Federal Grant Is Announced

A federal grant for the establishment of a clinical psychology training unit has been announced in Washington by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Dean M. M. White of the College of Arts and Sciences said the grant is expected to be about $4500.

Freedom Train Due In Lexington July 9

The Freedom Train is scheduled to visit Lexington on July 9, officials of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company announced in Louisville this week.

The train carries many priceless original documents including the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights as found in the Constitution, and Lincoln's pen notes of his Gettysburg Address.

THE KENTUCKY KRNEL

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, 1948

Partly Cloudy High Of 55

3.0 Standings Made By 121 Students

Deans of the various colleges announced Thursday that 121 students made perfect grades during the Fall quarter.

The Arts and Sciences College had 31 perfect grades. Other colleges reported their perfect records as follows: Engineering 28, Agriculture and Home Economics 28, Education 18, Commerce & Law none.

Earth Used As Source Of Heat By UK Engineers

Mechanical engineering specialists of the University will begin experimentation within the next three to six months to determine the practical applications of heating and cooling by means of a pump which uses the earth as a source of heat.

The University board of trustees has accepted the offer of the Kentucky Utilities Company to furnish electric heat for the department's mechanical engineering laboratories for experimental purposes.

Although the idea of heating or cooling a building with the same energy is not new at all, there already are approximately 200 domestic and commercial heat pump installations in operation in the country, the University experts are looking forward to laboratory tests of the apparatus to bring out some significant results.

Two Killed In December Auto Crashes

Two University Students were killed in automobile accidents in December.

They were Donald Leedy, 25, Moxville, a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, and Thomas Dort, 22, Owensboro, a freshman in the College of Engineering.

Leedy was killed instantly December 13 in a freak accident near Versailles when he and two companions were thrown from the front of a car that sharply swerving sidled which he was driving.

Dort was killed in accident near Owensboro December 25 when he lost control of his car and the automobile left the road, struck a tree and rolled 90 feet from the wrecked car, according to the State Highway Patrol.

Woodford county officials said Leedy's car started off the road toward a ditch and as Leedy attempted to swing back toward the center of the road the door flew open, dumping him and two companions on the ground.

In the car with Leedy were five other University students. They were Tom Net Jr., Tom Perkins, George Perry, Penn Williams, Ernest Zensel and Lewis Bishop. All but Bishop and Net were treated for injuries.

Both Leedy and Dort were members of the 18th Air Force in a bombier with the 18th Air Force in Italy and was majoring in psychology here.

Men's Society Initiates 21 New Members

Nineteen students and two faculty members of the University of Kentucky Men's Society were initiated into membership of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary society, at a banquet held by Dr. J. E. J. on Tuesday.

The two professors, made honoraries of the society, were John S. Horne, associate professor of engineering, and Dr. J. E. J. Hill Townsend, associate professor of agricultural education.

Partisan Politics Out
He pointed out that student organizations in other countries were active in partisan politics, but said that in the U. S. the student body would stand for the governing body of the U. S. and not for any particular party.

Will Take Stands
He said that the governing body of the U. S. would stand for the governing body of the U. S. and not for any particular party.

Selection of Delegates
Welsh admitted that some Communist students were at the Madison meeting. He said that the organization was formed last year.

More Farmers
Dean Alvin E. Evans of the College of Law reported total enrollment in the college is 235 students. He said classrooms were overcrowded and large classes have made the teaching technique less effective.

Despite the difficulties, he said "there has been an excellent esprit de corps both of staff and the student body."

Dean Evans and other deans pointed out that the heavy teaching loads carried by many professors prevented their faculties from doing effective research.

It is well within the range of possibility that within 10 years the College of Agriculture and Home Economics will have between 1,000 and 1,500 students, Dean Thomas P. Cooper predicted.

He also urged an appropriation to meet requirements of the Farmington-Hopewell Act.

Dean D. V. Terrell's report stated that the 1946-47 engineering graduating class was second largest in the history of the college, and that 16.8 of all students entering the University in 1947 were engineers.

