

Dr. Clark's Lectures Well Received In India

By JOHN NEWLAND

"Unlike American audiences, Indian students devoted long hours to the lectures and gave splendid attention," said Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the history department, who recently returned from a lecture tour to India and Pakistan.

While on the three-month tour, Dr. Clark spoke before several colleges and civic groups on such subjects as "College Life in America," "The Presidential Election Of 1952," and "Teaching In America." His trip was sponsored by the State Department and the lectures were on the cultural services of the United States.

Before starting each lecture, Dr. Clark let it be known that a discussion would follow the speech. He said that almost immediately, the students would start writing down questions even before he had finished his lecture.

"The questions could be classified into three groups," said Dr. Clark. "First, those obviously inspired by the Communists; second, those which were ask honestly to seek information on current problems; and third, those asked by illiterate people who just wanted to be heard."

Dr. Clark said that the questions by the Communist inspired students were about American negro problems, and the important neo-educational system in the U. S.

Ceramics Testing Lab Is Opened On Campus

Kentucky industry is expected to benefit materially from a ceramics laboratory recently placed in operation at UK through the co-operation of two separate UK divisions.

Announcement of the opening of the new testing laboratory came Tuesday from the two divisions involved — the Kentucky Geological Survey and the College of Engineering.

Function of the new laboratory is the testing of clays and shales brought to the campus from all sections of Kentucky by the Survey staff. The laboratory itself is located in the UK Mining Laboratory building and is operated by an analyst in the Department of Mining and Metallurgical Engineering.

The project for testing clays and shales is one of several mineral investigations being conducted by the Survey in co-operation with the Agricultural and Development Board of Kentucky.

Spokesman for the Survey yesterday was Preston McGrain, assistant state geologist. He described the opening of the new laboratory as "a move to aid in the development of clay resources in Kentucky."

McGrain pointed out that the types of available clays in Kentucky vary potentially "from pottery down to brick and tile." Companies manufacturing brick, tile and other materials frequently approach the Kentucky Survey concerning possible resources and the new laboratory will provide samples made from tested clay.

Operating the laboratory is Thomas A. Kendall, research analyst, who directs all experiments in the Mining Laboratory building.

"We've attempted to duplicate factory conditions in the laboratory so that our brick samples will be just like commercial brick fired from the same clay," Kendall explained.

"We have assimilated factory conditions — except that everything here is in miniature."

The analyst turned to a machine producing thin bars of clay: "This is a miniature vacuum extrusion machine which takes the air and water from the clay and then turns out these uniform bricks just like a brick factory. After air drying, these clay bars will be fired in an electrically-heated kiln and the result will be finished brick."

The new-made bricks, together with results of laboratory tests, are then handed back to the Geological Survey for preparation of reports. These reports are published and made available to interested manufacturers and the public.

Geologist McGrain and Analyst Kendall agreed that the new laboratory "won't give all the answers" in the ceramic industry. However, both expressed a hope that results of laboratory research will serve as a guide or "roadmap" for the industry.

Rhodes Delegate To Hold Interview For Scholarships

Martin Wagner, state secretary of the Rhodes Scholarship committee, will interview potential applicants for scholarships from 2 to 4 p. m., Wednesday in Room 304, Frazer Hall.

The Rhodes Scholarships are awarded for two years at Oxford University. The value is 500 pounds per year.

To be eligible for a scholarship, a student must be at least a junior and a male citizen between the age of 19 and 25.

The selections are based upon the student's scholastic ability, physical vigor, exhibition of moral force of character, qualities of manhood, and some definite quality of distinction.

Two University faculty members have been past recipients of a Rhodes Scholarship. They are Dean Elvis S. Stahr, of the College of Law, and Professor Shelby T. McCloy, of the history department.

IFC Dance Highlights Weekend Of Parties

Tonight is the evening the Greeks will really cut loose and roll up the rug at the Student Union for the annual Interfraternity formal dance. Ray Anthony and his orchestra will provide the music for the dance, which is sponsored by the Interfraternity Council.

Don't forget girls—1:30 a.m. permission tonight. The dance will begin at 9 p.m. with tables in the grill and on the first floor and dancing in the ballroom upstairs.

Tomorrow the Phi Deltis have scheduled a house party which will begin at 6 p.m. At the same hour the doors of the Sig Epsilon house will open for an evening of good fellowship and cheer.

