Political Character Discussed

Columbia History Professor Will Speak In Blazer Series

Henry Steel Commager, professor of history at Columbia University, will lecture on "American Character in Politics" at 8 p.m. Monday in the Gannett Theatre. This is the second in this semester's series of the Blazer Lectures.

He received his early education in Toledo and Chicago. He was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1923, and received his master's degree a year later. After a year's study in the University of Denmark, he returned to take his doctorate at Chicago.

Commager then started on his career as an educator at New York University. After 12 years at NYU he resigned to accept his present position as professor of history at Columbia. He has also served as visiting lecturer at several American and English universities.

He is one of the outstanding writers in the field of American history. Since he authored his first book in 1926 in collaboration with Samuel Eliot Morison, he has written numerous historical works both in book form and in the form of articles for leading magazines.

Among his more recent books are "The Story of the Second World War" and "The Blue and the Gray," a history of the American Civil War. He also wrote a text book "Our Nation" which is widely used in high schools.

During the war the historian served as an advisor to the Office of War Information. Since the war he has been a member of the War Department's committee on the history of the war.

High School Writers Meet

March 30-31
Student Papers Will Be Evaluated

The UK Department of Journalism will serve as host for the annual Publications Clinic and Convention of the Kentucky High School Press Association March 30-31.

Each year the Department of Journalism sponsors a clinic which is attended by delegates representing all parts of the state.

All Kentucky high schools have been invited to send representatives, both students and faculty to the convention which will feature clinic sessions on all phases of production of printed and stencil-duplicated scholastic publications.

Schools desiring a critical evaluation of their publications have been urged to mail copies of all the current year's issues to the UK Department of Journalism not later than March 15. They will then be examined by members of the Journalism faculty and by senior Journalism students.

Special sessions for high school advisers and instructors also would be a part of the convention program. Dr. Niel Plummer, head of the host department, said.

Dr. Plummer said that approximately 300 students and instructors from 30 schools throughout the state attended last year's convention. It was the largest postwar meeting. He estimated that the 1951 convention will be at least as large as the one of last year.

'Behold Your King' - Topic Of Talk On Palm Sunday

The first Interfaith Council sponsored Palm Sunday Service will be held at 8 a.m. Sunday in Memorial Hall. The Rev. William Walker, director of the Kentucky Council of Churches, will speak on the subject, "Behold Your King."

Rev. Walker, a graduate of the Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, is a former pastor of the First Memorial Baptist Church in Lexington.

The Kentucky Council of Churches, which Rev. Walker is now director, works to encourage religious activities for inmates of the various state institutions, holds church council meetings to strengthen church-school activities, and sponsors missions to forward religious interest in Kentucky.

The Interfaith Council, sponsor of the Palm Sunday service, is composed of the YM-YWCA and nine church groups. Kenneth Darrell is the present president.

The purpose of the IFC is to coordinate religious activities on the campus in particular and to promote better religious understanding in general.

In line with these goals the IFC promotes, among other things, the freshman interfaith breakfast in the fall, Religious Emphasis Week, and an annual Easter season service.

Vet Training Being Offered Kentuckians

April 1 Will Be Deadline To Apply

Kentuckians wishing to be considered for training in veterinary medicine under the southern regional plan in which Kentucky is participating this year for the first time, have until April 1 to submit their applications.

Next fall Kentucky will be allowed to send 10 white students to Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) and two negro students to Tuskegee under the plan. For each veterinary student enrolled from Kentucky, the Commonwealth will pay the regional school $1000 a year.

Students receiving training under the regional program are not subsidized, but will not have to pay out-of-state fees, paying only those regularly charged to Alabama residents.

The minimum educational requirement for admission to the School of Veterinary Medicine at Alabama Polytechnic Institute is the satisfactory completion of two years of study in an approved college or university, or a bachelor of science degree in agriculture from a land-grant college.

Students selected for the training sign no agreement to return to their home states. Only a moral obligation is implied.

Dr. Floyd E. Hull, head of the UK Animal Pathology Department, is the chairman of the Kentucky committee on certification for the program.

Booklets regarding the regional training program for veterinary students may be acquired from John E. Ivey Jr., director, Board of Control for Southern Regional Education, Atlanta, Ga.

By Ed Coffman

William Kapell, one of the outstanding young American pianists, will appear in concert with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra at 8:15 Tuesday night in Memorial Coliseum.