While College of Education enrollment in 1947 was 1,000, Terrell pointed out that the number of people applying to teach in public schools is always among the first (Continued on Page Three)

700 Students Register For New Winter High, League's Tomorrow

University enrollment has again reached a new high with a record 7,000 registering for the winter quarter, according to Miss Maple Moore, assistant registrar.

This is 469 more than last year's 6,531 in a comparable period. Figures are not yet complete since registering and classification continues after the close of the semester.

Public Relations Department records show that approximately 150 new students have registered among them many from out of state and one from overseas.

Out of State
The out of state students number about 25 and include residents of New York, Tennessee, West Virginia, New Jersey, Illinois, Alabama, Indiana, Ohio, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Georgia and Michigan.

A new student, Joseph George Dablan, Commerce College, lists his home as Jabba, Palestine.

Although the enrollment is a little larger than expected, students had no trouble getting the required classes.

Dean M. M. White reported that a few of the classes in the Arts and Sciences College were overcrowded, discovery of the cases of heat monstrosity, chemistry, and physics will have more space when additional classrooms are ready in the temporary buildings.

Flight Training
There has been an increase in the number enrolled in flight training with 24 enrolling for the course this quarter. Mr. William F. Savage of the Engineering College announced.

No estimate could be given by University officials on the number of veterans enrolled.

Dr. Valleau Honored As 'Man of Year'

Dr. W. D. Valleau, pathologist at the University, has been named "man of the year for service to the state of Kentucky" by the Progressive Farmer, monthly farm journal.

Dr. Valleau was honored for his achievements in tobacco studies, for discovery of the cause of heat monstrosity, and for development of varieties of burley tobacco resistant to the black root rot organism.

Dean Paul W. Chapman of the University said that Dr. Valleau is the "man of the year in service to agriculture of the South" by the Progressive Farmer, monthly farm journal.

Dr. Valleau started with a wild farm tobacco that resisted wild fire disease. He crossed it with domestic tobacco and produced plants that also resist root rot, wilt, and mosaic disease.

The plants have acceptable market, and agricultural qualities. Dr. Valleau said.

Vague Needs Material

Don't bury that manuscript in the wastebasket. Don't tear up your notes. You too are a poet.

Vague which is published quarterly by the University of Kentucky, is in need of material before March 1.

Writing may be turned in to Dean of Women, Jane Hasler, Martha Evans, Kerrel managing editor, and Garnett Gayle, editor of Vague.

Miss Margie Meets First McLaughlin In 34 Years

Two of the happiest persons in the nerve wracking process known as registration and classification were Miss Marguerite McLaughlin and John L. McLaughlin.

For Miss Marguerite it was the first time in the 34 years she has been teaching that she has enrolled a McLaughlin who wasn't related to her in one of her classes.

For the student, he too was happy. He couldn't leave the University without taking one of your courses, he said when he enrolled in her Survey Journalism class.

McLaughlin is a student in the College of Engineering.

Odd Books Good For Three Games

Odd-numbered student books will be honored at three of the five remaining home games.

Students holding odd numbers will be admitted to the following games: Cincinnati on Jan. 24, Alabama on February 16, and Georgia Tech. on February 21.

Even-numbered books will be good for the Tennessee game on February 14 and the Vanderbilt game on February 29.

Information Service
Welsh said NSA among other things would serve as a service organization and make available to member schools information that would be helpful to student governing organizations.

Another service he said would be the sending of program kits to the member schools.

Welsh said that the organization would be launched here for SGA to become a member of the National Student Government.

Richard C. Stoll, Lexington attorney and an alumnus of the University, observed his fifth anniversary as a member of the University Board of Trustees last week.

During his fifth years of membership on the board, Stoll has served for a number of years vice-chairman and is now chairman of the board.

Stoll entered the University (then the Kentucky State College) in 1911 and received his B.A. degree in 1915. After two years at Yale where he studied for a Ph.D. in Law degree he returned to Lexington and shortly afterwards was appointed to the board of trustees.

Stoll has been connected with the University for a total of nearly 30 years.

Stoll Field was named for him and the bronze plaque there is inscribed "an alumnus, trustee, and benefactor of the University of Kentucky." His portrait hangs in President H. L. Donovan's office.

