Dr. Fred Rankin,

Dear Fred:

I see that we have a new President. Isn't it terrible at times what is thrust off on an unsuspecting body of citizens. But seriously I did want you to know how happy I was to learn of your election. Personally I heartily approve of hard-headed executives, and I am sure we have one now, particularly when their hard-headedness is in the right direction as I know yours always will be. This is just a note to prod you a little but most of all to let you know how much I am pleased at your election and to extend to you my best wishes as well as my congratulations.

With kindest regards and every good wish,

Cordially yours,

J. O. MANIER, M. D.
