Come On, Lowerclassmen, Show Your Interest

As the last regular edition of the KERNEL for the year goes to press, it is our undying hope that the student government constitution may be completed in time for ratification by the University senate next week.

Action of the committee thus far has been somewhat impeded by the addition of new members to whom each point had to be re-explained. But these new members have also brought with them new ideas and new suggestions.

Although this call has been issued again and again, there is still a dearth of junior, sophomore, and freshman members. For the last time this year, we restate the old fact that present juniors, sophomores, and freshmen will be the classes principally affected next year by the constitution, and that if they do not voice their criticisms now, they will be very little justification for the same criticisms next year.

Won't It Sound Sweet?

While Europe continues its mad-cap mobilizations and diplomatic name-calling, and people in the United States grow more and more indignant about what to do in a case like this, two bits of literature pop up which illustrate the bloodless war now being fought between propaganda and cool-headed logic.

The first, an excellent example of the nauseating propaganda to which we are now being subjected, consists of the lyrics of a "patriotic" song written by that notorious flag-waver, George M. Cohan. Shockingly reminiscent of his late "Over There," it is entitled "We Must Be Ready," and reads as follows:

"Uncle Sam is not the kind That's looking for a fuss; But if they should feel inclined To take a shot at us— Talk about your rallying, No delay or dallying, Bang! And off we go! We must be ready, It's well to be ready, You never can tell—You never can tell In a fight, what they might prepare to do. They might compel us to yell, 'We dare you!'"

And so we must get busy . . . Contrast this soul-stirring bit of drivel with a letter recently received by an outstanding weekly magazine. It was written by a young man of college age and is well worth one's consideration.

"Sir: About the time I was beginning to walk and was fortunate that I couldn't understand it, preachers quoted the Bible and urged young men to kiss a pretty girl, join the army, and kill the wicked Germans. Today we wonder who really started the war, and know very well what a great mess it was. . . Now I would be very foolish to assume that I was anywhere nearly as learned on international relations as our statesmen, but I do know one thing. These statesmen, if they live as long as most statesmen, won't live much longer, and so have nothing to lose. But I and my friends have to fight the war. Inasmuch as I am single, 23, and ripe for the army, I'd much rather hear a little reverse propaganda on the whole business. Besides, I'd rather kiss a pretty girl without joining the army—I might have the pleasure more often!" J. H. S."

It's too bad they didn't set these latter words to music, head of that cute little masterpiece of Mr. George M. Cohan's—J. C.

Next Year's Freshmen Will Have Friends

During the course of the next school year, one will probably read in the Kampus Kernels quite frequently of "Freshman Advisory committee meeting, 5 p. m. today, Room 201, Union." To many, "Just another KK," but to those who know, the announcement will mean that Dean Jones' or Dean Blanding's freshman advisers are continuing a work which has unlimited possibilities of service to the University.

As is the case with so many aspects of social service work, the action of these committees will probably proceed without a great deal of heraldy or appreciation by the student body. The advisers can not often display the results of their handiwork in public and say "See here, look what I've done." Superficially, at the end of the year, the freshmen under their guidance will appear to be essentially the same individuals they were at registration.

Consequently, committee members must look for their reward in the personal satisfaction and feeling of well-being which results from taking a disinterested, unhappy, and poorly articulated student and seeing him develop under your guidance into a mentally healthy and valuable citizen of the college community.

Perhaps it is for the best, after all, because it will result in a committee composed of students interested in the work itself rather than in personal glory or public acclaim. These advisers won't expect to see an immediate revolution in student attitude, but they will have the satisfaction of knowing that if they, and their successors, do their work well, there will come a day when the growth of the University and the renown of its graduates will be the external manifestations of a harmonious balance and coordination of life within the "walls."

Sie Transit Gloria Mundi

So many well-wishes to out-going seniors have found places in the editorial columns of college papers that the only result has been irritability. Therefore, to avoid being trite, the hubbub of journalism, nothing will be said about how much good luck they are wished by those remaining, and nothing will be said about how much they will be missed. All that will be said is that although the enrollment next September will remain approximately the same, those coming in then won't be quite like those going out now.

Most important event of the school year was the introduction of a progressive constitution in Alumni gymnasium on Thursday evening, May 4. Approximately 3,000 students stayed away, even though it was well-known that the purpose of the constitution was to unite portentous knots from the fabric of campus politics.

