

FRANCE'S NOTE TO GERMANY IS SENT TO BERLIN

Message Intended to Hold Germany Up to Eyes of World as Outlaw Nation

FRANCE DETERMINES TO BUILD DEFENSES

Germany Flatly Rejects Protests Lodged Against Reich Rearmament

Paris, March 21.—(INS)—In a sternly worded note of protest, intended to hold Germany up to the eyes of the world in an ultimatum, France today warned the Reich that she could not hope to enter the peace councils of Europe on the basis of her rearmament.

France's protest, delivered to foreign minister Constantin Von Neurath in Berlin this morning, is understood to have told Germany that it would be impossible to exclude consideration of her unilateral violation of the Versailles Treaty provisions in any further armaments negotiations.

GERMANY REJECTS INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Berlin, March 21.—(INS)—Flatly rejecting protests by France and Italy against Reich rearmament, Germany staged a sensational diplomatic counter-march by accusing the Allies of violating the Versailles Treaty and flouting their disarmament obligations.

The French protest, like the English, did not bar the way to the already planned conversations on European disarmament and security, but it indicated that the treaty method of maintaining peace was worthless if any such might be discarded at the will of a single signatory.

Back of the note were developments demonstrating France's determination to build up her own defense.

After the senate passed by an overwhelming vote the bill to increase the conscription service period from one to two years during the forthcoming four-year term of the Aeronautical Commission of the Chamber of Deputies approved the Air Ministry's request to increase the world's strongest by the end of the year. This is a $34,000,000 increase over the original budget figure.

Fatio to Speak at Convocation at Third Hour

European Speaker to Address General Assembly Under Auspices of Pan-Polition

Authority on Europe is From Switzerland

Assembly is Annual Convocation of Group Studying Foreign Affairs

M. Guillaume Fatio of Geneva, Switzerland, will address the general convocation this morning in Memorial hall at 10 a. m. on the subject, "The Machinery and Activity of the League of Nations."

Mr. Fatio is a speaker of great repute. He has visited the United States before, and has spoken at a great number of colleges. At one time he was president of the "Societe des Arts," of Geneva, and is the author of several historical and current works, including a history of the Swiss people, an authority on Swiss banking institutions. He is an advisor on the budget problems of the League and is honorary treasurer of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches.

His connection with the League of Nations gives M. Fatio ample opportunity to give an interesting and instructive program.

As a young man M. Fatio lived in New York for three years. In 1933 he returned to his country and visited universities as a representative of the University of Geneva.

The Executive Committee of Pan-Polition is as follows: William Greathouse, chairman; Elvis Stahr, secretary; Frank Roberts, publicity; and Martin Fugate, treasurer.

Lockyer Heard at Convocation

Baptist Evangelist Explains That There Will Be No Peace Until God is Recognized Internationally

In an address, Wednesday at 10 o'clock in Memorial hall, on "World Chaos and Its Cure," the Reverend Dr. Lockyer explained that the world's unhappiest people are those who are struggling to attain the nation of prosperity. Economists and statesmen are of the opinion that the World War is the cause of the world's unhappiest people, but it is his opinion that it goes deeper than that and is a question that can be answered in four simple words, "it that lost God."

PUBLISHED ON TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS... Member Lexington Board of Commerce... National College Press Association...

HERE SHALL THE KERNEL ALL STUDENTS RIGHTS MAINTAIN... Editor-in-Chief BO SHANNON... Managing Editor FRITZ BOHANNON...

FOOTBALL TICKETS... Since the Athletic Council is attending to many of the minor items of next year's football season at this time, the Kernel desires to present once more the policy...

This particular branch of the University's personnel certainly is not overpaid. Neither the institution nor the Greek-letter organizations who were required to employ them are able to pay them more than a nominal salary for their invaluable work.

It is true that such a policy would mean an added expense to complicate staying within the council's yearly budget, but it is a courtesy which is not likely to be taken advantage of. Then, too, a better spirit of cooperation will be formed with another important campus group which might prove to be highly advantageous through some turn of events in the future incapable of being perceived at this time.

