MULLINS PHOTOS IN GALLERY

Photos by Pictureman Mullins will be on exhibit in the Peal Gallery, King Library North, April 9 - May 19. William Richardson Mullins traveled throughout Wise and Dickenson counties in Virginia, and Letcher and Pike Counties, Kentucky, making snapshots and portraits with a roll-film box cameras in the 1920s and 1930s. After World War II, he set up studios in East Jenkins and Payne Gap, Kentucky, which he maintained until his death in 1969 at the age of 82. This exhibit represents four decades of Pictureman's work.

The opening of exhibit will be held on Sunday, April 9, at 2:00 p.m. The poet Bob Henry Baber, who was instrumental in creating the exhibit, will provide an introduction. A reception will follow.

Other photos by Pictureman will also be on exhibit at UK's Appalachian Center Gallery, 641 South Limestone Street. Both exhibits are free and open to the public.

These exhibits are co-sponsored by the UK Libraries, the Appalachian Center, and the Kentucky Humanities Council. The photographs were lent by Mullins' granddaughter, Angel Rucker of Jenkins, Kentucky. (Submitted by Kate Black.)

KAREN COBB

A photocopy of "Reflections," a collection of Karen Cobb's poetry and plays that her family had bound into a presentation booklet, is on reserve at King Circulation desk under Karen's name. Karen's mother, Mrs. Romelia Hogan, writes that plans for the church library in memory of Karen are firming up; the collection will include in addition to books, a microcomputer, videocassettes, audiotapes, and playback equipment. ABOVE AND BEYOND

Joanne Goode, Math Librarian, recently received the following two letters from Dr. Don Howard, professor of philosophy at UK, and W. Gerald Heaverly, Curator of the Archives on Scientific Philosophy and General Manuscripts at the University of Pittsburgh, commending both her and the library's microfilming center.

The enclosed letter of thanks from the University of Pittsburgh should be addressed to you as much as to me. Thank you very much for your help in arranging for the microfilming.

I wanted to inform you that the microfilm we recently ordered from your library has arrived. It came during the Christmas vacation and is in fine condition. The people who carried out the microfilming did a good job -- Carnap's marginalia and other important features come through nicely.

...Once again, let me thank you for your kind assistance in drawing our attention to this matter and in arranging for the filming of our journals. We much appreciate your concern for the Archives of Scientific Philosophy and welcome any other suggestions you might have for developing it.