Behind The Eckdahl

By ANDREW C. ECKDAHL

Depressed by a multitude of unwritten term papers, unread books and looming finals, we take to the typewriter for the last time this year to fat out a humor column. It's a hard job—joke is dark—we blanch when we think of the ordeal of the final week that is upon us. As ever, we return to the philosophy of Don Marquis, but even he cannot put our mind at rest.

But when some inquisitive person wanted to know how long our candle would burn, we didn't say, "About a wick."

Note to Lexington patrolmen: When the light changed at Main and Limestone yesterday and the first car didn't move instantly, we were the fellow who didn't blow his horn.

Oh well, as they say in Europe, it's a wise child that knows his own fatherland.

Ode In Springtime It's spring and you are far away. I cannot hope that you'll be true. But when you are kissing some other boy Remember, it's spring here too.

—Wake of the News

When the chairman at the CRSG meeting rapped on the table and said, "Order," we didn't reply "Three beers."

Some KD has been trying to tell us that Warm Springs is the place where the President goes to get the hot water in which to keep the United States.

When the amateur carpenter wanted to know how long putty had to dry before he could paint, we didn't say "Putty long."

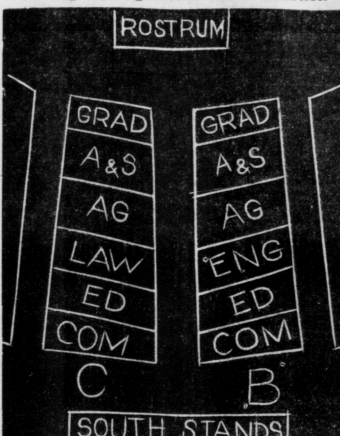

Please Note: Any similarity between the above gags and those appearing in Arch Ward's "Wake of the News" in the Chicago Tribune is purely coincidental.

Last afternoon at half after three, the pre-day peace of the KERNEL newsmen was rudely shattered by the advent of a former reporter, Miss Beé Ficklin of Charleston, W. Va., a small factory town not far from Pittsburgh. We really haven't much to report about Miss Ficklin, although she seems quite the sane. We haven't had a chance to question her, but if we managed to get in a question in time, we will make a full report next column, that is, next September.

The time has come for us to put the cover on our typewriter, close our jokebooks, let the KDs out of the doghouse, and bring this column to an end until September. Oh yes, we really should like the seniors lots of luck—they're a great bunch, seniors today, WPA workers tomorrow. Which would cause the philosophic to say "Such is life" but we won't say it because we don't like Life, or Time.

We'll say "Hi Yo Silverman, Away" now, because we want to follow the advice of Robert Benchley, to "leave 'em with a laugh." Hahahaha hahahaha.

Seating Arrangements For Graduation

This is the way commencement exercises will look to spectators seated in the south stands on Still Field. Graduates will be "partitioned" off according to colleges. Parents and friends may look for graduates in the sections shown on the drawing above. Faculty and alumni will sit in the sections to the right and left of the students.

Looks Like This . . .

By ALLENBY WINER

Most important event of the school year was the introduction of a progressive constitution in Alumni gymnasium on Thursday evening, May 4. Approximately 3,000 students stayed away, even though it was well-known that the purpose of the constitution was to unite portentous knots from the fabric of campus politics.

Green areas of empty seats were conspicuous in the grandstand. That was understandable because it is almost an axiom that anything new and progressive on this campus is accepted skeptically, open-mouthed and doubtfully.

The devastating way in which the campus avoided the symposium is further behind than was El Chio in the Derby. These are the students who object most strenuously to the constitution. Why do they object? We don't know, neither do they. But if their complaints continue to follow the same form as those printed above, we suggest that the objectors return to a high school and start over. They have mental development to undergo.

Next Year There is also the regular rah-rah Joe College type who objects just for the sake of being heard and for nothing else at all. He and his fellow clumps belong in the college of ten years ago. We're supposed to be a little smarter today—they have been rumored.

Next Year Next year the constitution should be law on this campus. Once before, as faculty members reiterate, self-government was a miserable failure. Finally, students had to beg these members to lift the burden of the diseased government. This time a good number of students WANT and DEMAND student-government, and they are anxious to work out a plan which will guard against a return of the accompanying failure. With that evident desire, it is only the un-intelligent we have to worry about. If student government, once started, fails, its failure can be traced to the murmuring and squabbling of this backward group, forever fighting for selfish power and prestige.

