STUDENT GOVERNMENT TO BECOME PERMANENT

Miss Will Elected President For Coming Year and Council Chosen

Only one voice was lacking to vote student government in unananimously at the house meeting held at Patterson Hall Thursday evening, May 1.

In January the girls voted to put student government on trial until the first of May, when it was to be voted on as to whether it should become permanent. The meeting was called by the retiring president, Miss Mildred Graham, who had the pleasure of seeing the plan which she inaugurated, receive enthusiastic approval. Miss Graham presided over the election of the new president, who was to be chosen from candidates from the junior class, as this new council will continue thru-out next year.

Miss Louise Will was elected president. Miss Will, who is well-known in school affairs, was recently pledged Staff and Crown. In this last position of honor and responsibility, she has the confidence of the entire student body.

After the election of the president, the house proceeded with the election of the new council. The seniors, who asked to be excused from representation, were granted a petition asking for exemption from all rules for the rest of the year. The new council, as finally elected, is composed of the following members: President, Louise Will; First Vice-President, Erma Wentzell; Second Vice-President, Leah Gault; Secretary, Frances Kimbrough, and Treasurer, Margaret Ford. Senior Representatives: Martha Pollitt, Ruth Gregory, and Edith Williams. Junior Representatives: Amelia Volers, Adele Slade and Roberta Thornton. Sophomore Representatives: Margaret Harbison and Fannie Heller.

One other petition was presented and granted as a favor to the under classmen who asked that they be allowed to give a dance at Patterson Hall on the night of the junior prom, May 16.

BATTALION WILL BE INSPECTED MAY 12

Major David O. Byars announced yesterday that Colonel Creed F. Cox, of the general staff, Washington, will be here on May 12 and 13, to inspect the University battalion.

It is not known whether the inspection will take place on May 12 or on May 13, or whether both days will be taken up, as no word concerning definite arrangements for inspection has been received from Colonel Cox.

Announcements of the exact hour of the inspection, and also of the classes which will be affected by the inspection will be made in plenty of time.

UNION AND PATT. LITERARY SOCIETIES WILL FIGHT FOR CUP

The red letter day on the literary societies' calendar for the year 1919, will be Thursday, May 8. On that evening the Union and Patterson Literary Societies, who have been rivals almost from the date of their organization, will hold their annual debate for the possession of the silver loving cup, donated by ex-President Barker. The winning society is allowed to hold the cup for one year and permanent possession is acquired by three successive victories. The Union has held the cup for the last two years, and is determined to score another victory, while the Patterson men declare that they will fight to the finish.

The question to be debated is, "Resolved, That the American System of Trial by Jury Should be Abolished—constitutionality conceded." The Union team is composed of J. P. Barnes and Goebel Porter. The representatives of the Patterson are W. J. Kalbreiter and M. C. Redwine.

These teams represented Kentucky recently in the debates with Centre and Transylvania.

WILDCATS "BRING BACK THE BACON" FROM OHIO

Cincinnati and Miami Baseball Teams Fall Before Wildcat Scythe By 11—8 and 7—5 Scores.

LASLEY AND SLOMER PITCH GOOD BALL

Last Friday afternoon Coach Gill sent back the glad tidings: "We have met the enemy, and they are ours; two baseball games, Cincinnati 11 to 8, Miami 7 to 5." The Wildcat baseball team played the University of Cincinnati Thursday afternoon at Cincinnati, and Miami University Friday afternoon at Oxford, Ohio. Both games were hard fought, and the news of the victories was well received.

The two games played in Ohio last week were the first the Wildcats have played away from home this season. Cincinnati was reported to have a very strong team, and Miami had already demonstrated her ability to the Wildcats.

Propps Gets Five in Five Times Up. "Doc" Lasley was pitted against the Cincinnati pitcher, Robins, in the first game of the trip. He allowed 8 hits, while Kentucky succeeded in getting 14 off his opponent. Of these, Lasley got one and it resulted in a run. The batting of "Speedy" Propps was the big feature of the game. Out of five times at bat he slammed out five hits, one being a two bagger, and he brought in one of the runs. The support of the

STROLLERS MAKE 'UNDER COVER' THEIR 'BIGGEST AND BEST' PRODUCTION

Tenth Annual Offering Plays to Largest Audience That Ever Paid Admission to Amateur Show in Lexington

MISS YOUNG HANDLES LEAD LIKE VETERAN

Playing to one of the largest and most appreciative audiences that ever witnessed an amateur production in Lexington, the Strollers, the dramatic organization of this University, probably scored their "biggest and best" when they put the lines of Roi Cooper Megrue's "Under Cover," across the footlights in the Lexington Opera House last Saturday night. The production was successful from every viewpoint.

The audience was not made up entirely of University students and members of the faculty for the better class of Central Kentucky folk are beginning to show increased interest in the University by attending events open to the general public. In the heart of the student-body of Kentucky, there has always been a warm spot for the Strollers. The townspeople of Lexington and persons thruout Central Kentucky come to Stroller plays in larger numbers every year.

