About Anything

By Cornell (Corky) Clarke and Jim Wood

With all due respect to the reputations (doubtful and otherwise) which will pass through this column each week, we take the dubious pleasure of presenting the first gossip column of the year.

Corky Clarke, the first and best half of this column, has long been acquainted with skeletons in UK closets and probably knows more reputations, rumors, general prejudices and just plain cussiness than anyone on the campus.

Each year there is a very reasonable howl from the independents, who claim that they are given little publicity in Kernel gossip columns. The reason for this is easily explained: sororities and fraternities work in closed circles and are usually represented by a person whose task it is to get as much publicity for his or her organization as possible.

To relieve this situation, we suggest that all independent gossip be turned to The Kernel instead. We will be very glad to make this at least a half-Greek-half-independent column.

The Kentucky Fraternity Man, one of the nearest jobs of student publishing done in the past few years, may find itself gathering dust in fraternity house closets for awhile.

Panelistic Council members are reported to have witnessed a surprise move this week when a Kappa, nominated a Theta for a council office.

I heard one fraternity man make this comment: "If you have to get a co-ed to help him make up his mind, then you are going to have one hell of a pledge class." Remember, girls, I didn't say it, I only heard it. Personally, I think co-ed wonderful things for a college.

Homecoming Dance After 'Vandy' Game

The Homecoming Dance, annual feature of the Homecoming Weekend, is scheduled for the hours of 8-12 p.m. in the Student Union's Bluegrass room on Saturday, October 19, following the afternoon football game with Vanderbilt. Music for the dance will be supplied by Barney Hagg and his New Englanders, the Union's dance committee announced this week.

The advance ticket sale for the semi-formal affair will open in the Union building on Wednesday, October 16, and close on Friday, October 18. Admission will be $1.75, stag or couple, and if the limited number of tickets is sold during the three days allotted to the sale, there will be no tickets sold at the door.

On the other hand, the job of columnists has its appealing aspects. A columnist is generally assured of seeing his stuff in print—if it isn't libelous. The reporter, of course, doesn't have this assurance and, believe me, there is nothing more disheartening than working yourself half to death on a story that isn't even used in the next

REVIVE COURTESY TRADITION AT UK, DONOVAN SAYS

With so many people on the campus at this time and with facilities inadequate to care for all of them properly, it is essential that we observe that old-fashioned virtue called courtesy. Courtesy is a mark of culture and refinement. It is a quality of character worthy of the highest cultivation. Courtesy implies good manners, gentle breeding, gentility, unobtrusive good humor, and civility.

H. L. Donovan, President

Dutch Lunch Club

The Dutch Lunch Club will hold its first meeting of the quarter Friday, October 11. The club is for town girls and commuters, who have lunch together once every week.

October 9

Canterbury Club

The Canterbury club held its opening meeting Monday afternoon in the Student Union with a tea, honoring Rev. Daniel Davis, the club's new chaplain.

Dr. John Keller, who joined the staff in June, 1946, has just had a book on the old Spanish exemplar accepted for publication by the University of Indiana.

Dr. Robert J. Niess joined the staff in June of this year following his discharge from the Army. He is the author of several books on the French philosopher, Julia Brande. Dr. Niess is a specialist in comparative literature and in contemporary French and Spanish literature.

Another new member of the romance language staff is Mrs. Aida Greenhood, recently of the University of Tennessee. Mrs. Greenhood has done work at Hunter College in New York and also at Columbia University. She is replacing Miss Margaret Horsfield who is on leave.

Mr. Jose Puente has been on the campus since June. He is an assistant instructor in Spanish. A Spaniard, Mr. Puente has been in the romance language department the United States about 20 years.

For The Service Of All

Whenever d'Astagan and the immortal musketeers celebrated a victory, they used to swagger down the street shouting their favorite phrase, "All for one—and one for all."

Removed from its story-book setting, the phrase is one that has meaning for all of us in America. Because it's a phrase that expresses mutual friendship and responsibility, mutual trust, and concern for the other fellow.

