ENDINGS

Always an ending. Shall I never see
Some glory hidden from the slow, sure blade
Beneath whose sharpened edge all things are laid,
All beauty and all love? Can there be
Some rose that blooms beyond its farthest reach,
A sun that will not leave the blue
bright day,
A meadow flower that will not scatter away—
Some wave that is not lost upon the beach?
I fill my eyes with Dawn; I drink
it deep,
And day is lost to dusk and dusk
to night;
I watch the moon; it blinds me and I weep
To see it wanning like a weary light.
Oh earth, oh sky, oh sea! Tell me these lies.
Beauty lives always—and love never dies!

Reynolds-Daugherty

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Reynolds, Orlutown, Ia., have announced the marriage on Dec. 30, 1930, at Jeffersonville, Ind., of their daughter, Madeline, to Mr. William Moss Daugherty, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Daugherty, Nicholasville.

Mrs. Daugherty attended Coe College and the university where she was a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She has been connected recently with United Chautauque of Des Moines, Ia.

Mr. Daugherty, who attended Georgetown College in 1925, is now completing his pre-medical work at the university. He is a member of Omega Beta Pi, honorary pre-medical fraternity, and Delta Chi social fraternity. He plans to enter the University of Louisville Medical school in the fall of 1932.

The Garden Club will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Pryor, on West Second Street.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity will entertain Thursday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock with an afternoon tea in honor of Miss Elizabeth Luxon, the new fraternity house mother.

WILDCATS DRILL FOR NOVATION OF W. AND L.

By J. D. ADAMS

With the first game of the season behind them, the Wildcats set out today to curing some of the flaws that showed up in Saturday's game.

Though the Big Blue played brilliantly at times, the Maryville game was in a somewhat desultory fashion. The backs were faulty in their blocking, the ends missed tackles, and were slow in blocking on end runs and kicks. And the line was also slow in opening holes for the backs.

This week the coaches are attempting to remedy some of the faults in the line machine. Coach "Spinner" Campbell, backfield mentor, had his charges running past inside line and practicing stiff arms. The backs were also put through a session of blocking, and finished with a few sign drill. The linemen were being tutored by Line Coach Bernie Shively on the line points of blocking and tackling. The ends practiced on blocking and ran under down punts.

Thursday, October 7
This Saturday with the Generals of Washington and Lee has Coach Harry Gammage. Coach Gammage probably will have several back board sessions this week, using the information that he has gathered brought back from Lexington, Va., yesterday to build up a defense for the General plays. Coach De Hart who coached successfully at Duke last year, has returned to his former coaching position at W & L and has inaugurated a new system of attack for the general.

The Generals have three straight defeats to avenging the hands of the boys in blue and they are not apt to let a chance like that of this year slip. Coach Gammage said that viewed the Wildcat-Maryville scrap must have been encouraged, and will probably meet a little of glad tidings back to Jimmy De Hart.

The members of the Wildcat squad who witnessed the game with the Generals last year will be on the lookout for the tricks of their Virginia opponents and will be hard to fool.

The workout in the mud yesterday was relief to the boys who have worked out on hard clay for a month, and the feel of soft earth under their feet as a tonic to the squad. If conditions amount to anything the Wildcats will be worked over in the gymnasium on the game Saturday, and the scrimmages will probably continue until later in the week.

The frosh, equipped with the general plays will probably engage the Big Blue in a game on Saturday. Coach Gammage will probably hand out the boys some new plays and the rest of the week will be spent polishing up the offensive tricks of the Big Cats.

Speaking of offense, the Big Blue seems to have the power but lacks the smooth drive necessary for a high-powered scoring machine. The backfield of the Wildcats seems to have pep and it only needs practice and experience to develop a sterling combination.

The Big Blue in their workout Friday and in the game Saturday looked impressive in their new uniforms of silk britches and slick new jerseys.

