Dear Doctor Rankin:

I was out of town yesterday and just learned the good news of your election. It comes somewhat late but that was due to your own generosity. I am indeed proud that the two men who have influenced my professional career most, you and Tate, were elected to the highest office in the profession. Your job will be bigger than that of any other men who has ever held the position and, fortunately for all of us, it is just your size.

Very best of good wishes,

Sincerely yours,

A. Stephens Graham, M.D.
