KENTUCKY CLOSSES BRILLIANT YEAR

NEW BASKETBALL COURT IS GREATEST FACTOR IN PROGRESS OF PAST YEAR

Athletics and Dramatics Take Lead in Campus Activities

'24-25 PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Big Football Stadium Will Be Nearing Completion Next Fall

During the past year, the University of Kentucky has striven, under difficult circumstances, to improve its standards so as to rank with the highest and best Universities of the country and its efforts have not been in vain. It has had rebukes from Frankfort, from Centre and Transylvania, but yet it remains the victor. It has failed to get needed appropriations but the Kentucky pride and initiative generalship of its leaders have carried it on. Graduates are going out into the world, taking their places on pinnacles, where they rightfully belong, and it's president stands out as an ideal for University presidents.

The most important stride toward the greater Kentucky University is the new basketball building. It is a handsome structure valued at $90,000 and represents love and loyalty of Alma Mater on the part of each subscriber.

Dr. John J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, Prof. McHenry Rhoads, Superintendent of Public Instruction in Kentucky, claim the University of Kentucky for their Alma Mater.

President Frank L. McVey is president of the Association of State Universities, an honor worthy of his leadership and ingenuity.

The University has on its campus the strongest National fraternities in the world and its locals are some of the best in this and surrounding states. All adhere to strict scholarship and by so doing raise the standards of the institution among the leading schools of the country.

Athletics

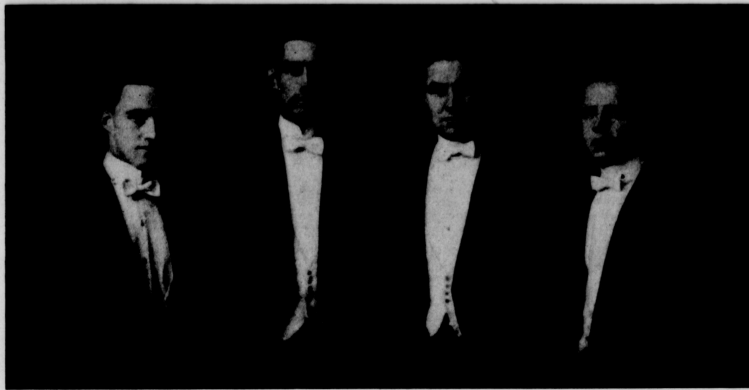

The varsity football squad had a fairly successful season with four victories, three defeats and two ties. Their most notable achievement was accomplished November 17 when the Wildcats held the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech to a 3 to 3 tie. "Dope" had it before the game that State would be submerged by the wonderful Tech team, but, spurred on by the tunes of "On, On, U. of K." and "My Old Kentucky Home," the Kentucky lads fought like true Kentuckians and Sander's educated toe brought to Kentucky one of the greatest moral victories ever won.

The Cats, on Nov. 3, received their annual trimming from the "Praying Colonels" at Danville in a sea of mud. The score was 10 to 0, closer than it has been for years, and we predict that the 1924 battle will be between two evenly matched eleven.

Kentucky won from Marshal, Cincinnati, Maryville and Georgetown; lost to Alabama and Tennessee; and

A male quartette, composed of Robert Clem, Earl W. Baughman, Elbert de Coursey and Earl Heavrin, members of the University of Kentucky Glee Club, has been selected in preference to forty-six other University Glee Club quartettes to sing and entertain at the Crater Lake National Park, Crater Lake, Oregon, during the coming summer. They will leave Lexington for Crater Lake on June 15, and will be under the supervision of the National Government. Not only will they sing, but will act as forest rangers in the early mornings, reporting forest fires and scouting the Crater Lake country.

A few weeks ago a form letter sent out by Mr. Thompson, in charge of the Crater Lake National Park, to every State University in the United States. As a result of the description the local quartette received from Prof. Carl Lampert of the University of Kentucky, Mr. Thompson selected these men, feeling that they were the ones that he wanted.

Crater Lake, Oregon, is near Medford, Oregon, and near the California coast. The park is situated in one of the most beautiful sections of the world and within its narrow confines some of nature's wonders exist.

During the past two seasons the Glee Club, of which this talented quartette is a member, has toured Kentucky and the North and East. Last year it was in the employ of the Agricultural Department of the University and during that time appeared in musical programs throughout the country, spending one week at Chicago during the year. Because of the versatility of the singers they were named "The Original Quartette" and will sing under this name during the coming summer.

Each member of the quartette has had some experience along their line of work. Clem, de Coursey and Baughman have sung in the east, giving concerts in different cities and over radio. Baughman, last year, was a member of a quartette in Rochester, New York.

Heavrin and Baughman graduated from the University last year and Clem and de Coursey will graduate with the June class this year. Heavrin was a member of the Law College and expects to follow this profession; Baughman was a student in the College of Engineering and held a position with the General Electric Co., of Schenectady, N. Y., last year; Clem expects to teach and de Coursey is pursuing the medical profession, the last two being students in the College of Arts and Sciences. Baughman has secured a leave of absence from his company in order to become a member of "The Original Four" again this season.

GOVERNOR FIELDS WILL ATTEND GRID DINNER

Senator Stanley and Other Prominent Men to Be Present

Alpha Delta Sigma, men's honorary journalism fraternity, will be host at the third annual gridiron dinner to be given June 9 at the Phoenix Hotel. These dinners are modeled after the famous gridiron dinners of the Washington newspaper correspondents.

Governor W. J. Fields and private secretary, George C. Waggoner, accepted an invitation Saturday to the dinner. They were called on personally by J. Sterling Towles, President of Henry Watterson Chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, and J. A. Estes, alumni representative.

Invitations were mailed Saturday to editors, publishers, politicians and business men throughout the State. About 200 are expected to attend, many of whom have already accepted. Senator A. O. Stanley accepted some time ago. Dr. Frank L. McVey is expected to attend.

JUNIORS CONDEMN AND ABOLISH SENIOR COURT AT BIG MASS MEETING

Five Suspended Men Are To Have New Hearing

PRES. McVEY ATTENDS

Authority to Punish Offenders To Be Given to Men's Government

A few days ago the activities of the Senior Court were brought to the attention of the University officials. The Senior court is an outlaw organization according to both the statutes of the State and of the University.

