NORMENT WILL BE NEXT KERNEL EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Staff For Next Volume Selected By Kernel Board and Staff; Only One More Issue.

Gavin Norment, former student in the Journalism Department and now city editor of the Henderson Gleaner, will be editor-in-chief of the 1919-20 Kernel. Louise Will will be managing editor and Robert Raible will be assistant editor. J. P. Barnes will manage the business end of the paper.

These appointments were made at a meeting of the Kernel board and staff recently and the new members are being initiated into the particulars of their positions by the staff that is soon to retire. Norment has not been in school for the last semester, but he showed marked ability when he wrote for the Kernel in the early part of the 1918 session. He will return to school in September and has signified his acceptance of the place offered him.

Louise Will, who has been one of the assistants in the publication of the Kernel for this year, is regarded as one of the best writers in the Journalism department, and her ability at copy reading and editing is well known in the school. She will assist the present managing editor in the publication of the last edition of the Kernel and be ready for the position in the fall. Robert Raible has devoted much of his time this semester to the Kernel and has demonstrated a news sense and an ability for "make up" more than once. He will be Miss Will's right hand man in the next volume of the Kernel. Barnes was assistant manager this year and has learned the ropes of the business end so well that the step into the higher position will be easy. It is planned to change the business policy of the paper for the next year and Barnes has this under consideration.

It has been the custom in the past years to have the new staff issue the last edition of the Kernel, immediately after their appointment, but owing to the absence of Norment and other extenuating circumstances, the present staff will continue as editors and will be assisted by the new appointees. Most of the reporters for the forthcoming semester will be taken from the number who have worked this semester, but others will be chosen from the school as they show the required ability.

BEREA STUDENTS VISIT EXPERIMENT STATION

Fifty-five students from Berea College were in Lexington Monday inspecting the experiment station farm and the management of the farm and dairy. They were guests of the College of Agriculture at a luncheon in the University canteen.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. HOSTS TO STUDENTS

Minstrel Is Feature With Frazier and Rogers As End Men.

The Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. gave a very novel entertainment in the form of a minstrel Saturday evening, May 17, on the Patterson Hall lawn. Emery Frazier and Duane Rogers, as end-men, kept the audience in an uproar of laughter, and the readings given by Misses Blanche Hayden and Catherine Reed and William Moore were greatly appreciated. The musical program was also very clever. Besides the minstrel features, fortunes were told, and bonfires over which wieners and marshmallows were roasted were built in various places on the lawn.

PRESIDENT PLEADS FOR STUDENT CO-OPERATION

Tuesday Chapel Address Points Out Effects Of Celebration and Requests Confidence Of Student Body.

"I have not a middle-coddle view of life at all and I want students to have their fun, but I think they should have the reputation of the University first in mind," said Dr. McVey in Chapel Tuesday morning in reference to the celebration that took place Thursday night. He said that he had called the meeting in Chapel for the intention of presenting to the students a few points he felt that they had overlooked.

"I had given considerable thought to my decision on the tug-of-war and held consultation with the presidents of the Freshman and Sophomore classes and others concerning the wisdom of holding it, presenting the matter fairly and above board," the President said. "I think the results of the celebration are unfortunate and that the University will likely suffer in consequence of its occurrence at this particular time."

He appealed especially to the students to protect the buildings of the University and said that he felt that they had not seriously considered the matter of marking up the buildings or they would have acted differently.

President McVey said that now since the University has adopted a broad outlook, such celebration should be considered old fashioned and as things of the past. He asked that the students co-operate with him and said that he desired their confidence in the greatest degree. In return he promised confidence in the student body and wanted the men and women leaving the University to be leaders, that Kentucky might assume the place she should hold among the states.

STUDENTS CELEBRATE WITH COLLEGE NIGHT

Youthful Exuberance Finds Expression In Pranks On Campus and Elsewhere.

Virtually the entire male student body celebrated with an old fashioned "college night" last Thursday evening. During the course of the night a bonfire was built on the campus, the steel cable stretched about the Administration Building, the whistle tied down, a parade given through town and the skeleton of a horse raised on the flagpole near the Administration Building.

The program for the evening had been decided on the night before at a meeting attended by fifty representatives of the three upper classes, when the question was discussed and plans made for the biggest "college night" ever held on Kentucky's campus. News of the forthcoming celebration was spread broadcast Thursday and at 10:30 that night more than three hundred students had congregated on Stoll Field. Here they were addressed by one of the students, told of the plans for the night, who the leaders were to be and were reminded of the consequences that would attend any insubordination or refusal to obey those in command.

From Stoll Field they marched in a body to the Science Building, where the tug-of-war cable was procured. Then the cable was carried in serpentine form to Administration Building around which it was completely wrapped, effectively blocking the entrances and surrounding roads. The next move was to the Civil Building, where a mule, previously secured, was led in and left gazing in mild surprise at the fire extinguishers, which adorned the walls. The wagon which had been used to haul the debris from the back of the old dormitory to the bonfire on the gravel stretch in front of the tennis courts was taken in and left with its Damon from whom it had so seldom been separated.

The whistle was next on the well prepared program and that was soon sounding in full blast. The whistle caused a hurried visit from the police and fire departments. The fire chief was met at the edge of the campus by the committee assigned to it, and one man placed on each fire fighting machine to direct the man at the wheel so that the machines would not run into the cable that was stretched about the buildings. The police after an inspection and assurance that no depredation were to be committed left the campus.

A cherished skeleton of Doctor Pryor's was the next object of attention for the men. After each man in solemn file had walked by and shaken it by the hand it was ceremoniously

STUNTS ON TAP AT LITERARY MEETING

Philosophian Society Will Be Host To Every Literary Society On Campus Wednesday Night.