Students with ID cards will be admitted to the concert which is sponsored by the Community Concert Association and the University. Kapell, who was born in 1923 in New York City, started studying music when he was 10 years old. He was awarded a scholarship to the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music when he completed high school. After a year at the conservatory he was given a fellowship to Juillard Graduate School of Music.

In 1940 HE FIRST attracted attention in the music world by winning a contest sponsored by the Philadelphia Orchestra. The prize was a solo appearance with the orchestra. The next year he made his debut in New York's Town Hall. He was given a prize for presenting the outstanding performance at Town Hall in that year.

Nineteen forty-two was a big year in Kapell's musical career. In that year he made his first concert tour which was well received. He was also selected by Elmer Kurts to perform Khachaturian's piano concerto with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra. Since then he has become famed for his interpretation of modern music.

Critics applaud the young pianist for his technical skill which some have called perfect. The American composer, Aaron Copland has dedicated one of his compositions to Kapell. He named Kapell as one of the four pianists who have done the most for music.

THE DALLAS SYMPHONY conducted by Walter Hendl will give a varied and well chosen program in addition to his accompaniment of Kapell. This orchestra is one of the great municipal orchestras of the nation. It is currently celebrating its golden jubilee year.

Visitors On Campus

The University is gaining much in good will and public relations through the various conventions, clinics, and festivals which have been and will be held on campus this spring.

Students from nine high schools got acquainted with UK Monday and Tuesday at the first annual statewide drama festival, sponsored by the extension department. Some 300 more high school students will spend two days on campus March 30 and 31 when the Kentucky High School Press Association holds its annual convention. The recent string clinic reached another group who may be prospective UK students.

High school students who attend these conventions get a splendid opportunity to meet people from other schools and get new ideas about their common interests. They get a chance to inspect the UK campus, and if the impression they get is favorable, they're likely to spread the good word around at home, which means more friends and perhaps increased enrollment for the University.

Besides these conventions involving high school students, other meetings such as the Blue Grass Choir Festival held recently and the forthcoming state folk-dance festival include adult groups. Here again, the University has a chance to create a feeling of friendliness and good will throughout the state.

So, when you see a group of visitors touring the campus, give them a friendly smile. Be interested and helpful if they ask you questions. Let's make sure the picture of UK which they take home is a good one.

Aftermath

We thought the last stick of type had been written on that famous and ill-fated Jazz Concert. Since everyone else had forgotten it, we had decided to let it pass into the oblivion of campus-storms-that-soon-blew-out.

But this week, while wading through the stack of other college newspapers the Kernel receives, The Concert again reared its head, this time in a column called "College Newsreel" in the University of Maryland Diamondback.

In attempting to re-tell the Kernel story of the band and the bars in about three paragraphs, the Diamondback managed to get things just about as confused as did the Lexington Leader story which set off the "big storm of protest" in the first place.

The second paragraph of the Diamondback story says: "It seems that the boys got so warmed up at the rehearsals that they just couldn't quit. After practicing for several hours, they moved the outfit down to one of the local bistros and played pretty for the people."

All of which is final and conclusive proof that no matter how hard you try to make a story clear, someone always manages to read the wrong meaning into it.

Student Is Bitter About Early Closing Of Library

Dear Editor:
I am bitter! And rightly so, I think. Many are the rights I have given up my justly deserved recreation for the sake of education. I have walked out of a warm room into the cold outside and braved the wolf-calls of frustrated maids—just so I can use the facilities at the Library. And what happens? Just when I have reached the last paragraph of that all-important theme or research paper, some employe taps me on the shoulder, makes a sarcastic crack about people who don't know when to go home, slams the windows, chugs, and turns out the lights. And it's not quitting time, but 10 or 15 minutes ahead of the hour. I think something should be done about this. The Library's hours are 8 till 10 thru the week and 8 till 5 on Saturdays, but there is always someone there to clear out the place ahead of time. If they don't like to work there, why don't they quit? As I said, I'm bitter. And so are a lot of other people.

Spring Fashions

To Be Right, Wear Mauve

By Emily Campbell
This spring the new color, mauve, has completely swept the campus and rated first place in all the fashion magazines. Suits, coats, and dresses are featuring mauve colored materials. Sportswear, new and blouse, hats, and scarves, sporting this color. Even the boys are keeping up with the styles with their sleeveless mauve sweaters.

