WILDCATS PARADE OVER WILMINGTON

Kentucky Boys Score 87 Points
Against Weak Opposition
From Ohio.

13 TOUCHDOWNS MADE.

In a game that early turned into a parade of blue jerseyed Wildcats over the goal line, State University defeated Wilmington by the score of 87 to 0 last Saturday afternoon on Stoll Field. Thirteen touchdowns were made by State and nine goals were kicked. At no time did the Wilmington crew show form and failed to make one first down against the sterling defense of the "cats."

State's offensive work was snappy and aggressive, as the top-heavy score showed. Captain Parks' passing was true and nearly all of his throws were captured. "Turkey" made the longest run of the game early in the second half, when he received a kick-off and romped through the whole Wilmington team for a touchdown, aided by some fine interferences by his teammates.

The Wildcats' team work also deserves honorable mention.

The interference given by the backfield men and the ends was glorious to see and the defensive work was easily as good. The story of the game in detail is so entirely a narrative of overwhelming defeat that details which appeared at length in the local papers are omitted in The IDEA at this time. It was simply the story of a weak, untrained team suffering a complete Waterloo at the hands of trained and fighting regulars.

The line-up of the two teams at the opening of the game follows:

Wilmington.	Position.	State
Linton	R. E. Roth,	Smith
Smith	R. T. Thompson and Smith
Stone	R. G. Rodman
	Petrie, Rockman
*Powers	C. Bailey,	Corn
Faulkner	L. G. Corn
Hailey	L. T. Vest,	Turner
Earl States	L. E. Zerfoss,	Peak
Shaw	Q. *Park,	Hedges
Bussy	F. B. Scott,	Schrader
McMillen	R. H. Hite,	Gumbert
Carr	L. H. Tuttle and McCauley

*Captain.

Officials—Henry, of Kenyon, Referee; Peeling, of Antioch, Umpire; Lieutenant Underwood, of Kentucky, Head Linesman.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

"Polly" Vest and "Turkey" Park undoubtedly "pulled" the two feature plays of the game. Captain Jim's run was the longest of the day, being about 75 yards. "Polly's," while not quite so long, was enthusiastically received by the crowd. "Polly" also played a fine game in the line.

INSTRUCTORS ADDED TO STATE FACULTY

Growth of Institution Along All Lines
Continues—New Faces.

Fair proof of the fact that Kentucky State University is growing in size and scope of usefulness is shown in the number of instructors which have been added to the faculty this year. All of these new instructors are fresh from the fields of their various colleges and will prove efficient and valuable additions to the teaching force.

The instructor perhaps who will be concerned with the greater number of students is Lieutenant Arthur Underwood, who succeeds Lieutenant A. W. Gullion. He is a graduate of West Point Military Academy and a native Kentuckian.

Mr. A. E. Wells has come to take charge of State Hall, the student commons. He has had experience of many years in such work and is already popular with the student body.

Dr. W. L. Anderson, who received his degree of M. D. at Yale in 1904, is successor to Alpha Brummage in gymnasium work. Mr. Brummage will be coach of the athletic teams.

At Mechanical Hall Miss Mary McPherson, of Louisville, will occupy this year the place of Misses Helen and Margaret Lowery, instructors of free-hand drawing, who are on a leave of absence to study in New York City. Miss McPherson is a graduate of Peratt Institute, of Brooklyn, and has done much practical work in drawing. She is highly recommended.

In the new Department of Journalism are Enoch Grehan, ex-city editor of the Lexington Herald, and Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, formerly on the reportorial staff of the same paper. Miss McLaughlin is an alumna of State University.

Professor George M. Baker, graduate of the University of Minnesota, has come to assist in the Education Department. He took his master's degree from Columbia University last year. At the University of Minnesota he studied with Dean James and among his teachers at Columbia were Strayer, Thorndike, Dewey and McMurry. He has taught in and been principals of high schools in Minnesota for seven years and comes to "The Wildcats surely did look classy in their new "K" blankets. "Petey" Moore, trainer, proved a good guardian for them.

The next game is with Maryville. Let us hope the Southerners will put up a better fight than the Ohioans did.

"Bill" Bailey's defensive work showed up well. Several times he was seen to break through the Wilmington line and down the runner before he could get started.

Webb Lall's cheer coaching was short but satisfactory. Let's have some more "rootin'" Saturday.

PATTERSON SOCIETY HAS WEEKLY MEETING

Clays and Calhouns of Organization
Settle the Whiskey Question.

Patterson Literary Society met in the Y. M. C. A. building on Saturday night, September 26, in regular weekly session.