Campuscene

By Jim Caldwell

Every Kernel student moped for the past humpteen years has, at the end of the spring semester, compiled a somewhat pedantic list of campusous whom he terms "outstanding" for reasons clear only to himself. Not wishing to cause a break in this long line of personalities, we herewith compile:

No. 1 Glamour Girl—Martha Jane Rich No. 1 Glamour Boy—Bob Reusch Best Informed—Don Irvine No. 1 Shot with It—Frank F. Davis

Such is the tenor of the complaints. Mostly they are as completely nonsensical as the fifth point. Yet complaints of these patterns continue to be heard each day. We heard one good remark, while sipping a soda in the Union grill, "I don't know if I favor such a constitution? It's had enough that we'll soon have a hard time getting an officer elected in campus government; pretty soon they'll be making laws prohibiting the election of quacks."

Whoever you happened to be, Miss, we feel awfully put out over the whole thing. It is too bad that your "combine" won't be able to push through an officer or so by the same old-timey methods formerly used. And we're so sorry to hear that maybe someone you won't be able to elect a useless one. Now isn't it an awful shame that grown (?) girls like you must patter and prattle over such high-schoolish junk as this sense business? When it comes to talking sense and doing something worth while for the school, we bet that you and your

American Collegians Feel Lack In Present Educational System

Vocational Training Is Greatest Need, Say Many

By JOE BELDEN, Editor Student Opinion Surveys of America Austin, Texas, May 18.—Modern American education, in the opinion of the majority of the million and half college students now getting educated, is not meeting present day needs.

Six out of every one hundred students in our colleges and universities have some indictment to make. The Student Opinion Surveys of America have discovered this in a national poll conducted for the Kernel and eighty-seven other campus publications cooperating in these studies.

Some say that the average college boy is a chronic complainer about his school work. But interviews for the Surveys found that most of these students are able to put into words what they think education needs. The great cry is for more vocational training and specialized study. Overwhelmingly, collegians everywhere made that statement—although many were found who want colleges to change their course of study with emphasis on cultural background and liberal arts.

of the year, today's column is the last one short of the 1939-40 next September, take it easily, gentle, people and don't get nerve.

Actives and pledges of Alpha Xi Delta will entertain with a breakfast at 9:30 Sunday morning at the chapter house for 30 rushesses.

The house and the small tables will be decorated with garden flowers.

Llewellyn Holmes is in charge of the arrangements for the party.

Rushesses Honored At Alpha Xi Tea

Actives and pledges of Alpha Xi Delta entertained with a tea at the chapter house last Friday for 45 rushesses.

Individual wicker corsages were given to the rushesses as favors. A salad course was served. The house was decorated with garden flowers.

Jean Lawson and Mary Clark Carmon were in charge of arrangements for the party.

Delta Chi Beach Party Held At Boonesboro

Sunday afternoon the Delta Chis entertained with a hayride and beach party at Boonesboro. After a picnic everyone gathered around the bonfire and sang fraternity songs.

Guests included Margaret Becker, Roberta Berkshire, and Helen Berkshire, Betty Stuart, Virginia Burrisside, Judy Pogue, Peggy Commins, Sally Cannon, Lillian Myers, Jo Mills, Betty Aris, and Margaret Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Berkshire acted as chaperons.

Delta Zetas Honor Pledges At Dinner

The pledges of Delta Zeta were entertained by the actives at dinner Wednesday night at the chapter house. The house was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers.

Winifred Payne was in charge of arrangements.

Kappa Sigs Feled By Kappa Deltas

Members of Kappa Delta honored the actives and pledges of Kappa Sigma at a buffet supper Tuesday night at the chapter house. The table was decorated with red tulips and lighted with white tapers.

After supper dancing and games were enjoyed. May Christian Dodman and Ann McDuffie were in charge of arrangements.

Program Endorsed

Numerous student leaders and educators have endorsed the principles embodied in the "Human Roll Call," according to Peter A. Gragis, campus representative.

Gragis stated that plans are now being formulated for a student conference to be held at the campus next December. The conference will center around seven items explicated in a pamphlet circulated throughout the nation and entitled the "Human Rights Roll Call."

The items concern literacy, social insurance, socialized medicine, slum clearance and housing, conservation of natural resources, and the guarantee of civil liberties.

At San Francisco State College, Marshall Blum set the oscillatory record by kissing forty coeds in five minutes.

