Dear Aunt Margaret:

last week I caught cold and staid at home one day but after being at the office two days had a relapse and then spent four days at home. This afternoon I am out again but am afraid to undertake the trip to Ashland for the meeting tomorrow. So am mailing herewith the usual reports concerning your financial affairs for the past year—

Your income was more than you spent and something was added to your capital account— See the Profit & Loss statement for the detail— You have I think sufficient funds at the Ashland Natl Bank and I have asked Mr. Richman to keep me advised so I can send him more if necessary— from Cincinnati or New York where your funds are drawing some interest— So you need not be troubled about that unless you should wish a large amount—

Ruby caught cold too and has been in doors for three days— She wanted to go to Church Sunday but I told her she might give the cold to some one else as it looked as if she had caught it from me— We have had no snow on the ground for two weeks and the auto was used last week—

With much love
Affectionately

Dear Aunt Margaret:

Your letter 4th just received.

Found enclosed dividend check of Means + Russell Iron Co for $1800⁰⁰ which I shall deposit at Ashland National.

Am pleased to learn of Tom Adams recovery - I hope he will go away for a rest from business and a change of scene - But perhaps the piano and carpets will be so attractive as to keep him at home - I am always pleased when you add to your own comfort and amusement and hope you will thoroughly enjoy the new purchases - Someday you will be getting an automobile, but for a time, until you get the real auto fever, you will find it more satisfactory to rent them by the day or hour - It would cost you at least $50⁰⁰ per month to keep up a good auto and that amount will pay for as many afternoon rides as you may wish to take -

Tuesday Ruby, Mr Nash & I went out to Bryn Mawr and took H. E. & her roommate out to lunch - That night Ruby left for Suffolk Va to visit Mrs Pinner - Wednesday I spent in New York. Thursday in Phila. and was home on Friday - Ruby returns next week. We may go South for two weeks but as I wish to be in Pittsburgh Mar 1st Phila Mar 3rd & New York Mar 9th I am not much inclined to leave home now -

Prices for pig iron are weak at present but I believe they will improve when Congress adjourns -

My dear Sarah:

When I received your telegram on the occasion of Howard's death, I had no presentiment that I should so soon send you a message of sympathy in a deep bereavement. When I saw your father last month he was in good spirits and apparently well, and he still reverted with his pleasant humor to the celebration of his birthday which brought him so many quaint mementoes of his career.

It is not easy to set down how much I valued your father's friendship. ~~And~~ his active life he maintained his relations to

My dear Coke:

You are called on to face many new responsibilities and cares, but do so, with a rich legacy from your father. He was one among many, to whom they ^{all} went for comfort and wise advice.

His qualities were of the sort that few possess and won him the complete confidence & trust that all who knew him felt so strongly.

When he suffered such extreme physical pain many years ago + such deprivations in the things we all treasure, his nobility of spirit reached their supreme development.

He did more for me as a young man than any one I came in contact with, of his age, and I learned to love and honor him greatly.

I wish I might have been with you, at the time of his funeral. I should have gone except for complications here + the distance which made my return in time to do my part impossible.

For many years I have been cut off from the intercommunion with him which I longed for so much, but it seems as if hardly a day had passed, when down thoughts or rays of his, had not come into my mind + been quoted. We had a warm place in my affection and sympathy deeper in your love + the love of all those dear to him.

Yours always

Dear Cook:

I received by yesterday's mail, from John, an Ashland paper, sent him by young Mr Savage, announcing the death, on the 14th inst, of your father. It is the first I had heard of it and I hasten to write, to express to you and to each and all, my sincere sorrow and sympathy in your great loss. He was a fine man, in every relation of life and his example should be an inspiration to those who remain behind. How kind and good he was to me, when I was a young man, and lived in Ashland, you do not realize, but the memory of it has lived in my heart through all these long years, and though time and space has separated us, I have never forgotten the past and his death comes to me, as a new and personal loss.

Remember me to each member of the family in tenderest sympathy when you see them or write and believe me always

Sincerely yours

My dear Cooke

I received last evening a letter from Colonel Putnam advising me of the taking away of your Father.

I write to offer to you, and through you, to your sisters and "Aunt Mary", as your Father was used to call Mrs.
Means, the assurance of my very sincere sympathy and condolence.