After the devotional exercises, which were conducted by Mr. O. R. Willett, the first debate of the season was announced. The question: "Resolved, that all maltous, spirituous and vinous liquors should be prohibited in Lexington and Fayette County," was affirmed by Messrs. S. E. Love and O. R. Willett. The negative was defended by Messrs. B. D. Sartin and J. C. Wolf.

The speaking on each side was spirited. The debaters are classed among the best speakers in the University.

The judges, Messrs. McNeil, Edwards and Crumb, had great difficulty in deciding, but finally the affirmative was given the decision.

Then the subject was thrown open for general discussion, which was entered into freely.

Refreshments, consisting of fruit punch, were served.

Business session followed. Several new names were accepted and three new members received.

UNION SOCIETY HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Literary Program Followed by Smoker and General Business

Session.

The Union Literary Society met in Society Hall, last Saturday night, October 26th, and dispensed with a short but interesting program.

The speeches of the evening were made by J. T. Gooch, upon the "History and Origin of the Union Society," Lester Grady upon "The Joys of Literary Work," and C. Clark on "Prospects."

A reading by Herbert Graham was omitted on account of unavoidable absence.

BENNETT PRIZE TO BE GIVEN FOR BEST ESSAY

Open to All Students in the University.

Pursuant to the will of Philo Bennett, of New York, Wm. J. Bryan, Secretary of State, became custodian of $10,000 to be distributed among the most important institutions in twenty-five states. Four hundred dollars is to be invested by these colleges and the interest accruing must be applied biannually as a prize for the best essay on "The Origin and Development of Parliamentary Institutions," or "The Essential Principles Underlying the Successful Operation of Republican Institutions."

Kentucky was selected as one of the states and the fund was given to ex-Governor J. C. W. Beckham, who was to select the institution in Kentucky. He selected State University as a beneficiary and the trustees chose Dr. J. K. Patterson as custodian of the fund.

The conditions of the fund state that the essay must be between four and five thousand words; must be wholly original, and all quotations must be set off by the usual quotation marks. A paraphrase of an extended quotation would not pass for the original and at the same time would vitiate the essay.

The prize will be awarded in May, but the contestants should turn in their essays at least six weeks before the award is made. The award will be made by three men, chosen by Doctor Patterson, who will pass upon the merits of the manuscripts.

After the rendering of the literary program a feast was enjoyed by the members and visitors.

Several names were submitted for membership. Three names submitted the Saturday evening before were voted upon and added to the membership of the society. They were Messrs. G. H. Williams, B. H. Mitchell and T. Rector.

In the fumes of the smoker a business meeting concluded the program of the society.

Students desiring to become members of a literary society are cordially invited to visit the Union.

MARYVILLE TO BE NEXT WILDCAT GUEST

Second Game of Season to Be Played With Crack Football Team.

GAME CALLED AT 3:30.

Next Saturday the Wildcats will engage in their second encounter of the season when they meet Maryville College of Tennessee here. After showing what they could do against Wilmington "our boys" should not experience much trouble with the Southerners.

Some more fast practice has been engaged in during the week to good advantage. It is possible that both Crutcher and Downing will be back in the line at tackles. If they are, watch the two o' them.

The training table at State Hall has been freshly patronized by the players and is becoming very popular. In this way the players know they are getting pure food and the coaches can keep an eye on the players and see that they do not overtrain or undertrain.

Freshman Prospects.

Dr. J. J. Tigert, coach, has been working hard with his big squad of Freshmen and at present has two teams picked out. Daily signal practice and scrimmages constitute their work and prospects for a big, fast team are good.

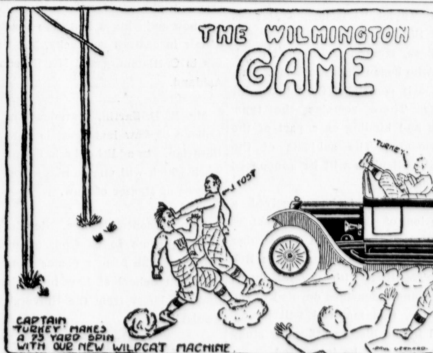

"Doc" Rodes, former Lexington High School quarterback, is playing that position on the 1914 team and is as usual playing a star game. Simpson is playing good football, as also is Dempsey, the big center. With these and several he has in the background, Dr. Tigert should develop a strong team.

No definite schedule has been announced for the 1915 eleven, but it is probable that several games will be scheduled with high school teams near here. Louisville Male High is mentioned among the prospects and a game with it should be a hummer.

A Thanksgiving day game with the University of Tennessee Freshmen is also possible and would bring out a big crowd. All Kentucky first-year men are working hard with the hope that the game will be secured and if the game is played they will give a good account of themselves.