A joint meeting of all the literary societies on the campus, featuring a splendid program, speeches, music, refreshments and a general good time, will be held at Patterson Hall Tuesday, May 27, at 8 o'clock, with the Philosophian Literary Society as hosts. Every member of every literary society, besides all friends and former members of the Philosophian, are invited to be present.

The program will consist of a talk by Professor Farquhar and a musical feature furnished by each society represented. Besides this, each society is asked to prepare a stunt, short and preferably ridiculous.

COMPANY A WINS COMPETITIVE DRILL

De Mey Presents Best Drill-Company of Battalion; Bell Wins Individual, With Prewitt and Griffin Tied.

Commanded by "Fritz" de Mey, "A" Company, won the prize of $65 offered by the University for the best drilled company in the battalion in the contest held Wednesday morning.

Aurynne E. Bell won the individual prize of $5 for the best drilling man in the Sophomore class, and J. Burton Prewitt and J. Griffin tied for the honors for the Freshman class.

Col. H. H. Pfeil, head of the army recruiting service for this district, was judge of the contests and gave the decisions. The competitive contests between the companies was the first part of the program and this consisted of close order drill and a few of the more difficult problems in the school of the company.

When the personal competitions were called, each company was divided into platoons and the process of elimination used to thin the ranks to the best men of each platoon. Bell "stood up" longer under the test commands of the colonel and was awarded the prize. In the Freshman contest Prewitt and Griffin were left from a large field of contestants. The commands, "Right Step, March; Mark Time, March; Backward, March" were given. On the fourth command each man came to right shoulder arms. On the sixth command, Prewitt lowered his rifle to "trail arms" and Griffin remained at right shoulder.

Colonel Pfeil and Major Byars could not decide which action was the more correct and have written to Washington to ask for a ruling on the question. As soon as a reply is mailed the prize will be awarded.

OUT DOOR THEATRE TO BE USED FOR PAGEANT

Home Economics Girls To Provide Costumes and Refreshments; Big University Affair.

The University of Kentucky is to have an outdoor theater upon the campus. Memorial Grove, which is situated near Stoll Field and where the fifty-one trees were planted in honor of the boys who lost their lives in the war, is the site for the amphitheater. A large open hollow will form the stage and the slopes surrounding it will seat about two thousand.

The construction of the theater will be begun in a short time and will be used for the first time in the production of "The League of Nations," the spectacular pageant which is to be presented on May 29 at 8 p. m., under direction of the English Club of the University. The theater will not be entirely finished by that time, but the pageant will show what an added effect is given by its use.

The stage committee for the pageant is composed of Professors Whiting and Mabie, of the English Department; A. O. Whipple, the superintendent of grounds and buildings; E. D. Freeman, of the Engineering College, who will have charge of the lighting; Grover Creech and James Dixon, one of the authors of the pageant.

"The League of Nations" will be one of the most spectacular presentations ever given by the University and one that requires more co-operation than anything attempted before.

Home Ecs Provide Costumes.
The Home Economics Department is making all of the costumes needed for the pageant and Home Economics girls have charge of the different episodes which will be pictured, their business being properly to costume all who take part. The costuming of the English Episode will be under the direction of Helen Taylor; that of the French by Sarah Harbison, the Italian by Maude Asbury and the American by Virginia Croft. Lameraux will be director of the whole of the costuming and her committee for the dances will consist of Elizabeth Kimbrough, Virginia Downing, Fannie Heller, Mary Heron, Lois Brown, Lucille Blatz, Thompson Van Deren.

The History Department has under its direction the historical setting and also the "epochs" as far as the historical feature is presented. Prof. Butt is the chairman of this committee.

The dances will be given under the direction of Miss Bean, director of woman's athletics. Her committee will consist of those already mentioned of the Home Economics division and also Christine Hopkins, Adele Slade, Nancy Smock, Elizabeth Marshall,

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA PLEDGES FIVE MEMBERS

Men Prominent In Journal- istic Endeavor In Uni- versity Taken Into Honorary So- ciety.

Henry Watterson Chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary journalism fraternity of the university, held its annual pledging exercises last Friday in the office of Professor Grehan. The new men pledged are: Jesse Tapp, '20, of Corydon, editor-in-chief of the 1920 Kentuckian; Ed Parker, '20, Mayesville, business manager of the 1920 Kentuckian; Robert J. Katoie, '21, Louisville, assistant editor of the Kernel for next year; J. P. Barnes, '21, Bardstown, business manager of the kernel for next year, and Donald Dinning, '22, Franklin, sporting editor of the Kernel. The active chapter includes Enoch Grehan, head of the Department of Journalism; Thornton Connell, editor-in-chief of the Kernel and sporting editor of the Kentuckian; Frederick Jackson, business manager of the 1919 Kentuckian; Charles Planck, managing editor of the Kernel, and Lee McClain, who is on the staff of both the Kernel and the Kentuckian.

"Alpha Delta Sigma, like other honorary fraternities of the university, chooses its members from the outstanding students in the university, who, because of personal ability, scholastic standing and moral worth prove valuable in that fascinating and of the world's greatest game—Journalism."

Alpha Delta Sigma was founded at the University of Missouri in 1898 and the Henry Watterson Chapter at the University of Kentucky in 1914 by A. S. Mackenzie, national president of the fraternity, who was then dean of the Graduate School here. Initiation followed by the annual banquet will be held soon.

KENTUCKY STOCK SENT TO TRINIDAD, W. I.

Bluegrass Thoroughbreds in Carload
 Shipment To Island; Third
 Purchase in State.