REMEMBER THE PICTURES
You've seen of Mother and Dad in the 1920's as they went for a ride in their touring car wearing linen dusters. Well, see if you can't die down in the attic trunk and find a linen duster to use this spring. As yet, the boys haven't taken to the tad but for ladies, a natural colored linen duster with big ruffled sleeves and a loose flying back is just the thing. The coats are unlined but will be most appropriate for cool summer nights.

Linen suits with shoes and bag of the matching material make a good looking ensemble for Easter. Linen is a material which will be worn the year around, according to fashion experts. From fur coat weather to warm summer nights you will be seeing linen suits and dresses.
Sorority and fraternity dances after Easter vacation will see both Ed and Co-eds in spring formal attire. Both short and long formal of net, organza, cotton, and other summer materials will be seen. Then too, the white dinner jacket will be in season. It's then you know that spring is here to stay.

Four Win Superior Rating In High School Drama Festival

Four high schools won Superior ratings at the Kentucky High School Drama Festival held in the Guizot Theater this week. Casts from Lafayette, Henry Clay, Shelbyville, and Morehead won the highest awards given for their productions.

Murray and Mayesville were judged Excellent. Lily was rated Good, and Stearns High and Bush High of Leta were graded Fair. Phelps High School was scheduled to appear but did not perform.

Miss Chloé Gifford of the University Extension Department, sponsor of the festival, said, "The festival was most heartening. Many of the participants showed real promise. We are already looking ahead to the festival next year."

In addition to the festival, which will become an annual affair, Miss Gifford announced that a drama workshop is being planned for next October. High school directors from all over the state will be invited to the University to study the more important details of stage productions.

Mr. Wallace Briggs, director of the Guizot Theater who judged the plays, singled out four participants whose performances he considered outstanding. They were Julia Pappas, who played the part of "Gert" in Murray's play, "Baloney Scene"; "Ossie" Evans, who appeared as "Tex" in "Clay and Potatoes" by Shelbyville; Bruce Poundstone, who gave an interpretative portrayal of "Mr. Maxwell" in Lafayette's production, "Shock of His Life," and

LEWIS DONOHEW
Kernel Sports Editor

We were forced to branch out to an extra page this week because of the intense sports program being carried out by UK teams right now.

Six sports are underway on the Kentucky campus at the present, either in practice sessions or in regular competition. One other has just been completed and another starts March 26.

The sports are basketball, baseball, track, fencing, bowling, pool (sure, that's a sport), the just-completed swimming and the soon-starting football.

It's enough to make a sports editor take to drink.

They all like Bill Spivey.

Four major All-American selectors—Associated Press, United Press, Colliers and Look—have placed the Kentucky pivotman on their first five.

The first three groups named above picked identical quintets. Their favorites were Clyde Lovellette at Kansas, Gene Melchiorre of Bradley, Sammy Kazins of North Carolina State, Bill Mikry of Temple, and Spivey.

In the All-American picks released this week by Look magazine, however, only three of these men made the grade—Spivey, Rammino, and Mikry. The other spots were filled by Gale McArthur of the Oklahoma Aggies and Mel Hutchins of Brigham Young.

This year's UK coaches clinic, set for April 27-28, will include five top names in coaching on its instructional staff.

Kentucky's own Bear Bryant and Adolph Rupp head the list, followed by such other luminaries as Beaschall Coach Hank Iba of Oklahoma, K.M. Football Coach Ed Wiskens of Oklahoma, and Football Coach Rusty Russell of Southern Methodist University. None of these should need an introduction to Kentucky fans.

The combined football-basketball meetings are expected to draw a large group of high school coaches from throughout the country.

Coach Rupp is one person who is really devoted to his profession. Few people could undergo the hardships he has faced and still stay on the job. Suffering from a back ailment and wearing dark glasses over an ulcerated eye, the undomable mentor picked up another burden recently—a cast on an ailing knee. But he just keeps on keeping on.

Two notes of interest arrived in the sports mailbox this week. This first letter, from an ardent Wildcat fan, is deserving of response from all of us.

I'm a great basketball fan of the Kentucky Wildcats and would like to know a lot more about the team. . . If possible could you send me some pictures, books and other items about them. . . I'm counting on seeing Kentucky play. . . in the NCAA tournament on television. . . I hope to get them the clippings to put in my scrapbook of top Kentucky teams. . .

Your best resistor,
Andrew Gocensky
609 Hospital Way
McKeesport, Pennsylvania.