The game Saturday afternoon will be called at 3 o'clock. Everybody should come out and watch the "cats" wipe up. Season coupon No. 2 is good only for this game.

BEN ALI THEATER

Howe's Pictures.

The beauty and dignity of Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival, which comes to the Ben Ali on Friday, Saturday and Saturday matinee, is such that it cannot fail to delight those of us who have to stay at home and read and dream. You may not be able to afford to travel, but you cannot afford to miss "traveling with Howe," because the expense is infinitesimal compared to actual travel and yet the same knowledge, information and experience are imparted by girdling the globe with Howe that would be derived by taking the "Grand Tour" in person with all sorts of discomforts, delays and unpleasantness to endure. In its wonderful variety of interesting subjects the new program which Howe is presenting records our present day civilization as nothing else can.

George Evans' Minstrels.

The new program of real minstrelsy which George Evans and his Honey Boy Minstrels will offer at the Ben Ali next Monday and Tuesday, with Tuesday matinee, promises to be fully up to the high standard which this organization has set for the past five years. The scenic and costume accessories are entirely new and the big company numbers such favorites as Arthur Rigby, Sam Lee, John P. Rogers, James Mehan, Leroy "Lasses" White, Tommy Hyde, Will Cawley, William H. Thompson, Charley Ufer, Eddie Girtton, Willie Newsom and the sensational female impersonator, Eldon Durand, who is said to bring to this production a wardrobe costing thousands of dollars. This is the eleventh year of the Evans organization and the preliminary announcements promise well.

Things theatrical are looking up. Raymond Hitchcock is coming to the Ben Ali, October 7th and 8th, in his great big Broadway success, "The Beauty Shop." Cohan & Harris' have definitely decided upon the booking of the local play date and arrangements have been consummated to the end that they have signed, sealed and delivered a contract guaranteeing Mr. Hitchcock at the head of his entire New York company with the original cast and production precisely as presented at the Astor Theatre during the record breaking engagement in New York City.

Popular Young Students of University to Control Destinies of Body.

At the first meeting of the Sophomore class, held in the Armory last Thursday afternoon, September 24th, Bart N. Peak, of LaGrange, was elected president; Miss Nancy Innes, of Lexington, vice-president; Miss Lillian Gaines, of Hopkinsville, secretary, and Curtis Park, of Richmond, treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by the retiring president, Clarence Clark, who thanked the members for the aid they had given him in his administration and extolled the virtues of the class, expressing the opinion that still greater achievements awaited them.

The only nominees for president were Bertain Peak and "Jimmy" Hedges, Peak winning by a majority of about twenty votes.

The newly elected president immediately took charge and in a brief speech expressed his appreciation of the honor done him and asked for the co-operation of the class as a whole.

The race for vice-president was very close, Miss Innes winning by a narrow margin over Miss Perry. Miss Lillian Gaines was elected secretary of the class by acclamation, while Curtis Park was an easy victor in the treasurer's race over three other candidates.

HISTORY NOTES.

The enrollment in History and Political Science is now approximately 300. Of these, about 35 have selected history as their major subject.

The class of 1915 will include eight Seniors whose major work is in this department. The Seniors whose subjects have been selected are as follows: Lester W. Grady, "The Jackson Purchase;" Edward M. McCoy, "The Early History of Lexington;" Leo J. Sandman, "The Effects of Mining in the Kentucky Highlands;" Clyde P. Taylor, "A History of Daviess County Since 1880."

Of these, Messrs. McCoy and Sandman, who began their work last year, have nearly completed the manuscript portions. There remains the type-writing and binding as a part of the requirements. The subjects of the four other Seniors will be announced next month.

This department has received a translation of the official protest of the Belgian Commission concerning the acts of the German army in Belgium. Together with several maps, pictures and magazines devoted to the great war, this material will be deposited in the history office for study by any who may be interested.

LAW NOTES

COLLEGE OF LAW SCHOOL RECOGNIZED

Judge W. T. Lafferty has been informed that the Board of Regents of New York State, has declared the State University Law College an approved college. This makes this one of the three southern law schools in that class.

This action by the official board in New York admits State graduates to the bar examination there without preliminaries.

New York has the most stringent of any bar examinations.

LAW LIBRARY.

The recent addition to the law library of illustrated case books for every subject taught, is another acquisition for that already excellent library.

These books greatly facilitate the study of the various subjects in that they contain only the carefully selected cases on the subject.

This makes this library the largest and one of the most complete of any southern school.

HENRY CLAY LAW SOCIETY.

The second session of the Henry Clay Law Society was held last Monday night in the Law Building of the University. Several new members were voted in and other names proposed for membership. The society is growing rapidly in both strength and number and we predict this year to be the greatest and most prosperous of its existence.