Miss Young Scores Heavily. The Kernel regrets indeed that it hasn't the space to go into detail concerning the work of the Stroller folk in Megrue's strong play, for if the critic was given unlimited space, the rest of the staff could go on a vacation.

Lucy Young, class of '19 played Ethel Cartwright, the leading feminine role in the play. Miss Young's costumes were becoming, her pose impressive, her lines clear and forceful. In short, her rendering of the difficult role in which the educated and refined society girl in embarrassing circumstances outwits a crook, accomplishes great service for the Government, wins the love of the man she admires and saves her sweet, but irresponsible sister from a prison cell, left nothing to be desired.

Gay and Frazier Are Excellent. Gus Gay had the premier man's part in the play, the part of Steven Denby, hero, and secret service hero at that. He was as much at home in the part as he would be if he were sitting in his dining room with his feet under the table and his face over the food. Gus, you know, has had some experience, both in previous Stroller plays and in the service theater at Camp Taylor, yet never in his life outdid his performance of last Saturday night.

MOVIES WILL SHOW HOW 'SQUADS EAST' IS CORRECTLY DONE

"Training the soldier," is the theme of moving picture films to be shown at the University in connection with the military department in the Chemical Lecture room of the new Chemistry building from now until June 2, at 3:30 o'clock on days to be announced each week.

The first lecture was given Monday afternoon. Films dealing with "Discipline and Courtesy," "How to Shoot the Rifle," and "Bombing," were shown Wednesday afternoon, "Manual of Arms," "Physical Drill," and "The Bayonet," were the subject of the pictures.

The next lecture will be on Tuesday, May 13, illustrating "Pistol Shooting," "School of the Squad," and "School of the Company." Three thousand feet of films are to be shown at each of these lectures. All the students of the University are invited to attend.

GEORGETOWN TAKES MEET THE CATS SHOW FORM

Kentucky Nosed Out in the Last Three Events After Winning Six First Place Honors.

GRABFELDER SHINES

In an exciting track meet held on the Hinton Field track at Georgetown Monday afternoon, May 5, the Georgetown athletes defeated the University of Kentucky by a 65 to 48 score.

The work of the Kentucky athletes showed a marked improvement over that of the Miami meet.

The meet was one of the most bitterly contested ever held in Kentucky. The Wildcats won first place in the first six events, and until the last three events, held a safe lead, but lost their chance for victory when the entries for the broad jump, one mile run, and relay race failed to show up in the manner expected. During the meet Kentucky scored more first place honors than her opponent, altho Georgetown was always able to have a man finish among the point gatherers. This kept her in striking distance, and when the last three events were staged, she forged ahead, winning most points in the meet. R. A. Owens, secretary of U. of K. Y. M. C. A. was umpire and starter.

The outstanding Georgetown star was Porter, who won first place in the broad jump, the 220 yard hurdles and second place in the 100-yard dash. He established a new State record in the broad jump, by making a leap of 22 feet and 3 inches.

Arthur Grabfelder, who made many points for Kentucky at Miami, won

CENTRE TO TRY TO WIN IN BASEBALL AND TRACK

Both Events to be Held on Stoll Field Saturday Afternoon; Wildcats Confident

The University of Kentucky and Centre College will again "lock horns" for intercollegiate athletic honors Saturday afternoon, May 10, when a track meet and baseball game will be held on Stoll Field.

The first event of the track meet with Centre Saturday afternoon will begin at 1 o'clock, and the last event will be over by 3:45. The "running Wildcats" showed remarkable improvement at the Georgetown meet over their record at Miami, and Coach Gill feels confident that with the experience gained in the two previous meets Kentucky will be able to have a winner in every event, and easily hold the big end of the score at the close of the events. Coach Green, of Centre, has said that the track meet between the rivals will be decided by the relay race at the end of the meet, showing that he expects close scores in every event.

The sharpest competition of the season will be witnessed Saturday afternoon when Centre stacks up against the Wildcat baseball team after the track meet. Centre has defeated every Kentucky team opposed to it, expects to carry away the championship of the State for baseball as it did in basketball. On the other hand, Coach Gill says he has two of the best pitchers that he has seen in college baseball in ten years and will put either of them in the box against any other pitcher in the State. The Wildcat infield is especially strong this year, and thus far has registered few errors. Centre has many stars in football and basketball in its baseball team, including Bob McMillan and Red Roberts. Saturday's game is expected to be the best in the season if the contentions of each side are founded on facts.

STROLLERS MAKE HIT

like Bluebeard must have been, the biggest grafter in Government service between the blue of the Atlantic and th blue of the Pacific, Emery Frazier, one of the old regime in Stroller productions, made a very acceptable Daniel Taylor. The part fitted "Frizzy" like an old shoe. In fact the boy is hard-boiled anyway, for he served his time in the army, some of it in Texas, where he was in charge of a few hundred M. P.'s Frazier's stuff got by well and nobody neglected to accord him a share in the honors.