HENDERSHOT HONORED

Harriet Hendershot, Louisville, was one of a group of about 35 college students chosen to engage in social work with the college summer service group in New York. The group will study social problems in New York settlement areas.

"A penny saved is two pence clear, a pin a day is a groat a year"
—POOR RICHARD'S ALMANACK

Leading back of the Ford Motor Company on the River Barge

RAINBOW ON THE RIVER

THERE'S a rainbow on the River Rouge by the Ford plant—oil in a thin coating, washed from metals and parts by the water used to cool or clean them.

To most folks that colorful coating spelled just oil; no more. To Ford men it spelled "waste." They dipped their fingers in it . . .

rubbed them together . . . reflected. A few days later a strange device was installed where the stream flows through a narrow channel into the mooring slip. It was an oil skimmer.

Each month that skimmer reclaims thousands of gallons of oil. Reclaimed, it is used as fuel in the open-hearth building.

Poor Richard said straws show how the wind blows. That's how the wind blows at the Rouge. Pennies saved where pennies can be salvaged are multiplied into millions by large-scale Ford operations.

At the end of that rainbow on the waters of the Rouge, Ford owners find extra value, lower price.

Adams and Clark are expected to be absent from the line-up because of special examinations.

High School Thinlies Will Vie In Annual Contest On Stoll Field

Representatives from 36 state high schools, the cream of Kentucky's 1939 crop, will meet on Stoll field today and tomorrow in the 20th annual state track and field meet.

The entries, survivors from eight district meets last week, represent the largest starting field ever to compete in the cinder carnival. Today's program of nine preliminary events is slated to open at 2:30 o'clock while the final events are due at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow.

According to marks posted in the district meets, at least one existing record is due to be shattered. The shotgun mark of 48 feet 7 inches held by Schutte of Henderson should be bettered by Senigle of Louisville Manual, who pushed the weight 51 feet 3 inches in the district eliminations.

Manual, defending champion, will probably be the favored team. Last year Manual scored a total of 51 points to 30 for Highlands, second place winner.

This year, for the first time, the meet will be held over a two-day period and in light of the increased interest being shown in the state for track, the meet is expected to be the most successful tourney ever held.

The records that will be on the block are:

- 100 yard dash—Woodward, Male, 15.8
- 220 yard dash—Eskier, Male, 32
- 440 yard dash—Paxton, Male, 2:01.1
- 880 yard dash—Fuchs, Male, 2:16
- 110 yard relay—Highlands, 3:38.4
- 440 yard relay—Highlands, 4:48
- 880 yard relay—Schutte, Henderson, 11 feet 10 inches
- 110 yard dash—Schutte, Henderson, 68 feet 7 inches
- Broad jump—Best, Manual, 22 feet 11 inches
- High jump—Best, Manual, 6 feet 1/2 inch

Sherwood Plans To Resign For Medicine

After nine years of service to the University, Dr. T. C. Sherwood, associate professor of anatomy and physiology, will cease his work as instructor to carry on his studies at the University of Wisconsin.

During 1936 and 1937, in the absence of Dr. R. S. Allen, Doctor Sherwood was acting head of the department. It was during this period that he took the lead in drawing up specifications for the newly completed wing of the Biological Sciences building. Last year, in recognition of his outstanding work, both in the experimental and educational fields, he was raised to the rank of associate professor.

Doctor Sherwood has had two years of medicine at Wisconsin, where he received his Ph.D. and M. A. degrees. He expects to return there this summer to resume his medical studies and to enter medical practice at the completion of his work there.

YM-YW RETREAT PRODUCES PLANS

Faculty-Student Meets Included In Projects

More intimate relationship between faculty and students will be advocated in next year's YM-YW program, adopted by association of officers at the annual retreat, May 13-14, at Camp Daniel Boone.

To accomplish this purpose the associations plan three types of faculty-student functions: (1) conferences to discuss University problems, (2) social gatherings to foster greater friendliness, and (3) scientific or intellectual group discussions.

The program was planned according to suggestions made by Dr. Hurdley Dupre, political science department, who, speaking on the needs of the University and the place of Christian associations in the life of the University, declared that "intellectual dishonesty" is the cardinal sin of the campus.

During the coming school year the associations will attempt to place greater emphasis on religion and its relationship to life. In connection with this, a three-day religion-in-life conference, similar to the one this year, will be held.