The greater part of the program was given up to Judge Chalkley, who lectured on the value of parliamentary training and public speaking. Professor Butt, who was also present made a delightful talk on the value of a literary training.

The society has recently been turned into a legislative body, and a committee of five was appointed by President Morris to draft rules by which the organization shall be ruled.

The next meeting will be next Monday night, promptly at 7:30. Every member is urged to be present and every law student is invited.

Messrs. R. C. Preston and A. T. Bryson, graduates of State University (College of Law and Arts and Science) visited the school Tuesday and Wednesday.

Both were formerly prominent students in the University, participating in many phases of college life. They are now enjoying a lucrative practice of law in eastern Kentucky, Mr. Preston in Cattlesburg and Mr. Bryson in Ashland.

Mr. B. D. Sartin, a graduate of the College of Law last year, is now law librarian. In addition he is taking the work which will enable him to get his degree of Master of Law.

Two students, Messrs. Nichols and Draffen, came to us from other law schools. The former comes from the Jefferson School of Law in Louisville and the latter from the University of Louisville.

Mr. J. N. Farmer, of Somerset, former editor of the Somerset Herald, will write the proceedings of the Henry Clay Law Society for The IDEA. He is a new student in the College of Law.

Mr. B. T. Rountree, after serving his district a term in the General Assembly of the State, is back in school again.

SENIOR CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

James Parks Chosen President and Miss Jeannette Bell, Vice-President.

The Senior Class met in chapel Thursday and elected officers for the last year at college. Mr. James Parks of Richmond, was selected as president. Mr. Parks is very popular member of the class, being captain of both football and basket ball.

Miss Jeannette Bell, of Fulton, was selected vice-president. Miss Bell is a favorite of all the students and a member of The IDEA staff.

Miss Bessie White, of Louisville, was chosen as secretary, and Webb Lail, as treasurer.

The remaining officers will be elected at a class meeting in the near future.

BLEVINS DELIGHTED AT GEORGIA TECH.

"Chief" Blevins writes from the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta, that he is delighted. The building is handsome, and equipped with restaurant, pool rooms, bowling alleys, barber shop—everything the boys could wish—and is a real home for them. "Chief" has been homesick and says he misses his friends at State very much. He sends his love to all the boys, and of course he means the girls too, but he is only too bashful to say so.

LARGE ENROLLMENT IN "AG." DEPARTMENT

Indications Point to Classes Aggregating 350 Students in this Hustling Division.

The enrollment of the College of Agriculture at present is 313 students as against 231 at the close of school last term. Indications point to an enrollment of at least 350 students in the college before the close of the school year. At present there are 31 seniors in the department, the largest agricultural class in the history of the institution.

DR. W. R. PINNELL TO TEACH BACTERIOLOGY

Has Been Connected With Food and Drug Department of Experiment Station.

A recent addition to the faculty of the College of Agriculture was made by the appointment of Dr. W. R. Pinnell to the position as Professor of Bacteriology, to succeed Mr. R. E. Knapp.

Doctor Pinnell has for the last few years been bacteriologist in the Food and Drug Department at the Experiment Station. He will continue his work in the latter capacity, as his duties in the college will not take up his entire time.

It is expected that this department will be very successful since Dr. Pinnell is not only an able teacher, but a practical and experienced bacteriologist as well.

HUBBARD GAYLE TO BE COUNTY AGENT

Goes to Make Series of Experiments on Simpson County Soil.

Among the familiar faces that are noticeable on the campus is the smiling and pleasant countenance of Hubbard Gayle, one of last year's College of Agriculture graduates and also last year's president of the Agricultural Society.

"Hub" spent most of the summer here, but will leave soon to take up his duties as County Agent of Simpson County. He has several other prospective positions in view, but it is very likely that he will accept the place mentioned.

BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY TO MEET FRIDAY

Professor McFarland announces that the first meeting of the Biological Society now in process of organization will be held Friday evening, October 2, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Agricultural Building.

All students and members of the faculty who are interested in biology, natural history and allied subjects, are urged to be present at the opening meeting.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

Lexington Branch, No. 3, of the National Association of Stationery Engineers, will meet in Mechanical Hall every Thursday night at eight. A. L. Wilhoite, assistant professor of experimental steam engineering, will deliver two lectures a month on steam engineering. Isaac Watkins, engineer and assistant in the Mechanical Department, is the secretary of the association.

The Senior Mechanicals were the guests Friday morning of Major Dodge, the Franklin dealer, at the Phoenix Garage, where they inspected the display model of the Franklin with the engine under a glass hood and saw the Franklin car that had been run 100 miles on low gear the previous day. The students made the trip in a motor truck.

