THRELKELD AND WEBB

Chosen to Lead Our Teams to Victory

Better Selection Could Not Have Been Made.

"DICK" WEBB.

At a meeting of the football and track men held Wednesday for the purpose of electing captains for their respective teams, "Dick" Webb was unanimously elected captain of the 1910 football team and Polk Threlkeld was elected captain of the track team. Little need be said of either of these men, as their ability and qualifications for their places are well known. It would be an absurd waste of energy for us to write the universally accepted fact that Dick Webb is the greatest center Kentucky or the South has ever known. He knows the game from the start to the finish and has won his letter every year he has been in college. Along with this, he is one of the most popular men in school. So that, everything considered, a better man could not have been chosen for the place. Those who witnessed Threlkeld's work in the track meet last spring will agree that he justly deserves the honor that he has been given.

"Get the Habit!" and be sure to be in Chapel Friday morning. Oratory of the first water will spring a surprise.

RICHELIEU

Best Amateur Show Ever in Lexington

The State University of Kentucky has presented to its faculty, students, and the people of Lexington a classic play. The production of "Richelieu" did honor to the students who rendered Lord Lytton's powerful drama, and they well deserve the applause which has been accorded to them. The University Orchestra too was a valued addition to the pleasure of those who saw "Richelieu;" but to Mr. James B. Cunningham, by his earnest, faithful, businesslike methods in training his corps of assistants, won for himself their highest regard, while as an actor, he delighted his audience by his masterly conception and clear interpretation of the character of the old ecclesiastical statesman.

In every part, each character acted with remarkable insight. Mr. John Howard Payne as De Mauprat, showed real talent and his expression and voice were well suited to the part which was one of the hardest. The sarcastic smile and difficult side speeches which accompanied the part of Baradas, were ably done by Mr. Earl B. Webb. Miss Katherine Pence, as Julie, received the sincere admiration of the audience, and Joseph and De Beringhen were splendid, played by Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Nutter. Miss Sarah Marshall as Marion, acted her part with the ease and grace of a born actress. Her well modulated voice, her very vivacity and magnetism charmed all who heard her.

Francois, acted by Mr. Avery N. Miles, was ably interpreted and well done. Mr. P. L. Coeke was admirable in the small part which he had and showed what he might have done with a longer role. Mr. T. R. Smith, as Huguet, and Mr. J. O. Lewis as Gaston were very good. Mr. Hudson was well suited to the part of King Louis.

In the future, whenever Mr. Cunningham will honor the University with his presence, The Idea bespeaks for him a cordial welcome, and wishes an abundant success in his chosen career.

"K" MEN.

If the average college boy were asked what he considered the greatest honor he could attain during his collegiate course, without a moment's hesitation he would reply that the winning of the school letter, awarded for excellence in some branch of athletics, would be the highest honor he could have bestowed upon him. Most assuredly the wearing of a "K" is the greatest honor that a Kentucky boy can attain. It is an honor, a privilege and a custom that should be kept on the highest basis. It is a dignified honor and one that should not be belittled by allowing students from every prep school in the country who enter this school to proudly display prep school letters that are much larger and more conspicuous than even the largest "K" awarded at this school. We are now a university and if we are to be in one respect we should be in every. Men who can go up to Illinois and "lick" one of the greatest football teams in the West should not have the honor and glory of wearing a "K" detracted from by these foreign letters that are so evident around here. In other words, no letter but a "K" should be permitted to remain on a student of this University. If he were good enough to win his letter at his prep school, or other college, then he should come out here and try for a "K." If he win it, all right; if he be not good enough to win his "K," then he does not deserve to wear any letter around here.

The "K" men are going to organize some time within the near future, so we understand. It is also reported that the Athletic Director has exactly these same views on the question. The "K" men are coming to life and are going to do something. They will be, when fully organized, the most powerful student organization in school. As a suggestion one of their aims and efforts should be that of looking up and going after all new men who enter who have had any experience in any branch of athletics. Get these men into line and see that they come out for that branch or those branches of athletics in which they excel. We understand that another object will be the perpetuating of the old custom of an annual football banquet, which, for some reason or other, has practically been forgotten by certain committeemen. It is to be hoped that something can be done along this line and the wearing of prep school letters should certainly be abolished.

Basket Ball.

In a very one-sided game Georgetown won from K. S. U. by a score of 34 to 16, Friday night. Our boys lost the first game of their northern trip to Cincinnati by the score of 47 to 17. While on the trip the team plays DePauw, Earlham, U. of C., and others.

Those who went are Ridd, Threlkeld, Shawhan, Hart, Gaiser and Crosthwaite. It can be seen that this is strictly the second team. The first team men could not go for various reasons, so the second team was sent instead.