Other phases of the program are combating moral, intellectual, and spiritual disintegration on the campus; bringing students to a deeper understanding of the great social problems; and securing greater participation of all members in association activities.

A joint Freshman club, open to both men and women and similar to that of the past year, will also be organized.

WILDCATS TO VIE IN GOLF TOURNEY

Favored to regain the title lost last year, the Kentucky golf team, sporting a record of six wins in eight matches, will take part in the state intercollegiate tournament today and Saturday in Louisville.

But four state schools, Louisville, defending champion, Centre, Western and Kentucky, are expected to be represented in the sixth annual tournament which will be contested over the Seneca Club course with 36 holes due in today's play and the other 18 coming tomorrow.

Two narrow wins over the University of Louisville this season pushed the Wildcats into the favored role. The Cats copied the first match of the season by a 10-8 margin while the second test was taken by 9-18.

In the race for individual honors, Kentucky's Captain Bill Adams, Julian James, of Louisville defending titlist, and Lee Moley, Western's par-revolver, are expected to wage a bitter three-cornered. Other members of the Cat squad are expected to be Milton Yunker, J. Granville Clark and Bobby Thaxton.

With Adams and Clark out of the line-up due to special examinations, Kentucky broke even in two Cincinnati starts to conclude the season, losing to Cincinnati Monday by 11-7 but nipping Xavier Tuesday by a 11-7 margin. Incidentally, it was Cincinnati that handed the Cats their other defeat of the year in their first start by a 16-3 score.

In addition to the two wins over Louisville, the Cats have trimmed Tennessee and Xavier twice this year.

Engineers' Dinner Slated For Tonight

ASCE Award, Competitive Speaking Included On Program

Students and faculty of the college of engineering, in conjunction with the engineers of the state will have an all-engineering dinner at 6:30 tonight in the Union ballroom.

With Stuart Wahl, president of the local student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers as toastmaster, the program will consist of competitive speaking by engineering students of the University and the University of Louisville.

Student speakers will be: S. P. Bourbaki, D. C. Schneider, James R. Morgan, and Norman Wides, University; Thomas J. Yates and William H. Schulte, University of Louisville.

A prize of $10 will go to the winner of the contest. The runner-up will receive $5.

ASCE will present a junior membership and badge to the outstanding civil engineer from each University.

GAT TENNIS MEN DEFEAT BERA 9-0

In the concluding meet of the 1939 season, Kentucky's tennis team racked up its sixth victory of the campaign with an easy 9-0 win over Berea college Tuesday afternoon on the Downing courts.

The meet also brought to a climax Coach H. H. Downing's 18th season as Wildcats tutor. For the year, Kentucky's record book shows six wins, three losses and a 4-4 tie with Notre Dame in a match halted by rain in the deciding set.

During the season the Cats defeated Berea and Tennessee twice each and nipped Indiana and Sewanee while being trampled by Georgia Tech, Cincinnati and Michigan State.

For the first time in history Kentucky sent entries to the annual conference tourney when Lee Huber, Dave Ragland and Bobby Boone took part in the eliminations last week at Sewanee. After reaching the quarter finals Huber was defeated by Russell Bobbitt of Georgia Tech, defending champion and top-seeded. Ragland was trounced by Jack Bushman of L. S. U., who went to the finals while Boone was defeated by Goldman of L. S. U. in his first match.

Two or three movements are on foot on the campus to have more faculty-student groups next year meet for the purpose of discussing the local and national problems. Although it is very seldom that any tangible benefit results from these discussions, the discussions themselves are valuable in that they provide for the exchange of ideas and prevent us from lapsing into an apathetic attitude toward improvement.