The first week in October is the time set for the re-opening of the night school at Wesley House.

Miss Maria Elliott, under whose guidance it was a pronounced success last year, is again to be in charge. State University and Transylvania students, assisted by Miss Elliott, and one or two members of the Wesley House Board, will teach again, and many working people will take advantage of this opportunity.

Mr. Hywell Davies, Business Agent of the University, has been successful as a mediator in the Colorado mine strike, to which position he was appointed by President Wilson. The plan of settlement as devised by Mr. Davies, acting with W. R. Fairley, also a government appointee, was accepted by the President and later endorsed, first by the miners and then by the operators.

The agreement calls for a truce of three years. This will end for the present at least, one of the most bitterly waged and longest drawn out strikes of modern times.

Dr. Lindsay Hughes Blanton, one of the foremost educators in the State, who was largely instrumental in the merger of Central University and Centre College, in 1901, died at his home in Danville, following a protracted illness of several months.

He was born in Cumberland County, Virginia, in 1833. In 1853 he took his A. B. degree from Hampden-Sidney College, Virginia, and graduated from Danville Theological Seminary four years later. In 1880 he was granted a degree of D. D. from Hampden-Sidney and in 1900 was awarded an LL. D.

When, in 1901, chiefly through his influence, Central University was merged with Centre University, he became vice-president of that institution, which position he held until 1907, when he retired to private life because of his advancing years.

President Henry S. Barker of State University, made an informal address to the young barristers, in the law school auditorium, Tuesday morning, on the importance, to a student of law, of a thorough knowledge of the Bible. To this end he suggested attending church regularly. "The Bible is the foundation of modern law," was his statement, "and for this reason a working knowledge of it will be of much benefit to the young barrister." Going further, he said, "I will guarantee that any young man who attends church regularly will find that at the end of the year his ability as a student has increased twenty-five per cent."

In relating a page from his own experience, President Barker said that when a young man, he went to his step-father, Judge Stites, and told him his desire to study law. In answer to this expressed desire the old judge handed him a copy of the St. James Bible and told him to study it, and when he had finished to come back and then he might take up the study of law. President Barker said that he realized the value of this strange commission in later years, when he took up the study of law. "Such knowledge is valuable to every citizen, but it has a double value to the lawyer who is able to cite examples from it to back up his side in a legal case." To this end he urged each one of the law students to enter some one of the Bible study classes taught by a number of men in the city, among whom are Judge Lyman Chalkey of the Law School, Prof. E. F. Farquhar, Dr. A. S. Mackenzie and others.

The Press Association met at 3:30 last Monday evening, September 28, with President Graham presiding. Lee McLain, of Bardstown, was elected secretary-treasurer, and many new members were enrolled, showing that a marked interest is being taken by the student body in this association.

To each member was assigned several county papers for which they were to report, under the supervision of Miss McLaughlin. Any news occurring around the University that is of interest to State papers will be sent out. It is hoped that by this method every newspaper reader in Kentucky will be able to keep up with the doings of the University and that a knowledge of the good work of the student body and of our institution may be brought into each and every home in the State.

Short talks from Professors C. P. Weaver and Enoch Grehan, explaining definitely the object of the organization, also making known clearly what kind of news it is necessary to report, were delivered and very much appreciated.

Although the association now has a goodly number enrolled, it is hoped that at each meeting new members will be added and that it will continue to grow. A cordial invitation is extended to each every student of the University, no matter in what college they are enrolled, to join the Press Club. Its regular meetings will be held Monday afternoons at 3:30, in the class room of the Department of Journalism.

The team of the University of Cincinnati, which State meets at Cincinnati on October 31, opened their season Saturday by defeating Georgetown by a score of 35 to 0. The Red and Black have the majority of their last year's team back this year and consequently were able to win without any difficulty. Fishback and Palmer are remembered by local rooters as being the chief ground-gainers.

In the third quarter Cincy's second team was put in but the Kentucky team became so dangerous that the first team was returned to the game. The Georgetown team deserves praise for the plucky fight they put up against the heavier team. As yet it will be impossible to get any dope on the Wildcat-Cincy game as neither of the games Saturday were of sufficient importance to judge the merits of the teams.

An interesting visitor to the University Monday was Miss Jessie O. Yancey, superintendent of county schools of Mason County. Miss Yancey is a pioneer in the consolidated school movement of that county and has succeeded, with the assistance of the public spirited citizens of that county, in establishing schools at Minerva and Mayslick. Miss Yancey has just been presented with a printing outfit, by the Mayslick Stock Company to be used in promoting and exploiting Mason County school work. The outfit is now stored in the basement of the school and her visit to State University was to get some suggestions from the School of Journalism on how to utilize her plant and to publish a school paper at that point. She arranged for another conference along the same lines later.