The names of the men who were accused of participation in the court were submitted to the officials. The matter was given to the Discipline Committee and the accused were ordered to appear before this body to explain their actions.

As a result of the investigation five men were suspended until after commencement. There was no intention to deprive the men of their diplomas or credits, but because of gossip the news was spread among the students that the men would not receive their diplomas or credits.

The occasion was responsible for a general discussion of the situation. A mass meeting was called by the President of the Senior Class of all the Junior and Senior men in Dicker Hall Monday night at 7 o'clock.

McVey Speaks

President McVey attended the meeting and presented the attitude of the officials in regard to such matters. He pointed out the dangers that might arise from forcibly laying hold of a man and punishing him, especially if he carried firearms. He showed that murder might result. He emphasized the fact that participation in such organizations was punishable by commitment in the penitentiary, according to the laws of the State. He condemned such organizations and asked the students to meet the University half way to abolish Senior Court.

Carl King, a student of the Junior class, then pointed out the fact that a student summoned before the Discipline Committee had no chance to defend himself. He asked the President to see that the students were given a fairer trial. He said that the five men under suspicion were martyrs to a cause in which most of members of the upper classes were participants. He stated that had the suspended men been permitted to present their side of the difficulty, they would not have been suspended.

W. M. Billiter, President of the Junior class, then took the chair and stated that the matter was one for the Junior class to decide as they would be the Seniors next year. A motion to this effect was called for; "That the five suspended men be given a new hearing; that the Men's Student Government Council be given the power to punish the violators of the traditions of the school, openly and publicly, and, if this was carried out that the Junior Class would agree to abolish the Senior Court." The motion

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS ARE VERY LOYAL BODY

Friends of University of Kentucky Recognized as Alumni in Behalf of their Interest in Its Welfare

The Alumni Association considers itself fortunate in numbering among its associate members a group of loyal men and women, some of whom are very distinguished and hold honorary degrees from the University in consideration of their achievements and interest in the affairs of the school.

Probably the best known of the associate members of the Association, specially to the late classes, is Carrie Bean, University postmistress and manager of the book store. Miss Bean has been connected with the University for about eight years, holding the position of postmistress before the branch of the book store was opened on the campus. She considers every student her friend and they regard her in the same light. No alumnus takes a more active interest in the athletic events of the University than Miss Bean. In consideration of the influence and assistance she renders not only to the students but to the institution as well by her interest Miss Bean was made an associate member of the Alumni Association two years ago. During the Greater Kentucky Campaign Miss Bean was active and successful in raising funds for the stadium.

Wilson Gibson

Although not so well known to the greater body of the alumni, one of the most distinguished and scholarly associate members, William Gibson, also possesses the honorary degree of LL. D. from the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Gibson, who is at present president of the Pittsburgh Brake Shoe Company, has held many important positions with railroads and manufacturing companies. He is, in addition to being a very thorough engineer, a master of the English language and an authority on literature. For many years Dean Anderson, a personal friend of Mr. Gibson, has invited him to deliver a lecture to the students in the College of Engineering each year.

President James K. Patterson after hearing one of these lectures wrote: "The lecture impelled me to seek and to enjoy the further acquaintance of Mr. Gibson. During his subsequent visits to the State University to lecture before the engineers on technical training and to large audiences on general literature I have never missed an opportunity to be present and profit by the message which he had to deliver. His range of acquaintance with the best authors is wide and intimate. Saturated by the best thought of the past and of the present his facile style of expression enables him to present to an audience the essences of his accumulated stores of information in such a way as to hold the audience spellbound by its country strength, its beauty and its charm." The above tribute was written for an introduction to a book, "Letters to My Son," which Mr. Gibson published several years ago.

D. F. Crawford

A second distinguished citizen of Pittsburgh, who is an associate member and holds the honorary degree D. Eng., is D. F. Crawford, vice-president of the Westinghouse Battery Company, and also of the Locomotive Stoker Company. Dean F. Paul Anderson recently said of Mr. Crawford, "The present status and practice of the whole Pennsylvania Railroad Company in its motive power department is due more to the ability of D. F. Crawford than to any other man." Mr. Crawford was born in Pittsburgh in 1864 and commenced his career before he was twenty years old. Much of his education was received at night schools after he had begun to make his own living.

Both Mr. Gibson and Mr. Crawford are very kind in assisting the engineering students to obtain positions after leaving college. At the recent banquet of the Pittsburgh Alumni Club both men were present to assist in enter-

CAPT. C. C. CALHOUN, ex-'90

"I am interested in the University first, because I am a Kentuckian. I cannot understand how any true Kentuckian could be otherwise. For a number of years, having been more or less absent from the state, I have perhaps had a better perspective than others. Although I have had no personal interest whatever, it has been a matter of much surprise and deep regret to me to observe the lack of interest and proper support which as a rule has been manifested toward the University. Knowing Kentuckians as I do I am confident this is because conditions are not generally understood and appreciated.

"There is nothing more dear to my heart than the growth and development of Kentucky and her institutions along proper lines. And when I think of what Oxford has been to England what the University of Edinburgh has been to Scotland, and what the University of Paris has been to France, and what the great universities of our greatest states have been to them, and of the possibilities of the tremendous service of our own University of Kentucky I cannot feel other than a profound interest in the University. The University with its mechanical and engineering department on one side, balanced by its agricultural department on the other, is maintaining the Seniors on their inspection trip.

George W. Colvin

George W. Colvin, former state superintendent of public instruction, and candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, was made an associate member of the Alumni Association several years ago in recognition of the interest he has always taken in the welfare of the University.

Mr. Colvin was given an honorary degree of LL.D. in 1923.

Vincent Bartlett

Vincent Bartlett, a former Centre man now living in Philadelphia, has been made an associate member of the Philadelphia Alumni Club on account of his interest in the University as a college of his native state. His own alma mater has no alumni club in that city so Mr. Bartlett expressed a desire to meet with the University of Kentucky Alumni and join with them in reminiscences of his native state.

Another enthusiastic associate member is A. H. Mason, chief engineer of the Buffalo General Electric Company, who always takes a great deal of pride in showing the Senior Engineers a good time while they are in Buffalo on their inspection trip. He stands very high in the engineering world and the University appreciates the interest he has taken in its graduates.

