ABOUT THE LIBRARIES

Kentucky Photos in Special Exhibit:

"Local Light: Photographs Made in Kentucky," is the title of an exhibit which will be in the University of Kentucky King Library North gallery from Monday (November 15) through December 15.

The exhibit consists of more than 50 photographs, both contemporary and retrospective, from private and public collections throughout Kentucky.

Financed by the Kentucky Arts Commission, the exhibit was organized by Guy Mendes, a photographer who lives in Versailles and is a designer and scriptwriter for Kentucky Educational Television (KET).

A book of the same name as the exhibit and including numerous photographs was published recently by Gnomon Press, Lexington.

Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

Library Photocopying Study:

The UK Library system has been selected to participate in a study on library photocopying and inter-library loans co-sponsored by the National Commission on Library and Information Science (NCLIS) and the National Science Foundation Division of Information Science. The survey is being conducted by King Research (Md.), November 23-24.

One part of the study involves keeping a detailed record of Interlibrary loans--this will involve ILL in King, Agriculture and Law. The other part will involve keeping a record of library photocopying performed by or for library staff of library controlled materials (i.e. not inter-office memos, but books and serials). Copies of this form will be sent to all branch librarians and department heads who have copying machines.

During this two day period, copies of the Characteristic Form will be available from branch librarians and heads of departments. All staff using the machine to copy library material should record their use on the form.

Architecture Student Employees Meeting:

The student employees of the Architecture Library have decided to hold monthly meetings for the purpose of discussing work-related questions and problems with the regular library staff.

New Reference Number:

The Reference Department has a new number: 257-1631. All calls for reference information should be directed to that number.

MRAP Update:

The MRAP Implementation Committee spent this week reviewing the recommendations and looking at the work being done by the other faculty committees. At our next meeting, we will decide which specific recommendations the team will focus on for the coming year.