NUISANCE THAT MUST BE ABATED.

At the opening game of the 1914 football season the intruders of the past advanced to their old positions around Stoll Field. Many youths of the city who seem to have been turned loose recklessly upon the world attempted to make their way through or over the fence. Guards had been provided to keep these out, but when they would approach, the intruders would hurl stones which apparently had been collected for that purpose.

These boys are becoming a nuisance and dangerous to spectators of the game in the bleachers, as well as to the guards.

Unless these interlopers cease to gather on the outside of the fence for such charges or are prevented by city authorities from assembling, a corps of students will join the advance guard and rid Stoll Field of such obnoxious visitors in the future.

Another undesirable feature presents itself at the entrance gate. Around this usually collect "bums," of mixed races, yet the majority of the number are negroes. When these are requested to move back they abuse those in charge with vile language. The gateway and environs of the field must be cleared of such nuisances.

These two conditions are the most undesirable situations, yet during week days boys, both white and colored, assemble on the field. These guests are unwelcome and are requested to vacate the gridiron.

"COLLEGE SPIRIT."

Often one hears the question asked, "Where is your real college spirit?" In the past college spirit has been engendered in the student body in the Autumn on account of the inception of rivalry with Kentucky colleges. Football rallies were held, speeches made and yells rent the air.

It is this occasion that brings to attention the real college spirit of a student body. Our students possess the right sort of spirit in that they are always ready to champion the University.

It is not necessary always to clamour about conditions and run wild before contests when victory is easy for the Varsity. But when the support of the student body is needed every student should join the hosts and pull for his team.

College spirit is hard to define but easy to recognize. Every student should have the desire to do those things that will uplift the University in athletics and in her student activities.

"UNIVERSITY COMMONS."

Emerson has said that "the dream of the youth is the search of the great." The dream is often extended and covers a broader field. This month has brought forth the actual realization of a vision of President H. S. Barker and Miss Anna J. Hamilton, Dean of Women, who have nurtured it for three years.

Their plan was to establish a University "commons" upon the campus where the students could obtain meals at cost. Now the conditions exists and "State Hall" is furnishing meals for a large number of students.

The arrangement and furnishing is equal to an up-to-date hotel. Only the best is used and every department complies with the strictest sanitary regulations. The manager in charge is an expert in the preparation of food. From this system it will finally become patent to the Kentucky household that cooking must be put on a scientific basis to meet the sanitary and economic demands of the family, thus making it possible through the "commons," to give the State another valuable object lesson in home economics.

The establishment will accommodate about three hundred students which is less than one-third of the student body.

The beginning has been so auspicious that in the near future a large and spacious hall will doubtless be needed to care for Kentucky's sons at State University.

K. P. Howe has an unused campus ticket for sale. If there is any freshman who has failed to get a campus ticket, he may secure same from Mr. Howe.

Following the annual custom, the battalion marched to the athletic field Friday afternoon, and those who had previously seen service watched the new men move the benches.

To the persistent and continuous query, "Will shirts be worn longer this year?" we sadly arise to remark that our confidential advance fashion tip is that shirts will be worn longer this year, especially drill shirts, as their peculiar color will enable them to defeat the designs of the laundry man.

The Senior Mechanicals took a motor truck ride to the Phoenix garage to examine the Franklin car. Some went for the information, others to get the ride.

Josh Reese attended the "Queen of the Movies" performance Monday night. Some of the more observant ones in the upper berth noticed that he found time during the intermissions to scribble on the back of some envelopes, presumably working out calculus problems. "Oh, Cecelia!"

If what Doctor Tuttle says about the "Garden of Eden" being at the North Pole is so, Eve must have offered Adam a snowball instead of an apple.

Leo J. Sandman has been acting as a model for Graves, Cox and Co. at the Fall Fashion Festival in the Phoenix ball room this week and is displaying some of the latest clothes styles, his own tortoise rimmed eye-glasses and a German silver cigarette holder with a Fatima cigarette.

A certain freshman who took in the "Queen of the Movies," arrived at his boarding house about 1:00 a. m., and found the front door locked and locked tight. Then—hesitation—contemplation—desperation—inspiration—he spent the night at a hotel.

TOWEL SUPPLY OPEN.