The other epistle was from Tom Diskin, Kernel sports editor for two years and a 1950 graduate. He was in Tulsa, Okla., at the time, but was expecting to be in Minneapolis (to watch the hoped) Kentucky play in the finals of the NCAA tournament.

Cats Rated First, But Foes Are Tough

By Lewis Donohew

For the second time this month, Kentucky is going into a tournament with a whipping-favorite rating.

Only this time they'll be playing for keeps. This time the Cats are not champions before the tournament starts. They'll have to wade their way through some pretty tough opposition if they hope to gain the coveted national honors.

The Kentuckians will meet another home-state outfit, the University of Louisville Cardinals, in the first round of the Eastern NCAA meet at Raleigh, N. C., next Tuesday night.

If they get past the Cards they will take on the winner of the Villanova-North Carolina State contest at the same place.

The second lap of the tournament—the semifinal round—will be played in New York on March 22. The final of the Eastern Division is also in New York and is scheduled for March 24.

Survivors from the Eastern and Western Divisions will meet for the national championship on March 27. So that's the rocky road Kentucky will have to travel if it expects to pull in a tournament cup this year and have its name cited as the best outfit in the school's history.

The Ruppmen will have to beat—or whip the victor over—such teams as Oklahoma A-M, Columbia, Kansas State and Illinois. These teams rank in that order right behind Kentucky, according to press polls.

The Wildcats went through a warmup for the tournament last Tuesday night by wallpopping Loyola, 97-61. The Louisvilleans, also getting back into action before going into the tourney, will play the Louisville Aluminites tonight in the Louisville Army.

Both Kentucky and the Cardinals will lose one man from their regular starting lineups because of an NCAA ruling making four-year men ineligible. The Cats will lose Walt Hirsch. Louisville will be without the services of Lam Edwards.

This is the second time in recent years that Kentucky has met Louisville in the first round of a national tournament. In 1948 they met the Cards in the Olympic Trials at New York and handed them a sound thumping, 91-57.

Coach Rupp's men will be carrying a 29-2 season record into the meet, the second best mark in the nation among major college teams. Only Columbia, Ivy League contender for the national honors, sports a better total than the Cats. Columbia is undefeated in 22 games.

Shelby Lavinle and Cliff Hagan at forwards, Bill Spivey at center, and Frank Ramsey and Bobby Watson at guards are expected to make up the starting tournament lineup for Kentucky.

CHARLES C. PETERSON, famed billiard trick shot artist, will exhibit his skill with the cue-stick at the University March 27-28.

Known as the dean of intercollegiate billiards, will chiefly demonstrate trick shots. He will also give some instructions on shooting billiards.

A pool party by the Student Union is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. March 27. Both men and women are invited to the party.

Loyola Dumped, 97-61, In NCAA Warmup

Slow Defense Hinders Cats

By FRED LAWSON

Assistant Sports Editor

The Loyola game turned out to be just what it was supposed to be—a practice game.

Using this contest as a warmup for the NCAA tournament, the Wildcats wallpopped Loyola 97-61 in Memorial Coliseum last Tuesday night.

The Cats came out of the slump that had deeped them during the last four or five games of the regular season and rolled to a new scoring record for Memorial Coliseum.

The old mark was 89 points scored against Vanderbilt in the last game of the season.

Three men led the Kentucky scoring surge. Big Bill Spivey was high for the evening with 21 points. But he was closely followed by Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey with 20 markers each. In fact, four Cats hit the double column in scoring as Shelby Lavinle tossed in 10 points.

Every man on the squad got into the game, and all but one registered in the scoring column.

The Wildcats looked good in winning this game. They found their shooting eye again as they tossed in 38 field goals. And Frank Ramsey returned to form as he scored time after time on driving layups.

The Cats humped out to a big lead and were never headed. Shelby Lavinle hit on a 20-foot push shot, Bill Spivey hooked in a shot, and Frank Ramsey drove in for a layup and then hit on a hook shot to make it 8-1 with three and one-half minutes gone.

This lead was boosted to 26-12 after 10 minutes of play and at the half the Wildcats led 46-27.

After the intermission Whitaker dropped in a 20-foot push shot and Hagan got two tips to run the count to 54-29.

With eight minutes left in the game Coach Rupp started sending in his substitutes. The Cats were leading at this time 80-51.

The subs were just as hot as the varsity and outscored Loyola 17-10 during the eight minutes.

High scorer for Loyola was Nick Klidas with 19 points. He had six field goals and seven free throws.