HITLER RENEGES

For more than a decade Adolph Hitler has gone up and down Germany denouncing the military clause of the Versailles Treaty, and last Saturday he caused this treaty to become "a scrap of paper" when he announced that compulsory military service would be introduced in Germany and that the Reich would enter openly into the race for arms on land, sea and in the air.

When Hitler made this announcement, he asserted that Germany put down her armaments in 1918 because she was assured that it would lead to general disarmament and supposedly universal peace. But the truth is that she surrendered to the allies because her armies were broken and beaten.

Hitler furthered his assertions for tearing up the agreement not to have a conscript army, when he said that Germany is putting forward merely defense measures, and on the whole is a peace-loving country. If she is in favor of peace why should she want a defense?

Germany's basic reason for scrapping the armament agreement seems to come from the fact that she was the under-dog in the Versailles Treaty. However, the suddenness of her decision is foolish, inasmuch as she was on her way to get by negotiations most of what she wanted, and if the terms proved to be too hard, Germany could seek modification of them in the regular way, because the Treaty of Versailles provided for a process of amendment.

STUDENT SPEAKS

Mrs. Greenwood Cocanougher, a student at the University, spoke this week over radio station WHAS on "Opportunity and Security" in observance of National Business Women's Week.

A Letter

Dear Editor: It has been reported so often to me that the Law School was contemplating a change of entrance requirements by extending the pre-legal period to three years, that I take this opportunity to deny the rumor.

This is not due to the fact that we should not like to have students have at least three years of pre-legal work before entering the Law School, but it is due to the fact that we do not feel that the move would be wise at this time.

Very truly yours, Alvin E. Evans Dean, College of Law

The new idea of the Wednesday night dance has now become a reality. More than one person was overheard to say that Dean Jones deserves quite a bit of credit for the idea.

The Rose of the Week

To Mildred Shaffner... Because she's the gal of our sidekick, Jimmy Miller... Because she is coming in for a bit of favorable criticism for her work in costume designing at the Gaiety Theater...

That Fish Wearing Was Stringing Em Along with Her Line Helen Fish, Frankfort ette, who is attending school up East some place, attended the Wednesday night dance in company with her true-love Oris Lebus.

Yea, It's Louis

It's rumored that the courtship between Alphagan Rich Mabel Peyton and James Hennigan has been BROCK EN off... (Catch on?)... Phidelt Louis Brock did the trick.

Wilgus Broffitt lost a bet to one of his friends at the dance the other night... He wagered that Capel McNash would stay away from Elizabeth Jeti at least three minutes... As we said before Broffitt lost the bet... McNash returned in exactly "one minute and thirty-three seconds".

Speaking of Broffitt there is some reports that Frances Ward, Zeta Tau, has the Sigma Phi Epsilon pin that has Broffitt's name engraved on the back... Of course Broffitt denies it... But a reliable source confirms the statement... We hear that Broffitt will escort Martha Ammerman to the Chi Omega formal Saturday night.

Some of the Peikap brothers tell us that John Shropshire's latest love is Alphagan Mary 'Pink Lady' Marshall.

He Baffled the President With That One It seems that a few minutes before the guests sat down at the basketball banquet a group was talking to President McVey... The Prexy asked Sigalph Jack 'Maize' May if he was a freshman... This question sorta' took Jack back a bit as he informed our respected president that "He had been in the University for two and one half years."

We missed this one but 12 persons told us about it... So it must have been good... It seems that someone at the Chic Lodge wagered 50 cents that no one would sit in a puddle of water in the front yard of the aforementioned lodge... June Asher was the loser and for 15 minutes she sat and squirmed in the muddy water until the allotted time had expired... Needless to say she collected the bet, but not until the incident had been and also a motorcycle cop who witnessed by counsel colleagues stopped to investigate the excitement.

One of Aggie Baker's buddies told us that Baker is very sorry that spring is coming... Because he will be able to do no more sleigh riding

He Fell Like a Hero

The other morning a company of cadets was drilling on the parade grounds after a rain... The ground was very slippery and wet... Johnny Stables was in command of a platoon... He reversed the direction of the march... then as he started to run to place himself at the head of the column—he slipped and went sprawling in the mud... As he lay there on the wet ground and chuckled to himself... he called out to his fellow cadets, "Carry on men, they got me."