I knew your Father during forty years, I have never known any man whom I regarded with more respect and esteem, and I may add affection than him.

He was so bright, cheerful and well when I last saw him that I surely thought to see him again
this next summer.

His place will not be easily
nor soon filled.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY

BOYD COUNTY COURT.

To all to whom, these presents shall come or may concern,

GREETING:

Know ye, That we have examined the records and files in the office of the Boyd County Court aforesaid, a court of record and of general probate jurisdiction, do find there remaining a certain record of the last will and testament of JOHN MEANS, deceased, (said will having been duly admitted to probate as a will of real and personal property on the 28th day of February, in the year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Ten, upon the probate of which the following order granting Letters Testamentary and of Administration concerning the same, was made in the words and figures following, to-wit:

STATE OF KENTUCKY

BOYD COUNTY COURT

FEBRUARY TERM

February 28, 1910

Upon this first day of the regular February Term, 1910, of the Boyd County Court, came William B. Seaton and Harold Means, two of the persons nominated in the writing bearing date of June 16, 1899, purporting to be the last will and testament of John Means, as executors thereof, produced said writing in court, and thereupon moved the court to admit same to probate as the valid last will and testament of the said John Means:

And it thereupon appearing by evidence heard by the court, that the said John Means at the time being a citizen and resident of Ashland, Boyd County, Kentucky and domiciled therein, died there on the 14th day of February, 1910, and at the date of said writing and at the time of his death was more than twenty-one years of age and of sound mind:

And it further appearing that there are no subscribing witnesses thereto, W. C. Richardson and Robert L. Richardson being duly sworn, in open court, testified that the said writing with the signature thereto, is wholly in the proper hand writing of the said John Means.

WHEREUPON it is by the Court ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the said writing be and hereby is allowed and established as the valid last will and testament of John Means and as a will of real and personal property, and as such admitted to probate and ordered to be recorded, together with this order probating same.

It further appearing to the Court that Ellison Cooke Means nominated and appointed in said will to be one of the executors thereof and co-executor with the said William B. Seaton and Harold Means, between the date of the will and the death of said testator had removed from, and ceased to be a resident of the state of Kentucky, and is now a non-resident thereof and for this reason not eligible to qualify or act as such, on the further motion of said William B. Seaton and Harold Means, it is by the Court ordered that they be, and hereby are, appointed as sole executors of the aforesaid last will and testament of John Means: and being in court they each accepted appointment as such and severally took the oaths required by law.

The aforesaid will directing that no security shall be required of them, or either of them, for the execution of this my will," it is by the Court ordered that the said William B. Seaton and Harold Means be, and are, permitted to act as executors without bond or security, and that letters in due form issue to them, it not appearing proper to the court to require that bond or security be required."

And that said William B. Seaton and Harold Means since have been and now are acting as sole executors of the last will and testament.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I, Ed S. Hughes, Clerk of the said Court, hereunto set my hand and official seal as Clerk of the said Court, this 19th day of February, 1912

Ed S. Hughes

Clerk of the Boyd County Court.

I inclose your certificate of stock in the Merchants Bank and Trust Company which calls for twenty shares. Charlie Russell says he can sell the same to R. H. Vansant at $200 per share so you can sign the certificate with instructions and send the same to Charlie or myself and we will attend to the matter for you.

I have discovered that the street paving on Lexington has not been paid, amounting to about $1200. I was under the impression, if you remember while here, that there was no street paving assessment against the estate. This amount, however, as Mr. Hager advises should be paid out of the estate.

Mr. Hager informs me that he has the organization papers for the Realty Company.

Mr Maynards continued illness and hope he will not break down under the strain - Her usual cheerful disposition should keep her up -

I saw Will Seaton & Charley Means in Cincinnati Charley looked well and said he felt better than usual. Will said Hilda would be going home Saturday after 3 weeks in a Cincinnati hospital - instead of 6 weeks as expected - Dr Forbeimer said she had made rapid progress - All are well here

Dear Mr. Kargill,

Mamma asked me write and ask you if you would please write a letter similar to the ones we have written before to Tom Emerson about his note that is due on July 19th. Ask him to reply to mamma to Mrs. L. N. Davis, Ashland, Ky. If you could have the letter written and send it here for her to sign and send on she would appreciate it. He is willing for him to pay it up or keep it another year.