Former Faculty Members Loyal

Prof. H. H. Wilson, of Cincinnati, formerly an instructor in the College of Engineering here, has been an associate member of the Cincinnati Club. Mr. Wilson in the years he spent on the campus became very much attached to the University and regards it with as much love as do many of the graduates.

Dr. L. C. Daniels, a former instructor in the department of chemistry, now at Buffalo is an associate member who meets very regularly with the Buffalo Alumni Club.

partment on the other, if adequately equipped and properly supported would add a thousand fold to the material development of the state, which would be followed by corresponding development in the fine arts and cultural pursuits. But the University has a higher mission even than this, I mean, thru the spiritual development of the young men and women of the state. Through it, the real spirit and soul of Kentucky can be awakened and can find expression.

I learned something of this through the three and one-half years I spent working my way through the institution. For these reasons I have been happy, although it came at a very inopportune time for me, to unite with others in doing what I could to further the campaign for the student loan, the memorial and athletic funds and to create greater interest in the work of the Alumni Association. This latter I consider more far reaching in furthering the work of the University than any other one thing. Through it we hope to perfect University Association organizations in every county in the commonwealth and thus bring the benefits of the work and influence and service of the University home to the people of every community.

"In this connection I wish to express my deep appreciation to my associates who have done so much during the past year and a half along these lines the result of which are just beginning to manifest themselves.

"These opportunities and results I hope will make a strong appeal to all former students and to the present class of 1924 to join and unite wholeheartedly with the Alumni Association in the effort to make the University of Kentucky the greatest institution of its kind in the South as it very properly should be.

"Respectfully and fraternally,

"C. C. CALHOUN."

Capt. Calhoun was recently re-elected president of the Alumni Association.

REUNION CLASS 1919

It looks like the Victory class of 1919 will not have a reunion that will be 100 per cent in attendance, but the affair is certain to be 100 per cent enthusiastic if a premature judgment can be made from the postcards that have come in response to the secretary's letters.

The well-known irony of fate has been working overtime against some of us according to the replies, and even this Cupid person has been rather careless in shooting around. Witness for example the information from Walter S. Baugh, who says that he will be unable to attend because he will make a trip east during the summer and have company on the way back. Others have declared that the shackles of labor, and mundane bosses will decide against their fondest desires, and they will be absent. But the list who will come guarantees a reunion that will be a reunion.

Here they are, as gathered from the replies that have come in thus far: Bessie Conkright, Freddy Jackson, Mrs. H. Dickson (Mildred Collins), John J. Leman, Headley Shouse, Felix Shouse, Elizabeth McGowan, Mrs. Vaneta T. Hurlacher, Mrs. R. E. Tolles (Elizabeth Featherston), Herbert H. Greene and Walter C. Piper. Of course, Headley Shouse will head the grand marches if any, and all the bunch who are anywhere near Lexington will be there.

A roll of the unfortunates is not as large, but it is still too large. Fritz DeMey writes that we are to say "Hello" to all the girls he never met. It's his fault for taking Mechanical. H. P. Pettit writes from Bloomington, Ill. that it will be impossible. Homer Bell is ordered Philadelphia for that date. The letters to L. L. Charkins, Gilbert Frankel and Ruth Cardwell were returned.

A letter from Miss Kallbreier included the sorrowful news that William J. Kallbreier died May 16. Perry Thomas was killed recently in an automobile accident in Texas. Death has made a space in our ranks which we will not be able to forget during our reunion days.

-C. E. Pianck, Sec'y.

J. IRVINE LYLE, '96

A while back the office received a letter from J. Irvine Lyle, class of '96, in response to one written him by the secretary. The Alumni Secretary requested Mr. Lyle to put down in writing his reasons for being fond of the University and desiring to see it become a "Greater Kentucky Institution."

The letter from Mr. Lyle was written by John Esten Bolling, class of '15, at the request of Mr. Lyle. Mr. Bolling wrote:

"Mr. Lyle feels that his affection for the University is divided into three phases. In the first place, he saw the first football game ever played on Stoll Field in the spring of '91, the opposing team being Georgetown. Mr. Lyle was in the prep at that time and has some amusing reminiscences of the occasion. It seems that the Kentucky players knew nothing whatever of football as distinguished from the old game of Rugby and it was the new game which the Georgetown bunch proposed to play. They therefore had to delay the game for a short period while the rules of the new game were explained to the Wildcats. Mr. Lyle recalls that there were a number of minor infractions of the rules, this being inconsequential feature of the game inasmuch as Kentucky won. It may interest some of our present students and some of our younger alumni to know that Kentucky won from Georgetown and that she had neither a knowledge of the game as it was played nor a coach.

"Later on Mr. Lyle was very prominent in the military department. He was captain of the artillery for three years and senior officer of the battalion for two years. He was also some star on the track and gridiron. Therefore Mr. Lyle feels that his participation in the athletics of the University brought to him a pride and a spirit of loyalty which is probably the base of his very deep affection for the school.

"In the second place he says he feels deeply indebted to the University for his education.

"In the third place, he says that since leaving the University his interest has never for one moment lagged because "Little Paul" Anderson has for years been his liaison officer thru whom he has secured the best men in his business and through whose intimate association he has acquired deep understanding of the University's hopes and ideals."

The Alumni Office has received few letters which point out clearer the gratitude which a loyal alumnus may feel for his Alma Mater. Mr. Lyle is chairman of the Stadium Building Committee and was the first alumni member of the board of trustees of the University.

The other members of the Stadium Building Committee are: Frank Daugherty, of Philadelphia; A. V. Lester, of Dayton; D. V. Terrell and J. White Guyn, of Lexington.

From the activity now manifested on Stoll Field it looks as if the committee was going to make good its word and see to it that the new structure is ready to be dedicated before the 1924 season is over.

LETTER FROM ALUMNI PRAISES STUDENT SPEAKER

The Alumni Office has received a letter from the principal of one of the high schools of the state in regard to a member of the Student Speakers' Bureau who delivered the commencement address at his high school on May 9.

The principal wrote: "The public says that it was the best address ever delivered in our school."