Phidelt Doug "Delmar" Parrish took time out from his farming in Bourbon county to give the femmes a break at the dance Wednesday night... In company with Parrish was Ralph Kerchval who did appear very slum as Elaine Griffin was unable to attend.

And Dan Goe the Razz Dan Edwin took his date home early Wednesday night after feeding her... It appears that she rewarded too early to suit Dan... but anyway he took her as she had requested... Then was his face red when he saw her come trekking into the corner drug with another escort on her arm less than five minutes after he returned her to her abode.

Faint Heart Never Won Fair Lady, Leo

A report comes to us that Leo Spence has finally decided to give up the long and seemingly useless struggle for the affections of Trixell Marjorie Fieber... and in her place he has found a new love... Her name—Cathleen Cole—another Trixell.

Two More Colonel and They Will Have a Regiment

Two more members of the Sigma Iodje were recently commissioned as Kentucky Colonels on the staff of Governor Laffoon... They are Ernie Fall and Mrs. Luxon, their beloved housemother.

STUDENT OPINION

The existence of cavalry at the University of Kentucky would add much to the popularity of the "blue grass" section. It would emphasize the importance of the horse breeding industry that is localized in this section of the country. On the other hand, what person connected with horses is not acquainted with this famous region. Is there a lover of horses who is not acquainted with the blue grass? CAMPUS PERSONALITIES

By CAPEL McNASH

When the old paddle-wheeler "Cotton Blossom," the original showboat, which was recently glorified in the picture "Show Boat," used to chug in to the landing at Carrollton, Ky., David H. Salyers who is perhaps known to you as an assistant news editor on the Kernel, once was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, used to climb aboard her with his grandfather, who sold supplies to such craft. Since those days, which are rapidly becoming historical, Dave has moved to Lexington, and expects to live here, or at least in Kentucky, for the rest of his life. Although he hopes some day to work on the foreign press service or consular service, he is not at all convinced that he could ever be happy outside of the "Bluegrass State."

These same people have so graciously consented to support a cavalry at the University of Kentucky. They will furnish the horses, not ordinary horses, but thoroughbreds. Just imagine, a cavalry on horseback! The same thoroughbreds who so magnificently run on the tracks. The same thoroughbred who even an experienced jockey would find it difficult not to be unseated.

Yours truly W. H. W.

Recently the Buildings and Grounds department installed a drinking fountain in one of the corridors of the Art Center after attention had been brought to the absence of such by The Kernel, but it has not been a complete success. It seems as though the water pressure is not great enough to bring a stream of water out of the top of the fountain. There is merely a slight trickling of water from the spout in the center. This is a very disgusting thing, especially when one is tried and thirsty. If one is to get a drink while he is in the Art Center, he has to put his lips to the spout if he gets any water, and of course no one wants to resort to this unsanitary method. In behalf of everyone who has to use this fountain I ask that something be done. W. E. R.

family did indeed come over on the Mayflower. Dave likes pets, and at the present time has a gold fish called Cab Calloway, which naming evidently was meant to be detrimental to the orchestra leader rather than to the fish. He also possesses a new, which is just a fancy name for loved. This little creature is affectionately called Wally. At one time the Salyers family claimed for their own a managerie consisting essentially of a goose, ten ducks, five cats and twelve dogs—all named after movie stars!

Along with all the rest of the pressure groups in Washington come now the educators, seeking more funds. The National Education Society predicts that more than 5,000 schools will close this winter unless federal aid is extended. Money spent on schools this year will be $475,000,000 less than in the 1929-30 school year. Unpaid instructor's salaries range over $100,000,000 and one out of every three teachers receives less than $750 a year.

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By JAY LUCIAN

The fact that the intercollegiate tournament was such a success is due in a great measure to the efforts of "Daddy" Boles and his assistants.

Officials Lane, Tehan, and Bray did an impartial and popular job which is considerable considering that they worked 15 full-length, vastly important games in three days before a packed house of rabid, partisan fans.

