See fit and recover possession of all the lands, from any squatter, or trespasser or person with a junior title, and protect the possession of himself and his Coleenants. I cannot therefore see how the defendant can demand any pro duction of a transfer from Edward Winkleby Adams to Crow,

In point of fact Winkleby claims under the judicical sale made of all the land by the U. S. Circuit Court, and cannot be required in this suit to show, whether Adams conveyed Crow a Crow survived Adams; or Adams conveyed to Crow, or not, after a lapse of some seventy years since they held in joint tenancy. It is sufficient that since 1836 he has claimed and held under the decree of the U. S.
Circuit Court, & entered upon those