The particular member of the Bureau who made this address will not be named for there are any number of speakers in the Bureau who have appeared before high schools and civic organizations out in the state with a great deal of success. The Student Speakers' Bureau was the idea of a member of the Senior class of this year. It was started in the spring of 1923 and met with instantaneous success.

Not only do the student speakers derive much from the opportunity but the influence and good will they create towards the University is very valuable.

CINCINNATI CLUB METTS ON JUNE 18

The Cincinnati Alumni Club announces a dinner-dance for the evening of June 18, at the Club House at the Zoo. All alumni and former students, and students at home for the summer holidays, are urgently requested to attend. Any of these who do not receive invitations should communicate with the secretary, Miss Adele Slade, phone S-870-R. A member of the faculty is invited to deliver the principal address. In addition to this there will be a number of "stunts" by various groups. The announcement says: "We should be glad if U. K. students would plan a stunt for the program." A preliminary meeting is held today by the committee on arrangements and officers of the club at the home of Mrs. C. C. Studer; after the business meeting this will be a Mah Jong party. Owing to illness of some of the members the dinner dance, originally planned for April 26, had to be postponed until June 18.

AU REVOIR!

The Kernel, with this issue, makes its last appearance for the school session of 1923-24. Due to the proximity of examinations and commencement exercises, it has been deemed advisable to close the fiscal year of the Kernel at this time.

In a retrospective view, the Kernel looks with pride upon some of its achievements; and upon its blunders and omissions it looks with chagrin. It acknowledges its shortcomings in its endeavor to carry out to fulfillment the ideals of the University. As a medium by which the University, the student body and the alumni are held together by the presentation of subjects in which all are vitally interested, the Kernel feels that it has accomplished its purpose to a large extent.

But instead of patting ourselves on the back, we look forward to the next school session with the resolve to strive harder than ever before to attain higher ideals and accomplishments.

For the past few months the Kernel has been published by the staff elected for next year. We wish here to thank the members of the staff for their co-operation and interest manifested. Such a publication cannot be produced by one or two members, but the work of all the staff is responsible for those things of interest if they are presented.

For some years the Kernel has aspired to the establishment of a printing plant of its own. Many benefits are to be derived from such an arrangement. The delay in publication and inconvenience necessitated by the distance from the Kernel office to the printing plant would be abolished. Another advantage would give the members of the staff an intimate knowledge of the mechanism of printing, an invaluable aid to the journalist.

Due to the efforts of Professor Grehan and others vitally interested in the project, the Kernel hopes in the fall to install the machinery and equipment necessary to set the type for the paper at least. With this beginning it hopes to save enough money to install a press at a later date.

With the beginning of the next school session, the Kernel will move to new quarters. Due to the crowded condition of the Journalism Department rooms, there has not been sufficient working space. The Kernel will have a spacious room in the building formerly used for the Girls' Gym. This building is now being remodeled and when finished will be an admirable office skyscraper.

To those who graduate this year, the Kernel wishes them God-speed in their life's work. To those who do not finish it expresses the hope they will return in the fall to continue their scholastic duties. To all, both faculty and students, it wishes a happy and prosperous vacation.

"THE SENIOR COURT"

The Kernel wishes to congratulate The University of Kentucky on the type of men of which its student body is composed; it wishes to congratulate the institution for having such a man at its head as is President Frank L. McVey, and further it wishes to congratulate the Junior Class for the whole-hearted response it made to the President's request for co-operation.

Last Monday night a group of 600 men of the two upper classes assembled in Dicker Hall. Their purpose was evident; five of their number had been suspended for alleged participation in the activities of the "Invisible Senior Court." The men were incensed because they felt that their classmates were being made victims of circumstances and were suffering for the "sins" of the others. The meeting was not called secretly and the President of the University signified his intentions of attending when he was informed of the printed notices being circulated.

We can say with definiteness that the resourcefulness and tactfulness of President McVey saved the University much unpleasant publicity. In a matter-of-fact, conversational speech, he presented the attitude of the University toward such organizations and his own personal opinion of the matter. He asked the Junior class to be the generous, sympathetic type of men that the student body has always been and then offered to retire. Cries of "stay, stay," from the assembled group assured the President that his presence was not obnoxious and he stayed until the meeting adjourned.

Definite action was taken, in that the Junior class offered to meet the University half-way and said that they would abolish the "Invisible Law Enforcers" if the University would see that the students had a fair chance to present their side of all difficulties which might arise. The subject was placed in the form of a motion and was carried without a dissenting vote.

The Senior Court is no more; offenders will be dealt with by the Men's Student Government Council, openly and publicly; the five suspended men will get a new hearing, due to the efforts of President McVey and next year's Senior Class.

We again congratulate the student body and the institution for the happy termination of what might have been a very serious matter, greatly affecting the future of the University and the State.

Thomas R. Underwood, managing editor of the Lexington Herald, will be master of ceremonies. An elaborate program of stunts and take-offs with many wisecracks at the expense of the state and nation has been arranged. The program is so arranged that all present will take part. After the program a master of ceremonies for next year will be elected.

Those in the active chapter are: J. Sterling Towles, President; R. L. Kirk, Thomas Duncan, Robert VanPelt, Eugene B. Moore, Madison Cawein, Troy Perkins, Wickliffe Moore, Jasper R. McClure, Emmett Bradley, Dwight L. Bicknell and Herbert Carter.

The Senior year. Cadet Lieutenant C. D. French, of Lexington, was awarded the Lafayette Hotel cup for the highest standing in the Junior year. Cadet Lieutenant John Dabney won the Lexington Herald cup for highest standing in sophomore year. William Leivenson won the Lexington Leader cup for the highest standing in the Freshman year.

The winner of the pair of field glasses for the highest combined standing in the Military Department and other departments of the University was Roscoe Cross. The field glasses were awarded by the Kentucky chapter, Kentucky Reserve Officers' Association, and presented by Captain A. E. Denton, president.

The honorary cadet sponsors of the regiment presented Colonel Freeman with a silver fruit bowl, as a farewell gift. The sponsors formed and marched down the parade grounds and stood at attention before Colonel Freeman, while Miss Helen King, the Colonel sponsor, made the speech of presentation.