Whadda You Know About This.

Lee McClain was as a critic on one of the Lexington newspapers said: "Lee McClain, the Michael Harrington of the piece, happy-go-lucky, liquor-loving, more or less useless, but beloved 'hubby' of 'Mrs. Harrington,' met every requirement of his part and supplied the humor of the piece in his many witty passages with his doting, but blase society wife. McClain's participancy in the card-game scene of the play was amusing and well handled, in fact so well handled that he subjected himself to the good natured criticism of a more extensive acquaintance with the pasteboards than the exigencies of the plot suggested."

Eliza Spurrier, senior in the College of Arts and Science, one of the most outstanding Strollers, both for quality and performance in plays and in University life in general, was cast in the part of Mrs. Harrington, doting, but debonair and blase wife of Michael Harrington. In Saturday's "Under Cover" Miss Spurrier probably outclassed anything that she attempted in previous Stroller plays, sharing honors with the lead. To Miss Spurrier is due quite a little of the credit for the success of "Under Cover," she contributing her wealth of former experience in Stroller plays, her level-headed intelligence in all things dramatic, her knowledge of the particular play, and prompt cueing.

Miss Smith Has Promising Future

Margaret Smith, freshman, took to the part of Nora Rutledge like a duck takes to water. She put jazz and pep into every scene in which she appeared. With her quickness at repartee, her stage voice, her confidence in Margaret, and incidentally Bill, or Monty Vaughn. By common consent of Strollers and critics, the University dramatic organization has a "bonanza" in Miss Smith.

Mary E. James, freshman also, was Ethel Cartwright's sister, carrying the stage name of Amy Cartwright. Miss James had but few lines, yet she made use of her every opportunity, handling with grace and simplicity the part of the thotless and irresponsible sister.

Deaf and dumb while she wanted to be, dashing and loud in costume and manner, Carlisle Chenault, another name on the freshman roll call, played the difficult part of Sarah Peabody. Miss Chenault made very good in the part of the unwise little female crook, who could stand everything, even to the sound of a pistol shot, in silence, except the mention of a certain person's name.

Baker and Rogers in the Lineup Too. "Bill" Baker, a new but worthy Stroller, was billed as Monty Vaughn, one of these nervous, young things of the male sex that continually pulls and caresses something on his upper lip that would perform better service as a tooth brush on the inside of his mouth than as a mustache on the outside. Bill showed the required nervous temperament and was the object of his share of applause.

Duane K. Rogers, freshman and also new but worthy Stroller, played the part of James Duncan, second string detective to Taylor, the suave but crooked customs house man. Rogers began to shine in his part with the raising of the curtain on the first act. Nor did his sun set until he made his exit from the stage in the last act.

E. T. Tapscoff, business manager of the Kernel, was Duncan's running mate. Tapscoff was the fat guy of the play, so he, too, was perfectly at home, as it were. Tapscoff gave his lines in a manner all his own, getting hearty laughs and chuckles.

Fred Augsburg and A. E. Bell played the service parts of the play. They interpreted the parts of Peter and Lampert as well as professionals could have done.

Sax and Creech Congratulated

The play was under the direction of Carrol M. Sax, of Baltimore, with Grover Creech, of this city, as stage manager, Lee McClain as business manager and Frederick M. Jackson, of Versailles, acting in the capacity of press agent for the show.

Mr. Creech and Mr. Sax, who coached the players and who also directed and did the major part of the painting of certain of the scenes for the drama, have been roundly congratulated upon the success of every detail of the play.

COL. WILSON WILL ADDRESS DEMOCRATS

Lieutenant Colonel Samuel M. Wilson, who returned last week from a twelve-months service in France, and is mentioned as a probable aspirant for the Democratic nomination for governor, will speak to the Democratic Club of the University Monday evening, May 12, in the chapel. Colonel Wilson is now at Camp Upton, N. J., awaiting his discharge, which he expects about May 10. While at home on a four-day leave to aid in the Victory Loan campaign last week, he accepted the invitation of the club to be its first speaker for the year, promising it the first open date after his return.

Colonel Wilson, for years a leading member of the Lexington bar, did not wait for the accumulated aggressions of Germany to lead his country into war, but went in 1916 to the civilian officers' training camp at Plattsburg. Altho far past military age and handicapped by a physical disability, he returned to Plattsburg when war was declared in 1917 and entered the Officers Reserve Corps. He had literally to fight his way into the service, and finally won a place in the Judge Advocate Department of the Seventy-seventh Division, made up largely of New York men, trained and equipped for service by his distinguished cousin, General Franklin Bell.

Colonel Wilson was severely wounded in a German air raid, in Franders, but was entirely recovered and back at his post when the armistice was signed. Shortly before sailing for home, he was promoted from major to a lieutenant-colonelcy, his recommendation for higher rank as a reward for service having been approved by his superior officers before hostilities ceased.