I hope everyone is well and Mary and Julia are enjoying their trip. I leave here Sunday for Boston but will see you all again the first of August. Remember me to all.

yours,
B. B. King.

Dear Aunt Margaret:

You are going on a fine trip and are sure to have a good time - Alberta is a summer country but not pleasant in winter - I have a man here who spent two winters there and he says "never more" for him -

Senator Peter McClaren of Canada says it is a country where you have to throw your shoulders back and grow deep chested - He has large lumber interests out there and I guess has other interests too -

The fishing is grand in the Canadian Rockies so be sure to try the trout fishing while there.

We are going over to Alderson Saturday to see whether the Camp there will be suitable for John. We would like to have him stay there for several weeks - they do not as a rule take boys under 12 and he is only 10 but as it is only 2 hours ride on the train from here I hope they will make an exception for him.

H. E. is studying Latin this summer. She did not study it before going to Shipley and is making up two or three years in one - A young lady from North Carolina is tutoring her.

H. E. has a light attack of indigestion has been laid up for two days but this afternoon she and Ruby + John are going on a 40 miles auto trip to bring her home from Jordan Mines where I go by train this morning.

The fishing season has opened here and that with tennis is giving me all the out of doors sport I can spare time for -

I think you have sufficient funds at Asbland for your trip but it might be well for you to ask Mr. Richardson at once to make sure - I can send him a check on Cincinnati immediately if it is needed -

With much love

Affectionately

Dear Aunt Margaret:

Your recent letters with dividends of Ashland Fire Brick Co and Means & Russell Iron Co were duly received - I have sent them to the Ashland Natl to your credit. So I believe there will be no trouble about funds - There has been a slump in the stock market and it will soon be a good time to invest your idle funds in good securities.

Yesterday I went over to the Cowpasture river with a friend in his auto. We fished for 3 hours but did not have good luck, only catching 6 fish - the auto was a "Reo" costing $1250 - It made good speed going 12 miles in 46 minutes over rough road and up & down hills.

Ruby & John are going to Alderson today to look at the camp - H. E. and I are going to Covington, with H. E. driving the auto -

I wish you great pleasure on your trip

Dear Aunt Margaret:

This morning I returned from a short visit in New York where I saw Lily & Mr. Maynard. They were both in usual state of health. Maynard was recovering from his first experience with
● Lay fever. Met Donald & Valonia Putnam and Mr & Mrs C. C. Clarke on train going East—

I paid 105 for the Atlantic Coast line Stock it is now paying 6% dividends and I consider it a good investment— I bought some of it for Ruby two years ago—

I do not favor loaning the $150⁰⁰ to Miss
● Constock unless you especially request it— The amount is too small to investigate the value of the lot and as she has the lot she should sell it to raise funds rather than borrow from friends. As you do not direct me to make the loan I shall decline by letter to her—

I shall keep the $100⁰⁰ in mind but at present cannot select an investment which I think would just suit your wishes— Will Seaton might borrow it for the A. C. I. — With love - Affectionately; E. C. Means

I have written Will Seaton fully about Charley Means - I was surprised to learn in Philadelphia that he was in the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania for an operation to remove of a lump on the left side of his neck - I was with him Saturday afternoon and twice yesterday - He will probably be there for a week longer and then go to Asheville. He was allowed to sit up in a chair for an hour yesterday and if the wound heals rapidly, as expected, there should be no further trouble.

We had a pleasant Thanksgiving with H.E.

Also had Mr. John B. Lindsey Jr for Saturday & Sunday.
Our directors were here for three days two weeks ago -
So we have not been lonesome -

I have been out hunting several afternoons with rather poor luck as game is scarce and I am

but it is snowing now -

The pig iron business is very dull with low prices prevailing -

I hope you have a pleasant visit in Cincinnati

I feel as if I cannot stand it - to have the usual family gathering on Christmas day.

I was glad to receive Ruby's letter of the 2nd. Her letters are always interesting for they tell about the children and home affairs - but she did not mention little John in this last letter. I suppose he has grown ^{or is growing} into an old boy as H. E. is now an "old girl." It won't be a great while before you and Bess and Mose will feel like you are getting old when you see your children growing up so fast. Hilda and Isabella are lovely young ladies but poor Hilda seems delicate - though she looks well. She sleeps on

When will return D.W.G. He last of my week - I will be glad to say you is to Ruby's pleasure. I appreciate your sweet letter of sympathy very much and thank you for thinking of us at this sad time. This has indeed been a sorrowful year in our family. It is hard to realize that three of our loved ones have been called away in ^{so} short a time. Although my dear old brother had many bad spells his death came as a shock to us all. He will be sadly missed and the old home will be very desolate without the old people. It is terribly lonesome for Dolly and Dora but they are getting along better than I expected.