For the third time Dr. J. Lionel Shannon, Trinidad, West Indies, has come to Kentucky to purchase stock for the St. Madeleine Sugar Company Ltd. This time he bought a carload of mixed stock from Kentucky farmers on the advice of Prof. W. S. Anderson, in charge of the livestock exchange of the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky.

This is the third trip Dr. Shannon has made to the United States for stock and each time he has bought in Kentucky. He is in charge of the livestock of the plantation owned by the St. Madeline Sugar Company, composed of thousands of acres of cane land. He has been endeavoring to develop a mule suitable for work on the island and at the latest visit to Kentucky, said he has the mule now that he wants. All stock he buys for the company is thoroughbred and many of the animals taken Wednesday were pedigreed.

The shipment Wednesday included one Jack, one Percheron stallion, eight Percheron brood mares, Southdown sheep, Hampshire hogs, Belgian and Flemish rabbits, one saddle gelding and Ruby Barrymore, full sister to Jack Barrymore and a few bronze turkeys. All the stock was bought from bluegrass farms.

PRESIDENT PATTERSON ENTERTAINS SOCIETY.

The Patterson Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting Friday evening, May 16th, at the home of President Emeritus Patterson. The devotional exercises were conducted by B. L. Hargrove, Dr. Patterson leading in prayer. J. W. Kalbrier declaimed the famous "Regulus To the Carthaginians." The selection is a masterpiece of brave denunciation and Mr. Kalbrier's spirited rendering of it was good. Mr. John Reilly, formerly of Fond du Lac, Wis., spoke on "Kentucky and Wisconsin." Although he spoke highly of his native state, Mr. Reilly seems the proud of the name "Kentuckian." Emory L. Frazier, who was an officer in a training camp in Texas, gave narrative poem, "Ceta," the story of a soldier and his Mexican sweetheart "down in Texas on the Rio Grande."

After the program a delightful supper was served by Miss Mabel Polit.

LAMP AND CROSS WILL INITIATE FRIDAY

The Lamp and Cross Honorary Senior Society will hold its annual initiation at the Phoenix Hotel Friday evening. A banquet will be given following the initiation. The new men to be taken in this year are John Davis, Edward Parker, Ed Danney, Smith Park, Charles Gordon, Emory Frazier, Thompson Gutrie, Jesse Tapp, Neal Knight and Lee Steinhauer.

The active chapter roll is composed of the following men: Headley Shouse, Alex Hall, Lee McClain, Frank Jackson and Richard Duncan.

STUDENTS CELEBRATE

hoisted to the top of the flag pole and left to chill its bones in the evening breezes.

The parade was then formed and started to town, halting at Patterson Hall long enough for the students to give a song and some of the college yells, before the real departure. Men were stationed at the edge of the Good Samaritan grounds just past the Hall to remind the paraders of the presence of the hospital which was passed by the procession in absolute silence.

After marching the length of Main street, giving frequent songs and yells, the procession headed for Sayre College, where another halt was called and more songs and yells were given before the march resumed towards Hamilton and Transylvania. It was on this leg of the trip, at Third and Broadway, that the most impressive episode in the entire evening occurred. It was at this corner, four years before in a similar celebration, that one of the students, Eldridge Griffith, was killed. In memory of the event and out of respect for their dead schoolmate every one of the 334 men in line formed in single file and with head bared and without a sound reverently walked past the spot.

The procession then continued to Hamilton and Transylvania were more yells were given and more songs were sung before breaking up for the night.

After the celebration several of the more rowdy spirits returned to town and incidentally broke an iron barber pole, which was promptly bought by the "Senior Committee" for $53.50 when the owner of the pole complained. The breaking of this pole was the only act of vandalism committed during the night by the men except for the painting of the freshman class numbers on the University buildings by several freshmen.

The mayor of Lexington, who criticized the acts of the students at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners the next day was later the recipient of a letter of explanation from the Senior Committee.

STUDENTS SHOULD MAKE POLITICS A PROFESSION

Col. Wilson Speaks To Democratic Club, Declaring Kentuckians Should Devote Talents To Good Of State.

"I speak not as a candidate for governorship or as a prospective one, but I talk from my heart as a Kentuckian who loves Kentucky and in full confidence that my hearers share the same love for our state," said Col. Samuel Wilson in his address to the Democratic Club Monday evening in Chapel. Colonel Wilson, who has seen active service in France and who recently returned from overseas, is the first speaker before the University Democratic Club. He was introduced by Mr. Sherman Porter as "a patriot to the core, one who has been a good citizen and a good influence all his life."

He spoke to the members of the club about the ideals they should have in politics and warned them against partisanship, which he said was Kentucky's greatest curse. He said that politics had become a much abused term and instead of considering politics "dirty" as it has so often been called, he considered it the noblest of human enterprises and the salvation of mankind.

He compared our idea of democracy with that of France and his speech was in part: "The French have made a religion of democracy. They love their country with a passionate love and it is rare that one hears of the French emigrating to this country. On every church steeple there is the emblem of democracy and the covenant for a League of Nations was anticipated in the celebrated French trinkety; Liberty, Equality and Fraternity."

Colonel Wilson gave a brief outline of the problems confronting Kentucky and said that the young democrats need to do is not to concentrate on generalities, but to meet the practical problems facing the people of Kentucky today. He urged that this not be left to politicians and candidates for office, but that each democrat should look this matter up for himself. He said that the questions of today were not national or foreign, but domestic and peculiarly local. "I would like for the University to have a Stay-at-Home Club," he said, "the members to swear that they will devote their energies and talents to Kentucky and that they will begin, if politics attracts them, to make politics a profession for the advance and betterment of Kentucky."