The Chi Omega Fraternity will entertain on Friday from four to 6 with a reception in honor of the Chi Epsilon Chi girls and their visitors in Kappa Kappa Gamma.

President Henry S. Barker.

On last Thursday, the Board of Trustees met in Frankfort and elected Judge Henry S. Barker President of the University.

To our new master we give greetings—to the old we will not bid adieu. We must have them both, and we must feel proud to think we are able to boast of two such men at James Kennedy Patterson and Henry S. Barker at the head of our institution.

The former has reigned supreme over the educational kingdom of the State so perfectly that the whole world knows what he can do, and the latter, a judge than whom, there is none better, bids fair to reign with all the judicial wisdom of a judicious Taft.

Without Knocking.

With the distinct understanding that we have no intention of becoming a knocker, we wish to make the statement that the sanitary condition of the University needs the investigation of a Medical College; that either brain, brawn or brass is lacking; and that the old, threadbare phrase, "There is something rotten in Denmark" is true. We feel justified in making the statement that there is less college spirit, less manly, gentlemanly, Kentucky manhood among the inhabitants of State University than there is at any other egotistical, dogmatic, denominational, narrow-minded, bone headed educational hypocrisy in the South. You may say such statements do no good and should not be made. We will answer you with the argument placed before us the other day. A good friend of ours came to us and asked that we print a certain thing about a student. We told him that we could not afford to do it. He answered, "Well, I think you might. It couldn't do him much harm and it might do a lot of good."

That was pretty good argument and we take the liberty to use it in this case. Had we better say it, or had we better let a few devoted enthusiasts do all in their power to advertise the University, and get as a reward a deficit of $190 on the presentation of such a classic as Richelieu, and on a play that was pronounced the best amateur performance ever offered in Lexington?

One hundred students, had they worked, could have packed the opera house for all three performances; but no one would soil his hands with such things and the result is that the first attempt to do something worth while met with such failure that for any one else to make a second attempt would be to brand himself as a fool.

But such is the case with everything. We could cite a case much nearer to our own hearts, but it is not our policy to cry. We are men. Thank God we are not dependent on imitations of men, and blessed be the school of experience,—for in it we have learned that "a prophet hath no honor in his own land."

The editor wishes to congratulate late the members of this week's Idea on their excellent work. If everyone would do this well we would have the best University weekly in the South.

The Marlowe Club of Hamilton College entertained Saturday evening with the annual reception to its friends among the young men. The Club is unusually large and the reception was one of the chief of the social features of the College year. The guests were first entertained with a delightful little play in the chapel at Hamilton, entitled "The Burglar." It is a comedy in one act by Margaret Carenon and the cast was as follows:

Mrs. John Burton, the hostess.
Miss Helen Hutchecraft
 Mrs. Valerie Armsby, a young widowMiss Rose Riner
 Mrs. Charles Dover, a bride ...

Sigma Nu Dance.

The Sigma Nu Fraternity entertained very beautifully last Friday evening at Merrick Lodge. It was the annual dance and the hosts were: Messrs. T. C. Carroll, E. R. Wilson, C. G. Taylor, Theodore Slade, Robert R. Atkins, Kremer Bain, W. E. Wilmore, Henry Martyn Skillman, Jr. A. S. Adair, B. B. Wilson, with Messrs. G. N. Sanders, Bain Morrison and Hywel B. Davis, who are the pledges.

The ball room was decorated elaborately in the fraternity colors—white, gold and black.

Against the wall at the west end three large illuminated designs of the fraternity pin made a brilliant effect, and all over the other walls were the pin design in white and black, along with pennants and banners. The chandeliers were draped with white and gold, delicate flower shades on all the electric globes, and a great bank of palms and ferns screened the orchestra platform.

The programs were quite pretty, bound in yellow suede, stamped with gold and tied with white, black and gold cord. There were pages for the dances, the chapter roll and the list of patronesses.—Mrs. Lovell Yerkes, Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Mrs. Byron McClelland, Mrs. C. F. Brower, Mrs. W. H. Cassell, Mrs. H. Skillman, Mrs. John Bain, or Mrs. W. S. Barnes.

Fruit frappe was served all during the evening in the parlor near the ball room, which was also adorned with palms and ferns. The dance was opened with a grand march led by Mr. Trimble McKee, of Mt. Sterling and Miss Gertrude Sleadd of Shelbyville, the evolutions forming the Greek letters of the order. Miss Gertrude Sleadd was gowned in pale blue massaline and all the other ladies were charmingly gowned.

The Sigma Nus are popular and gracious hosts, and the dance was very much enjoyed.