And it's a phrase that is especially important this year, when, to help the citizen at home and away from home, USO and the Community Chests of America will make concurrent appeals for funds during September and October.

The services of the two organizations are closely related.

Community Chests of America, embracing local chests in 849 cities, will be seeking $162,000,000. Of this about $150,000,000 is for the support of local service agencies in Community Chest areas in those towns and cities.

And the USO appeal will be included in most of the local Community Chest campaigns, which will be expected to raise $11,500,000 of the total of $19,000,000 which the USO will need for its work through 1947. In New York City, and in cities, towns and rural areas where the appeal

Wright or Wrong

In this life men are sometimes driven to do strange things. Some build ships and some atom bombs. Some marry their wives and some become college professors. Some make a decent living and some write newspaper columns to get their daily bread. And some jokers are crazy enough to write a column for fun.

Billie Rose, owner of the Diamond Horseshoe, Eleanor Helm, and several other nice pieces of property, recently started a column because she "liked to see his stuff in print."

My room-mate (whose name is very similar to mine) has many disgusting habits. But the one that grips me most is the artful manner in which he assumes when we get in from a big dance. He is always telling me about the cute blonde (oh, out of this world) he danced with. This blonde always wants to know if he is the Wright who writes (nice alliteration, that) the column.

You can't very well deny the fact that a blonde is a great lure for potential columnists. Quite often a potential columnist is apt to overlook the many disadvantages to the dull job of turning out daily readable copy when the thoughts of a blonde are his good reason.

Perhaps the greatest fear of columnists is that they will get stale and reach that low ebb where they can no longer produce readable interesting material. Closely akin to this is the worry columnists have that they will begin to get monotonous—that they will begin repeating themselves over and over and fail to realize it's as hard as the very devil to stay fresh and original day in and day out.

On the other hand, the job of columnists has its appealing aspects. A columnist is generally assured of seeing his stuff in print—if it isn't libelous. The reporter, of course, doesn't have this assurance and, believe me, there is nothing more disheartening than working yourself half to death on a story that isn't even used in the next

Active in Guignol, Tri Delta, honorary fraternities Phi Beta and Chi Delta Phi, she is a student at the Princeton Beach Theatre at Plymouth.

She is also featured in "Penny Wise" and "Junior Miss." These plays are current at the Little Brattle Hall Theatre, Cambridge, Mass.

Chess Club Meets

The University Chess club will hold its second meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 in Miller Hall. Professor W. C. McQuown announced Wednesday.

The initial meeting of the group was held last Tuesday under the co-sponsorship of Professor McQuown, and Professor J. I. Puente. Election of officers was postponed until the next meeting.

Professor McQuown said that the group plans to sponsor local chess tournaments and send representatives to Louisville meets. He added that all University students and Lexington residents interested in playing chess are invited to become members.

Three Added To German Staff

Three new staff members, one of them a graduate of the University, have been added to the staff of the German department, it was announced today by Dr. Adolph Bigge, head of the department.

Dr. Anne Odor, who graduated from the University in 1940, returned to the campus this fall with a Ph.D. from the University of Illinois as assistant professor of German. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and recovers Dr. John Thibet whose services were requested by the Allied Government in Germany.

Other new staff members are Miss Esther Nevitt, University graduate, a graduate assistant who has been made an instructor, and Mrs. David Lincoln, a part time instructor on the staff of the German department.

Dr. Bigge reports that there are between 400 and 500 students, or about 7 per cent of the student body enrolled in German classes, of whom five are majors in the subject. Due to this unusually heavy load, remodeling of teachers' offices and enlarging of the department are going on this fall.

English Professor Added To Staff

Dr. J. P. Stoakes, for the past two years an employee of the Consumer Relations Office of the OPA in Washington, has been appointed associate professor of English at UK, according to a statement by Dr. L. L. Dantzer, head of the English department.

Dr. and Mrs. Stoakes arrived in Lexington the first of September, and he has taken up his duties as associate English professor and director of Freshman English.