Mr. Stoll played football on the football team. He is a member of Kappa Alpha, Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary leadership fraternity, and Book and Gavel (Yale).

In the time that he has been a trustee, Stoll has seen the enrollment grow from 376 to 7,000. There have been 14,213 degrees awarded. Prior to 1877 there were only 219.

On the occasion of his fifth anniversary on the board, Dr. Donovan said "the University of Kentucky owes a debt of gratitude to the man who has worked with four of the six presidents of the University. I have never known a man more devoted to the University than Dr. Stoll."

UK Social Scientists Seek Ideal Pattern Of Civic Activities

University social scientists have begun a program to find an ideal pattern of civic and community-wide activities in Kentucky's cities and urban centers.

Dr. Irvin T. Sanders, head of the Department of Sociology, said the research is based on the theories that the community is the growing ground for democracy and the people of Kentucky are showing a revived interest in community life.

The research is being undertaken as part of the newly-formed Social Research Consultation Service of the University. The findings should be more reliable and afford better coverage of the fields of community living than anything on a similar scale so far attempted, Dr. Sanders said.

Sorority Rushes Must Register Now

Women students interested in becoming members of sororities must register not later than January 19 in the office of the Dean of Women for rush week.

Students who enrolled for the Fall quarter are eligible for membership on the list of persons eligible for rushing.

Big-day will be from 10 till 12 January 24.

Library Funds Up To House Collection

The Board of Trustees has approved an increase of $10,000 in the library budget to provide for a special room to house the Sumner Wilson collection, and to pay for cataloguing the 60,000 books and documents in the collection.

The Wilson collection consists mainly of materials among the first University enrollment has again reached a new high with a record 7,000 registering for the winter quarter, according to Miss Maple Moore, assistant registrar.

Veterans' Book Line

Whoever is the inventor of the new system for the veterans' book line should be congratulated.

Those who are acquainted with the old system remember that the veteran of old stood in line on the steps outside of McVey Hall and braved rain, sleet or snow. He now spends the greater part of his wait in the room directly above the book store, seated next to a pretty girl.

Whoever heard of the time when a veteran could sweat out a line from a sitting position?

All kidding aside, the new system is a vast improvement over those of former quarters and we hope that its use will continue in quarters and semesters to come.

Editorial Policy

With a new staff in charge of the student paper, the first matter to be dealt with editorially should be the matter of policy. We shall, then, state briefly the platform which we will strive to follow in this and subsequent issues of the Kernel.

One of the main faults with Kernels in the past is the fact that arts and sciences news has been given much more play and prominence than news from other colleges, regardless of news worthiness. The new staff will try to correct this error but stresses the fact that the news source should impress the importance of a news item upon the Kernel reporter so that, in turn, may relay this information to the news editor.

Politics always one of the main questions of editorial policy. The Kernel is not going to back one side, time after time, just because it has leanings in that direction or has interests and friends in a certain party. We stress the fact that in all instances we are going to back that side which we think is correct in relation to the issue in question. We will, at all times, try to present full coverage of both sides of any issue so that the student body may have a fair view of the facts at hand and may decide upon the question with a complete picture in mind.

Complete and fair coverage of all campus news is the primary objective of this staff. We will sincerely strive to print all the news which is possible in the weekly space allotted and to present it objectively from the standpoint of the professional journalist.

Registration Blues Mars Marks' Long Winter Nap

By Gill Mark

I was having that horrible dream again. I was in a pit-ball machine and someone was hitting. "Stop it!" I screamed. "Help! Help!"

But my roommates continued carving off the front legs of my bed. "Time to get up, little one," they reminded, gently putting lighted matches under my finger-tips.

"Jelous fender!" I hissed. "Just because I'm an M and register first Monday morning."

"Just because," I continued. "My mother was an M and my father and his father before him were M's. Just because we're date back to the Mayflower."

"Shall I tell you the story of the very first M?" I asked.

"No, No, not that!" they yelled, egging me on.

"It was like this," I began. "Once upon a time, long ago, there were 25 letters in the alphabet. Still this situation didn't worry anyone because, after all, who could read or write?"