A young man (or boy) ^{will} stay there at night till some other arrangement can be made.

The weather was bad and considering my age and health, I did not go down to the funeral. I was not well while in New York nor since my return till within the last few days. Now I am better than I have been for three or four months and do hope I'll keep so for some time - at least till after the holidays. I have written to the twins

that I would not miss having them come home for Christmas. At the same time I feel as if I could not go through with our regular festivities.
Christmas day has always been a happy and gay time at this dear old home. Your dear father's greatest pleasure was having his children and grand children all together now to see them around our long table and no
"grand pa" to smile on them
would be a sad instead of a joyful occasion.

Of course I want them to visit back and forth and for his sake, to be as cheerful

I enclose a check for Ten Dollars for a Christmas Remembrance from the hullow Means family which I trust you will use to purchase something for yourself, if it is only a sleigh ride. I am also presenting you with some new books for your accounts but will not forward them now as you would simply have to return them here -

Harriet Evelyn returned Wednesday morning - she seems strong and well although does not look quite as fleshy - John is well and hearty - He is learning to skate and is becoming more self reliant -

Ruby thinks she is not overdoing this year but nevertheless was laid up yesterday with the grippe and I am afraid Christmas energies may have been partly responsible.

I purchased for you 50 shares of International Agricultural Corporation 7% Preferred Stock - I found that my friends Mr. Hysan and Mr. White thought well of it - I am also going to buy for you 32 shares more of the Washington Water Power Co. stock at par - I sent you an illustrated circular showing their operations at Spokane etc. The Whites and Mr. Hysan have very large interests in it and consider it a very good investment -

I hope to spend a day in Ashland next week with love and best wishes for a Merry Christmas -

Ashland Business Men's Association

The undersigned Committee appointed to make report commemorative of the life and death of John Means, submit the following:

To fittingly present the business career of John Means is to recapitulate the entire business history of Ashland. Individually and as the representative of the interests of his father, Thomas W. Means, he was of the group of prominent men who, about the year 1854, acquired the farms upon which our City stands, and laid the foundations for the splendid town which claims our loyalty and affection. From that auspicious date until his last breath, he was vitally concerned in everything ^aeffecting the growth and wellbeing of the town. The double disaster of panic and war stunted the early growth of the town and disappointed the high expectations of its founders. John ~~Means~~ ^{II}, more than any other, watched, nurtured and developed its early growth with a solicitude, faith and intelligence rarely equalled.

About the close of the war he, with his father, uncle Hugh Means, John G. Peebles, Samuel Coles, Joseph C. Butler, Louis Worthington, A. S. Winslow, William Biggs, William F. Gaylord and others purchased the bankrupt and abandoned eastern division of the old Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad; and acquiring coal lands in the vicinity of Coalton organized the Ashland Coal Company, extended the old railroad and established the business and properties now owned and conducted by the two corporations - Ashland Coal & Iron Railway Company and Ashland Iron & Mining Company.

The affairs of the Kentucky Iron, Coal & Manufacturing Company, the original landed proprietor of the town, became involved in heavy liabilities growing out of an issue and delivery of bonds in aid of the building of the old railroad, which were negotiated in practically the same manner as the more widely known issue of Carter County bonds. This Company was for twenty years or more under the exclusive personal guidance of Mr. Means. Its rescue from bankruptcy and subsequent successful career, is among his most signal business triumphs. How he priced the lots at low figures, gave liberal terms of credit and encouraged the poor to buy lots and build and own their homes; how he would receive and credit even the smallest payments on purchase money notes, thus assisting the laboring man to acquire a home, is a well known feature of his policy in the management of the Town Company.

From the organization of the old Bank of Ashland and its successor the Ashland National Bank, his was the guiding hand and directing spirit in establishing it among the first of sound and reliable banking houses of the entire country.