Prior to his work with the OPA, Dr. Stoakes was director of the English teaching program in the "Centro Colombo-Americano" in Bogota, Colombia. He helped organize the teaching of English in the South American countries.

He has written many articles for professional journals, including the "School Review," "English Journal," "Scientific Monthly" and "Seavane Review." He has also written for popular magazines such as "Theater Arts" and "Esquire." One of his books, "English Practice," a textbook of English for Spanish speaking students, is now in its fifth edition.

Dr. Stoakes received his A.B. at Wayne University in Detroit, his M.A. at the University of Wisconsin, and his Ph.D. at the University of Michigan. He was professor of English at Marshall College in Huntington, West Virginia before going to South America.

'Cats In Movies'

Movie actors on the campus is the newest feature of Kentucky athletics, as RKO studios in Hollywood plan to make a "short" of Coach Adolph Rupp and his national invitational basketball champions.

Though everything is still in tentative form, company officials have wired the Baron for information regarding volume, wiring and kind of current in Alumni gym. If arrangements are completed, the week of October 14 will find cameras "on location" in the Whitecat gym.

Social Committee Meets October 11

The University Social committee will hold its first meeting of the fall quarter on Friday, October 11, to approve dates for the first quarter social calendar.

All campus organizations are requested to turn in by October 10 any social events they wish to schedule this fall. Applications and blanks may be secured from, and should be turned in to, the office of the social director, room 121, Student Union building. The University Social Regulations state that "social functions of any kind must be cleared through the Social committee. . . . The event may be cancelled if the organization fails to comply with this ruling."

Dean Holmes is Chairman. The Social committee is composed of students as well as faculty members, with Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women, as chairman.

Regular meetings of this committee will be held after October 11 to consider additional requests which may come in during the quarter.

Students Enroll Now For Union Committees

Students interested in helping plan and carry out the various activities that go on in the Student Union building may sign up now for positions on the service committees. The application for service on these committees which make up the Student Union board is published in The Kernel today.

The committees and their functions follow: The Activities committee sponsors bridge lessons, movies, hobby shows, and any other activities which are of interest to the students. Marjean Westrup is chairman.

The Art and Poster committee, with Rosemary Dummit as chairman, sponsors art exhibits and makes posters for all other Union committees. The Dance committee, with Ellen Wood as chairman, makes all arrangements and plans for the Student Union dances.

The House committee, led by Mary Lou Witherspoon, plans informal afternoon dances called Sweater Swings, acts as hosts and hostesses in the building at all campus receptions, etc. The Koffee Klub, Scotty McCullough, chairman, sponsors outstanding speakers at coffee hours.

The Public Relations committee assists the Union staff by sending out announcements, keeping a scrapbook, and helping with publicity for other committees. Carolyn McKeein is chairman. The Book committee, Morris Beebe, chairman, sponsors tournaments of all kinds—pool, punting, bridge, and bowling.

Additional information concerning the committees may be obtained from Mrs. Dorothy Evans, room 121, Union building.

"He is doing a fine piece of work and I am sure that the University will be proud of him," writes Miss Musk and further explains that the Chrysler Corp. sponsors a program for college graduates, the purpose being to encourage a better understanding between industry and education.

Thelma MacIntyre, graduate of the University in 1925 who holds a Master's degree from the institution, obtained in 1936, has been named technician in the Berea College Hospital for the year 1946-47.

KACS Meet Delayed

The 23rd annual Educational Conference and the 12th annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, originally scheduled to be held on the University campus Oct. 25 and 26, has been postponed. Dean William S. Taylor, of the U.K. College of Education announced Thursday. Such action has been found necessary, Dean Taylor explained, because of the "critical hotel situation in Lexington which makes it absolutely impossible to procure any reservations at any of the hotels." The holding over through Oct. 25 and 26 of the fall races at Keeneland contributed greatly to the situation, he said.

MUSING with Melton

By Buster Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

The "is he is, or is he ain't" controversy about Ermal Allen's eligibility has apparently reached its climax. The "Mighty Mite" will not play against Xavier's Musketeers as a result of the South-eastern conference executive committee's latest ruling, which is under protest by the University.