"But one man, who for the sake of our story we'll call Ploot, was smarter than all the rest. He knew there must be another letter because, well, who has ever heard of a 25 letter alphabet?"

One night Ploot, better known as Sliakpoo, was toying around with a bowl of alphabet soap. His wife Clinka lay on the divan asleep.

"Suddenly Ploot pounded the table excitedly with his fist. You see in those days no-one had hands."

"Loic, Clinka!" he shouted, an upside down W.

"Mummm!" agreed Clinka opening her good eye.

"That's it," cried Ploot. "I've found an Mmmmm."

"This simple discovery was de-

Courses Open In England

About six hundred places will be reserved for American students at summer schools to be held by seven British universities and university colleges during July and August.

Each course will last six weeks. The subjects will range over a wide field, covering studies on European Civilization, Shakespeare and Elizabethan Drama, Britain's Economic Future, Contemporary English Literature, Education in England; an historical and Sociological Survey of Contemporary Britain and a post graduate school in medical and scientific studies.

They will be held at widely separated centers — from St. Andrews University in Scotland, to Oxford, London, and to Southampton University College on the South Coast.

The schools are intended primarily for graduates and teachers who have made some previous study in the subjects offered, but in some cases undergraduates in their junior or senior year, with special interests or academic training, will be able to attend. Preference will be given to those who wish to have the full period of a course.

Students who complete their courses to the satisfaction of the Registrars of their own universities, will be transferred to students' home colleges.

All inquiries about the summer schools should be made to the Institute of International Education at 2 West 43rd Street, New York. All applications must be received by the Institute by March 15, 1948. All candidates will be informed of the result of their application by April 15.

Band Leader Makes Prom Dates Record

Fifty-five prom dates in one season is a record for any band — and that's the record that has been made by Elliott Lawrence, twenty-two-year-old band leader. What's more, Elliott is so fresh from the University of Pennsylvania's Academy of Music, that seniors there still remember his playing as an undergraduate at college functions.

Interviewed recently by a magazine reporter, Lawrence reviewed his amazing college career. Entering at the age of sixteen, he was awarded a scholarship after one term. Then in quick order he became a musical aide to the famous Mask and Wig club, drum major for the football team, and leader-of-the-band at most Penn dances. Lawrence received his diploma at nineteen in creative art.

Incidentally, this campus favorite began his musical career at the age of three — conducting a "kid" band on a small Pennsylvania radio station.

Coed Chosen Beauty Queen

Susanne Rogers, a sophomore from Mayville, Wednesday was chosen the first Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation Queen. Miss Rogers was chosen by that organization during its meeting in Louisville.

Miss Rogers, a brunette, wants to be a kindergarten teacher.

She won the honor over 35 other contestants. They were judged on beauty and community activities.

When the judges announced Miss Rogers had won the honor, she blushed, and then walked to the judges' stand where she was presented a crown, gold trophy, $25 and an armload of gifts.

Cadet Grads Slated For Commissions

Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets slated to graduate next year will be offered regular Army commissions in record numbers to fill more than 10,000 vacancies currently existing in the regular Army and Air Force Officer Corps, Col. G. T. MacKenzie, head of the military department, announced Thursday.

According to advice from Army headquarters, the high annual attrition rate being experienced during the post-war period and the continued pressing officer requirement stemming from occupational commitments will open the door to many of the educated youth for a military career, he declared.

Annual vacancies are expected to number about 3000 and only about 500 will be filled by West Point graduates, the colonel explained. The remainder of approximately 1500 vacancies a year may be offered to qualified personnel on active duty and to graduates of ROTC units throughout the country, with the bulk coming from the latter class supply.

Concluding the trustee's report was a summarized financial statement by Comptroller Frank D. Peterson. Total income of the University for 1946-47, including state, federal and auxiliary enterprises, was $6,420,063.51. Total expenditures were $5,869,999.46.

Do Your Dates Fall Flat? Try This Quiz To Avoid It

After a date that seemed to you a smooth operation, have you ever had the next-day reward of a neutral nod and a fast departure? Maybe you've been trying to get by the standard practices in a highly competitive field. Women—check the appropriate answers of this Variety Magazine dating quiz.