Prior to 1869 the business of manufacturing iron in what was then known as the Hanging Rock district, including both sides of the Ohio River, was confined exclusively to the production of charcoal iron. At this time an ~~important~~ innovation in producing pig iron was made here in Ashland. The company, of which Mr. Means was President, constructed the first of Ashland's furnaces, and made successful demonstration of ability to here produce pig iron, using native ores and the Coalton coal for smelting. This success was the main factor determining the formation of the Norton Iron Works in '73, the evolution and growth of which led to the organization and business now conducted by the Ashland

Steel Company and subsidiary companies.

Before the days of the establishment of the successful public school system of Ashland, now its chief pride and boast, Mr. Means promoted and chiefly sustained the Beechgrove Academy, under Professor W. W. Richeson. When the public schools proved adequate for local educational needs, the Academy was discontinued and his own children were sent to the public schools. His subsequent interest in the public schools is attested by his donation of site for the colored school and the naming of the "Means School Building" in his honor.

Perhaps his greatest public service to the town and city was in continuous service of more than thirty years as member of the Board of Trustees and of the City Council. He acted all the time as Chairman of the Finance Committee. To these duties he gave the same prompt and careful attention he bestowed upon his private affairs. His policy was to avoid large public expenditures or bonded indebtedness, fearing to create conditions of high ~~tax~~ levies that would deter new capital from investing or the incoming of new population, believing sound policy required costly improvements to be deferred until increase of population and wealth would make such less burdensome.

He was prominently identified with the movement which resulted in acquiring the grounds now known as the Ashland Cemetery; surveyed and laid out mainly under his direct supervision, and firmly established and conducted under regulations inspired by him.

He was also foremost among the promoters of the building of the turnpike road from Ashland to Catlettsburg.

His connection with the operations of the old Big Sandy & Pomeroy Packet Company continued during all the old time glory of river traffic.

In his more active career he sat as director in more large companies than any man of Ashland, living or dead. He was for years President of the Low Moor ^{Iron Company} of Virginia and an officer of the Oxmoor Iron Company of Alabama. His sturdy honesty and sound judgment made him an acknowledged force in the affairs of every company or business with which he was at any time identified. Against his character and rare worth, no breath of suspicion was ever directed. Honest in warp and woof through and through, his character as a man of affairs may well employ the contemplation and emulation of this association of business men of Ashland, formed for the purpose of carrying on the work which employed the best years of his life in upbuilding the interests of the town he loved so well and regarded with the deepest solicitude during all the number of his days.

He was a proficient civil engineer, and had both practical and scientific attainments in metallurgy.

He owned and read with intelligent and discriminating interest from the most extensive and complete private library in eastern Kentucky, including in the range of his extensive reading works of history, science, political economy, fiction and biographies, ancient and modern.

Although his time and endeavors were largely employed in his own and in the investments of his father and sisters in important business affairs in Ashland and elsewhere, he commanded time for other concerns than ^{these} ~~wealth~~.

Perhaps the most noted literary and scientific Club in the history of Ashland was known as the "Franklin Club", of which Mr. Means was a conspicuous member. Others were, Judge William C. Ireland, Drs. Montmollin and Young, and Thomas A. Mack, a man of the highest scientific and literary attainments. One of the most noted papers read before that Club was that of Mr. Means upon Spectrum Analysis, a paper of the highest scientific value and evidencing a most thorough and conscientious study and preparation upon a highly abstruse and scientific subject. Another notable contribution was a paper read by Judge Ireland upon "Ocean Currents", with original and novel theories respecting the Gulf Stream.

Not only upon these lines but also in lighter social vein, Mr. Means was wont to indulge with ardent interest in the social life and affairs of the town. His home was the abode of the most gracious hospitality.

His interest in young people, always lively, continued to his last moments. He never appeared to better purpose than as the natural man that he was and when surrounded by young and innocent childhood.

There is no phase of his life more gratifying to those who knew him than that seen by them in the cheerfulness attending his last days at home. ^{with} The poise of mind and judgment, the cordial and happy greeting of his friends of all ages and conditions, among his books and surrounded by a devoted family and friends, his days went happily and of even tenor until their flow was interrupted by the chill of death. Attended by those things which should accompany old age—honor, love, obedience and troops of friends, thus crowning a ^{youngful} labor with an age of ease, ^{the comes} and coming to his grave in full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in his season."