Reunions Will Be Held For "Old Grads" June 1, 2

Charles E. Plank, secretary of the class of '19, sends this letter for "reunioners" of '19:
"Well, it begins to look as if this reunion of 1919 would be something to leave home about.
The more energetic and voluble members of the class have all written in that they intend to be there, referring, of course, to such individuals as Terrill Tapscott, John Leaman, Hugh Milton, Lee McClain, Alvin Kahn, George Reddish, Marcus Redwine, and many others. I know that I should identify all these people with titles and things, but when I knew them 20 years ago, they didn't have titles, and anyhow, they'd shed their dignity and titles at the city limits—or else.
It's funny, but the girls have not written your hard-working secretary. Surely they're planning to be there. A stag reunion might be all right, but I can't seem to raise a fever. I'd maybe the girls just are volume!
Those members fortunate to be living now in the vicinity of Lexington have been having meetings and making plans. They have a grand program all prepared—and it's not to be a stuffed shirt affair either. I seem to remember there is to be a banquet somewhere along the line, but even a banquet can be fun. We'll participate in the general festivities planned by the Alumni Association, but we plan to get out "on our own" and do some really satisfying re-unioning.
Remember, it has been 20 years, two decades since we all met. It will be fun to be there, will you?
By the way, they're preparing the intimate histories of each class, asking members to contribute reminiscences, memories, snapshots, accounts of events that in our day were big, all of this to be assembled and made available to all who might ask for it. I can handle some of the hysterical history of the Third Division of the Doorn (properly expurgated) but you'll all have to pitch in and add your personal chapters. You'd be very amused to read over the dignified signature of Ezra Gillis, the suggestions as to what to write about. Such things as Putting the Mule in Chapel, the Policeman who lost his clothes, Fighting the Cannon with a Cop Avenue, I. Painting Numerals, He-Pat, She-Pat, Water in Paper Sacks—where-w-w, that ought to be SCOME history. I've got to have one for my daughter. It will help prove her old man was a better. But not unless you all contribute, everybody, men, women and engineers. Send in your notes.
On to Lexington! Old friends, old times, old stories—new babies, new wives, new jobs. Fun!"

GARDEN CONVOY SET FOR TODAY

Beginning with a tour of the botanical garden at 10:30 a. m. the biennial garden day program, conducted by the University Botanic Garden club in cooperation with various other organizations of Lexington and Fayette county, will be held on the campus today.
Clifford Ruyon, superintendent of Spring Grove cemetery in Cincinnati, and J. J. Crumrine, secretary-treasurer of the Wayside Gardens, Mentor, Ohio will be the principal speakers on the program. Mr. Ruyon, authority on plants in the Middle West and a regular lecturer on phases of planting at the University of Cincinnati, will speak on "Turf Culture and Control of Certain Weed Pests," at 11:30 in the Union Building. Mr. Crumrine will discuss "Newer Developments in Perennials—Their Use and Care" at 2:30 p. m.

A luncheon, at which approximately 200 persons are expected to attend, will be given at 1 p. m. in the Bluegrass room of the Union. Presidents and Mrs. McVey will welcome visitors with a tea at 4 p. m. at Maxwell Place.
Co-operating in presentation of the program, the Fayette Rose and Garden club will be in charge of luncheon decorations, the Fayette County Home-maker's Garden club will hostesses at the luncheon, and Lexington Garden club members will serve as hostesses in the botanical garden. The University Garden club has charge of registration in the Union building.

Prof. N. R. Elliott, chairman of the committee on arrangements, said that approximately 400 garden lovers and club members are expected to attend. The program, with the exception of a charge for luncheon, is open to the public.

EXAM RULES

The following rules are now in force governing examinations:
1. Graduate Students.
Graduate students are required to take examinations under the same rules as those governing undergraduate students.
2. Students Barred from Examinations.
A student who has been absent from more than one-fourth of the total number of class exercises in any course is barred from the final examination in that course. (Students entering late are included.)
The instructors are responsible for the enforcement of this rule.
3. Length of Examination.
No written examination shall continue longer than three hours.

Results of work will be recorded in the Registrar's office as follows:
A—exceptionally high quality, valued at 3 points per credit.
B—good, valued at 2 points per credit.
C—fair, valued at 1 point per credit.

And So To Press
Thanks to all the contributors to this column during the past year, and may they continue next semester, as long as we're wishing good luck, here's a bit of it on exams and so press for the 1938-39 school year at 11 o'clock.

Faculty Members Make Addresses

Dean W. S. Taylor, of the college of education, Dr. Jesse E. Adams, director of the summer session, and Professor J. D. Williams, director of the University school, finish a busy week today with commencement addresses being delivered by them throughout the state.
"Characteristics of a Liberal Education" will be the subject of Dr. Taylor's speech tonight at the commencement exercises at Ferguson high school. He also gave a commencement address last night at Irvine high school.
Professor Williams will go to Lebanon Junction high school tonight to deliver a commencement address on "The Promise of Tomorrow."
Dr. Adams will speak at the Germantown high school commencement tonight. He addressed the graduating class of Beautyville high school at the exercises last night.