Colonel Wilson has made no statement of his intention in regard to entering the race for the nomination, but it is known that his high character and clean record have led a group of his friends to maintain for several weeks a "listening post" for him in the political world to sound the sentiment of the people about him.

All men and women of the University and the general public are invited to hear Colonel Wilson. The Democratic Club is open to women who aspire to the franchise and have an interest in political questions as well as to men who wish to become better informed on questions of the day.

SUCCESS CROWNS WORK OF ARTS DEPARTMENT

Students Doing Drawing and Designing Work Equal to Any Other School; Ambitious Program For Next Year

The Department of Arts and Design which made its debut on the University campus this year, has made great strides toward the aim of training students who can serve the school.

"The quality of work compares very favorably with that of the freshman class of any other standard school," says Miss Beck, head of the department, who received her master's degree, majoring in Art, at Columbia University last year, and who came here, after teaching at Salem College, one of the largest girls' schools in North Carolina. Miss Beck is assisted by Miss Virginia Anderson.

The department will be removed next year to the "Little Theater," in the building which was formerly the "Old Dorm," and will occupy the entire third floor. The woodwork of this new location will be finished in an attractive tone of grey and as much as possible of the effective handicraft of Kentucky will be used. An exhibit of creations from the Kentucky mountain regions is being planned and will probably be a reality next fall. The course will be enlarged next semester and will embrace an extended study of Art Application, as well as a continuation of the courses in Design, Drawing and Painting which are now supplementary. The department is ambitious to plan color schemes for pageants, scenic effects, etc., and to be of great service to the University.

Another interesting plan for next year is the organization of a Poster Club which is to be composed of students who have this year created novel posters, announcing various student activities. Miss Beck plans to have thirty or forty new members for this club each year and while they are being efficiently trained the club will "carry on," with an occasional meeting with an instructor for lectures in new methods of poster work, including printing from wood and aluminum blocks, a plan for this year which interruptions prevented.

These attractive posters are compelling wide interest. Tickets offered for the best one advertising "Under Cover," were won by Augusta Little and Marie Gordon. The Philosopher Society is offering tickets for the best poster for their play, May 31, and a prize is also offered for a program cover design. Cash prizes of $3.00 and $2.00 are inducements for competition in poster designs for the English Pageant before the close of the term. The course is of real commercial as well as art value.

A six-weeks course in Arts and Design is offered for the summer session, and consists of a combination of Design, Drawing and Painting. This will appeal to public school teachers and students unable to avail themselves of the opportunity during the regular school term.

At an exhibit of the work of the department last week, Mr. Sax, of the Vagabond Theater, Baltimore, Md., lectured. Tea was served during the afternoon. Mr. Sax said, "The exhibited work equals that in any school I have seen."

A three-day exhibit is being arranged for the first of June, which will end the work for the year. This will give the University an idea of the wide field of accomplishment of the Arts and Design Department for the year and the results of endeavors of students will be displayed.

EVANS, OF '15 CLASS DELEGATE TO CAUCUS

Lieutenant Lynn B. Evans, a graduate of the class of 1915, now a member of the U. S. N. R. F., of Detroit, has been elected a delegate to the Caucus of Service men, which will convene in St. Louis this week for the purpose of organizing the "American Legion," an organization to be composed of all men who served in the World War in the uniform of the United States.

Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is chairman of the temporary committee appointed to institute the Legion. All the states will be represented. It is believed that this body of men who have been in service, when properly organized, will exert a potent influence in this country in behalf of American ideals and American institutions.

Lieutenant Evans was a prominent member of the University, while a student here. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Lamp and Cross, and Tau Beta Pi fraternities. At present, he is in charge of Engineering work for the navy, covering Michigan and a part of Ohio, with headquarters in Detroit. He expects to finish this work and be released from active duty by the middle of June.

Kentucky infield was not bad, but was not what it should have been.

The score by innings was as follows:
 Kentucky 0 5 0 2 0 1 3 0—8
 Cincinnati 1 3 0 0 0 2 0 1—5
 Struck Out—By Lasley, 12; by Robins, 1. Three-base Hits—Burnham, 1; Weisler, 1. Two-base Hits—Propps, 1; Mizrach, 1. Home Run—Wood 1. Base on Balls—Off Lasley, 1; off Robins, 4.

"Big Red Team" Busted.

At Oxford, O., Friday the Wildcats got revenge for the way the "Big Red Team," the week before had spoiled Kentucky's perfect record. Slomer was again given a chance to prove that his speed and curves were too good for Miami batsmen. He allowed only 7 hits. The Wildcats secured 12 hits from the Miami pitcher, Fry. "Bud" won his game by a score of 7 to 5, and had the satisfaction of striking out nine Ohioans, allowing but one base on balls.