Brigadier-General Aultman presented commissions to twenty-two Senior cadets who have completed with distinction the basic and advanced courses of study and, having been recommended by the professor of military science and tactics, were tendered appointments by the President of the United States, as Second Lieutenants of Infantry in the Officers' Reserve.

The following cadets received these commissions: V. G. Ashby, of Slaughters; J. E. Byers, of Leitchfield; C. H. Cecil, of Hazel Green; Roscoe Cross, of Mayfield; Elwood Farra, of Lexington; E. W. Fitch, of Lexington; T. G. Foster, of Lexington; T. L. Garwood, of Terre Haute, Ind.; W. G. Gernstrung, of Louisville; C. W. Gray, of Petersburg, Ind.; J. H. Layman, of Leitchfield; J. W. McDonald, of Owensboro; J. W. Phillips, of Hazel Green; W. N. Schwab, of Louisville; C. B. Shacklette, of Brandenburg; C. M. Spilman, of Lexington; C. F. Taylor, of Mayfield; C. J. Tate, of Greenville; A. W. Thompson, of Catlettsburg; Lowell Trautt, of Morganfield; M. A. Trusty, of Corydon.

In the reviewing party were Governor William J. Fields, of Kentucky; Brig. Gen. Dwight Aultman, commander of the fifth corps area; Col. Charles D. Rhoades, chief of the fifth corps area staff; Capt. A. E. Denton, president of Kentucky chapter, Reserve Officers' Association; Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky; Col. George D. Freeman, head of the Military Department at the University.

DR. GRAHAM IS GOING TO HATAI REPUBLIC FOR YEAR

Dr. Robert Graham, formerly head of the veterinary science department of the University of Kentucky for seven years and now chief of the animal pathology and hygiene division at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana, has been granted a year's leave of absence in order that he may take charge of and organize animal disease control work in the republic of Hatai, according to word received here.

Dr. Graham has been prominent in animal disease control work for a number of years and has made a number of important contributions to that field of science. He is well known in Lexington and at the University of Kentucky, where he and his wife, a former Lexington girl, have many friends on the University staff who were associated with him while he was located here.

We urge you to patronize the firms who advertise in the Kentucky Kernel.

Poet's Rendezvous

Each week a prize of $2.00 will be given to the author of the poem that appears as the winner in this corner. All students are eligible and all poems must be in by Thursday in order to be judged for the issue of the succeeding week. Prize is donated by Professor Enoch Grehan.

(This Week's Winner) A NUMBER SONNET

(After the Old Hebrew)

There are three things which grieve me
Yes, four things which fill my heart with sorrow—

A child's mouth at the edge of tears,
A woman gazing on a dead dream,
A young man lost for a wrong love,
And an old man, alone in the cold.

LILIAS

(Second Choice)

Lilias—lovely lady!
What are you like?
You are like a vivid flame and like a charming boy.
You are like the dash of new snowflakes on my upturned face.

You are like a tumbling mountain torrent, saving nothing.

You give and spend and scatter, and there is still to spend.

You are the color of the west, the culture of the East, and the charm of the South.

You are like a far free spirit imprisoned in cool convent halls.
You are scarlet roses all but smothered in a neglected garden.

You are spring's April queen and September's rich maturity.

You are like the dawning and the evening; you are like the noon-tide and the twilight.

O, Lilias—lovely lady!
What are you like?

(Written to Mrs. Matthew Savage Walton.)

The poems were judged this week by Professor G. C. Knight.

Saturday, May 31—Alpha Gamma Delta founder's day banquet at the Phoenix Hotel at 7 o'clock.

Saturday, May 31—Phi Alpha Delta dance in the evening at the new gymnasium.

Brilliant Sigma Nu Dance

One of the really beautiful dances of the University's social season was that to which the members of Gamma Iota chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity, were hosts, Saturday evening in the new gymnasium.

The orchestra platform, which was in the center of the room, was enclosed with black, gold and white bunting streamers, which were extended to the ceiling and joined by an illuminated emblem of the fraternity. Smaller shields were used and the lights were shaded by lanterns in the form of the fraternity emblem, a five-pointed star.

The programs were attractive booklets of black celluloid with the fraternity emblem embossed in gold on the cover. Fruit punch was served during the evening and the Blue and White orchestra furnished the music. Five hundred guests were present for the delightful affair.

Engineers' Mask Ball

Dicker Hall was the scene of a delightful dance when the Engineers entertained Friday evening with their annual mask dance. The decorations were of green and gold. Streamers were hung from the ceiling to which balloons, of bright colors, were attached. A large platform decorated with many lanterns was constructed adjoining the main hall. Serpentine and confetti were used and the Kentuckians furnished the music.

Prizes for the best matched couple were won by Miss Josephine Hughes and Mr. William Maddox, who were dressed as a Dutch couple. The prize for the best girl costume was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Gaskell, who wore a blue riding habit and silk hat.

The hosts were the members of the Engineering College and over four hundred and fifty guests were present for the lovely affair.

Hubbard-Berry

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morgan Hubbard announce the marriage of their daughter, Laura Gwen, to Mr. James Milford Berry, of Moorefield, Ky. The marriage will take place the latter part of June.

Miss Hubbard was graduated from the University last June and was one of the most prominent and well liked girls on the campus. She was a member of Alpha Xi Delta fraternity and a number of honoraries.

Mr. Berry graduated from Transylvania, where he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is now a framer in Nicholas county.

To Give Tea

The members of Alpha Gamma Delta fraternity will entertain with a tea, Saturday afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock at the chapter house on South Limestone, in honor of the mothers and patronesses of the fraternity.

Alpha Xi Party

The Alpha Xi Delta fraternity entertained with a linen shower at the chapter house Wednesday afternoon, in honor of the two bride elects, Misses Elizabeth Ellis and Laura Hubbard, who are to be married in the summer.

The house was beautifully decorated with spring plants and flowers. Little Ella D. Webb, dresses charmingly as a cupid distributed the gifts. Ices, cakes and bonbons were served during the afternoon. About fifty guests called.

Dean and Mrs. Boyd Entertain

Dean and Mrs. P. P. Boyd entertained with a lovely informal reception Wednesday evening at their home on Waller avenue, in honor of the Seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences. The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and plants. Dr. and Mrs. McVey, Mrs. Charles Judson Smith, Dean Blanding, Dean and Mrs. Melcher and Mrs. Giles assisted in the entertainment.