University Students To Ride In Show

Annual Junior League Affair Scheduled To Be Held July 19-22
The 1939 Lexington Junior League horse show will be held July 19-22, according to W. Jefferson Harris, manager, and Mrs. Henry Sheldon Vance, chairman. With $10,000 and many beautiful trophies as prizes, the show may surpass in scope the 1938 show which had 200 horses and 126 exhibitors entered.
Two University students will ride in the event: Andy Duke, SAE, and Virginia Fowler, KD. The two also entered competition last year in the League show.

Tuberculosis Films

"On the Firing Line" and "Let My People Live," two new tuberculosis films, will be shown at 1:30 today in room 203 of the Public Health building. The hygiene department is presenting the shows for a biology class, but other students may attend. The first picture shows the work being done all over the country for tuberculosis prevention; the latter emphasizes the need for instruction among the negroes.

Calling 'Em Wild
 By JOE CREASON

It may be a lot like dressing now for a party to be held a week from Saturday but here are a few immature sport predictions for next year picked at random from "Poor Joe" Creason's combined almanac, weather chart and fisherman's guide.

September 1—This is the month when poison-ivy and World's Series forecasts are most prevalent; most of the baseball experts are by this time riding with the Cincinnati Reds, who are 9½ games out in front.

September 10—The suggestion of shortening the major league baseball season is resurrected; some advocate the American League's passing a rule to end the year as soon as the Yankees clinch the pennant, which would usually be early in July; the National League is advised to shut down as soon as Brooklyn announces it is looking for a new manager.

September 22—One week before the season opens, twelve obituaries appear on Kentucky's football chances; the general idea, as usual, is that the Cats are going no place except to the end of their schedule.

September 30—In spite of all the mean things that have been written about them, the Kentucky Wildcats calm as the mill pond in August, until Virginia Military Institute blows blood all over Stoll Field as they rack up 35 VMI players and a 45-0 win. The same night, Joe Louis' Maxie Baer horizontal in '53 despite the red cross Max wears painted on his back over the words "non-combatant."

October 1—A stretch drive in the Stormy Petrels with a 40-0 score. The cats are going no place except to the end of their schedule. The cats are going no place except to the end of their schedule.

October 7—Blinding thunderstorms and Kentucky's 14th win over Vanderbilt drives the second guessers and wise guys into their padded cells for the year.

October 14—Now that the World Series is ended, the Brooklyn Dodgers drop their "build for 1939" plans and begin building for 1940. Kentucky defeats the Oglethorpe Stormy Petrels with a 40-0 score. The cops are still tracking down a 1930 income tax evader and the Armistice are still starving.

October 21—The Georgia Bulldogs return to Atlanta crying the canine equivalent of "under" after being collared by a 21-6 score. U. S. weather bureau officials predict a mild winter as three days sleet is followed by 18 inches of snow and the weather becomes so cold that red flannel undergarments, Tony Galento, on strength of his last few fights, is signed by the Philadelphia Phillies as a catcher.

October 27—One day before their game with Kentucky, U. S. immigration officials and the Dies committee open a quiet investigation of the Xavier Musketeers to see if Sheetz, Kopolovitz, Sturges, Livingston, etc., hold the proper naturalization papers. The investigation flops and so do the Muskies as Kentucky records a 23-0 win to avenge last season's loss.

November 1—Open season on doves and losing football coaches. The turnover of losing coaches is faster than canned beans in a screw-youself store.

November 4—The law of averages finally catch up with Kentucky and an 18 year drought is broken as the Cats dam the Alabama Tide with a 7-6 defeat. This win is accompanied by sadness equal to that expressed when yellow fever was conquered and Lexington is ready for a civic straight-jacket as it celebrates the victory.

November 6—The hat of Mace Brown, Pittsburgh relief pitcher, is tossed into the ring for 1940 presidential nomination. Brown's platform states that in the past three fiscal years he has given more relief than President Roosevelt.

November 11—With Hoot Combs, Nolan Mullins and Dave Zoeller sweeping around the ends like fire around a celluloid collar, Kentucky runs over Georgia Tech by 20-0 to remain undefeated. Following games of this day, only Kentucky, Ursinus, Springhill, Catawaba, and Missouri Teachers remain unbeaten.

November 18—Kentucky sends the West Virginia Mountaineers back up their grape vine with a sound lacing. Reservations for Kentucky's place in the Rose Bowl are being received. General snoring flares over the state will drive the last Harlan coal striker back to work and Coach Adolph Rupp will make his first call for material to go into his fourth conference champion basketball team.