The wildcats are able to boast of a squad that is in fine physical condition. Not a man is on the injured list thus far, and no hurts were picked up in the Maryville fracas. Trainer has had an easy time this year and the smell of victory does linger so persistently about the dressing room as it did formerly.

If the men continue in good shape throughout the current campaign, this one factor alone will insure some degree of success.

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

BY ROOKS

The Silk Panties Were Cute, Anyway

Many and varied have been the spoken opinions of the Kentucky-Maryville game, but it took a little three-year-old miss, seeing her first football game under the watchful eye of her proud mother, to tell the best story. It went like this:

Proud Mama: "Does mama's little girl like the big football game?"

Lovely Little Daughter: "Naw."

Proud Mama: "But why, honey? Why don't you like the football game?"

Lovely Little Daughter: "Cause it ain't cute."

All of which may sound a bit childish, or an answer to a "Bright Sayings by Children" contest, but the truth is there. The public in general had shown little interest in the Maryville game, and we have a suspicion that the players felt about the same way. The final score was disappointing, but we have little or no misgivings about the strength of the Wildcats. The boys have the goods and they're going to deliver. They will beat Washington and Lee by a greater score than they did Maryville.

Len Tracy, who called the plays Saturday to the crowd from the press box, is to be congratulated. We venture one suggestion: that he manage to give us the time left to play at various stages of the game.

Coach Elmer "Baldy" Gibb scouted the Washington & Lee-Davidson game Saturday, and Coach John "Spinner" Campbell was among those who attended the Maryland game. We now have enough data to figure out how to end the depression, or something.

FROSH WILL NOT PLAY CLEMSON THIS YEAR

By Norbert Campbell

In the last issue of The Kernel, October 2, there appeared a story by this writer relating to the next game that the Kentucky freshmen would play. The story stated that the Kittens would not see action again for a month, and that when they did engage in a game they would meet the Clemson College freshmen. The writer wishes to make an apology and a correction. The Frosh will not play the Clemson freshmen.

The green clad warriors of Coach Pribble and Len Miller will clash with the Vanderbilt first year men at Nashville, Tennessee, October 10. Now that they have one game in the old treasure chest, the Kittens have been going through some tough work during the past week. Last Thursday the coaches sent them through a stiff scrimmage among themselves, and ironed out some of the wrinkles that appeared in their play in their initial encounter with the Marshall college freshmen.

There has been a lot of improvement in the ranks of the "Greens," and the coaches have expressed themselves as pleased with their efforts. If this improvement keeps up, the Kittens can safely count on a successful season. The Kittens have not such a dearth of material, and what they have got is of the best.

Coach Len Miller's backfield has had two additions since the opening of the season. The two new men are: Alvin Cottrill from Lawrenceburg, and Babo, who gives Mt. Sterling as his home. These two boys are mighty valuable additions to the Kittens squad. Alvin Cottrill shows much promise as a back, and before the season is over may find himself occupying one of the halfback posts.

Alabama vs. Ole Miss 55-6
Duke vs. V. M. I. 44-0
Tennessee vs. Clemson 44-0
Florida vs. N. C. State 34-0

W. and L. FLOPS
Lexington, Va., Oct. 3—Davidson upset Washington and Lee's football hopes here today with a third period end run for a touchdown and a 7 to 0 victory.

The first half of the game was a relatively quiet punting duel. Collins carried the second kickoff to Davidson's 40-yard line, but Bailey was forced to punt. Pearce got Davidson's only first down of the half with an effective fake punt play. Pearce kicked to Mattox on the Generals 20-yard line, and on the first play Mattox fumbled, with Davidson recovering. McQueen promptly skirted the end for the touchdown, and King place-kicked the goal.

IN NICK OF TIME
College Park, Md., Oct. 3—A sustained 50-yard drive in the final period pulled the University of Maryland from the shadow of defeat in its opening Southern Conference game today, and ended in a touchdown and extra point which beat the University of Virginia 7 to 6.