The Psi Delta's have elected their officers for 1953. New officers are: Marlie Driskill, president; Ann Dawson, vice-president; Frank E. Sabel, recording secretary; Doris McGary, treasurer; Page Williams, membership secretary; Evelyn Dunson, corresponding secretary; Ruth McMichael, social chairman; and Kay Fisher, house manager.

The Phi Deuteron chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa will entertain their national president, Daniel R. Collins, during the coming weekend. They will hold a special meeting on Saturday afternoon and a banquet at the Campbell House that evening.

Kappa Kappa Gamma initiated nine girls this week. The initiates are Diane Parr, Carolyn Siler, Cary Adams, Marjory Priestley, Tess Dunlap, Leila Hines, Martha Clark, Ann Clark, and Christie Schrader.

The Alpha Delta Phi sorority will initiate the following girls Sunday: Shirley Beckman, Sophie Burman, Ann Evely, Carol Carter, Kathy Fryer, Martha Kay Mason, Mary Ann Miley, Mary Pace, Marjanne Jones, Jean Morrison, Pat Preston, Evelyn Hartlieb, Marilyn Remmers, Anne Young, and Rosalie Redding. The chapter will also be host to Mrs. Russell Allen, who is president of Delta Province of ADPi. There will be a dinner in her honor this evening.

In elections Tuesday night, the Theta chapter of Kappa Alpha Order chose John C. Nichols as their new president. George Bruce Miller was elected vice-president and house president, and William A. Gerrard is the new secretary.

Tuesday nights have been quite the time for card games all over the campus. This round-robin program is sponsored by the ASPhi's so that eds and coveys may get better acquainted and have an evening of purely social fun. It surely is a great way to get the habit of bridge playing, or hearts if you prefer.

Here's just a thought: "What happens lacks in length it makes up for in height."

Clubs On Campus
UK Zoology Club Is Formed

Formation of the Zoology Club at UK has been announced by its president, James Griffin. Membership in the club now totals 68 and they hope to reach 100, he said.

Any student with an interest in zoology is eligible for membership, Griffin explained. The club's aim is to acquaint members with the various types of animal life.

Faculty co-sponsors for the club are Dr. J. M. Edney and Dr. R. W. Barbour of the Department of Zoology. Officers elected at the first meeting on Feb. 23 were Griffin, president; Paul Egnum, vice-president; Sam Johnson, secretary; Dr. E. Mattox, treasurer; and Rodney Hayes, program chairman.

Griffin said that meetings are planned for the second Monday and fourth Thursday of each month in room 124 of the Biological Sciences Building.

LD Cards Ready To Be Picked Up
Student identification cards made at the start of the second semester may be picked up now at the ticket office in Memorial Coliseum, or the UK Athletic Association announced today.

The Association also said that all current students planning to enroll in the University next fall must have new ID card pictures taken during the week of April 13-18.

Pictures will be taken daily between 8:30 a.m. and 12 noon and from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. daily in room 127 of the Student Union. An evening session will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, April 16.

The association announced that fall ID cards will be changed both in color and form and that the 1952-53 cards will not be recognized for admission to next year's activities.

Present-Day Fashions For Men Stem From Real Need In Past

By DON YOUNG JR.
No one should wipe his nose on his sleeve, but if you do, for the sake of style, use buttonless coats. Those buttons were put on that coat for the purpose of preventing such cavalier treatment of them. Buttons have stayed on through custom and looks, but originally their purpose was to do away with discolored and "straggly" uniforms on the King's Guards.

For 300 years the only change in the comfortable and serviceable suit has been lengthwise. It has become shorter. We owe credit for this to English nobility.

Seems that in the English court of the late 16th century there was a young nobleman who considered himself quite a fancy figure. Oddly enough he was a fancy figure, complete with ruffles, silk at his throat, and two lace handkerchiefs in each sleeve. One day he and the other rakes were bragging about local and distant conquests, when the subject of style came to their mind.

"Personally," quoth our hero, "I can set a style merely by dressing as I please."

"Pooh pooh," poo poohed his fellow rakes. "Prove it!" echoed the time honored challenge. "We don't believe you."

With this our hero leaped to the table, grasped a pair of shears in his hot little hand, whipped his coat off around in a flourish, and cut off two feet of material.