BLUES CHALK UP 18-5 FROM XAVIER

Eck in baseball properly following three successive wins, the Kentucky Wildcats will nail shut their 12 game schedule for the season against the Tennessee Vols tomorrow afternoon in Knoxville.

For Kentucky the game will offer a chance to pull its record for the year up to the 500 mark. In a previous meeting on Stoll field the Wildcats whacked all available Vol pitchers for 16 hits and an 18-5 win. In the last home game Tuesday afternoon, Kentucky banged three Xavier Musketeer pitchers like a fire house going and slammed out a 24-9 victory. The Cats went after the second meeting on Stoll field the Wildcats whacked all available Vol pitchers for 16 hits and an 18-5 win.

During the first four innings Kentucky's long range fans were kept fairly silent by Bill Kopp except for a two run uprising in the second and the Cats trailed by 4-2. Then Shepherd ignited the batting powder with a sizzling single into center field and before the rebellion was snuffed 13 runs had been scored. 16 men had batted, 10 hits were on the records and the game on ice.

Even then, when Russ had replaced Kopp and finally retired Kentucky, the marathon was not over for in the eighth frame 6 hits, two base on balls and one hit batted produced 9 runs. In the big fourth inning Shepherd, Fritz and Carnes each contributed two hits to the massacre.

The game not only proved that the Cats definitely can hit but that they can also field for but a single error was committed. Previously, the idea had prevailed that the Blues could not stop a clock with a sledge hammer in the field.

George Topouchi opened on the mound for Kentucky but was as far off his usual form as a four sided triangle and gave way to Carl Staker in the fifth after granting 6 hits and 5 runs. Staker, too, was as shaky as an alibi and was traded for Link Ellington after completing the inning, in which Xavier scored four runs. Throughout the remainder of the game Ellington kept the batters under strict order allowing but one run on two hits in the sixth.

Shepherd's single in the sixth was like waving a roman candle in a powder dump. Fritz creased Kopp's trousers with a single through the box and Cardwell, batting for Staker, walked. Shepherd then scored on a passed ball. That was enough for Kopp but not for Kentucky for the attack was kept up against Russ, who ascended the mound.

She walked, and scored behind Cardwell on Carnes hit to center. Willoughby lashed out a long single that counted Carnes and galloped home when Phillips chipped the right field wall with a triple. Raine was a victim of the first out, Russ to Carr, Martin reached first and Phillips home on an error and Shepherd up for the second time, added another single to left. The bases were cleared on Fritz's triple and Ellington, batting for himself, looped a single to center. Ties and a double, Carroll led the Muskies' 10 hit attack with three safeties in five attempts.

Kentucky's attack was paced by Captain Randall Phillips, the only senior on the team, with four hits in five attempts.

Seeing is Believing!

HERE'S AN INTERESTING CIGARETTE COMPARISON... See how it's made by college student Bob Hendrickson

SMOKERS all over the country are learning what Robert S. Hendrickson, Jr. (right) is showing a group of classmates. It's a striking way to compare cigarettes by simply watching them burn! Bob is testing the leading brands to find the one that burns slowest! Which brand won? CA-M-E-L... by a wide margin! The reason? Costlier tobaccos, expertly blended in a cigarette that burns slowly, completely—smokes cooler, of course!

Recently, a group of scientists ran this interesting laboratory test on a bigger scale: 16 of the largest-selling cigarette brands were rated impartially. CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR THE OTHER BRANDS. (Camels were remarkably consistent.) IN THE SAME TEST, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR ALL THE OTHER BRANDS.

Camel is the cigarette of costlier tobaccos... cool, mellow, appealing in taste, so uniformly delightful!

Smoking is Believing!

WHEN you've enjoyed the thrill of a mellow, rip-tasting Camel, you'll know that NOTHING can take the place of costlier tobaccos! What a pleasure it is to get set with a cigarette that is really mild—a matches blend, made to give you all the enjoyment in smoking.

Camels have more tobacco by weight than the average of the 15 other brands tested. Besides, Camels burn slower than any of those other brands. And by burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands, Camels give you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack!

Camels give you even more for your money when you count in Camel's finer, more expensive tobaccos. Buy shrewdly! Buy Camels... America's first choice for a luxury smoke every smoker can afford!

Camel's slower burning (compared to the average time of the 15 other brands tested) gives you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack! You economize while enjoying smoking pleasure at its best!