Seven Errors Made By Wildcats

Thomas and Brown did good work with the stick, each getting three hits out of five times at bat. Burnham got two hits, one being a two-bagger. Such batting as "Dutch" did in the two Ohio games will soon give him the reputation of being one of the Wildcats' heaviest hitters. His fielding and base-running are also good. Sauer played a good game in right field, being one of the few Kentuckians who did not make errors in the Miami game. Seven errors were credited to Kentucky.

Struck Out—By Slomer, 9; by Fry and Stewart, 6. Two-base Hits—Burnham, 1; Slomer, 1; Brown, 1. Base on Balls—Off Slomer, 1; off Fry, 1; off Stewart, 1. Substitutions, Miami, Stewart for Fry.

REPUBLICAN CLUB WILL MEET FRIDAY

The Republican Club will hold its second meeting Friday afternoon at 3:30 in the University chapel. Officers will be elected and plans made for the balance of the year. It is imperative that every Republican in school, ed or co-ed, be present.

For Selecting A University

For a College Education, there are five things to be taken into Consideration

1. The men at the head of the institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the teaching staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY MAKE A UNIVERSITY

To some of us the University will soon become a thing of the past. It will be our Alma Mater. We will appear in caps and gowns on Commencement Day only to consign them to pungent mothballs and cobweb ridden attics a few hours afterwards. We will pass thru the campus exit gate, stop, half-turn and sigh for what we are leaving behind us. But we will not forget what we profited in our four years' work. The preponderance of memories that will abide with us will be pleasant memories. One of the best of those that will be taken away, in the belief of the Kernel, is the fighting but fair-play spirit for which Kentucky has been known always.

College spirit—what is it? We are sorry to say that we never heard it satisfactorily defined; we are ashamed to admit that we can not define it in a manner that is satisfactory to ourselves. Certainly it is not merely the presence of the student body at a baseball game, not merely the presence of enthusiastic students at an oratorical contest, not merely the presence of a joyful throng of students at an annual Stroller play. The Kernel thinks it can not do without any of these, yet it is more than these combined. It is not only present among the students at the big events as they are held each year. It is omnipresent. It is seen in the everyday life of the student. It comes to an 8 o'clock class with the student in the morning, and it leaves with him when he has finished in the afternoon. It is seen on the street, it is seen at dances; in fact, wherever there is a student of the University, there the spirit of the University, in a measure, is seen. Consequently it is vital that no student shame, disgrace, or otherwise bring dishonor on his University by acting ungentlemanly, unmanly, by not showing the proper college spirit and breeding. But whatever it is, it lives, always has it lived and ever may it live in the University of Kentucky.

There was a diminution of spirit in the University this year on account of the war and other disturbances. This could not be avoided. But it has been revived. The blood of young America, of Kentucky youth, again flows thru its veins. The best evidence of this was seen last Saturday night when the Strollers played "Under Cover," their tenth annual production, to an almost "standing room only" house. The house, and the Kernel felicitates itself upon the fact, was made up largely of students and faculty members of the University. Further, these students and faculty members were in harmony with the splendid efforts of the Strollers to produce a banner play. Briefly, they were loyal. Yet there was noticeable absence of certain students and faculty members. We do not assert that those who did not see the play are lacking in college spirit. We say rather that they should be made the object of our sympathy. The Strollers are not the losers. It is rather those who didn't see the play.

College spirit, we believe, is also evidenced in chapel attendance. In the past there has been reason for not attending these exercises, but that reason is now gone. For since the re-opening of the University after the demobilization of the S. A. T. C., the chapel programs are all that could be desired. Prominent men have addressed the students. Artists in music have sung and played. Then, on last Tuesday, a week ago, the class in Biblical literature, gave a very worthy interpretation of "Lamentations," under the direction of Professor E. F. Farquhar. The players and their director are to be heartily congratulated on their performance. May the good work continue.

It is for the students and the faculty, therefore, to maintain the spirit of Kentucky, never to let it die. Perhaps it has come perilously near breathing its last in the years before we came here, but now, thank the powers take with him as much of the old spirit as he can carry. It might reach as immeasurable. It is up to the students and faculty to make it worth while for every senior, when he walks off the University campus for the last time, to take with him as much of the old spirit as he can carry. For students and the faculty make the University.

There are lots of things that tremble on peoples' lips, besides something that can be shaved off.

What makes people who attend a show, refrain from saying, "Lady, it looks as if you would have enough sense to remove that lid, without my having to ask you to?"

Take a Dare.

Now that the Stroller play, "Under Cover," proved to be a success, we will just sit back and wait for the Liberty Loan campaign to close, before further comment.

Hymn of hate to tune of "Pretty Baby," as sung by the junior mechanicals and directed by John Leman. We would like to see McClain with a lily in his hand—pushing daisies, pushing daisies. We would like to see old Squirrel Food on a griddle in—a "climate" hot as blazes, hot as blazes. Lee McClain, Squirrel Food, and all the crew, we would like to see them all. But best of all we would like to see old Mac, once called our friend. With a pure, white lily in his hand, in his hand.