1.—When the orchestra played a samba, did you (A) sit down? (B) Dance with ease—because you were taught recently by a girl you really weren't fond of? (C) Fox-trot real fast—then tell her she couldn't follow well enough?

2.—When the Class Bots came to eat in, did you (A) let your partner chance it with Kid Dullness? (B) organize a rescue party among friends for whom you'd do the same? (C) Use the time to dance with other girls?

3.—When the Class Dream Man got in, did you (A) change it? (B) organize a rescue party? (C) cut in on the most gorgeous girl on the floor, thus showing your date who was boss?

4.—After several hours with her,

did you (A) Start an interesting conversation about the people at the dance? (B) learn the identity of her favorite actor, singer, etc., so that you might get a pair of tickets to see one of them in operation? (C) decide to call on an old girl who lives in the same sorority house, and ask her to put a plug in for you?

5.—If you forgot to ask for another date, did you (A) decide to meet her after classes "by accident" and ask? (B) To send a record or book to her, mentioning that it would be fun to go out again? (C) Call her on the phone and book her for the month?

Now—the man with three or more A's is a nice guy—but he'll go unmentioned at sorority ball-sessions. Two run-of-the-mill.

The lad with the C's works too hard—seems a bit unsure.

But the boy with the B average does best: will be guessed about, talked about, pointed out. He's the thoughtful fellow who makes a girl feel like a million dollars' worth of stardust.

How do you do?

ANSWERS TO PLANES QUIZ

- (c) The 1947 meeting was scheduled for the Illinois Senate Chamber, Springfield, November 19-21, 1947.

Desire Must Be Temperate, Kernel Columnist States

By John D. Engle Jr.

What happens when a desire is allowed to grow? Does it grow to immense proportions and ensnare the individual who is its parent, or does it burn itself out in the disappointment of being unfulfilled? The answer to these questions depends, of course, upon what kind of a desire is referred to, as well as upon the individual who owns the desire.

It is well known that almost any type of desire can lead to madness if given too much attention. Whether the desire is of a spiritual or a physical nature, it must remain within the bounds of temperance if it is to be normal. And it must also remain at a level whose fulfillment will not be impossible if it is to remain an asset rather than a liability.

Desire, to be a normal characteristic, must be completely controlled by the individual who owns the desire. When the desire reaches such proportions that it controls the individual then danger is imminent, disillusion is certain, and, as a result, the profession of psychiatry will continue to prosper.

Normal desire is an admirable trait of human nature. First there is the dream and the desire before there is any reality or accomplishment. Every tangible evidence of man's progress was once but a desire. Man desired electricity, the automobile, the plane; and now he has them. But the desire which created these modern wonders has not yet been assuaged. And here we find a peculiar thing about desire—any desire: it is difficult to satisfy. Though human desire has been granted a larger fulfillment than man had ever expected, that desire is not slaked. And now that we have the automobile, we want to make it go faster. We want to do more than just fly; we want to fly to the moon. We want more than just a good bomb; we want an atomic bomb.

We want no limit on our desires. Instead of controlling them, we allow them to control us. Instead of mastering the machine, we become its slave. Why do we not realize that in nations, as well as in individuals, the act of surrendering the self-sacrificing parent who punishes his child, only to wake up when it is too late and find that the child has grown into an arrogant pig who defies suppression or control.

The nations of the world are in just such a predicament today. They have given themselves over to the desire for speed and power and riches. And, like the devoted parent, they have given their full attention to their one child, progress. They don't seem to know that progress is not their true child, but an ill-fated illusion born of a misguided desire called greed. They forget that true progress is a spiritual growth toward Divinity and that all other acts bearing the name of progress are but perversions of human nature.

Such an individual is at war with himself. He may know what his weakness is, and perhaps he tries to overcome that weakness with outward resolutions and empty self-promises. But he fails to get at the source of his trouble and wipe away the disillusionment which has engulfed him. Such a person is like

On the other hand, it is easy to see why man forsakes the old for the new. He has seen how religion can grow into hypocrisy and fanaticism; and now he would try to fly to heaven on the wings of science, or else he would deny the existence of such a place. He is so positive of the truth of science, he forgets that science may lead to fanaticism too. So it is that nations, like individuals, go beyond the normal limits of desire instead of tacking the middle lane of temperance. And so it is that we end up on the brink of suicide with a comic book in one hand and an atomic bomb in the other.