Kentucky took 92 shots and hit on 38 of them for a 41.3 percentage. Loyola connected on 30 of 70 shots for 42.9.

Fencers Meet

UL Bladesmen

University of Louisville fencing societies will travel to Lexington Saturday at 2:00 p.m. to challenge the Cat fencers at Memorial Coliseum, Room 42. Entrance can be gained through the side entrance behind the swimming pool. The meet is open to the public and is free of charge.

Kentucky met UL in Louisville, Feb. 24, and beat them by a score of 14-3. There will be only 17 bouts fought instead of the regular 27. Usually there are 9 bouts in each of the weapons. Saturday will see nine foil bouts, four epee, and four sabre bouts fended off.

Last Saturday the Cats dropped a hotly contested battle to Vanderbilt, 4-3.

It was the first meet Kentucky had lost to Vanderbilt in six years.

Captain Alan Solomon and Bill Seiler paced the Cats with two victories apiece. Tom Belser and Bill Hagan each took two bouts while Charles Rose added the deciding tally for the Commodores.

Kentucky, whose record now stands at two wins and three losses, will journey to Nashville to take on the Commodores again later in the season.

Georgia Tankers Win In SEC Swim Meet

The University of Georgia won the Southeastern swimming championship last Saturday night by a comfortable margin of 49 points over its nearest opponent, Florida, which tallied 98 points. The rest of the scoring followed with Georgia Tech tabbing 71, Vanderbilt 18, and Kentucky 8.

Kentucky, who never seriously threatened an opponent, was represented by only two men, Jack McDonald and Bruce Kinsel.

McDonald placed sixth in the 1500 meter freestyle, fourth in the 200-yard backstroke, and third in the 150-yard medley. Kinsel placed sixth in the three-meter diving.

Kentucky Gets Third In Pool Tourney

Kentucky's pool squad finished in third place in Section Two of the Intercollegiate Billiard, telephonic tournament last week.

The UK sharks racked up 238 points. Ohio State was first in the section with 296 and Michigan was second with 247.

Harold Eton was high man for UK with a score of 80.

Schoolboy Tourney Underway In Coliseum; 10 Teams Left

By Joe Howard

It's here again! Firing began Wednesday at the Memorial Coliseum to determine a new king for the high school basketball ranks. There is no defending champion in this year's tournament since the reigning master, Lafayette, fell by the wayside in the district eliminations. Six teams are already out but a rundown on the sixteen quietest teams can be found below:

CUBA—This team returns supreme in the First Region after knocking off favored Paducah Tiltchman. The Cubs will be in the State Tournament for the first time.

LYON COUNTY—The Lyons team favored Madisonville to gain their berth. This team has made one other appearance in the tournament.

It was known as Kuttawa then and the big star was Joe Pulke who has since proven himself as one of the all-time greats of basketball.

OWENSBORO—The name Owensboro has become synonymous with the State Tournament. The Red Devils held the record for the greatest number of trips to the select circle, this being their fifteenth start.

HUGHES-KIRKPATRICK—This is the third attempt at the coveted crown for these Fourth Region representatives. They have never survived the opening round but have made many nights for their opponents in each encounter.

AUBURN—The confines of the scene of the State Tournament are new to these boys since this is the first trip for the new champions of the Fifth Region.

CAVERNA—In their first year after consolidation this team has made quite an advancement. This is, of course, the first journey to the finals for this team but one of the schools taken in by consolidation, Horse Cave, has been seen in the tournament on previous occasions.

LOUISVILLE MANUAL—Dale Barstow's boys have one of the best teams that will be seen in this year's tournament. He may have done a few weeks ago in his first year as manager for the Cardinals.

He has taken over a handsome ball team and molded them into one of the finest outfits in the Commonwealth.

Barney has proven himself an able coach and should have profitable years before him in the coaching ranks. Manual has been the master of the occasion on four other attempts.

SHREVEVILLE—1951 marks the second time these Eighth Region champs have visited the state tournament. In 1948 they reached the quarter-finals. This is a surprise entry in this year's tournament since they were given only an outside chance of survival of the district eliminations.

COVINGTON HOLMES—This team holds the distinction of playing in the first state tournament in 1907.

ROCK HOUSE—This team has been seen in the tournament on previous occasions.

WINEFOOD—This team has been seen in the tournament on previous occasions.

FOUR SHOW—This team has been seen in the tournament on previous occasions.