Coach Paul Bryant announced Thursday that "by request of University authorities, I will not play Allen until our formal appeal has been acted upon. I consider this an injustice to Allen, for there is at least one other player in the conference this year, undoubtedly many more next season who will play a fourth year. He is rejecting professional offers to stay in school, and, in my opinion is eligible beyond any doubt. The team will miss him."

Announcement by the executive committee early this week of its decision made the third one of the young football season. Before the campaign started Allen was listed as ineligible, but this opinion was reversed by the committee just before the Wildcat opener with Mississippi. Ermal Allen figured heavily in both wins over Ole Miss and Cincinnati.

The session in which Allen was declared eligible had only three votes as Kentucky's Dr. W. D. Funkhouser was barred from balloting because of his school's interest, and Mississippi's delegate had not been appointed since the death of its chancellor. This week Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the conference, appointed Dr. Rufus Harris, Tulane university president, and Dr. L. N. Duncan, Auburn university head, as "disinterested members" to complete the five-man tally. This violated loop rules as no two members are to be from the same state; Louisiana was already represented by L. S. U.'s president, so Tulane's inclusion made the Pelican state's delegation a bit too numerous. The meeting itself was not in accordance with league by-laws.

Whether Allen could make All-American, whatever his worth to Kentucky football and disregarding the lucrative pro lures, the fact remains that he has played only three years. Weighing only 160 now, he was much too light his freshman season. However, it is absurd to speak of his competing now as a freshman in lieu of his frosh inactivity, since there are no freshmen teams in the conference. If good enough a griddler can carry a varsity berth four years. Allen has only played three—why not a fourth?

How his loss will affect Wildcat winning remains to be seen, but he will be missed. Phil Cutchin can run, kick and pass with the best of them, is now one of the most capable backs in the south, as he was before military service. Allen's worth, however, included his leadership; he was like a coach on the field. Plays had been built around him, his precision passing was to play a big part in Kentucky's grid restriction.

Typical of comment about him was Coach Bryant's early this week. In discussing Saturday's stars he drawled, "Well, Allen was Allen." Bud Bonar, Cincinnati assistant coach who scouted the Mississippi opener, called Kentucky "a great team with Allen, mediocre without him."

"Is a well-known fact that certain coaches and sportswriters around the circuit are responsible for continued attempts that changed Allen's status. While Dr. Funkhouser, who is not only Kentucky's delegate but conference secretary, prepares his formal briefs, I cannot help but muse:

Kentucky has a guy named Allen,
About whom the conference is yallin',
His passing is sure,
Ineligibility the cure,
A sure way to keep Allen from tallyin'.

The eligibility of Ermal Allen, Kentucky's touchdown tasser, is the most discussed topic in southern football. The Southeastern conference's executive committee ruled him ineligible early this week, but the University is protesting the decision.

'Quiet Conquer Cincy, 26-7, Cat Bearcat Grid Talk

Down-games, an undrafted season, All-Americans and bigtime football for the Bearcats—topics for chatter everywhere in Cincinnati last week—are a joke over there this week, son. So complete and convincing was Kentucky's 26-7 victory Saturday night in Nippert stadium, Bearcat boosters are even swinging on the Kentucky bandwagon.

Among the 30,000 fans, largest football crowd ever in Cincinnati, were 28,000 partisans unable to believe what they saw, and 4,000 Kentucky visitors who were not so surprised. Except for a Bearcat offensive in the first quarter, the game was Kentucky all the way. When the loser, tallied their only touchdown in the third period, Cat play was so consistent and determined that little room was left for doubt.

The score could have ended at 20-0, but for those "little things" that make or break a ball game. Ermal Allen, Kentucky's star who never knows from one game to the next if he'll be eligible, went over once, but dropped the ball when hit hard. Cincinnati's only score came after a Kentucky fumble, but more specifically on a Wildcat penalty. A Wildcat clipping charge put the pigskin on the one-yard line from which point it was not too much of a task for the Bearcats' Mike Graham to plunge through center for the six points. Captain Elbert Nickel converted Kentucky's offense netted single touchdowns in the second and third quarters, twice in the finale.