The University quartet sang several numbers and games were enjoyed during the evening. Ices, cakes and bonbons were served and about 150 guests were present.

To Visit Europe

Miss Margaret Horsefield is planning a trip to Europe this summer with Mrs. J. W. Jones, an instructor at Hamilton College. They will leave Quebec June 12 for London where they will spend a week. They will cross the Channel to Amsterdam by aeroplane and thence will go to Paris. During the latter part of August they will make an eight day trip through Southern France, Northern Italy and Switzerland.

INTERNATIONAL HORSE RACE HELD ON STOLL FIELD

Spark Plug Wins From Hoot Mon in Driving Finish

Spark Plug!
Hoot Mon!

This is how the horses in the International Derby, run on Stoll field last week, finished.

Jockey Emmett Milward was astride Sparky and rode a masterful race, winning in driving finish after trailing the Scotch horse until the three quarters post was reached. At this point Jockey Tom Coons, holding Hoot Mon under rein, realized that the superb riding of Milward was bringing Sparky into a threatening position but it was too late to stem the tide. Hoot Mon swung around crossways of the track and balked while Jockey Milward shot his mouth forward, winning the famous race in a driving finish.

Barney Google followed a close third with his putter.

Jockey Milward was presented with a handsome china cup trophy imported from China, while the second jockey was awarded the most coveted prize of all, a pint of strong White Water.

The crowd, the largest that ever witnessed a race on Stoll Field, was colorful and variegated, as was the Red-tie trio that favored the 'audience' with a number of nerve-wrecking selections.

LITERARY FRATERNITY IS ORGANIZED ON CAMPUS

Local Chapter Petitioning National Organization, Sigma Upsilon

The organization of the first literary fraternity at the University of Kentucky was recently completed. It is known as the Omega Epsilon Literary Fraternity. The active chapter is composed of the following students from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes: Malcolm F. Henry, president; Charles T. Razor, vice-president; Kenneth C. Reeves, secretary and treasurer; Troy Perkins, Joe Hays, Virgil L. Sturgill, W. K. Berryman, Ellery L. Hall, Madison Cawein, Jr. and Joe Lee Davis.

A few months ago this group of students, interested in literary pursuits and feeling keenly the lack of such activities on the University campus, came together to form an organization in which to find expression and cultivation for their inclinations and abilities. The petition for recognition, when presented to the University Senate and Council, was passed. Membership will be based primarily on literary ability, the active members being chosen from the three upper classes of the student body.

Omega Epsilon is now petitioning Sigma Upsilon, Men's National Literary Fraternity. Sigma Upsilon is the largest fraternity of its kind in the country, and has thirty active chapters. It is primarily a southern organization, having been founded at the University of the South and Vanderbilt University.

The new organization held an informal banquet at the Lafayette Hotel, Monday, May 26, at 7 p. m.

tied with Washington and Lee and Georgia Tech.

The brand of freshman football in the University for 1923 did not compare with that of the "wonder team" of 1922, which won all honors in the South. The 1923 team bowed in defeat to Centre twice, once in Lexington and once at Danville. Eastern Normal was the only team in Kentucky that was beaten by them. They won from Sewanee but lost hard tussles to Tennessee and Vandy Frosh.

With the State Championship flag in their possession the University of Kentucky basketball team looks forward to the 1925 season and the winning of the Southern championship. This year they were handicapped by the lack of a gymnasium sufficient for college basketball and consequently when they went to the Southern Tournament at Atlanta they were completely lost and outclassed on the spacious playing floor. All in all, the Cats won thirteen contests and dropped two, one by a one point margin to Mississippi A. & M. They did not lose a game in the state, winning two contests from Centre and two from Georgetown.

With the new basketball building in which to play, the Cats of 1925 will be hard to beat and conceded that they win the championship of the state they will look good in Atlanta.

It was in track, however, that the University of Kentucky showed decided superiority over its competitors. In the State meet, Kentucky came first, having fifty-one more points than Centre which came second. In the Montgomery Southern Conference meet we came second. Ray Hall set a new conference two-mile record in 9:58 1/2.

James Brady set a pole vault record in the State meet at 11 feet, 6 inches. George Woolf, captain-elect for the coming year, set a new javelin record at 173 feet.

The 1924 season saw the University girl's basketball team win the championship of the South. One of their greatest victories of the year was their defeat of Peabody, former champions. They won every game in Kentucky, as well as in the South, closing the season with ten victories and no defeats.

The May Festivities

The Su-Ky Circle has come to mean more and more to the University as time has passed. The members of this organization fostered and put over on May 2, one of the biggest events in our history. The festivities began at 10:40 a. m. and lasted until 12 p. m. The activities of the day included Mortar Board and Lamp and Cross pledging, May Day parade, coronation of May Queen and finally the "Gingham Dance."

Public Speaking

During the past semester public speaking has been one of the most vital factors in the advancement of the University. Speakers have gone to different parts of the State to speak in the interest of the institution, debates with different schools have been held and the local speakers have been victorious in most of them. Commencement speakers are in demand at the present time and the department of public speaking bids to become one of the strongest departments in the University.

Dramatics

The Romany Theatre, with Carol M. Sax at its head has forged ahead in rapid time and is now one of the best Little Theatres in the United States. With such plays as "Liliom," "Intimate Strangers," "Mr. Pim Passes By" and "The Merry Game" the local playhouse has been recognized as one of the best in the country.

The Strollers, with their production of "Seventeen" this year, gave the people of Kentucky a treat in the way of stage productions and the 1924 season has been one of its best.

The Dramatic Production Class, under the direction of Professor Sutherland, presented "The Doll's House" last week and the play was cleverly written and superbly acted.

A number of the Romany players have been called to "bigger company," among them being Frank Morehouse, who will be a member of the Malcolm Fasset Players, Carl Goetz, who will be a member of the Famous Players-Lasky Company at Hollywood; Miss Warden, who will go to New York in August to become a member of the Theatre Guild, and Miss Violet Young, who will give readings from Barrie for the Redpath Chautauqua.