ALUMNAE CLUB ADDS TO LOAN FUND

The members of the Alumnae Club of the University of Kentucky were hostesses at a card party given Thursday afternoon in the ballroom of the Phoenix Hotel, for the purpose of increasing the club's loan Scholarship Fund.

For the occasion the ballroom was beautifully decorated with the college colors, blue and white, and a profusion of iris, snowballs and syringa. The tallies were plain white, tied with blue ribbons and the prizes, thirty in number, also carried out the color scheme of blue and white. Merchants of Lexington contributed the prizes.

The officers of the club are Mrs.

A. F. Shouse, newly elected president; Mrs. Morris Well, vice president, and Miss Ruth Mathews, secretary and treasurer. The prize committee was composed of Misses Marguerite McLaughlin, Mary Maguire, Nancy Innes and Anna Wallis. The decorating committee included Mrs. P. F. Keshelmer, Mrs. Maurie Crutcher, Misses Virginia Anderson, Christine Hopkins and Mary McCauliff. The general committee was Misses Mary Didlake, Mary Clark, Minnie Cramer, Mabel Pollitt and Mrs. Charles J. Smith.

A complete list of the 300 guests could not be obtained, but among those who entertained with parties of bridge and five hundred were Chi Omega, Kappa Gamma, Alpha Xi Delta and Kappa Delta sororities of the University and Mrs. Enoch Grehan, Mrs. Jere Morton, Mrs. T. P. Cooper, Mrs. W. H. Thompson, Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Mrs. Roy Land, Mrs. W. R. Welsh, Mrs. Jere Tarlton, Mrs. D. E. Goode, Miss Amelia Hamilton, Miss Rebecca Nelson, Miss Lillian Lisle and Miss Virginia Anderson.

ORCHESTRA AND CHORAL CLUB CONCERT

The Lexington Choral Society will sing at the third of the series of concerts by the University orchestra, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in chapel.

The program will be in the nature of a community singing and the audience will be asked to join in singing the best known and loved songs. It is understood that the Choral Society is a body of singers who differ from the audience only because they have given considerable time and hard work toward certain musical numbers. Their purpose is to give the people of Lexington an opportunity to hear that music which is accounted great and good.

The University orchestra will open the concert Sunday afternoon with several selections, including, "Andante" from the "Surprise Symphony" by Haydn; ballet music from Faust and an overture "Nebuchadnezzar" by Verdi. The program of the Choral Society will include: "The Vikings," Matre," "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" and "The Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss.

Miss Ella Blanding, one of Lexington's most gifted songsters, will sing the solo part in "Inflammatus" and Professor A. C. Zembrod will sing the tenor in the first selection.

OUTDOOR THEATER

Isabelle Dickey, Fred Jackson and Dawson Berry. "Freddy" will have charge of one of the dances and will likewise represent "War."

Music By Lampert.

The music for the pageant will be given by Prof. Lampert, assisted by his orchestra and band. There will be music thruout the performance and afterwards during the sale of refreshments. Miss Margaret Tuttle was appointed chairman of the refreshment committee with a committee of Home Economic girls. Those who will serve with Miss Tuttle are Linda Purnell, Lelah Gault, Blanche Ihardt, Minnie Jameson, Katie Henry, Mary Turner, Henrietta Ihardt, Irene Evans, Jean Miller and Mrs. Horlacher.

In the pageant every nation that is a member of the league will be represented and the flags of these countries will be displayed at the time of their "epoch." The leading characters will be announced later and also the chief epochs to be pictured. There will be no admission charged for the pageant, all the money necessary being raised by the sale of refreshments afterwards.

The general committee for the pageant is composed of the following: Miss Frances Jewell as chairman, and Jean McKinnon, Christine Hopkins, Margaret King, Lameraux, Purnell, Beck, Ora Lee Jones, Thornton, Herring, Spurrier and Graham, Mrs. Stout, Messrs. Grehan, Butt, Farquhar, Dantzier, Whiting, Mable, Lampert, Dixon and Soward.

For Selecting A University

For a College Education, there are five things to be taken into Consideration

1. The men at the head of the institution.

THE DEMONSTRATION.

The demonstration of University of Kentucky students on the campus and elsewhere Thursday night has brought forth adverse criticism, chiefly from the Mayor of the city and members of the Board of Commissioners.

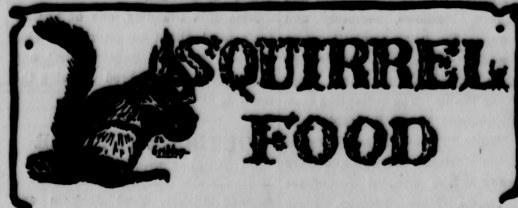

While the Kernel is positive in its conviction that His Honor exceeded the bounds of propriety by his unfavorable comparison of University students with negro pupils of Lexington, it is nevertheless equally positive that that part of His Honor's criticism that touched upon the destruction or damaging of certain private property by students in the fervor of their demonstration, was what might be expected of any city's chief executive.

Altho this paper has exercised whatever influence it may have had repeatedly to the end that college spirit may be engendered and the leisure hours of the student body be spent in wholesome amusement and diversion, it is not now and has never been an apologist for any form of ruffianism in students or anybody else that wilfully leads on to destruction of private property or discomfiture of the citizens of the town.

It has been generally felt in University circles that there has been an under current of repression on the campus since the beginning of the 1918-19 school year in September. Students underwent the rigors and restrictions of army life; they suffered the fear of influenza, its attendant suffering and death. Youthful enthusiasm, young America, stout-hearted Kentuckians—all these must have their outlet. Energy that has been gathering for months must be given off as must excess steam in a locomotive. Kentucky students had expected to expend their surplus energy in the annual "tug-of-war" between the Freshman and Sophomore classes. For various and good reasons the expected contest did not occur. The celebration Thursday night was, perhaps, just natural reaction, regrettable as it was.

