OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

HANOVER, MICHIGAN, January 1, 1919.

My own dear Eugene:

This week, I have been surely repaid for such a long time of waiting for news there have come five lovely letters from my sweetheart. The letter you wrote Nov. 11 came all right, so we have not had that to worry about, but there has come no other mail until Dec. 30. Of course, the cablegram helped wonderfully.

Most impulsively, I thought from the cablegram that you were sailing then for home. So I made my plans accordingly; I tendered my resignation as principal to take effect at the end of the second semester (Jan. 17) and stopped writing the regular letters to my dearie. Am truly repentant for the later, for I have sent you no letters since Dec. 2. Don't know whether the folks at Plymouth have written as usual or not, but surely hope so.

The letter that came today was the one you wrote next after the eleventh, on Nov. 24. And it reminds me again, dear, that I ought to be the most thankful girl