A partial list of those present follows: Anne Clay McDowell, Katherine Headley, Anna Howard Harbison, Sarah Rubell, Frances McClelland, Jennie Billingsley, Grace Appleton, Katherine Sanddusky, Josephine Fletcher, Gertrude Sleadd, of Shelbyville, Helen Lafferty, Nancy Lyne, Elizabeth Fontaine Kinkead, Jessica Porter of Bowling Green, Sunshine Sweeney, Jennie Green, of Falls-

Hagerman Notes

(Ellen Moore).

Miss Martha Thomas spent the week end with her grandmother, at Stanton, Ky.

Miss Mary Waddington spent Sunday with friends at Frankfort.

Rev. Jasper Stafford of Sweitzer, Ky., visited his daughter, Miss Arline Stafford.

President B. C. Hagerman has returned from Chicago.

On last Tuesday the Hagerman girls were again victorious in basket ball, defeating the Georgetown girls by a score of thirty-four to nineteen.

Miss Helena Burgess, entered school here last week.

Mrs. Alexander Campbell has returned from a visit to her son, at Danville, Ky.

Misses Vivien Lee and Ruby Osborne spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents, at Georgetown.

Miss Esther Barnett of Paducah, Ky., entered Hagerman last week.

At The Hipp This Week.

It is seldom indeed that patrons of popular priced vaudeville have an opportunity to hear grand opera music which has been made famous by foreign and American stars. Of course there have been attempts by different performers to put in a selection or two during their routine but it remained for the Gypsy Serenaders to introduce to vaudeville a real grand opera. Of course their production is miniature but the voices are excellent taste in selecting and the costuming and scenery have not been overlooked. Probably the most exquisite number on their too meagre program is "The Last Rose of Summer" or "The Gypsy Love Song" which is rendered by Miss Lampe, Miss Scherzer, contralto, also possesses a remarkable voice, seldom equaled. The other voices include Dan Denton, Joseph Florian, Miss Ravensberg and Summer Irish. The most attractive numbers offered are "O Maria, O Maria," the Drinking song by r. Florian and the Sextette from Lucia.

Mercer.

Last year when Mercer was here expressions such as "I hope he will come back next year" were heard on all sides. We hear similar sentiments being expressed by everyone this year. His talks and methods are enjoyed and appreciated by the student body more than anyone whom we have had the pleasure of hearing during the year. As a testimony of the interest he created among the students, we cite the fact that on the last night of his stay with us twenty-one men remained after the regular meeting for a heart to heart talk with Mr. Mercer and took a stand for the better life. His interviews with the boys in different dormitory rooms and fraternity houses were the cause of his getting closer to the fellows than he could have done in any other way and we feel that great good will result from these interviews. We trust Mr. Mercer will be with us again next year, as he is always expected with pleasure and interest.

Mechanical Maneuvers.

Now that the second term is well started and several of the departments have about finished their work for the present year, be it known that the mechanical students are just getting down to work. The freshmen are not working so very hard, no freshman can. He must not be pressed too hard or he will give up hopes. The sophomores are having what they take to be their hardest term, since they have three mathematics. Cheer up, fellows, you are having an easy time as compared with what follows. The Juniors are working their heads off and yet the dignified senior says: "Brace up, the worst is yet to come. Next year the work will be twice as hard as it is now." This may be so but the juniors do not believe it.

Indoor Baseball Practice.

Saturday afternoon Coach Sweetland met the candidates for the baseball team in the armory and gave them a short talk. Indoor practice will begin at once and for the present will be held on Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 3:30 p. m. The work will necessarily be light, consisting principally of "passing" the ball. Quite a number of men are out for the team and prospects are very bright. Everyone should come out who can possibly arrange to do so.

Practice On.

Baseball practice is now being held in the armory from 3:30 to 4:30 on Monday and Thursday and from 1:30 to 3:30 on Saturday. All men who expect to go out for the team will report at these hours. If you have not filled out an eligibility blank, do so at once, as these must be in by March 1.

Foot Ball Schedule.

A schedule for the 1910 foot ball team is now being worked on and the best schedule a Kentucky team ever had, is promised us. We may all rest assured that the class of football we shall witness next fall will be the very highest. While the schedule has not been fully decided upon and we are not authorized to announce any games as certain, yet we can say that games with such teams as Virginia Polytechnic Institute will fill our next year's schedule. With Sweetland for coach, Dick Webb for captain and "Dutch" Creal for manager a record breaking season should be ours. This man Creal is showing himself to be the man for the place. The coach expresses his opinion of Creal by saying he is the best man he has ever worked with and those who know Mr. Sweetland, know what this means.

Those who are acquainted with him know him to be a man of exceptional ability and we predict a most successful season with his management. The schedule will be published as soon as it can be presented without any "false alarm."

Masons In University Form Club.