CHICKIE GREEN—This team has been seen in the tournament on previous occasions.

MARLENE BRUM—This team has been seen in the tournament on previous occasions.

Al MacLeod Paces Wildcat Moundsmen

Dom Fucci Hurt; Has Arm In Cast

Six days of excellent practice outside last week and generally good physical condition enabled the Wildcat moundsmen to throw hard for the first time on Tuesday. The Cat coaching staff was optimistic over the pitching staff which is rounding into good shape. Al MacLeod paced the hurlers on Tuesday and seems ready to assume a big part of the mound duties for Kentucky this spring.

Despite the lack of sore arms, the Cats suffered an important setback when Co-Captain Dom Fucci had his left forearm cut in an accident. His arm will be in a cast for about three weeks. Just how even the A.V. American will be in shape to play depends on how fast the arm will heal.

Fucci thus became the second Wildcat moundsmen to be placed on the injured list. Ben Zaranika, an outfielder last year, will have a cast removed from his hand March 19. Zaranika's ailment is an operation intended to cure an old injury.

Twenty men out from the Kentucky squad on Saturday reduced the roster to about 22 men. A second cutting will take place when the Cats have a chance to work outside for three or four days. Five new prospects, who reported with the week, will be given a screening with the rest of the team when an intrasquad game can be held.

Looking around the infield, the indications are that the following will be present in the starting lineup: Walt Tirsch will see action at first, Tom Whisman will handle the second-base chores, and Terrell looks good at short. The race for the third base position seems too hot to make any decision now.

Captain Allen Hamilton, Walt Yonarsky, and Harry Shile are leading candidates for outfield positions. Frank Ramsey, of course, will bolster the outer defenses substantially by the time the Cats open their schedule against Vandy.

Softening the temporary loss of Fucci at catcher was the fine showing made Tuesday by Hugh Roe, a yearling who could do the Cat team much good, should freshmen be declared eligible. Other backstop possibilities are basketbalers Ramsey and Lou Tzioropoulos.

The inside practice sessions in the Coliseum this week have been devoted mainly to intensive conditioning. Films have also been utilized as part of the training program. Full-speed work in running and throwing will be started as soon as the Cats get a chance at fresh air surroundings.

Track Team Commences Regular Practice

Schedule Completed Except Open Date

By Fred Lawson

The track team has started practice for the Spring meets. Coach Tom Clab Stetson announced this week.

"Some of the boys have been working out for the past three or four weeks," he added, "but regular practice has not got under way last Monday."

Coach Stetson said he thinks that Freshmen will be allowed to compete on the track team this year. If the rule is passed he wants all the Freshmen interested to come out for the team. The Conference officials will vote on the Freshman rule at a meeting in Birmingham, March 31.

Kentucky's track schedule for 1951 lists seven meets. The team opens the season with the Purdue Relay. The following week they take on Vanderbilt in a dual meet season opener.

Sewanee has been put back on the schedule after an absence of some years. April 28 is an open period but the date is expected to be filled by either Marshall College or the University of Cincinnati.

Then in order come Tennessee and Louisville and then the team will go to Birmingham for the Southeastern Conference track meet.

The complete schedule is: March 31—Purdue Relays, there April 14—Vanderbilt, there April 21—Sewanee, here April 28—Open, here

May 5—Tennessee, here May 12—Louisville, here May 18, 19—Conference meet, Birmingham.

Pre-Meds Set Date Of Delayed Meeting

A meeting of the Pre-Med Society, originally scheduled for last Tuesday night, will be held this coming Tuesday instead. The meeting will be at 7 p.m. in Room 313 of the Puncheon Biological Science Building.

Dr. Ralph J. Anselrud, neurosurgeon, will speak extemporaneously. Dr. Anselrud is an alumnus of the school and received his M.D. at Vanderbilt University.

Pledges 'Must Register' To Participate In I-M's

Interested in weekend ride to Louisville? Leave Friday afternoon, return Sunday night. Contact Box 2496. Include Phone No.

"Starting with bowling, all fraternity pledges must have been pledged 30 days before the intramural event begins in which they want to participate," said I-M Director William McCubbin, Wednesday.

"The fact must have been recorded in Dean A. B. Kirwan's office 30 days before they can be eligible to play for a fraternity," he added.

The ruling was aimed to stop organizations from pledging men for particular sports, then dropping them afterwards. Some had planned to do this, McCubbin stated.