The Kernel regrets that some of its fellow students were thotless enough in the midst of their Thursday night demonstration so far to forget themselves as to damage property. It is, however, a matter of gratifying reflection that the more thotless of the student body counseled against such recklessness and that after the damage was done saw to it that it was repaired to the satisfaction of those who suffered by it.

Further, we believe, as was stated by the Senior Committee in it's reply to the Mayor's criticism, that those students who took part in the demonstration regret, without exception, the unfortunate termination of what was begun and meant as innocent amusement.

The Kernel's Koachman observes that this would be a mighty peaceful world if it were not for the movement of so many lower jaws.

The wets may be lucky geeks
And yet they should be thankful,
That they still have some seven weeks in which to get a tank full.

Some women are like the little boy who is called a "snaver," they are always talking and never saying anything.

Since the "committee of four" has made such a session of the League of Nations, the committee on arrangements at our University proposes to have a League of Nations pageant. It will take but a couple of weeks for us to do this, while Mr. Wilson and the other potentates of the powers of the world have argued and drunk butter-milk over the issue for the last three or four months. Oh, we have the pep and push here.

Last Pull.

A number of people will be like corkscrews after July. They will have lost all their pull.

The grandest bunch of rookies that ever attempted to wear uniforms stood up at the annual inspection last week.

Well, fellows, we have had no tug of war, only a few montons of senior Court, practically no naming, nothing much to show our pep over. About the only tug we have had is the tug and the S. A. T. C. It surely has been a grand war year.

Does anyone know what has become of the old fashioned man who use to think every word of our syllabics or more was a "jaw-breaker"?

Many a man gets in trouble because he has fooled himself so often that he imagines he can fool other people as well.

How About This?

"Is Brown a college man?"
"I suppose he is. He is one of the worst spellers I ever knew."

Suffering Catal

"Tell us why some people close their eyes when they sing?"
"Now it is this way you see, they hate to see us suffer."

Sure.

And what do you think about this: The paradoxical thing about an airplane is that it is no good unless it is used up.

Why Not?

Bill Wallace—"I have a deadly cold in the head."
Zuckerman—"Never mind, old man. Don't grumble. Even if it is a cold, it is something."

Self Defense.

Did anyone ever tell you that he could read you like a book? Well tell him the next time he should not strain his eyes on small type.

A Hint.

When the professor tells you a joke, my boy,
Laugh long and hearty;
The joke will not be funny, but you will find it good policy.

Whenever a youngster is allowed to eat the other fellows' candy then it is high time to begin saving for the ring. About the only ring some fellows will ever give the girl who is the ring of smoke from their cheroots.

Blue-bloods.

"My dear, why are you not going to vote for your husband's candidate?"
"Simply because he said he represented the common people."

Time has been when the old fashioned man went to the portrait painter when he wanted to be done in oil. Now the son goes to a promter for the same purpose.

There are a number of skeletons that would have been much more to the point and more appropriate if they had been strung upon the nag pole in the place of that ex-germy winner.

What has become of the old fashioned cow that at one time reposed in the chapel?

Why she has given place to the new fashioned mule with painted numerals on his sides.

Don't ever tell a girl anything in strict confidence, because she will think it so important that she will have to repeat it.

...The Blind Leading the Blind....

The following notice was seen on the Bulletin Board at the top of the steps leading to the entrance of the main building yesterday:

Here is an excerpt from a story written for this issue of the Kernel by a would-be society writer:

And yet the Y. M. C. A. man talks religion.

OWENS' FATHER DIES

News was received, just as the Kernel was going to press, of the death of the father of Mr. R. W. Owens, "Y" secretary of the University. Mr. Owens was called out of the city Tuesday to his home in Southern Indiana, by his father's illness.

INFORMATION

BOOKLET TO BE GIVEN STUDENTS

Journalism Students Undertake Educational Propaganda For "Green" Students.

Students of the Department of Journalism will publish a booklet of information for the new students entering the university next fall.

The booklet will contain all the information about the university which some students do not learn in four year's work. Each building will be described and catalogued according to the subjects taught there. The names of the members of the faculty will be given, together with the subjects they teach and the buildings in which they hold their classes.

Bob Raible has been assigned to gather the information for the booklet concerning the publications of the campus. Each paper or book issued by the students of the university of the faculty will be described, the manner in which the stans are selected and the dates of issue. Societies, clubs and fraternities will be written up by Donald Dinning, the social calendar by Frances Marsh and ornces, lecture rooms and buildings by Margaret McClure.

These books will be off the press by the beginning of the school term and will be handed to new students as they matriculate.

FRENCH-ENGLISH PLAY BY ROMANCE CLUB

French Students To Undertake Short Play As Program Of Society; Mixed Tongues To Figure.

"Une Charade en Action," a French-English play by Bouverie, will be presented Monday night at 8 o'clock in chapel, by members of the Romance Language Club.

The story is of an English woman, Miss Timmers, who determines that, in order to prevent her two nieces from going to Paris to learn French, she will, with the aid of her French servants, Francoise, and Mademoiselle de Grandmason, teach them the language herself. She begins by decreeing that nothing but French shall be spoken in the house. Miss Timmer's faulty French and her ignorance of verbs and "idioms" make an amusing drama. The name is derived from the fact that each act represents one syllable of a word, which is left to the audience to guess.