"There, now just wait and see. After tomorrow no one will dare dress in old-fashioned long coats with tails." And therein lies the history of the genus male short coat.

Well, see how easy it is to set a style! Which reminds us. Where do you keep your horse? What horse? Why Librarian Writes On Turkish Books

"Of Books in Istanbul," an article written by Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, director of UK Libraries, appears in the current issue of "The Amateur Book Collector."

Dr. Thompson's article describes some of the rare books that can be found in the bookshops of Istanbul, Turkey. The library director's personal experiences in obtaining books for his personal collection are also described in the magazine article.

30 Scholarships Ag College Offers
Thirty scholarships, worth $150 to $300 each, from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics will be awarded to freshmen entering the University in June and September. These scholarships will be payable half the first semester and half the second semester.

Only residents of Kentucky are eligible to apply. Tests for applicants will be given at several places in the state April 20 to 24. Applicants should apply by March 20 to Prof. J. H. Horstler, associate dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

"The Reader's Digest helps a busy man to understand life in these United States, in the United Nations, and even in Soviet lands. With amazing variety, and a world of practical wisdom, each monthly issue helps the reader to interpret life on earth today, with more than a few glimpses of tomorrow."

New Notes by lillian

One of the Big Events of the RCA VICTOR record year of 1953 is MR. PRESIDENT—FROM ROOSEVELT TO EISENHOWER.

Each month, Reader's Digest editors comb through more publications than any one person could read in two years and select whatever seems of outstanding interest.

Each article is carefully condensed to preserve both its content and flavor. The wide range of subjects stimulates new interests, encourages a further search for knowledge.

In a real way, Reader's Digest helps continue the education of millions of readers in America and all over the world.

In March Reader's Digest, you'll be interested in The Earth Is Born—latest scientific theories on how our earth began, how it will end. We Can Win the War in Korea—William Ballant's analysis of how we can end the bloody stalemate. Prod Walter's Amazing Cinema—how a self-made scientist is bringing breath-taking realism to motion.

Old 'Senior Editions' Of Kernel Burlesque Weddings, Murders

By JACK THOMPSON
Did you know that the Kernel once put out an edition each year called the "Senior Edition"? These papers were published by the Journalism seniors each year during a period from 1934 to 1941, and were merely a burlesque on activities at UK written all in fun.

In these editions the seniors made it a policy for one day each year to violate all the journalistic rules that he had acquired during the previous four years. Thus, they really let their hair down and said what we often may think, but seldom say—at least in public.

An example of this journalistic horripilation was a description of a wedding which appeared in one of these papers. We are always reading lovely descriptions of weddings in the daily papers, but one "Senior Edition" wedding was written as the seniors thought it ought to be. "The bride wore a dirty, gray, ill-fitting costume with a terrible design. But then she never did have much lace anyway. She is the plain and homely daughter of—"

The groom hasn't worked much since he finished college, where he absconded his way through by gambling and by professional fighting. He is trying to get a job at Tony's sending bar, but Tony won't hire him because he would probably drink up all the profits.

Psychologists Will Lecture At Symposium

Dr. James S. Calvin, head of the psychology department, announced that several leading speakers have been engaged for the Symposium in Psychology to be held here March 13 and 14 and sponsored by that department. The discussion will be on the relationship between the learning theory, the personality theory, and clinical research.

Among these noted psychologists are Kenneth W. Spence, Human Research Office, George Washington University; DeLo D. Wickers, Ohio State University; and Harry F. Harlow, the University of Wisconsin.

Norman R. P. Miler, University of Michigan; Donald K. Adams, Duke University; O. H. Mowser and R. B. Cattell, University of Illinois; John M. Butler, University of Chicago; Donald Strong, Owens State Teachers College; R. B. Ammons, University of Louisville; and J. R. Witken, Yale University.

Leadership Workshop Held By Fraternities

The first annual Interfraternity Council Leadership Workshop was held last Friday and Saturday in the Student Union. The purpose of this program was to aid the fraternally chapter officers in the more efficient and successful operation of their organizations.

The workshop delegates were welcomed by Warren C. Ramshaw, executive secretary of Sigma Chi fraternity, who informed the group of the purpose, methods, and importance of the workshop as an integral part of the learning process, for which all students are really at the University.