Bowling will begin Monday afternoon at the Wildcat Lanes on Euclid Avenue. It will be run off in the form of a round-robin team tournament with the winner being decided on a percentage basis.

A regular team consists of five bowlers. The journey will be held from 10 to 6 o'clock on Tuesday afternoons. Deadlines for bowling and badminton singles and doubles fall this afternoon. Badminton play will begin on March 28.

Camp Director To Interview Candidates Interested In I-M's

Girls interested in summer camp positions may arrange interview appointments with Miss Camilla Barnett, camp director of Camp Butterworth, Cincinnati Girl Scout Council, on Tuesday. She will be at the Department of Social Work, McVey Hall from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Unit leaders, arts and crafts specialists, nature specialists, business managers and waterfront directors are needed.

Kinney Will Speak To Humanities Club

Gordon Kinney, assistant professor of applied music, will discuss "Ideas in Contemporary Music" at the meeting of the Humanities Club at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Music Lounge of the Fine Arts Building.

The Humanities Club is open to members of the student body and the staff of the University. The monthly meetings discuss different phases of the humanities in order to give a better understanding of them.

Kappa Sigs, ZET's, Phi Sigs, Sig Eps Advance Wednesday

By Don Armstrong

Phi Delta Theta, one of the I-M basketball tourney favorites, was upset, 22-19, by Sigma Nu Wednesday night as the single-game eliminations began in Alumni Gym.

In other close games Kappa Sigma squeaked by Alpha Gamma Rho, 28-27, and Phi Sigma Kappa took a nip-and-tuck battle from Sigma Alpha, 28-24. Sigma Phi Epsilon advanced easily over Phi Kappa Tau by a 43-28 score.

Two independent division games were also scheduled to take place Wednesday night, but only one was played. Kinkead Hall moved past Cooperstown with surprising ease, 29-18, and the Squirts registered a forfeit win over the Titans.

Seven points by McCabe led Sigma Nu in its unexpected victory over the Phi Delt. Teammates Clark and Wannmaker were next in scoring for the winners with six and four points, respectively.

For the Phi Delt, Rose had six and McCann and Scherer had four points apiece. It was the second loss of the year for the Phi Delt basketballers who dropped their last game of the season to Kappa Sigma.

The Kappa Sigs had a rough night without their mainstay, Al Bruno, who didn't play because of an injured ankle. Alpha Gamma Rho made it a contest all the way as they hit 10 points for the big fraternity cause. It might have been another upset had Herb Brown, who twisted his right knee just after the second half began, been able to finish the game. When he left the court he had added seven points to AG's total.

Zeta Beta Tau took Lambda Chi Alpha, 24-19, as Joel Gordon and Jim Wencker chipped in ten points apiece for the ZET's. Carl Faith, Charles Reed, and Malloy scored all of Lambda Chi's points with Faith contributing nine and the others five each.

Phi Sigma Kappa eliminated Kappa Alpha in a close contest, 28-24. Blankenship, who netted 13 points for the winners, Jim Nickols and Sonny Hecker netted seven points each to contribute to the K's.

The Sig Eps downed Phi Kappa Tau easily, 48-24, in the remaining fraternity tournament game. Arnold Conley was the night's leading scorer with 15 points. His second-half spree of six field goals backed the Sig Eps substantially. DeLorrette had five points for the losing Phi Taus.

In the only independent division game to actually be played, Kinkead Hall bested Cooperstown, 29-18. Smith led the dorm team with nine points and Lee Congleton added eight more. Willoughby's eight markers for Cooperstown was his team's leading effort. Dopey Phelps counted six and Bill Conde four for the married men.

Memorial Coliseum will be the site of the finals and semi-finals on Monday and Tuesday nights for both divisions. On Wednesday night the fraternity winner will take on the independent champ to decide the University title. The game will begin at 8:15 o'clock, coming after the consolation tilt, which is scheduled for 7 o'clock. It will also be in the Coliseum.

MONDAY NIGHT'S SCHEDULE
Fraternity Division
Sigma Alpha Epsilon - Phi Sigma Kappa winner vs. Kappa Sigma-Sigma Nu winner, and Zeta Beta Tau - Phi Kappa Alpha winner vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon-Eta Tau Delta victor.
Independent Division
World Walker-Saints winner vs. Kitters-Kinkead Hall victor, and Squirt-Varmil winner vs. Newsmen-Globe Trotters victor.