At a meeting held Tuesday evening at the University, a Masonic Club was organized by the following members of the faculty and students: Mr. E. R. Sweetland, Prof. Terrell, Prof. Jones, Messrs Allison, M. C. Spradling, South Strong, J. T. Gower, Reiter and Atwill. Mr. E. R. Sweetland was named as temporary chairman, until a meeting is called for the election of officers. Mr. Sweetland is quite familiar with this work, he having assisted in organizing Masonic Clubs at three other colleges, namely, Ohio State, Syracuse and Cornell.

It is the earnest desire of Mr. Sweetland and the above named men that all members of the faculty and student body who are Masons, be present at the next meeting, as we need your co-operation to make the club a success.

Military.

As there is very little doing in military circles at this time of the year, each company drills for one week and then rest for a week. This arrangement does not suit Major Webb, who is trying to get drill for each company each drill day, that is, three times a week. Major Webb is not having much success, because the officials will not support him.

The ammunition for target practice and for some sham battles has arrived. The guns to be used in target practice have been lost on the road, and hence, have not arrived as yet, but will probably be here in a few days.

Nothing definite is known about the spring camping for this year. This is the best part of the military department and gives the men better practice than three months of drilling. The camping trip was formerly an annual affair but has been very much neglected lately, there having been no such trip for about six years. Lieut. Corbusier says that he is going to take the battalion camping next spring and everyone connected with the military department is wishing him success in his efforts.

Get the Universal Brogue—Esperanto.

All who are interested in Esperanto are cordially invited to meet in Prof. Farquhar's room at 8:00 a. m., Saturday, February 12, 1910.

Esperanto is the international auxiliary language. It is more flexible and accurate than English. It is incapable of an ambiguity. It is highly sonorous, simple and deasy to learn. It has a great use in Europe where it is indispensable in commercial houses. The Internacia Sciencia Revus is a mathematical magazine to which many great mathematicians contribute because it is published in Esperanto. Esperanto is on the curricula of many American universities and an optional study at others. The United States teaches it at West Point and the Redd Cross Society of the world uses it. Prof. Farquhar will tell of its remarkable growth to all those interested enough to come. He holds the Atesto pri Kapableco and is state secretary for Kentucky of the Esperanto Association of North America. Let everyone encourage the formation of Kentucka Esperantista Klubo.

Poor old maid
No one lovee.

Football Coach (after the game)—"Boys, are you all here?"

Quarterback—"I'm not; I left an ear and part of a finger somewhere near the twenty-five yard line."

Taking Care of His Own.

Johnny's mother gave him two five-cent pieces, one for candy, the other for the Sunday school collection, and as he was walking along with his sister, tossing the coins in the air, suddenly one fell and disappeared through a cellar grating.

"Sis," he shouted, "Oh, there goes the Lord's nickel."

Wrecks.

Right here, good folk, in the padded cell is the man who invented the College Yell; a pitiful sight, as you can see, and a doleful wreck of a man is he. He tears his hair with a Rah?Rah-Rah and rends the air with a Siss-Boom-Ah, and he mumbles and jumbles and screams and cries; see the swelling throat and the bloodshot eyes. All day he yells and all night he howls, and up from his throat come fearful growls as though he remembered the campus where the first of his College Yells rent the air. He grins at you with a vacant eye and thinks you are a brother of Pi Chi Si; he makes a sign that the brothers know and waits to see if it's really so; then he thinks you are, and his great lungs swell with a rush of air for the old-time yell, and his cheeks puff out and his mouth swings wide and a rush of sound from the far inside of his mighty chest strikes on the ear and your heart beats fast with a dreaddfull fear; but you need not run from the frightful noise, for he's only one of our Rah-Rah Boys.—Saturday Evening Post.

William had a pony, his name was Cicero. He loaded his pony to John to take an exam or so. The teacher wondered why John got along so well. And when he found the pony, he justly gave him—zero.—Normal Student.

"I am not much of a matchematically," said the cigarette, "but I can add to a youth's nervous troubles, I can subtract from his physical energy. I can multiply his aches and pains, I can divide his mental powers, I can take interest from his work, and discount his chances for success.—Exchange.

He (pointing out on the floor): That's Wilson over there. In a little while he will be our best man."

"I bin out West. Where you bin?"

"I bin out West, too. What yer think of them folks?"

"They don't know much."

Kentucky Club Organized.

The Kentucky students who are attending the University of Arkansas met last week and organized a Kentucky Club. G. W. Roark, of Franklin, was elected President; W. C. Whitehouse of Lexington, Vice-President; J. B. Lunsford, of Hickman, treasurer; and Roy Thomas of Fulton, secretary.

The purpose of the club is to cement the bond of friendship among the Kentuckians here, and to make known more extensively in the "Old Kentucky Home" the benefits to be derived from attending the University of Arkansas.

(They met without guns so no one was hurt at the first meeting.)