ENGINEERS AND A. B.'s WIN BASEBALL GAMES

Ags Are Defeated By Engineers While Arts and Science Team Makes "Lawyers' Eat Dirt.

Two Intramural baseball games were played last week on Stoll Field. The Engineers defeated the Agricultural team Thursday afternoon, and the Arts and Science team defeated the "Lawyers" Saturday afternoon.

The baseball team representing the Engineering College of the University proved too strong for the "Ag" team Thursday afternoon, winning the game by a score of 8 to 1. Coleman pitched and Selgal caught for the winning team. Byrd pitched and D. K. Rogers caught for the losing team. Sparks and Coleman, Engineers, furnished the batting features of the game.

Saturday afternoon the Arts and Science team surprised the few spectators present when it took honors away from the Lawyers. The score was 6 to 3. E. E. Kelley and "Brudge" Walker furnished the A. B. battery, while Royster and Winters were the pitchers and Downing was the catcher for the Law team. Ross, for the law team, got the longest hits of the game.

Two intra-mural games are to be played next week. Tuesday afternoon the A. B. team will meet the Ags. on Stoll Field, and Wednesday afternoon the Lawyers and Engineers will contend for honors. The championship will be decided the following week.

COMPANY I MEN ARE BACK IN AMERICA

Many University students are in the 113th and 323rd Field Signal Battalions, which are either home or on the high seas near New York. The 323rd landed in New York May 3, and the others are expected May 7.

An incomplete list of the University students in the outfit, who enlisted here in the old Company I, of Lexington—was obtained. The list includes Lt. Shirley Clayton, Noel Wooten, "Buddy" Poindexter, Lt. W. P. Ringo, Carter W. Clarke, E. V. Elder, Sgt. D. W. Latimer and Thomas F. Marshal. It is not known whether these men are still in the same battalion, as they were separated about a month before their return from France. The old company was in service along the border and was in training at Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., 15 months, arriving in England October 17. Since that time they have been "touring France, afoot," as one of them writes home. They will probably be mustered out or given furloughs soon after they reach camp.

FACULTY FACTS

Dr. Boyd returned Monday night from the meeting of the Deans of Art and Science Colleges held last Thursday and Friday at the University of Kansas.

"Tige" Writes Home.

In a letter to Doctor Boyd recently, Doctor Tigert wrote:

"I have left the Y. M. C. A. as the army has taken over the whole Educational force, and the Educational Corps has been created as an integral part of the army. So I am now an officer in the army, but without rank.

"I had a most interesting trip to Bearne recently, the seat of the A. E. F. University. We drove thru in an auto and visited some interesting points, including Verdun, Rheims, and Argonne Forest.

"At Bearne I met two U. of K. men not a hundred yards from each other, as I was walking thru the grounds. Captain Herbert Graham, an instructor in the Department of Journalism, as he was back there, and also a boy named Whaley, who left college without graduating. It was quite a surprise. Captain Graham said that John Marsh was there, also, but I didn't get a chance to see him."

The April number of the American Journal of Mathematics contains an article by Dr. Guy W. Smith, of the Mathematics Department. The article is entitled, "Nilpotent Algebras Generated by Two Generators, 1 and j, such that: is not an Independent Unit." This is his doctor's dissertation worked out at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Edward Tuthill, of the Department of History and Political Economy, will serve as judge in the annual oratorical contest at Berea College, May 10. Also, under a plan recently adopted by the State Department of Education, the bulletin published a few years ago on the Teaching of History in High Schools, by Dr. Tuthill, will be revised and reprinted.

DECLAMATION CONTEST FOR CRUM MEDAL

The contest for the Crum medal, awarded for the best declamation given under the auspices of the Patterson Literary Society, will be held in chapel Friday evening, May 9. The medal is a very fine one and a number of contestants have announced their subjects of declamations. The public is cordially invited.

The declamation contest promises to be exceptionally interesting this year, because of the quality of the talent represented. Patterson Society has increased its membership 100 per cent, since the beginning of the semester, and interest in the Crum medal is rife.

two of the three events in which he was entered. Grabfelder has the spread of his brother, Earl, who preceded him at this institution by several seasons, and tied the State mark for the 100-yard dash, running the distance in 10 seconds flat, just beating Porter, of Georgetown, who finished a yard behind. Grabfelder's time in the 100-yard dash tied the University of Kentucky record. Bronson, '07, Roth, '15, and Earl Grabfelder, '18, are Kentucky men who have made the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds. Grabfelder easily finished in first place in the 220-yard dash, his time being 22 1-5 seconds. In the broad jump he was ruled ineligible because he overstepped the board by an inch.

A detailed account of the work of each Kentucky athlete cannot be given, but a summary of the places won by Kentuckians at the Georgetown meet follows:

First Place

Grabfelder—100 yard dash, 220-yard dash.

Knight—Half mile.

Nicholson—Pole vault.

Snider—Discus throw.