The Old Liners reached the Cavaliers' line on four straight first downs, and May plunged over the one-foot line for the touchdown. Sharty Chalmers booted a perfect placement through the upright.

The Cavaliers scored in the second quarter when Sackett took a pass from Thomas and raced 15 yards over the Maryland goal. Sackett missed the try for extra point.

44-0
Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 3—The University of Tennessee strutted out a running type of play today to defeat a powerless Clemson College eleven 44-0. The Vols' land attack was featured by sensational end runs and two sets of speedy backs.

Led by Capt. Fordham at center, Clark and Harvin in the backfield, the Tigers strove desperately to hold the smashing Tennessee backs in check. Their attempts to advance through the Vols' line were futile and only in the last few minutes of the game did they gain a first down.

Tennessee scored two touchdowns in each of the first, second and third periods and one in the final. Coach Bob Neyland sent in a team composed largely of reserves during the last half.

FLORIDA
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 3—Slashing the Wolf Pack line in the third quarter, the University of Florida Gators today rolled North Carolina State College under a 34-0 score in the opening Southern Conference game for both teams.

The Floridians were held to one touchdown in the first half, State battling on even terms the first period. However, led by Hughes, substitute fullback, and Rogers, the Gators ran over three touchdowns in the third period and a fifth in the last quarter.

Durham, N. C., Oct. 3—The Duke University Blue Devils defeated Virginia Military Institute 15 to 0 here today to celebrate homecoming day and to present Wallace Wade his first victory as their coach.

Duke pushed over touchdowns in the first and third periods, with Kid Brewer, captain, carrying the ball on both occasions. Mullen added the extra point after the second score with a placement.

The Virginia Cadets offered unimpressive opposition to Wade's charges, who likewise failed to display any sustained offensive power. Numerous penalties, including one for 25 yards and three for 15 yards each, added to the troubles of the Duke players.

Wildcats Lack Punch In 19-0 Victory Over Maryville Saturday

The Wildcats failed to impress 5,000 fans, who saw the game Saturday, with their 19-0 score over the Highlanders of Maryville College.

When Alabama trounced the Wildcats last year 19-0 Kentucky thought they were badly beaten, but when the University of Kentucky only whipped Maryville, a fighting little team, 19-0 the same fans were disgusted.

Each fan had in mind the terrible slaugher of previous years, and the 33-0 let-down Tennessee handed them on the week before.

Fans didn't know that Kentucky only used three or four of their weakest plays to defeat Maryville. Fans didn't realize that Maryville has her best team in years.

Several of the players were asked how they felt about the game. They all answered in the same way: that they were not disappointed.

During the first quarter the Wildcats showed plenty of power. They marched right down the field and got within scoring distance when a fumble gave the ball to Maryville.

With the touchdown and an extra point to their credit the Cats relaxed. Their alertness was negative and Calloway, Maryville's power and brains began to drop passes into the waiting arms of his ends.

Twice they registered first downs on long passes, and once a first down was the result of a lucky 12 yard run by Woodard.

The half ended without much ado, but the third quarter started out in much the same manner as the first quarter.

A third touchdown came in the fourth quarter after Kelly kicked a brief flash of his 37 yards only he carried the ball for 37 yards only to trip 20 yards from the goal.

He rushed off 15 yards on the next play, and Urbanik trekked the remaining distance for the third and last marker. Kelly was seen

COUNCIL PASSES ON 'BIG TEN' OF SOUTH

The first official step toward Kentucky's participation in the proposed "Big Ten" of the Southern Conference was taken yesterday when members of the Athletic Council approved a report of Dr. W. D. Funkhouser giving the tentative plans and regulations of the organization.

The council also selected Dr. Funkhouser to represent the university at a meeting early in December of the representatives of other schools that are expected also to become members of the organization.

The new association will lessen the chances for a championship conflict such as has been the case in the Southern Conference during the past few years.
