ABBHEY OF GETHSEMANI
TRAPPIST, KENTUCKY.

June 27, 1960

Dear Victor:

I do not know what plans you may have about coming over: it is just possible that this may cross with a letter from you. But I want to say that this week and perhaps the beginning of next I may or will not be available. I am going in to the hospital for a check up. Nothing serious, just the necessary routine. So I will not be around these few days. But after that, yes.

How is the book coming?

I wonder about using the poem for a magazine, or something, after you have sent out the bulk of your copies?

~~ix~~ This is just a brief note, to prevent any confusion. I hope both you and Carolyn are well. I pray for you, and beg God to bless you.

Very cordially in Christ