Third Place

COAST GUARD SERVICE HAS SEVERAL VACANCIES

University Students May Apply For Cadetships in Revenue Service June 17

Students of the University will have opportunity to take examinations for Coast Guard Cadets of the line and cadet engineers, on June 17. The examinations will be held here.

Captain Wheeler, of the Coast Guard, was at the University May 1, conferring with Major Byars and Secretary Patrick in regard to applicants to fill 15 vacancies for cadets of the line and eight vacancies for cadet engineers. Since Major Byars will be occupied in commencement exercises on June 17, the examinations will be conducted by Retired Colonel Charles D. Clay. Application blanks may be had from the military office and advice to applicants will be furnished by Major Byars.

The U. S. Coast Guard was formed by a consolidation of the U. S. Revenue Cutter service and the U. S. Life Saving service, and in time of peace will operate as the Revenue Cutter service under the Treasury Department.

Cadets of the line serve three years as such and cadet engineers serve one year. On successful completion of cadet period each is commissioned as third lieutenant, U. S. Coast Guard, with pay and relative rank of Ensign, U. S. Navy or second lieutenant, U. S. Army.

Y. W. WILL CAMP

A conference of the old and new cabinets of the Young Women's Christian Association will be held during a camping trip to High Bridge from Saturday morning until Monday. A cottage has been rented for the camp and a program of talks by the girls on work of the Y. W. C. A. has been arranged. A national secretary is expected at the conference.

STROLLERS THANK THOSE WHO HELPED MAKE PLAY

Business Manager Says That Saturday Night Made Near Approach to Ideal "College Night"

Editor Kernel:—

As Business Manager and in behalf of the Strollers, I wish to take this means of expressing the deep appreciation of this body to the faculty, students, newspapers, people of Lexington, and the management of the Lexington Opera House, for courtesies to and in support of the efforts of this organization to produce "Under Cover."

There were more members of the faculty in the audience Saturday night, than at any other performance that has ever been given by the Strollers. This co-operation of faculty and student organizations will work but one end, that of a broader sympathy for and encouragement of future efforts.

Saturday night more nearly approached an ideal "College Night," than has ever resulted before for Stroller effort and interest. A number of the fraternities were present en masse, and in fact more than half of the audience was made up of their fellow students. This created a sympathetic atmosphere that could be felt across the foot-lights, and encouraged the members of the cast to give everything they had to make it an interesting performance.

The Strollers are especially indebted to Prof. Carl Lampert and the University orchestra for the able assistance which they gave by rendering the various selections which pleased the audience so much.

It has always been customary for the press of the city to do all within its power to further interest in every college enterprise. But it seemed that this year the two papers of Lexington went almost to the limit with their courtesies in giving space to the Strollers. This action goes to the heart of every member of this organization, and will be remembered, with pleasure.

The people of Lexington have generally stood back of every enterprise closely indicated than hitherto. Every day night this relationship was more promoted by the University. Satur-where in the audience could be seen patches of Lexington people who had come to witness and enjoy the performance. LEE McCLAIN, Business Manager.

ENGINEERING

A meeting of the Engineering Faculty was held in the Senior room of the Mechanical Hall at 3:45 Wednesday.

The A. S. M. E. held its regular session at the fifth hour Wednesday.

The Charles Schwab Engineering Society will meet Thursday afternoon.

On Tuesday of the coming week the Sophomore Engineering class will start on a two-days' trip to Stearns, Ky., and vicinity. There the students will visit the coal mines and power plants. This will be the first trip of this kind ever made by a sophomore engineering class.

AIN'T IT FIERCE WE AIN'T GOT NO "FUNKIE"

The funeral services of "Funkie," a pet rabbit, belonging to Miss Mildred Graham, were held most solemnly in Miss Graham's room at Patterson Hall at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, with Miss Lucy Dean officiating. "Funkie," after a short illness had breathed his last that afternoon. All aid possible was rendered him, but the inevitable hour had approached and "Funkie" now reposes in "rabbit Heaven." It is not necessary to give to the bereaved residents of Patterson Hall history of "Funkie." He was a resident of the Hall at the time of his death, and all had learned to love him for his cunning ways. He was respectfully named for Dr. Funkhouser, whose hobby is rabbits.

The pall-bearers were Misses Roberta Thornton and Lucy Dean, who, accompanied by a long procession, carried the body to its final resting place, the dump in the back yard of Patterson Hall.

DR. PATTERSON SPEAKS TO LITERARY SOCIETY

Anglo-Saxon Race Will Rule the World; Kentucky to Have Great Part in Future History

Friday evening, May 2, the Patterson Literary Society held its annual "Welcome" meeting and social in honor of Dr. James K. Patterson, President Emeritus. After a short program the President made one of his heart-to-heart speeches to the young men of the society which bears his name.

He reviewed the progress of America since 1842, the year in which he came to America. He told of his journey from New York to Indiana, a trip which then required three weeks. There were then less than a thousand miles of railroad in the United States, he said, the telephone and telegraph were unknown.