Y. M. and Y. W.

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. have come to be very positive influences in the lives of the students. In addition to the weekly business and devotional meetings, members of the faculty have met with students in their groups to discuss religious subjects.

Music

The Glee Club, under the direction of Professor Carl Lampert, has toured the State during the last semester and has pleased capacity audiences on each appearance.

A quartette from the Club has been selected to sing at Crater Lake, Oregon, this summer.

The University Military Band, dubbed "The Best Band in the South," has been giving regularly pleasing programs. Its greatest function, however, is on the football field, where it has stimulated the Cats to win and tie games seemingly lost.

Building Program

The building program which has been undertaken by the University officials is a stupendous task but with the help of Governor Fields and his $75,000,000 bond issue, it is hoped that the program will have been sufficiently completed within a few years.

Already one of the finest basketball plants in the South graces the campus and work on the new football stadium is gaining headway.

Extension Work

The Department of University Extension has become within the last year one of the greatest mediums of advancing the University. It is, at present, serving approximately 1,000 students all over the world. University professors are going to different parts of the State to teach classes and those who cannot attend these classes are taking work by correspondence. Regular college credit is given this department.

The Interscholastic Basketball and Forensic Tournaments have proven to be a means of extending the University to different parts of the State. Yearly, hundreds of students come from different high schools to participate in these affairs.

There are about three thousand boys and girls, men and women, being served by the University of Kentucky.

Military Department

The Military Department is, perhaps, the best department in the University for men. It develops quickness of thought and action and develops the body at the same time.

It was inspected for distinguished classification some time ago but as yet, nothing has been heard of the showing the local cadets made.

Coaches Named

New coaches have been secured for the varsity football and freshman football, these being the best available. Coach Murphy, for the varsity, says he hopes to develop a team unbeatable in Kentucky football circles.

was made, seconded and carried without a dissenting vote.

In order to emphasize the fact that the Senior Court was not composed of a few men, a demand was made of the 600 assembled students that all who had at any time participated in the activities of court, arise. About twenty percent of those present arose.

The Senior Court is abolished by order of next year's Seniors; the dangerous appearing difficulty has been satisfactorily smoothed over and the old, mob-spirited, dangerous organization drifts into nothingness.

TO EDIT CAMPUS BULLETIN

Miss Dorothy Cooper, of Lexington, and Miss Lois Hargett, of Augusta, have been appointed editors of the campus bulletin of the University for the year 1924-25. The appointment is usually made at this time of the year and their work will begin next September.

No announcement has been made of the result of the meeting of the discipline committee of the University of Kentucky Tuesday afternoon to reconsider the cases of five men recently suspended from the institution on charges of participation in activities of the Senior Court.

Last convocation is being held in the new gymnasium today. President McVey is the speaker. His address is directed to the students and faculty.

U. K. TENNIS TEAM WINS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Second Consecutive Year That Wildcats Have Copped Title

The University of Kentucky tennis team won again this year the championship of the State by virtue of defeating Georgetown, Berea and Kentucky Wesleyan. Centre College had no team this year, hence the Wildcats' old rivals were not contenders.

The Blue and White team suffered only one defeat during the season, being defeated by the strong North Carolina team who came here fresh from the Atlanta tournament.

Those playing on the team this year are: C. Spillman, captain; J. R. McClure, manager; A. Greenbaum, James McFarland, George Ragland and Karl Lewis. Professor Downing was again coach and much of the success of the team is due to his untiring efforts to promote and further the interest of tennis at the University.

Work on the Y. M. C. A. Handbook is progressing nicely and the copy will be in the hands of the publisher early in June, according to the editor. About 2,000 copies of the book will be printed this year and they will be ready for distribution when school opens in the fall.

The scheduled game between the University of Kentucky baseball team and the Centre College Colonels last Saturday afternoon at Danville was called off because of the rain. The second of the series is to be played in Lexington Saturday of this week on a field to be selected. Mr. Boles, athletic director, said it had not been decided which of two fields, Sullivan or Stivers, would be used. "Turkey" Hughes will probably be Coach Barger's selection to pitch this final contest.

U. K. STUDENT MAKES STARTLING STATEMENT

In Lengthy Interview Bares His Past Wolly and Fully

Have been since 1914 getting this far and now am only a pink Junior. (Not a straight Junior but can carry a pink card.)

Came to Lexington September, 1914. Entered Ag. College as "short horn," two-years short course.

Took first semester and decided to make up my high school work. Went over to Berea upon advice of Prof. E. L. Gillis, to do this work but didn't like the loks of things over there so I rechecked my trunk to Lexington after staying from shortly after 3:00 o'clock one day until 1:10 the next. Had sold all of my books to Frank Battaille and taken a refund from the Business Office but when I came back, after deciding that I could attend Transylvania prep or the high school in Lexington—then Morton High School, now Lexington's Junior High—where I would be better satisfied. Came back to the University and deecided to finish the one year of my "short horn" course after getting my job back in the gym office as clerk and talking with M. E. Ligon who was principal of Morton High and who showed me where he could allow me credit for some of my "college" work, agreed.

Moved into "Clay Hall" which stood in a place which was a part of Patt Hall campus and was torn down during the summer of 1916. The steps leading from the pavement up to the yard are still in place but one can see that they only lead up to an open space. Got carpenter tools and converted the back porch into a bed room and moved in upon consent of Mrs. Marshall, who was at that time matron of men's dormitories. She has since died; and a mighty good woman died, too. The move was made early in February, 1915.

Founded "The Lodge of Jilted Brethren," April 5, 1915; was the Grand Senior High Mo' Gal for three years following.

Masonic Club. Lamed Pe, secretary, 1915-16-17-18-20-21.

Strollers, "The Climbers," property Manager; "The Admirable Crichton," cast and property manager; "The Thirteenth Chair," property manager; "Lady Windemere's Fan," property manager; "Seventeen," treasurer.

Operas produced by Department of Music: Property manager "Robin Hood," "Mikado," "Erminie" and "Martha."

Candidate for office of president of Freshman class, 1917.

Bob Davis and I painted the first '21 to appear at the top of the stack of furnace room located near Administration building, on a late September night of 1917. (Another '21 appeared on the opposite side of the stack two mornings later.) Also set fire to the old hack the Sophomore class of '20 had placed on the roof of the boiler room.

