, Samuel M. Cassidy, John Clubbe, Robert O. Evans, David Farrell, Lucy Graves, Betty Kirwan, Bill Marshall, Charles Metcalf, Mary Powell Phelps, Betty Tevis, and Paul Willis.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR GROWTH

Southeastern Library Association

The SELA membership committee is setting a goal of 6,000 members for the 60th Anniversary in 1980. This organization give a broad spectrum of types and sizes of libraries, allows interaction with others in congenial geographic regions big enough for exchange of ideas, small enough for intimate contacts. For membership information, see Paul Willis.

National Periodicals Center

The National Commission on Libraries and Information Science (NCLIS) is sponsoring an open forum on March 19-20 in Washington, D.C. to discuss the establishment of a National Periodicals Center. Some of the issues that will be addressed are:

- Basic services to be provided by the Center;
- Relationships with publishers and distributors;
- Eligibility and means of access; and
- Governing and funding.

If you have any questions, write
Alphose F. Trezza, NCLIS
1717 K St., N.W. Suite 601
Washington, D.C.

News of Future Conferences

Details of time, place, purpose will appear in later issues;
Underground Architecture
KLA Academic Libraries Spring Workshop / Conference
Midwest Academic Library Conference

Speical Libraries Association/Kentucky Chapter

The Spring Conference, March 23 at the Galt House, will feature "Focus on Economics" at its morning session. Speakers from the business world and from Frankfort will address the issue. A tour of the museum of Natural History provides information and relaxation for the afternoon. Visitors are invited for any part of the session. For further information, contact Janet Stith, Medical Center Library, UK, Lexington.

Symposium, College of Library Science

The College of Library Science continues its Current Issues Symposium series on April 6. Topic for this session is "Information for the Community". Speakers for the occasion are from various backgrounds and intersts. For further information contact Nancy Little at the College, University of Kentucky.

From Cold to Hot

A little while ago, we quoted Frankfort's advice on keeping warm indoors and out. Today, we recommend to you from UK's College of Agriculture, Cooperative Extension Service CHEAP (computerized Home Energy Analysis Program) an offer for a personalized plan for an energy-efficient home (cooling and heating).