"You young men will see the greatest development in the history of the world. The purpose which brings you to college is to obtain a broad line of information and culture; to prepare you for the business of life, and for you the next fifty years are full of countless possibilities. Whether or not the 'League of Nations' is adopted the Anglo-Saxon race is to rule the destinies of the world."

The speaker reviewed the Anglo-American relations and showed that the interests of the two races are same. America owes to George Canning, a former British Prime Minister, the formulation of the principles now known as the Monroe Doctrine. Standing together these two great countries will dominate the civilization and the thought of mankind.

"Kentucky will play a peculiar part in this great development, because it is practically a homogeneous state. Her people trace their immediate ancestry to the very cream of the English race, the sturdy middle class, which emigrated first to North America and later were pioneers in the wilds of Kentucky.

At this meeting Dr. Patterson repeated his announcement that he had made provisions in his will to endow the society with a fellowship. It will be known as the Patterson Fellowship, and will be awarded to the most representative member each year under conditions prescribed by the society. He has also made provisions for the medal given each year to the winner of the Patterson oratorical contest.

A social hour followed the address. Refreshments were served and three new members admitted.

ALPHA XI DELTA BANQUET.

The Xi chapter of Alpha Xi Delta fraternity gave its annual "Founders' Day Banquet," on April 26, 1919, in the private dining room at the Phoenix Hotel. The room was beautifully decorated with the fraternity flowers and colors, and the color scheme of double blue and gold was cleverly arranged, both on the place cards and the programs. The ex-President, Miss Austin Lilly, presented the new president, Miss Virginia Croft, with a handsome corsage of sweet peas and roses. Each guest was given an Alpha Xi rose.

Those present were Mrs. O. Kercher, Mrs. Lila E. Mason, Misses Elizabeth Waddy, Bettie Coons, Mary K. Venable, Kathleen B. Sullivan, Carrie Lee Jones, Mildred Graham, Virginia Croft Austin Lilly, Isabelle C. Dickey, Helen

Beasley, Kathleen Brand, Lucille Beaty, Zerelda Noland, Mary Archer Bell, Lula B. Blakey, Jane Crawford, Margaret Tuttle, Virginia Heim Miller, Sue Boardman, Virginia Shanklin and Lorraine West.

MISS MATZENAUER IN CONCERT TONIGHT

Tonight the great Metropolitan prima donna, Margaret Matzenauer, will sing in concert at the Lexington Opera House for the first time. A magnificent audience will greet her, although there are yet desirable seats to be had in the balcony and down stairs for the performance.

When the critics of music in the United States agree that Margaret Matzenauer is the greatest contralto in the world today and they also agree that the range, richness, volume, tone and smoothness of her voice is most remarkable, there is little left to be said by her many admirers. Her place was established as an opera singer when the Metropolitan Opera Company re-engaged her for nine consecutive seasons and long ago she established her right to a first rank concertist by having a complete booking for her entire concert season after April 1 of each year. Some Kentuckians have heard her in New York and many Lexingtonians went to Cincinnati for her concert last year. Her success in Louisville, has been remarkable and ovation after ovation seems to be her record. Her coming to Lexington for the concert tonight, has been greatly heralded and an appreciative audience will hear her program, composed, as it is, of compositions by Secchi, Grieg, Veracini, Handel, Meyerbeer, Bruneau, Staub, Saint-Saens, F. di Nogero, Carpenter and Bauer.

STILL ON THE TRAIL OF THAT POOR METEORITE!

Professor Miller, of the Geology Department, has recently received two interesting fragments of a meteorite which fell in the vicinity of McCreary county last week. These fragments were sent from the Sawyer Postoffice, by W. H. Morgan, who gave one to the University and offers the other for sale.

The larger fragment weighs 4 1/2 pounds and the other weighs 14 ounces. Two others have been found but have not yet been turned in. These fragments belong to the Aerolite group of meteorites and are unique in that they are of a light color. This is owing to the fact that they are largely composed of silicate of magnesium.

Professor Miller was informed Monday that the main mass of the meteorite was reported to have been found near Cumberland Falls, twelve miles from the place where the fragments were discovered. It is said to weigh 200 pounds and to have been imbedded in the earth about two feet. Pieces of the meteorite were found for miles around.

This is the third meteorite seen to fall in Kentucky. About fifteen others have been discovered, but it was not known just when they fell. A striking fact is that the three seen to fall were aerolites, while the others were siderites. All but the last one are listed in Henry Ward's catalogue of meteorites.

Columbia Socialist Society

Re-organizes (Columbia Spectator.)
 The Columbia Chapter of the Inter-collegiate Socialist Society, re-organized at a meeting last Friday noon, promises to take an active part in campus life. The society announces that its purpose is not to convert college students to one or another creed of Socialism, but "to promote an intelligent interest in the study of Socialism and kindred problems among college men and women." Students at the University for, against, or indifferent to Socialism are eligible to membership.