Y. M. C. A.: Representative to Student Conference at Winchester, Ky., December, 1914; Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky., December, 1922; Friendship Council, 1922-23, 1924-1925 Business manager Hand Book.

Graduated from Morton High (now Junior high) school, Lexington, June, 1917.

Representative to High School Boys' Conference, Lexington, Ky., December, 1916.

Little Theatre: Property manager, season 1921-22.

Tug 'o War: Pulled 1914-15, 1915-16, 1916-17, 1917-18, 1918-19. Did not pull was in Camp Knox, 1919-20, 1920-21, 1921-22. Was on the winning side twice and was late once (but all undressed for the affair). They pulled it off ahead of appointed time.)

Ag. Society: 1914 to 1925.

Masonic Club: 1922-23.

My greatest fear is that I shall graduate at the end of summer school, 1925.

PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN ENGINEERING STUDENTS

Katherine Cleveland and G. R. Pain Win Two of Four Awards

Prizes will be awarded to three members of the College of Engineering on Commencement Day by President McVey.

A prize of $100 in gold has been given by Mr. Howard P. Ingels, a graduate of the class of 1905 from the University of Kentucky and now a prominent banker engineer in New York and trustee of the University of Kentucky, to the student in the Junior Class of the Engineering College, who shows the most proficiency in public speaking during his Junior year. The person to receive this prize will be chosen by judges selected by Professor Sutherland some time this week.

The Major Ernest B. Ellis prize of $100.00 in gold to be given to the student making the best record during their first two years in engineering will be awarded to Miss Katherine Cleveland, of Lexington.

The prize to the male student making the best scholastic record during the first two years of his college course in engineering will be 100 awarded by Senator Thomas A. Combs, well known business executive and leader of civic affairs in Lexington, to Mr. G. R. Paige, of Clinton, Ky.

PROF. GOOD ELECTED PRESIDENT OF SIGMA XI

Dr. Nevin M. Fenneman, of the University of Cincinnati, Talks

At the third annual banquet of the society of Sigma Xi, held at the Lafayette Hotel Friday night, May 23, Professor E. S. Good, of the University of Kentucky, was elected president for the coming year. Dr. J. B. Miner, head of the Department of Psychology, was elected vice-president; Prof. M. N. States, of the Department of Physics, secretary, and C. S. Crouse, of the Department of Civil Engineering, treasurer. Dr. F. Elizabeth Le-Sturgeon and Dr. W. D. Valleau were elected members of the executive committee to serve with the officers of the society and the retiring president, Dr. W. D. Funkhouser.

A feature of the program was an interesting talk by Dr. Nevin M. Fenneman, Professor of Zoology at the University of Cincinnati, who chose as his subject "When the World is Full." Dr. Fenneman stated that our grandchildren will probably live to see an over-populated world in which there will be a continual struggle for a sufficient food supply.

Six associate members were initiated into the society at the meeting. They are: Lilburn Allen, Valden Cates Ashby, Morris Wilson Beebe, Hubert Dixon Crider, Miss Katherine Brooke Gunn and J. Holmes Martin.

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser gave the address to the new members and was responded to by J. Holmes Martin. Expressions of sympathy and good wishes were sent to Professor A. M. Miller, a member of the society, who is ill in Indianapolis.

"BOILER MAKERS" OUTING

For a great number of years it has been the custom for the Senior Class in the College of Engineering to have a final "get together" just before commencement. This has always been in the form of a dinner, but this year the class, faculty and a few special friends will go to Boonesboro for the afternoon of Thursday, May 29. They will spend the afternoon swimming, boating and wandering over the hills and at six o'clock a chicken dinner will be served at Boonesboro Park.

The Boonesboro Park will not be opened to the public until May 30, so the entire park has been turned over to the Senior Class for their annual event.

ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Dean and Mrs. Thomas P. Cooper entertained delightfully Wednesday evening at their home at the Scovell Place, in honor of the Seniors of the Home Economics and Agricultural College.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Announcements have been received announcing the marriage of Mr. Fenton Warren Clare, class of 1923 and Miss Ruth Elizabeth Sullivan, of Brandy Station, Va., May 15, 1924. The bride lived in Lexington for a short time, and attended the University for one year.

ROMANY STAFF DECIDES TO CLOSE FOR SEASON

Will Open Early Next Fall With Student's Play, "What's Wrong?"

The staff of the Romany Theatre decided at its last meeting to postpone its fifth production until the first week in October because of probable hot weather in June and because of examination week which would necessarily cause a decrease in the student attendance. The campaign for the sale of tickets for the second season, which will open early in November, will be held the second week in October.

The first week in October, which will be "University Week," the Romany will present Troy Perkins' brilliant comedy, "What's Wrong In This Picture?" The cast will include the author, who will be remembered for his delightful portrayal of "Mr. Pim" in the second production of the theatre; Miss Mary Lyons, whose work in "The Thirteenth Chair" will never be forgotten by those who saw it; Miss Violet Young, Oscar Hambleton, Ed Gans, and others. Full announcements will be made in the fall.

The Romany Theatre opened in the middle of January with a presentation of Franz Molnar's vivid drama, "Liljom." This was followed by A. A. Milne's "Mr. Pim Passes By," Booth Tarkington's "Intimate Strangers," and Arthur Schnitzler's "The Merry Game" which was the Romany's own translation of "Liebeleli." From 800 to 1,400 persons attended each of these plays. Next year, with the equipment complete, the theatre will probably enjoy even greater success.

One of the most encouraging results of the Romany Theatre is the interest the students have shown. The Romany players always look forward most eagerly to the sympathetic student audiences. Their appreciative discussions of costumes, the settings, and the lighting effects, and their reading of contemporary drama, especially other works of the authors whose plays have been presented at the Romany, would alone make the winter worthwhile.

FRESHMEN WIN TWO GAMES

The University of Kentucky freshman baseball team won two games last week from the Woodland Athletic Club team on the Woodland park diamond. Both of the games were won by the score of 7 to 3. These contests marked the close of the freshman schedule for this season. Numerals will be awarded to members of the team at a meeting of the Athletic Council to be held before the close of school.