Teachers Need Re-Evaluation

Howard Wilson, professor of economics at Loyola University, Chicago, has sent out an appeal to college students to evaluate their present and former college professors.

Since the enrollment of most colleges is heavily weighted with ex-G.I.s and other students there is need for a re-evaluation of college teachers according to the new standard.

Mr. Wilson believes that the teachers and professors who to conduct their classes so that they meet with the approval of the students. He believes that, under an atmosphere will promote education.

He has requested that all students, and other college students throughout the country write him a letter listing their complaints and criticisms, and the points that they admire most in their present or past professors.

After he has what he believes to be a representative sampling, he will make his findings available to educators throughout the country.

Letters should be addressed to him at Loyola University, 820 North Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Illinois.

classes to be closed.

She teaches another class, Critical Writing for the Press, which is always popular with students. She wants to learn to write reviews of plays, books, and movies.

One of the highlights of this class is her review of the Passion Play which she saw in Oberammergau, Germany, before the war.

Trips To Europe

Miss McLaughlin is a recognized authority on the theater and each year goes to New York to see the latest plays in order to give her classes the latest information on the new plays. She has traveled widely— a number of trips to Europe before getting to Boston—and her knowledge of places here and there help considerably in assisting students with reviews of books dealing with travel and history.

Know Traditions

Few persons have a better knowledge of the University and its history and traditions than Miss Margie whose stories of the University are always entertaining for her students and extremely useful to persons writing about the University.

Cat Clippings

by Tom Diskin

According to Babe Kimbrough, Herald sports editor, Villanova College, joins in the first Great Lakes Bowl game last December, has replaced Alabama on the 1948 Wildcat football schedule, thereby completing next season's card.

Therefore, the home games will be with Xavier University, Mississippi, Vanderbilt, Villanova and Florida. The UK tickets will hit the road for contests with Georgia, Marquette, Cincinnati, Tennessee and Miami University of Florida.

The tip-roving Wildcats of Kentucky missed scoring 100 points last week against Western Ontario by just one basket. The final score read Kentucky 88 and Western Ontario 87. Last season, the King-sided Kate blasted Vanderbilt, in the SEC tourney, 95-29, and annihilated Wash. 95-24, earlier in that campaign.

However, probably the most humiliating defeat suffered by the Wildcats' opponent was Arkansas State exactly three years ago tonight. In Alumni gym, 299 "Kintuckians" saw UK win, 75-6, while holding the Arkansas quinter to just two field goals and a couple of free tosses. James Howe, star halfback for the Wildcats, was the leading scorer, hitting for 12 markers; Dutch Campbell followed with 10.

Wells, a forward for Arkansas State, made five of his team's six points. Alex Groza, who was about to be drafted by the Army, was excused by Coach Rupp from this game. Wonder what the final score would have been with the Man Mountain from Martin's Perry in that ball game?

Malcolm McMillen, Xavier pivot-man, played a splendid game against Seton Hall (of New Jersey) last Sunday night as the improving Musketeers tossed out the previously unbranded Easterners, 41-33, in Cincinnati. McMillen, who played for a short time with Kentucky last season, has scored over 150 points this year for X, averaging over 10 points per game. The Wildcats finish the regular season with the Muskies in the Queen City on February 28. In the initial meeting of the two teams, Groza outscored McMillen, 18 to 7, as UK won easily, 78-37, but the Ohioites will be much tougher on their home court as the Seton Hall game clearly showed.

All-American Alex Groza, UK's All-American center, is pacing the Cats in scoring this season with 148 points in 12 games and a 12 points-per-game average. Another All-American, Ralph Beard, is second with 117 markers in 11 games for a 10 points-plus per game. Among them are Jim Line, the southpaw specialist, with 102; Team Captain Ken Rollins, with 97; and the versatile Cliff Barker, who has 76 in 11 appearances.