The cast includes Miss Frances Barrett, Mademoiselle de Grandmason, Louise Will, Miss Timmers; Blanche and Josephine, the two nieces, Elizabeth Featherstone and Alberta Wilson; Francoise, Nancy Smook, and Francoise, Ruth Carwell.

LAST 1918-19 ISSUE OF K MAY 29

All Copy Must Be In Before
Noon On Tuesday,
May 27.

Publication of the Kernel for the school year 1918-19 will be concluded with the issue on Thursday, May 29.

Fraternal clubs, societies, or any other organizations wishing to get announcements in the last issue of the Kernel concerning activities for the rest of the year must send all such announcements to the Kernel editor's desk in the Kernel-Kentuckian office, Professor Grehan's former classroom, before noon on Tuesday, May 27.

In concluding the publication of the Kernel one week before the beginning of examinations, the management is following the custom that it followed last year and the custom laid down by former editors. The management realizes that it would be very fine for continued publication of the Kernel thru Commencement Week, and that such policy would meet with the favor of everyone concerned, staff excepted. But members of the Kernel staff are students in the University rather than outsiders hired to get out the paper. These students are not exempted from examinations. If, as usual, they are putting a great deal of time and energy into the Kernel there will not be enough time to study carefully and thus insure passage of examinations. Consequently, it has been always the policy of the Kernel to conclude a semester's publication one week before the beginning of examinations.

STUDENTS' FORUM

THE COURT SPEAKS.

"The Senior Court urges the redoubled energies of the student body in the apprehension of all parties guilty of defacing the buildings of the University with class numerals. The Court looks on the perverted spirit of class loyalty which prompts such thoughtless actions as the painting of numerals with marked disfavor. The student body will not suffer the beauty of the campus to be sacrificed to any such unworthy end.

"It has been called to the attention of the court that there was destruction of property in a recent student parade. Without considering whether such losses were merely accidents or the malicious acts of irresponsible parties acting under cover of the student parade, the Court wishes to remind the public that any claim arising from any damage caused by a student activity, can be presented to it for consideration and, where just, their payment is assured.

"In consideration of the fact that the annual 'class supremacy' event has been consummated, the Court warns all persons that the practise of hair cutting must be discontinued for the year. Freshmen will now be considered as entitled to all the privileges and allowances of Sophomores.

"The Court again commends the excellent showing of the student body and urges the continued vigilance of all right-minded persons in the apprehension and bringing to trial of all offenders against the peace and dignity of the college community.

"SENIOR COURT."

Students Asked To Join Association.

(University of Oklahoma.)
Students and members of the faculty of the University of Oklahoma have been asked to organize a local branch of the world war veterans league now being formed throughout the country by Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

Bolsheviks At T. C.?

(Crimson Member.)
Just before chapel last Tuesday morning "the powers that be" were chagrined to see a red flag flying from the flag pole in front of Morrison College. The quick work of our treasurer, "Daddy" Vance, perhaps saved us from a demonstration. In less time than it takes for you to read this he had the seditious rag cut down. But an investigation afterward proved that our college was free from Bolshevism.

The cause of the disturbance was not a red flag at all, but a crimson banner. It was to remind the members of our college community that the 1918 Crimson will be ready for distribution in a very few days.

Unbelievable.

(Miami Student.)
When it rained: Yes, we know that this is hard to believe, but it is true. Amateur ducks, erstwhile geese, quacked about in the deluge, and meanwhile it continued to rain. And it rained for four days; one might have said that it was fast becoming a nanit. On all sides one heard, "Did you ever see such weather?" No one had, so there were no arguments. And the fact remained that it rained.

Just Watch Yourself Go By.

(Exchange.)
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by;
I think of yourself as "he" instead of "I."
Pick flaws; and fault; forget the man is you,
And strive to make your estimate ring true.
The faults of others then will dwindle and shrink,
Love's chains grow stronger by one mighty link.
When you with "he" as substitute for "I"
Have stood aside and watched yourself go by.

Roosevelt Memorial Exhibition.

(Columbia Spectator.)
With a varied program consisting of lectures, moving pictures and speeches by prominent men, the Roosevelt Memorial exhibition was opened to the public Saturday in Avery Hall. The exhibition which consists of a complete display of relics, correspondence and memorabilia of the former President, will continue with its free moving picture lecture at 4:30 each afternoon and at 8:30 each evening for the next three weeks, the door of the exhibition room in Avery being open from 10:00 a. m. to 10:00 p. m. daily.

The "Yanks" Were With Us.

(Technique.)
A French officer was examining a German officer who was a prisoner. "Fritz," said the French officer, "I see you have 'got mit uns on your belt buckles and on all your equipment. And yet you were defeated. How do you explain it? 'Gott' no longer 'mit you?'"
"Oh, yes," replied the German. "'Gott is mit us yet at night, but you had the Yanks with you."

Penn. Journalists Hold Track Meet.

(The Pennsylvanian.)
On Franklin Field today, at 4:30, the board members of the four campus publications, the Punch, Bowler, Record, Red and Blue and Pennsylvania, will compete as separate teams in a track meet. And yet you were defeated. How events, and no competitor will be permitted to enter more than three. It is desired to make the inter-publication meet an annual contest.

MADE IN THE MOVIES

At a meeting held by the Agriculture Society Monday, May 19, moving pictures were shown of the Ford motor plant, and of the various uses of the Ford motors.

The Ford plant includes 100 acres of floor space under roof and 50,000 employees are engaged in this plant, including sixty-three nationalities, and as many different languages. During the war the Ford plant was turned over to the government for the manufacturing of munitions and sub "chasers."

The pictures were intended to demonstrate to the "Ags." the value of the motor in farm operation and the methods of efficiency used in a big business.