Following the welcoming address the delegates adjourned to various meetings dealing with problems confronting UK fraternities.

Dr. Robert D. Haun, College of Commerce, served as moderator for the finance group; Hugh Collett, director of Public Relations of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, was discussion leader for the Campus Public Relations group; Robert T. Ross, executive secretary of Sigma Nu fraternity, led the group discussing the Pledge Training program; and Warren Ramshaw led a round table discussion dealing with executive and administrative problems. The sessions continued Saturday morning with the speakers again holding discussion groups. Miss Helen King, UK Alumni secretary, led a discussion designed to promote better alumni and University relations.

A luncheon attended by the workshop faculty and delegates was held in the Football Room at noon Saturday and was highlighted by a summation of the workshop program by Robert T. Ross.

A final critique was held following the luncheon in which delegates from each fraternity in attendance took part.

"It is the hope of the IFC that future workshops will be planned and that future officers will be aided in their problems. The fraternities who participated in the workshop benefited in the presentation of ideas, methods, and solutions to problems common to all fraternities in the UK fraternity system, with the goal to strengthen that system." Carter Glass, chairman of the workshop committee, said.

Book Review

'Understanding Christian Faith'
By GEORGIA HARKNESS

(This article is the second in a series of book reviews published in the Kernel in connection with Religious Foundation Week in the Student Union.)

"The book goes on to say that man should believe in God for three reasons: (1) his personal experience of goodness, (2) the beautiful life that flows from believing in God, and (3) the certainty of history which shows Biblical prophecies to come true and the lasting quality of goodness and the downfall of evil things.

Christ, she says, taught that man is a creature of extreme worth and dignity in the eyes of God. He should strive to be inwardly sincere and have good and pure motives in all he does more than to make a good impression obeying the law. Of prayer, she says, man should first express thankfulness for blessings, confess his shortcomings and needs, and then ask for God's help. Miss Harkness touches on world peace and security when she says these things come only on God's terms of love, unselfishness, and brotherhood.

The subjects discussed in this book have practical value for every man. Reading "Understanding the Christian Faith" can be an enriching experience.

Freshmen Women Honored At Tea

Alpha Lambda Delta and Omegas had a "B-Standing Tea" last Thursday at Dean Sarah B. Holmes' apartment.

The two organizations, Alpha Lambda, which is an honorary for Freshmen women with a 2.5 standing or better, and Omegas, a sophomore honorary for freshmen women who have made a 2.0 standing and have participated in campus organizations, gave the tea for all freshmen women with 2.0 or better standing for the first semester.

The tea was held for the purpose of getting acquainted with the girls who are prospective members of the two honoraries. Over 75 freshmen women attended the tea.

Tankers Swim In SEC Meet

UK swimming team, now a veteran of a perfect season, are competing for top honors at the three-day Southeastern Conference Swimming meet at Athens, Ga., in a closely-watched underdog role.

The UK entries and probable events in which they will participate are: Roger Messick, 50, 100-yard freestyle and 200 medley relay; Capt. Jack MacDonald, 1500 meter, 200 backstroke and 150 individual medley; George King, 100 and 200-yard backstroke and 200-yard relay; Gene Lewis, 1500 meter, 400-yard freestyle relay, and 440 freestyle or 150 individual medley; Jim McCabe, 1500, 220 freestyle and 400 freestyle relay; Danny Deane, 1500 meter, 400 freestyle relay, and 440 freestyle; Kenneth Glass, 400 freestyle relay, 220 and 440 freestyle; Lou Karbo and Bruce Kunkel, one and three meter diving; Johnny Burke, one and three meter diving and 400 freestyle relay; John Taylor, 220 and 440 freestyle and 400 freestyle relay; and Dave Lindsay, 100 and 200 breaststroke and 300 medley relay.

Louisville and Eastern State College, away from home, 50-34 and 46-27, respectively.

Messick led the way in both victories by winning the 50 and 100-yard sprints. The UK team dashed ahead of Louisville in six out of ten events in taking the meet.

In the Eastern State College battle, the Catfish used mostly reserves in coasting to a 46-27 win. The ninth straight win of the season was attained at the expense of the maroons who were earlier defeated here at the Memorial Coliseum pool, 56-28.