Mississippi's sensational passer, Charley Conroy was recently awarded the Helms Foundation for the "best player of the year in college basketball." In 11 games just completed (including the Ole Miss win in the Delta Bowl) "Chunkin'" Charley set a new all-time collegiate record by completing 145 passes in 271 attempts for a mere 1534 yards. He is a senior—fortunately! However, Barney Poole, who caught 52 aerials from Conroy last year, will be back for the Rebels again this coming season.

Basketball Briefs Of Wildcat Cagers Holiday Outings

By Kent Hollingsworth

The University Temple Owls poured a rotten egg and some cold water in Kentucky's Christmas season, by again knocking the Wildcats from the ranks of the undefeated, this time by a score of 69 to 59.

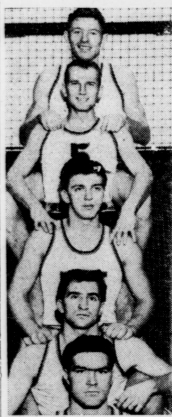

Eddie Lerner and Nelson Bobb were the Owls' two bright eyes, Lerner collecting 22 points, and Bobb putting in a crisp shot and a free throw in the last minute and ten seconds.

Ralph Beard, injured in the Cincinnati game, played 16 minutes and scored seven points. Big Al Groza led the Wildcats with 16 markers.

Cincinnati Downed
On Dec. 13 in the Music Hall, University of Cincinnati Bearcats faced the Cats as the Wildcats soundly trounced them 67-41. Joe Holland dominated the rebounds on both backboards and was high point man with 12.

Unusual
Seven men on last year's Wildcat team started the Xavier game on Dec. 17. Dick Boxwell and Red McMullen, playing for Xavier, Ralph Beard watched from the bench. Kenny Rollins hit his six-in-the-air-for-a-while shot time and time again to come away with 15 points for high scorer in the night.

Redmen Rite Done
Three days after the Temple game, Kentucky met St. Johns in Madison Square Garden, where All-Americans were usually picked on one-game performances, and scored a rare 100-91 impressive victory, 52-40. Micky Mc-

Spartans, Ohio U. Furnish Cats' Cage Competition

Kentucky's one-beaten Wildcats meet two Northern Ohio teams in the coming week, traveling to East Lansing for a game with Michigan State tomorrow night, and then on Monday the sharp-shooting Tobacco Slaters tangle with the Ohio University Bobcats at Athens.

The Tucky Tabbies will be favored in both skirmishes, but both games might possibly make the Lynxes of Lexington extend their lives in Oxford, Ohio, last Monday in trimming a rugged Miami Redskins five, 67-53.

Saturday the Payette County Felines take on Michigan State, which is led by Bob Brannum, a six-foot, five-inch, center who played his freshman and sophomore years here at UK, making All-American in his initial campaign back in 1944. "Bruin" Bob" scored 125 points for our Wildcats last season in 29 games. This year he has already passed the century mark in scoring while leading the MSC Spartans to victories over Michigan, Indiana, Wayne, Harvard, and Washington U. Only Purdue and Missouri have beaten the Green and White quintet. In the latter game, last Monday, the 210-pound Brannum flipped in 22 tallies, but his team was nosed out by the Missouri Tigers, 46-44, in the final minute of play.

A capacity crowd of 13,000 persons is expected to witness the battle in Michigan State's two million dollar Jensen Fieldhouse, which will feature Brannum versus Alex Groza of Kentucky, who were teammates on the Wildcat hoop team last season. Another big gun in the Spartan attack is Forward Bob Gehan, a six-foot sophomore, who tallied 235 markers as a freshman last season in 21 sessions.

The Michiganers are coached by 54-year-old Ben Van Alstyne, who is in his 22nd season of basketball in the East Lansing institution. He selected the present MSC cage squad from over 200 candidates last fall.

A new attendance record may be set tomorrow in the huge Jensen gym, which features a 120 x 60 foot court plus glass backboards. Last year, on January 14, 11,206 fans attended the Notre Dame-Michigan State clash, which was won by the Fighting Irish, 74-56. That crowd broke the previous home attendance record.