The towel supply is now open in the Gymnasium Building. Towels can be had by purchasing towel tickets from the physical director for 50c, which entitle the holder to the use of 30 towels. Personal towels will be purchased at a reasonable rate and tickets allow in exchange. The leaving of towels in the lockers is not permitted and will be removed without notice whenever discovered. Towels can be secured at the close of all gym classes; also in the afternoons from 3:30 until 6 o'clock.

The use of rooms in Mechanical Hall has been tendered to the Lexington branch, No. 3, of the National Association of Stationary Engineers, for their weekly meetings, which are held every Thursday night. Prof. A. L. Willhoite will lecture to the society twice a month on the theory and use of steam boilers and engines.

The society, which has twenty-six members in its Lexington branch, is composed of men employed as stationary engineers, who meet to study and investigate the problems of their field of engineering. The president is C. S. Moore, engineer at the Lexington Steam Laundry, and the secretary is Isaac Watkins, engineer and assistant in the mechanical engineering laboratories at State University.

DO AWAY WITH "TRAMPS."

The West Virginia Intercollegiate association just formed, aims to clean up athletics throughout West Virginia and to do away with what is known as the "tramp" or "spurious" athlete. According to the rules adopted, no one will be allowed to play on any of the seven college teams forming the organization who is receiving any help in any way. Passing grades must be maintained at all times by members of teams and migratory students must attend school one full year before becoming eligible to play. The organization is made up of West Virginia University (to which the one year rule does not apply), Marshall College, Davis and Elkins, Fairmont Normal, Broadus College, Morris Harvey, and Salem Prep.

FRESHIE CATECHISM

"Father, what is a freshman?"
"A freshman, my son, is one who knows that he knows everything."
"What is the difference between a freshman and a senior, father?"

"Son, a senior is one who realizes that there are one or two things in the world that he knows nothing about."

"And, father, is a freshman as green as he looks?"

"No, my son, for if he was, he would live centuries."

"Father, why does a freshman look in the glass every morning?"

"Why, son, he is looking for something that he cannot find."

"Father, is it true that a freshman was almost frozen to death last Friday night?"

"Yes, my son. He lost his hat at the reception and had to go home bareheaded."

"Oh yes, father, there's one more question—what kind of a football team has Wilmington this year?"

"My son, it's a devil—in its own home town."

PURDUE ELEVEN HAS PROMISING RECRUITS

The most encouraging feature of the first week's work in football at Purdue University has been the improvement shown by several of the recruits on the varsity squad. Some of the most promising new men are Cecil and Borum, tackles; Van Aken, half back, and Dixon and Pultz, quarter backs. While neither an Oilphant nor a Glossop has yet revealed himself on the squad, the outlook is bright.

In the back field the fleet footed Oilphant has been replaced by Van Aken, a former Coldwater, Mich., high school star. Van Aken, Capt. O'Brien, Applegate, East, Garrison and Bishop form a group of backfield stalwarts from which a winning trio can be selected. Bishop has been shifted from center to full back.

Next Saturday Purdue lines up against the sturdy Wabash eleven and the contest promises to be a hard fought struggle. The Little Giants always are a formidable foe. This year Purdue will have a team with only five or six of last year's regulars in the line-up. The rest will be new and untried players.

Mechanical and Electrical

INTENTION.

It is the purpose of the editor of this page to publish, as frequently as possible, original articles, or digests from accepted authorities, upon engineering subjects of general interest. These contributions will be written by members of the four classes in the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering and will be authentic and accurate on each technical detail, though written in a manner understandable to the average person.

The mechanical and electrical engineer is, perhaps, the most vital and potent influence in modern life. Together with the great engineering projects of our time the engineer is constantly producing mechanical and electrical devices of interest and importance in the domestic life of the every day American. Without his assistance the house in which your average American lives would still be a crude affair. The automobile, or street car, in which he rides to his office building, the elevator which lifts him to his office, the fan with which he cools himself, or the heating system with which he warms his body, the light he uses, or his dictaphone, or his telephone, all these things and thousands of small, yet intimate conveniences of our daily life would be impossible without the modern engineer.

It is a peculiar fact that the average American is slow to utilize the new and improved devices of his time. He must be shown that the device is a necessity. Each day the engineer is adding to the already long list of modern domestic and industrial developments.

Through these columns we shall endeavor to present these recent and important developments, selecting especially those of a general interest, in such a manner that the public may become cognizant of those things which make for a more efficient utility and a more contented existence.

PROGRAM COMMITTEES COMPLETE WORK

A. S. M. E. and A. I. E. E. Organize For Work—Mechanical News Notes.

The organization of the University student branches of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers is now completed and the societies will meet alternate Wednesdays at the fourth hour in the heat engineering room.