Why do so many men prefer MAYFAIR SLACKS

... and why do so many women prefer them too?

That's easy! Men prefer MAYFAIR slacks because of their perfect tailoring and modern styling. They prefer MAYFAIR's enduring quality that stands up under hard wear—the way they retain their shape. And women prefer their men to wear MAYFAIR slacks because they look so elegant with sport jackets and sport shirts. Come in now, see for yourself why MAYFAIR is America's finest slacks value.

Jones, Wallace Place Second At Chapel Hill

Kentucky's two representatives in the Southern Indoor Games, held at Chapel Hill, North Carolina last Saturday, posted up six points as Jay Wallace and Larry Jones both won second places.

Wallace ran about two seconds slower than his winning time last year in the same meet as he ran second to Larry Schmidt of Catholic University of Washington. D. C. Schmidt's time in winning was 2:09.8.

Larry Jones had hard luck in the broad jump when the Alabama jumper, ace, Bill Bullard, beat him on the last jump by marking up 21 feet, 11 inches. Jones previously was leading with a jump of 21 feet, 7 1/2 inches.

Jones qualified in the preliminary rounds Saturday afternoon and ran in the finals Saturday night.

The next scheduled meet for the trackmen will be the Birmingham Relays to be held the first week in April. Dr. Seaton, track coach plans to enter teams in the two mile relay and the medley relay. Men for the trip haven't been picked as yet.

The next outing will be the second weekend in April when the UK tracksters play host to Marshall's Thundering Herd here on the Stoll field track. The schedule will be released probably next week.

Seaton Officially Opens Track Preps

The practice season for the track team has officially begun according to Dr. Don Cash Seaton, coach of the Kentucky track squad.

He has asked that any student interested in trying out for the squad should contact him in Alumni Gym on the first floor. A special call is out for dash and field men although any and all interested men are urged to come out.

We are wondering what has taken Commissioner Bernie Moore of the SEC, so long to make the ruling on the request for the Alumni game which is to replace the annual Blue-White game at the close of spring practice.

There is a conference rule pertaining to such games which says that all spring practice games must be inter-squad games. This rule shouldn't, according to Coach Bryant, ban an alumni game such as is being planned.

Such a game with alumni returning would be of definite interest to not only former footballers but to all followers of Kentucky football. Many people who have watched UK play football for the last 20 or 30 years would enjoy seeing such boys as "Babe" Parrilli, Al Bruno, Don Phelps, George Blanda, Jorty Shermans and Pat James cavorting again.

We hope that it is just an ordinary delay on the part of Mr. Moore and not a forecast of doom for the game. After all, there are many schools all over the country which put on such exhibitions, such as Oklahoma and Notre Dame.

Just to clear up a little confusion which seems to exist in regard to the Invitational tournaments which are planned in Kentucky next December. Some are under the impression that Louisville, Murray, Eastern, Western and Kentucky are to play in the proposed tournament.

Actually, there will be two tournaments. One, the Kentucky Invitational to be played in Louisville, December 28 and 29. The aforementioned teams, minus Kentucky, will take part in that meet with four teams from outside the state to be invited.

Kentucky will sponsor its own "University of Kentucky Invitational" here in Lexington on December 21 and 22. LaSalle, Duke and UCLA will be the teams participating in the two-day tourney here.

We are going to follow a policy of recognizing those men in the intramural basketball leagues who score the highest number of points in a single game over the duration of league play.

This recognition will be given each week in this column and in order to facilitate the crediting of men who score exceptionally high, we would like to ask that all team managers and captains turn in the men from their team which they think would qualify either on a points per game-average or on a single game basis to this office.

We will check this list against the official scorer's sheets and make the tally ourselves. It is planned, tentatively, to give some special honor to the man with the highest point per game average over the season and the tournament.

In order to qualify, the man must have played in at least five games.

The high point man for one game thus far in the Independent League is Ben White of the Hooksters, who scored 32 points as his team downed the A.O.'s last week 72-27.

White is followed by two men with 26 points for one game, Don Appleberry of the Copy Cats racked up 26 of his team's 34 points as his squad laid to the Newman Club 46-34. Bob Mann of Porter's Brothers also scored 26 points in the Brothers 58-38 win over the Newmanites.

