ABBEY OF GETHSEMANI
TRAPPIST, KENTUCKY

July 16, 1963

Dear Victor and Carolyn:

Not having heard anything from J, I presume he is not going to come down in July, and I am going to be too busy in August (several visiting firemen, so to speak, which will use up the best of my time). In that case, I won't be able to see you until September, unless you want to come over July 27th, whether or not J. comes down. If this reaches you in time and you prefer to come the 20th, even better. I thought I would let you know. If you can come the 20th or 27th, fine: otherwise we will have to put our next visit off until some time in September.

Hoping you are both well. By the way I forgot to say how much I liked the little books, Carolyn's history of the press, and Victor's digression. I thought Carolyn's was particularly good reading, a very good little book. The dialogue on the Roman letter is very well done too. I appreciated the remark about men not proceeding gently, and "even the gentle teachings of Christ have not met with success." That is unfortunately quite true.

Best wishes to you both. Hope to see you soon.

Yours in Christ,

Tom