Program committees have been appointed and will strive to render the meetings as interesting and beneficial as possible. Engineers of repute will at various times be invited by the societies to speak before their regular meetings and the programs will include, also addresses by one of more of the members at each meeting. An effort will be made to make these discussions of unusual interest to engineers and the societies extend a sincere welcome to any engineers who may be interested in the particular phase of their work under discussion. In so far as possible the programs will be announced in these columns one week in advance.

The unusual privilege of membership in both organizations to the Seniors is a splendid opportunity for the technical discussion of the latest achievements in both fields. The official publications of both societies will be received by each member.

DYNAMIC ENGINEERING SOCIETY

The A. I. E. E. and A. S. M. E. affiliation of the Seniors will in no way interfere with the activity of their Dynamic Engineering Society. This organization is a child of the class of 1915 and has been carefully and fondly raised to its maturity during the past three years.

The "Dynamites" feel that the organization is a valuable and respectable factor in the final development of the class. Since its birth in 1911 the society has been possessed of an admirable esprit de corps and has brought to its members a social intimacy and mutual appreciation obtainable in no other manner.

The various functions of the class will be given in the name of the Dynamic Engineering Society. A resume of its activities will be recorded on this page.

MECHANICALS '16.

The Mechanicals, '16, Society, has held its first meeting of this year and elected the following officers: President, Herman Worsham. Vice-President, Julius Wolf. Secretary, Margaret Ingles. Treasurer, E. H. Clark. Sergeant-at-Arms, J. W. Thompson. Meetings will be held each Thursday at the fourth hour.

The program committee will invite a resident engineer of recognized standing to speak before the body at alternate meetings and will occupy the remaining meetings with discussion by the members.

The society extends an invitation to any person interested in its various proceedings.

MINING

President Barker and Professor Norwood to Go to Jenkins, Ky.

Pres. H. S. Barker and Prof. C. J. Norwood will attend the meeting of the Elkhorn Mining Institute next Tuesday night at Jenkins.

Both are on the program and President Barker will present the certificates to the members of last year's class in extension work. This work is carried on under the supervision and by the co-operation of the College of Mines and Metallurgy and the Y. M. C. A. at Jenkins.

Professor Norwood and Professor Barr were recently appointed by Governor McCreary to represent Kentucky at the meeting of the American Mining Congress to be held at Phoenix, Arizona, December 1st to 11th, 1914.

NOTICE, STROLLERS!

The first meeting of the Strollers will be held in chapel, Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. All members come. Very important.

State University recommended as a teacher of ability in the educational world. He brings with him to Lexington a bride. They are being heartily welcomed to the Blue Grass.

Able assistants in the Department of Chemistry are Mr. R. S. Doubleday, graduate of Syracuse University in the class of 1913 and Mr. E. L. Georger, who finished at Cornell in 1913. He did one year of graduate work there.

There are also two new physics instructors this year. Mr. Mervin J. Kelly graduated from Missouri University in 1914. He began his career there as an engineer, making the honorary fraternity of Tau Beta Pi in his second year. At the beginning of his junior year he changed to B. S., finishing with this degree. Mr. R. E. Bitner graduated last June from Pennsylvania State, where he assisted in teaching physics.

Two new instructors are graduates of State University. Mr. Harry Cannon, instructor of German, finished here in 1909, taking his master's degree in 1911. He then taught in a high school in Texas, from which he was called to a like position in this home town, Nicholasville. He afterwards spent two years of study at the University of Heidelberg, in Berlin.

Mr. R. T. Taylor is assistant in English. He was the honor English student of last year's class and winner of the English prize offered by Miss Kinkead. He was elected principal of the high school of LaGrange, his home town, but accepted the position offered him here. He was active in all University affairs and a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

In the Department of Agriculture is Professor Pinnell, instructor of bacteriology. Professor Pinnell has been in the Pure Food Department at the Experiment Station for several years but this is the first time he has occupied a professional chair.

SAYRE COLLEGE STUDENTS AT STATE

The number of Sayre College students entering State University this year is noticeably small, there being only three. Two of the young ladies, Miss Spencer and Miss McDaniel, are graduates of the class of 1914, the third, Miss Redd, did not complete her course. Miss Spencer expects to make her A. B. degree and Miss McDaniel is taking the course for a B. S. degree. Miss Redd has entered the school of journalism.

Need Lumber? Good Lumber?

It is not alone necessary that lumber shall be good in the first place, but good lumber to retain its goodness must have proper care and attention.

Every stick of lumber that enters our yards is carefully handled. Some is stacked on sticks, some piled in open sheds and some put in enclosed buildings, according to the individual needs. So, each piece will reach you in the best possible condition.

You will find, here, lumber for any purpose from the smallest operation to any ordinary undertaking.