The highest man for one game in the Fraternity League is Carl Rankin with 21 points as his Sigma Chi squad downed the Sig Eps 41-39. Jack Kasson holds top honor with 21 in the Athletic League 50-24 by his "Platts" over the "Kochs."

In a late score, Jim Bruno of Sigma Phi Epsilon pushed 35 points through the nets to pull high for the season thus far. The SPE's won the ball game 62-20 from the Delta Chis.

Baseballers Move Indoors

The first organized baseball workouts began Monday, but not at the appointed place.

Opening drills were originally scheduled on Legion Field, but Coach Harry Lancaster, instead, got his prospects together for a late workout Monday afternoon in the Coliseum. He said that drills would continue to be held indoors until weather permitted outside practice.

After taking one look at the slush and snow covering the UK campus, Lancaster said, "Guess we should be waxing our skis."

Most of three dozen hopefuls now listed on the squad have been working out on their own time for several weeks when weather permitted outside practice.

The first engagements on a scheduled basis includes 22 games, will be a two-game set with Florida April 3-4 in Lexington, and another two game series with Georgia on the way back to Lexington.

"Blues" Win Intrasquad Cage Finale

The yearnings under the capable guidance of Lou Tsoropoulos, "judged the veterans of All-American Cliff Hagan, 49-47, in the last inter-squad basketball exhibition of the season, last Saturday night at the coliseum.

Nine thousand fans watched the hotly and fiercely fought contest which took on the air of a tournament game or a game before two ancient rivals. The excitement and tension topped that of any of the three previous exhibition matches.

Billy Evans sank a layup for the "Tsoropolites" early in the game and didn't relinquish the lead until late in the third period when the "Hagans" tied it up 27-27 and 28-29. At this point, Hush Coy came in a free throw and held the lead by freeing the ball for the last minute and a half.

Just as the game ended, Hagan, who was high man for the night on both teams with 22 points, was awarded two free throws and a chance to send the game into an overtime. The usually reliable Hagan missed both chances and the Whites won 49-47.

Fencers Nip UL; Face Stern Test Tomorrow

The UK swordsmen remained unscathed as a result of their slim 14-13 victory over the University of Louisville last Saturday.

The meet was featured by Captain Bill Seiler's initial loss of the year. Ironically enough, this lone defeat was hung on Seiler by former UK fencer Bill Hancock.

Even though Seiler suffered his first setback of the year, he led all point-getters with five victories against one loss. He now has a record of 14 wins in 15 tries.

Other Kentucky scorers included Tom Prather and Charles Wittig.

UK Gridders To Aid Wrestling Entrants

Instructions in wrestling will be given each afternoon in the mechanical room of the coliseum by former UK gridders Frank Puller and Gene Donalson.

These instructions for the benefit of those men who are interested in the intra-mural wrestling matches, which will get under way April 3.

Puller, who will be the first UK man to wrestle in SEC competition according to Bill McCubbin, intra-mural director, plans to use these workouts to get in shape for the coming meets. Donalson will use the instructions to keep in trim for his professional bouts.

The probable UK fencers will include Seiler, Wittig, and Wright, in foil; Sternberg, Dotson, and Shine, in epee; and Prather, White, and Hartley in sabre.

When Grover talks to his dreamboat—something clicks

A call from Dreamboat always clicks with Grover. And an Automatic Message Accounting machine has been clicking too—down in the telephone office—busily punching impressions on a paper tape.

You may be interested in what this ingenious recorder does. It keeps track of what telephone number you called, how long you talked, and records this information in such a way that another machine can automatically prepare a monthly bill.

The development of this new automatic accounting machine is the result of teamwork by Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and the telephone companies. Telephone people working on one of their other interesting and important projects were in college just a short time ago. Perhaps you'd like to join them.

Your Placement Office can give you details about employment opportunities in the Bell System. Or write to American Telephone & Telegraph Company, College Relations Section, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y., for a copy of the booklet, "Looking Ahead."

Citizens Will Discuss Lack Of Bookmobiles

Plans for promoting a statewide "Bookmobile Drive" will be discussed by a group of Central Kentuckians meeting on campus tomorrow. Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the history department, said this week.

Dr. Clark, who is serving as coordinator for the meeting, said more than 130 citizens of this area have been invited to take part in the event. Several prominent Kentuckians appearing at the session are scheduled to speak briefly.