NOEL RETURNS FROM FRANCE

Noel is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He will return to the University next semester.

WILDCATS WIN FROM BARROW BASE RUNNERS

Ad Thomas, Former University and League Star, Fails To Stop Wildcats' Onward Rush.

The baseball game last Thursday afternoon between Kentucky's Wildcats and the Barrow's Unit team brought a large crowd out to Stoll Field, the Wildcats walloping the overseas lads by a score of 7 to 1.

The game was featured by long hits by varsity men, Burnham getting a three-bagger, and Kohn, Muth and Slomer getting two-baggers. The latter secured two two-baggers. The only hit made during the game by a Barrow's Unit man was a single, made by Kimbrough, when he placed the ball just outside the infield. Lasley pitched for the Wildcats, allowing three walks and only one hit, striking out eleven men. Thomas started the game in the box for the overseas team, but varsity men soon got his number, and McKinney was sent in to stop the long hits, if possible. Thomas struck out three men and McKinney struck out two, neither allowing a base on balls. Kentucky kept her errors down to three. The Unit team, considering its lack of practice, did remarkably well to make only eight errors, and to hold the Wildcats down to a 6 to 1 score.

Te score by innings was:
Varsity (U. of K.) 0 0 0 0 3 0 1 2 x6
Umpire—"Rasty" Wright.

TRACK MEN ARE CHEATED OF ANOTHER MEET BY RAIN

Friday, May 16, Stoll Field resembled a young pond, and the cloudy heavens did not give any promise of a radical change in the weather during the night, so Athletic Director S. A. Boles communicated with the authorities at the University of Cincinnati Friday night and the dual track meet that was scheduled between the two teams to be held on Stoll Field Saturday afternoon was indefinitely postponed. However, the sun shone brightly on the Stoll Field track Saturday morning and the turf was in excellent condition for track work by Saturday afternoon. It is not known whether another date for the track meet with Cincinnati can be arranged this season, but efforts are now being made to give the students of Kentucky an opportunity of seeing the Wildcats walk away with honors from Cincinnati.

"JUNIOR PROM" IS SUCCESSFUL DANCE

The "Junior Prom," one of the outstanding features on the social calendar of the University, was a beautiful affair of Friday evening at the Phoenix Hotel from 9 to 1 o'clock.

The ballroom was effectively decorated with a profusion of ferns, plants and clusters of purple iris. The class numeral, a large '20, illuminated one end of the room. Honor guests for the occasion were members of the senior class.

Miss Elizabeth Davis and Mr. Edward Parker, Junior class president, led the grand march, which was a feature at the beginning of the tenth dance just after intermission. Miss Davis was beautifully gowned in black embroidered lace and wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses. All of the young ladies wore their most beautiful evening gowns, honoring the first formal dance of the year.

The chaperones were President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Dean and Mrs. T. P. Cooper, Dean and Mrs. P. P. Boyd, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Funkhouser, Dean and Mrs. C. R. Melcher, Dean and Mrs. F. P. Anderson, Dean and Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Pryor, Prof. and Mrs. Carl Lampert, Prof. and Mrs. A. C. Zembrod, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Owens, Miss Jean McKinnen, Miss Dora Berkley, Miss Frances Jewell, Coach and Mrs. A. F. Gill.

Committee Chairmen—Place, Everett Elsey; Music, John Davis; Refreshment, Virginia Croft; Decoration, Edward Dabney; Entertainment, Dorothy Middleton; Program, Todd Green.

ZEMBROD DISCUSSES ROSTAND.
Professor Zembrod addressed the Philosophian Literary Society Wednesday night, May 14, at Patterson Hall, on the subject of Rostand. Professor Zembrod's talk included a most entertaining synopsis of Rostand's drama "Cyrano de Bergerac."

WILL THE MESSAGE BE 4 GAMES WON IN TENN.

This Is Expectation of Wildcats As They Leave On Southern Trip.

The varsity baseball squad and Coach Gill are now in Tennessee on their Southern trip. The coach left Lexington Tuesday night with a squad of twelve men, and is expected home Sunday with twelve men and four Wildcat victories. The schedule on this trip includes games on Wednesday and Thursday with the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, and two games on Friday and Saturday with Vanderbilt University at Nashville.

Lasley and Slomer will furnish the pitching staff from which to draw twirlers for the Southern games. Both have been keeping in good condition during the recent period of inactivity caused by the delayed April showers, and both declare they are going to make living hard for the Southern rivals. Slomer, with his "steam" and control, and Lasley with his mean left-hand curves, together with Thomas taking everything within reach behind the bat, will make up the Wildcat batteries. Byrd, who has yet to start, will probably be given an opportunity in the box in Tennessee.

The Wildcats' usual winning lineup will be presented.

UNIVERSITY WILL HAVE A SIGNAL CORPS UNIT

College Of Engineering Facilities Impress Army Officer, Who Will Recommend Establishment of Unit.

The University will have a signal corps unit of the R. O. T. C. when school opens in the fall, according to the recommendation of Lieut. Col. John P. Lucas, Washington, who conferred with President McVey, Tuesday. After inspecting the facilities of the college of Engineering, Colonel Lucas said he would recommend to the office in Washington that the application, to be made by President McVey, be granted.

The establishment of a signal corps unit at the university means that a complete course in radio engineering will be open to students of the university, and that a complete radio station will be equipped there. The minimum number of men taking the course will be forty.

Colonel Lucas said Tuesday that the field in radio engineering is ample to care for many more men and that men taking the course at the university are "getting in on the ground floor." He has been visiting the universities and colleges of the South and has recommended that such units be established in many of the largest southern schools. He said the College of Engineering of the university compares favorably in equipment and curriculum with any university he has visited.

