Dear Dr. Rankin:-

At this belated date I want to take the opportunity to congratulate you on your recent elevation to the office of President-Elect, A.M.A. Stress of work and time-consuming things have prevented my writing before.

I am so full of a certain subject just now that the impulse to tell you is irresistible. It concerns a lecture I am to give at the six-weeks training school at Bloomington, under auspices of the University, for recruit police officers, Indiana State Police Dpt. The subject,-- The Sociological and Psychological Backgrounds of the Criminal, is about the biggest order I have had for some time.

Just had a letter from Leland thanking us for the effort in preparedness as related to the Questionnaire. We finished here about 98% of the total.

With my best regards, I beg to remain,

Sincerely yours,

BIRD.