"Bookmobile units are being used in Lexington, Pineville and Homestead and by the State Library Extension Service. The aim of the state project is to make such facilities available throughout Kentucky with this practical solution," Dr. Clark said.

One of the state bookmobile units will be on the UK campus Saturday for inspection.

Figures quoted by Dr. Clark showed 80 per cent of all Kentuckians and 90 per cent of the state's rural population to be without public library facilities. Only North Dakota, with 62 per cent of its citizens living

Cowley's Alley Disc Jockies Select Best Songs, Bands

By PAUL COWLEY

The week. Billboard, the amusement industry's leading newsmagazine published its annual disc jockey edition. This is a yearly poll of the nation's leading disc jockies determining the top recording stars, bands, records, etc. I thought you might be interested in some of the results, so here they are.

The five favorite pop records were:

1. "Blue Tango" — Leroy Anderson
2. "You Belong To Me" — Jo Stafford
3. "Cry" — Johnnie Ray
4. "Wheel Of Fortune" — Kay Starr
5. "Somewhere Along The Way" — The Four Tunes

Who is your favorite male and female vocalist with or without a band? This question was asked of the jockies, and these were the results:

1. Perry Como, and Jo Stafford
2. Eddie Fisher and Doris Day
3. Bing Crosby and Rosemary Clooney
4. Nat Cole and Patti Page
5. Frank Sinatra and Dinah Shore.

As for the new male and female vocalists who were voted tops, those took highest honors:

1. Al Martino and Joel James
2. Steve Lawrence and Sunny Gale
3. John Aron and Jeri Southern
4. Julius LaRosa and June Valli
5. Tommy Edwards and Karen Chandler.

The survey goes on to name Ralph Flanagan and Ray Anthony as the favorite bands, with George Shearing No. 1 as the best instrumental group and the Mills Brothers as the top singing group.

Bear in mind that this was a buffet dinner at the Kentucky chapter house ended the province council.

It's Tax Time Again! Here Are The Facts

By DAVID NIXON

Every year March comes in like a lion and your wallet goes out like a light.

This statement is true in the case of the poor individual who must pay income tax each annum. The fact that 99 per cent of his income goes to the government is bad enough for the taxpayer, but the hazards and pitfalls in filling out the income tax blank are a double headache.

The following analysis is for the benefit of the minority of college students who will go out in the world to earn their own living.

To begin with, there are three kinds of returns: Long-Form 1040, Short-Form 1040, and Form 1040A. The best to use if possible is Form 1040A. If you use this form, you don't have to make any calculations. The collector does it after you fill out 1040A.

The trouble is that you can't always use 1040A. Your income must be less than $5,000; your income is from wages, dividends, interest, etc.; you pay no estimated tax. This is all very simple.

Form 1040 is the regular tax form 1940 with the last two pages torn off. You use this if you are willing to give an official deduction of 10 per cent of your income; or if you don't qualify to use Form 1040A.

The rest is a maddening process of filling in everything from property depreciation to music appreciation. There is only one excuse. Don't have any money, no taxes. Who says you can't beat the government?

U.S. Labor Official Will Advise Women About Future Jobs

A women's vocational opportunities program will be sponsored during the week of March 16-19. Miss Lillian V. Inky, chief of the employment opportunities branch of the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, will be the guest speaker and consultant.

Miss Inky will be available for the most part of the week at the Good Shepherd, First Methodist Church and Central Baptist Church respectively.

Individual conferences can be scheduled at any time in the Dean of Women's office.

This program is being sponsored by the Women's House President's Council with the aid of Mortar Board, Alpha Lambda Delta, and Crevas.

Church Notes Three UK Religious Groups Will Join For Convocation

In observance of Religious Emphasis Week, three campus denominational organizations will jointly attend the opening convocation, at Maxwell Street Presbyterian Church for supper at 5:30 p.m., while Canterbury Club, Wesley Foundation, and Disciple Student Fellowship members will hold their supper meetings at 6 p.m., at the Church of the Good Shepherd, First Methodist Church and Central Baptist Church respectively.

The Baptist Student Union choir will give three public performances this week-end in the most extensive trip it has yet undertaken. President Bill Dawson said. The choir, which has more than 50 members, will leave Saturday afternoon and present their first service that night at Beechmont Baptist Church in Louisville. Sunday morning they will sing at Taylorville Baptist Church and Sunday night at Perryville Baptist Church. Jim Woodward is director of the group.