Kentucky's all-time record against the Spartans is seven wins and four losses. Ohio University will be seeking their first win over a UK cage team on Monday. The Bobcats are led by Forward Dick Shrider, who scored 262 points last season, Bob Dickey, a 6'4" center who flipped in 222 in 20 contests last year, and Harry Gordon, a senior guard who played with the Nashville Army Base in 1944 and is considered the best rebounder on the Green and White team from Athens.

The six-foot, one-inch Shrider is leading the team in scoring this year and is claimed to be a dead shot with either hand and from any part of the hardwood.

Ohio University, which incidentally, is composed of all native Ohioans, is coached by veteran "Dutch" Trautman, who has a nine-year record at OU of 119 wins and only 65 losses against tough competition.

His best team probably was in 1940-41, when Frankie Baumholtz, now with the Cincinnati Reds baseball team, led the Bob cats to a 18-4 record. This aggregation went to the finals of the National Invitational tourney, losing out to Long Island U. after upsetting Duquesne and CCNY in previous games. UK has a record of six wins and no losses against the Bobcats.

Spartan Five—from top to bottom, here is Michigan State College's basketball team.

Forward, Bob Gehan, Guard Hugh Dawson, Forward Bill Rappabak, Guard, Don Waldron, and Center Bob Brannum.

Kentucky plays M.S.C. tomorrow night at East Lansing, Michigan.

Guire, St. Johns star, was the game's standout, but Capt. Kenny Rollins was high point man with 16.

Kentucky, far off their usual form, after a brief Christmas vacation, turned in a dull victory over an outclassed Creighton outfit by a score of 65 to 23. The Wildcats hit only 22 per cent of their shots.

Record Tied
Seemingly a wooden nickel against Creighton, the rejuvenated Wildcats the next night looked like a million dollars against Western Ontario, hitting 47 per cent of their shots. Roger Day tied the all-time team scoring record when he showed in the 98th point. Fireball Ralph Beard proved he was back in shape as he scored 18 points.

Kentucky met unexpected trouble in Oxford, Ohio, when Miami University gave them their hardest fought victory of the season. Bob Brown, fifth leading scorer in the nation last year, scored 19 points, almost all on hook shots stepping away from the pivot, to be standout. Beard and Cliff Barker scored 13. Jim Line got 12, and Alex Groza netted 11 as the Ruppman came through with a solid team victory by 67 to 53.

Business, too, must have expert navigation

In the telephone business, much of the knowledge of "where we are" and guidance as to "where we are headed" comes from the analysis of statistics.

Telephone statisticians and engineers are constantly studying trends and figures. They assemble the facts, analyze them, correlate them, discover their significance, draw guidance from them.

The work of these men is vital to our never-ending task of improving telephone service. In such work many college-trained men have found satisfying and rewarding careers.

And this is but one of the many interesting phases of the telephone business.

There's an opportunity and adventure in telephony.

Serini, Rhodemyre, Moseley, and Bryant Help South Win, 33-6

By Dudley Saunders

Captain Wash Serini of the South was voted the outstanding lineman for his team in the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Alabama, December 27. Two other Kentucky gridlers, All-SEC center Rhodemyre and fullback Bill Moseley turned in outstanding performances in the annual all-star game that was won by the South 33-6.

Serini blocked punts in each of the first two quarters setting up touchdowns for his team. He broke through the North forward wall in the initial quarter to make the first block. Moments later the South scored. In the second quarter he blocked another punt on the North fifteen. Another teammate recovered the loose ball and lateralized to Moseley, who fought his way to the one yard line setting up the second South touchdown.

Mutual sportscaster Harry Wisner termed Rhodemyre the outstanding center on the field. The Kentucky gridman was used mainly on defense. One sportswriter estimated that Serini and Rhodemyre were in on ninety percent of the tackles while they were in the same. Kentucky coach Paul Bryant was on the South's coaching staff. George Grimes of Virginia was named outstanding back for the South. Indiana's Dick Deranek was the man of the hour in the North backfield, and Jerome McCarthy of Pennsylvania end, was the outstanding lineman.