Once again it was team play that achieved success for Bear's boys. Coach Paul Bryant termed the "line play all good," but mentioned "Walk-Walk" Jones, Leonard Preston, Jay Rhoemeyre, Charlie Bill Walker and Bill Dawson in particular. Jones' pass-catching was outstanding as usual. Timely blocks and vicious tackling by Preston and Dawson sealed the victors more than somewhat. Centers Rhoemeyre and Walker were invaluable in backing up the line.

In the backfield Allen, Dopey Phelps, and Phil Cutchin turned in their usual ground-gaining games. Jack Parris and Bill Mosley added their names to the list of Cat backs to watch, and Gene Meeks got away for his best run of the year. Coach Bryant called Cutchin's play better than in the first game, added that the team was "running better, playing harder."

Injuries were negligible among the 'Cats, except for a knee injury to Phelps. The elusive right half suffered a strained muscle, may see action against the Muskies. Phelps' specialty is wide end sweeps, where his speed and immunity to tacklers pick up needed yardage. Victims of Kentucky's second straight win did not fare so well, their two most highly-publicized players being carried from the field. Captain Elbert Nickel, end, sealed a bit too hard with "Mighty Mite" Allen's little fellow, knocked down a Bearcat aerial. McMullin was hurt in a running play.

Parris scored Kentucky's first touchdown on the first play after the 'Cats recovered Fred Bedecker's fumble on the Bearcat eight early in the second quarter. The next marker came on Meek's long run after a steady march down field. From his own 46 Meeks broke through the Cincinnati forwards, reversed his field and scored standing up. McMullin's kick was good.

Jones' basketball experience played no small part in the next point-play, after he had grabbed Allen's pass on the home team's seven. Harlan's hero faked a tackler directly between him and double-strikes as if on a cage court, crossed easily. After a short Bearcat offensive that reached the 26-yard line, Art Phillip's pass was intercepted by Bill Mosley and returned to the Cincy six. Two plays later Allen chucked to George Sengel for the game's last touchdown. Bill Bolter's try for extra point failed.

Visiting Muskies May Be Meek But Wildcats Take No Chances

Comparative scores make Kentucky's Wildcats heavy favorites over Xavier's Musketeers in Saturday night's Stoll field attraction, but Coach Paul Bryant and his proteges are not winning their games that way.

Twice victorious, the 'Cats revealed no signs of overconfidence in practice sessions this week, worked long and hard. Against the Muskies they will not have Ermal Allen, who played such a big part in winning over Mississippi and Indiana—conquering Cincinnati. The triple-threat was ruled ineligible early this week by the Southeastern conference's executive committee. Dr. John J. Tigert, league president, has officially notified Kentucky, and Allen will not be pending investigation of the university's protest.

Spirit and drive in the 'Cat camp has held up, however, as the Blue gridders feel the "Mighty Mite" is in the lineup again when paper parlaying is completed. His alternate at left half, Phil Cutchin is a three-talented performer himself. The Muskies lack in football for to be improved, never gets too sure where football results are concerned. He personally scouted them Sunday, especially commended their defensive strength. Their roster includes many lettermen from Xavier and other colleges.

The Muskies use a single-wing, T combination, featuring quick-opening plays. The line averages 190 pounds, and the backfield lists several ball-toters capable of better-than-average running. Among the better backs is Bob Jamming, senior at right half, who earned letters in '41 and '42 before entering service. Finding him for a varsity berth is "Dancing Don" Bolton, All-Ohio footballer last year. At left half is Bob McQuade, sophomore transfer who lettered at Ohio State. John DeBokins, who was listed as an All-Indiana fullback last season, will probably start at full.

In the line Bob Conway, whose transfer from Holy Cross Orange Bowl team has caused much publicity, will start at left end, with aggressive Jim Daum on the right

In their only start so far, Xavier was beaten by St. Ambrose, 3-0, on an 18-yard field goal in the first quarter. Coach Bryant expects them