Sherman Vanaman, instructor in the Department of Mathematics and Astronomy and former BSU faculty adviser, has been appointed interim student secretary until a successor is named for Bill Cody, who left that position at mid-semester.

Disciple Student Fellowship Dr. Lewis Smythe, faculty member at the College of the Bible and former missionary to China, will speak to Disciple Student Fellowship members at a luncheon 12:30 p.m. Sunday after morning

Bi-Annual Council Held Last Week By KA Province

The bi-annual Council of Candler Province of Kappa Alpha Order was held last weekend at the Kentucky Theta chapter of the order. The council included four chapters from Kentucky and five chapters from Tennessee, according to Bill Gerard, secretary of the Kentucky chapter.

Business meetings were held Saturday and Sunday at the chapter house and a banquet and dance, sponsored by the Alpha Theta chapter of Transylvania College, were held at the Lafayette Hotel.

The council chose Miss Anna Hebert, of Southwestern University in Tennessee, as their province candidate for the national K. A. O. S.

Robert E. Joyner, province commander, presided over the meetings. William S. Forester served as Regional Adviser, and Bill Gerard acted as secretary for the council.

Baracks To Have Dance March 13

A "Superstitious Shuffle" dance will be given by Scott Street Baracks on Friday, March 13 in the Blue Grass Ball Room of the Student Union, Chuck Burris, former social chairman, announced.

George Doyle and his orchestra will provide the music for the evening. Tickets will cost $1.50 per couple and the dance will be semi-formal with no flowers. The dance will last from 8:30 p.m. and the girls will have 1 a.m. permission.

Lieut. Robert E. Watson, 52d Andrews Air Force Base, Washington, D. C., and Lieut. Robert F. Moore, 52d Syracuse University, took leave of absence last week-end and arrived in Lexington in time for the final intra-squad basketball scrimmage presented by Coach Rupp.

Both men sat on the bench with the coaches and teams during the scrimmage, and were introduced by Coach Rupp.

Lt. Ben Frank Kestner, 51st of Benton, is now participating in Exercise Cold Spot in northern New York and Vermont.

Pictures Of Egypt Are On Display In Fine Arts

"Egypt," a photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of Life magazine, is now on display in the north exhibition corridor of the Fine Arts Building. Dr. Donald Wisemann, head of the Department, announced this week. The exhibit will continue through March 14.

The display consists of the most recent photographs of remaining art monuments from an Egyptian culture that flourished for 3,000 years before Christ. The exhibition is based on the photographic essay, "Art of Egypt," carried in Life, Jan. 19, 1945, although it is greatly enlarged in scope, and includes much material not before published.

The exhibition was assembled under the direction of W. C. Hayes of the Department of Egyptology at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"Egypt" includes some 50 photographs by Life Photographer Elliot Elisofon taken while on an assignment in the Nile Valley. The subject matter is from the Old and New Kingdoms, and ranges from the majestic simplicity of the Step Pyramid of King Djoser (2780-2761 B. C.) to the Great Diodor at Hathor in Cn-

Summer Festival Will Dramatize Sheep Industry

The College of Agriculture and Home Economics will cooperate with the State Department of Agriculture and the Lexington Chamber of Commerce in a festival to dramatize Kentucky's sheep industry next June 15-16.

Some of the features of the festival will be a show of lambs, both alive and dressed, a wool and style show, a shearing contest and a parade of floats. Leading color to the event will be the choosing of a Kentucky Lamb King, a Miss Kentucky Lamb and a Miss Golden Fleece.

The photographs are distinguished by their clarity, and they convey a sense of scale often lacking in photographs of the coldest of ancient Egypt. Although most of the monuments are well known to scholars, perhaps they have not in recent times been so carefully and richly documented.

Included in "Egypt" are photographs of the Great Pyramid at Gizeh, a superb granite head of King Woserkaef, Queen Hatshepsut's Mortuary Temple, reliefs of King Amunhotep II, Temple of Anum at Luxor, Temple of Anum at Karnak, the huge cliff-cut Temple of King Ramesses II at Abu Simbel, Temple of Horus at Edfu, and many others in addition to many details of monuments and reliefs.