The precision and screen plays of the St. Xavier team were a joy to behold and Coach Schuman deserves a lot of credit.

ODDS AND ENDS FROM THE TOURNAMENT: Referee Tehan making the youngster retrieve the ball which he had thrown down the court in his irritation at the adverse decision.

Because of the rapid increase during the past few years in students coming to the University each summer to complete work for either the bachelor's or master's degree in the commercial education field, a large number of courses designed for teachers of business subjects will be offered during this year.

Approximately ten teachers are now working on graduate theses in this field and most of them expect to complete their work during this summer.

Twelve tennis courts will be available for the opening of the tennis season about the first of May, if the weather permits the work of grading and rolling to proceed uninterrupted.

The Army and Navy football game of 1935 will be played at Soldiers Field in Chicago, if efforts of promoters are successful.

Euclid Avenue Will Be Widened by City

Approval by the University Board of Trustees of a plan to widen Euclid avenue 20 feet, from South Limestone street to Harrison Avenue was announced yesterday by M. L. Crutcher, superintendent of the department of Building and Grounds.

The work, which is to be done by the city with the permission of the University, will relieve congestion in the vicinity of the gymnasium during basketball games and dances.

SuKy Will Honor Wildcat Athletes

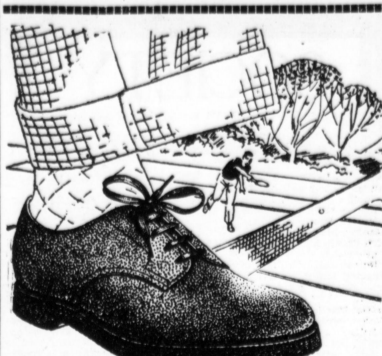

SuKy, campus pep organization, will hold its annual dinner-dance in honor of the varsity football and basketball squads, coaches, and managers in the Lafayette hotel ball room on March 29 from 6 until 10:30 p. m.

The dinner will start at 6 o'clock. Short talks will be made by the coaches and captains with William Eversole, president of SuKy, acting as toastmaster. A grand march, led by Mr. Eversole, will follow the dinner, after which there will be dancing.

BOOKLET ON UNION BUILDING READY SOON

An illustrated booklet with full details of the proposed Student Union building will soon be ready for public distribution by Alpha Delta Sigma, national honorary advertising fraternity. Alpha Delta Sigma has been working on this booklet since early last semester and the finished copy will contain literature, ground plans and illustrated divisions of the building.

Dave Difford, Ike Moore, and Jay Lucian are taking care of the various phases of the booklet and it is hoped that its distribution among the student body will not only explain the uses of a Student Union building, but will increase the feeling for one among the students.

APPROVED

Eastern university men have made this stout blucher their own for campus, golf, tramping, and general knock-about wear. The leather is rough brown bucko, a reversed caulked. There is a thick cushion of springy crepe rubber underfoot.

W.A.A. News By BETTY EARLE The Women's Athletic Association played a basketball game Tuesday preliminary to the tournament which started Wednesday.

On Tuesday, March 26, tumbling will start, with Dorothy Whitworth as manager. This is a major sport of the W. A. A. and will count 50 points toward an award.

The natural dancing club will meet next Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the Women's Gymnasium. Courtney Cannon, Phyllis Caskey, and Clara Hughes form the committee in charge of arrangements and dancing.

The W. A. A. council meeting for the next week will be concerned primarily with the report from the Southeastern Conference at Greensboro, N. C. The meeting will be held at 4:30 p. m. in the Woman's building.

INTRAMURAL One of the most interesting and hard fought basketball tournaments ever sponsored by the Intramural Department reaches its finale with the tilt between the Fraternity champions and the independent winners in the Men's gym tonight at 7:30.

After the round robin play in three divisions was completed, six teams had qualified for the final elimination round, four of these being fraternity teams and two, the Outcasts and Mudhens, playing under independent colors.

Play has begun in the spring ping-pong tournament, and again a large field is entered, showing the tremendous interest in this sport. Many fraternity houses have set up tables since the fall tournament, and Breckenridge hall houses the tables on which tournament play is being conducted.