MCVEY FAMILY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky; his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. E. Sawyer, and his daughter, Janet, were injured when the car which Mrs. McVey, wife of Dr. McVey, was driving, struck a telephone pole at the corner of Limestone and High streets at 8 o'clock Monday afternoon in trying to avoid striking another automobile coming east along High street. Mrs. Sawyer, the most seriously injured, was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital and was resting well at the latest report. The injuries of the others were confined to face cuts and bruises.

The Franklin car in which Dr. McVey, Mrs. Sawyer, Frank, Virginia and Janet McVey were riding, was being driven by Mrs. McVey north along Limestone street, and the other car was being driven east on High street by Henry Kelly, of East High street. The automobiles reached the intersection of the streets at the same time, and were about to collide when each driver swerved his car away from the other. The cars did not touch, but each one struck a telephone pole. Mrs. Sawyer was thrown from the back of Dr. McVey's automobile to the pavement. She suffered a deep cut from the face to the temple, but was not considered seriously hurt. Mrs. McVey was not injured. Dr. McVey and Janet McVey were cut about the face by the glass from the broken windshield. Frank and Virginia were uninjured.

ENGINEERING

Sophomores Take Trip, Too.
Last week members of the Sophomore engineering class, chaperoned by Prof. T. J. Barr, inspected the mining operations, the coal chute, the power plant and other things of interest owned by the Stearns Coal and Lumber Company at Stearns, Ky.

The coal chute on the Southern railroad at that point is a very important one. In addition to visiting it, the party inspected the company store and the power plant which furnishes current for the town itself and for the operation of the mines.

On the second and last day of the trip the students inspected the coal mines in the vicinity of Stearns.

For the trip to the mines a special car was furnished by the Stearns Coal and Lumber Company.

Mr. J. E. Butler, general manager of the company, superintended the inspection of the various places after the party's arrival in Stearns.

Those who went on the trip were: Prof. T. J. Barr, D. S. Smith, John Denton, H. E. Reis, N. D. Witt, W. Monroe Baulech, C. C. Anedraon, I. G. Wilson, M. J. McWhorter, N. O. Belt, Eugene N. Among noted guests present was Col. Samuel Wilson, wounded overseas, who gave one of the toasts of the evening.

MINING INSTITUTE WILL MEET JUNE 6-7

The eighth annual meeting of the Kentucky Mining Institute will be held at the University of Kentucky Friday and Saturday, June 6 and 7, and will be addressed by some of the leading engineers and chemists in coal mining.

The "First Aid" contest, which is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, will be held on Stoll Field if the weather permits, and if not the contests will be put on in the armory. The First Aid teams will again contest for the Phoenix Hotel Cup, which was won two years ago by the Stearns team, and must be won twice in succession before it becomes the property of any team. The silver plaque, given annually by the Kentucky Mining Institute, will also be a trophy this year and the list of prizes and ribbons presented will be of unusual interest.

Prof. Enoch Grehan acted as toastmaster and the following toasts were proposed:

Be Given May 31.

Tickets will be out for sale Thursday for "The Two Virtues," the play which will be presented May 31, at the Lexington Opera House, by the Philosophian Literary Society. Rehearsals are being held daily, and the production promises to be one of the big events of the college year.

Alfred Sutro, the author of "The Two Virtues," has gained an enviable reputation in literary circles as one of England's leading modern dramatists. In this play he presents a charming picture of modern English life, combining humor and seriousness in a most ingenious manner.

The two virtues represented in the title of the drama are charity and chastity. The theme, in the words of Freda Guindford, the leading lady, is "woman's natural and happy attitude toward woman."

Freda, whose reputation is somewhat doubtful, reveals herself as a woman of wonderful sweetness or generosity and of character. The role is admirably interpreted by Miss Virginia Heim Miller.

The exact opposite of Freda is the character, with Miss Elizabeth Marshall in the role of Lady Milligan. Cold, selfish, snobbish, she represents all that is proper and respectable in the aristocratic world whose dictates rule her life.

Jeffery Panton, the wealthy, eccentric English bachelor whose hobby is the study of history, is a lovable, congenitally human character, described by the leading lady as "the dearest, quaintest creature on earth." Miss Alma Bolser will play the part of Sir Jeffery.

The role of Isabelle Jervoise, who boasts of having flitted the hero of the story, is well taken by Miss Louanna Luckwall. Isabelle belongs to the pretty, romantic, "gushing" type of young society woman. Her husband is intensely dramatic, at times ridiculously so, a poet who is revealed as a rather weak character. Miss Elizabeth McJowan will appear as Claude Jervoise.

Miss Anna Nelson is interpreting one of the most attractive roles of the play, that of Alice Extern. The title companion of Freda Guindford is represented as a charmingly clever, practical, yet decidedly feminine character, who is sure to win the hearts of her audience.

A prize of two tickets will be awarded to the person submitting the most attractive poster to Miss Elizabeth McJowan on or before Tuesday, May 21. One ticket will also be given to each person who sells ten tickets. These may be obtained from Miss Louise Mayer.

SOCIAL HYGIENE IS DR. MORRIS' SUBJECT

Dr. Morris is making a tour of the country under the direction of the Y. W. C. A., at the request of the United States government, delivering her course of lectures to those universities and colleges which ask especially for her visit. The purpose of the plan is to carry on the work in social hygiene which was begun with the men in the camps during the war.

Dr. Morris' first lecture consisted mainly of an outline of the courts, stressing the need which impelled the government to send out these lecturers and outlining the underlying principles upon which the lectures are built.
