Porter's Pll Ditches On Campus Muddy Maze, Students Complain

By Shirley Purter
Question of the week: WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT THE HOLES AND DITCHES THAT ARE OPENING UP ALL OVER THE CAMPUS?
JULIE GRAHAM: "I just wonder where they will find to dig next."
RAY BROWN: "Since most of them are in our front yard, I don't think they are so frival."
TURK DAUGHTERY: "Just makes it a holy place."
JUNE WITTEN: "Why don't they furnish the students with mine sweepers so we can get in on the treasure hunt too."
GLORIA FEELER: "I have to get up a half hour earlier in order to climb the obstacles and get to class on time."
BETTY BRYANT: "They're for a good purpose."
BILL PRICE: "Instead of looking like a University campus, ours looks like a campus of mud."
JESS GARDNER: "They serve a good purpose, but they sure are annoying."
CHARLOTTE WATSON: "I think it is pathetic to dig the campus up like they are doing."
LESLIE DAWSON: "It is difficult getting to class. It is naturally bad now, but it is for the good of the school in the long run."
PAUL ADAMS: "Good obstacle course for the ROTC."
LESLIE COMBS: "I guess they are just a necessary evil."
ED SELF: "It seems like they could work this thing out more systematically, and not be digging so many holes at one time."
JEANETTE BLAIR: "They've been here as long as I have. It's time we were getting back to normal and a pretty campus."
CHARLIE PENTEOST: "If they must dig they must be dug."
BARS HALL: "Someone should publish a book with full explanation and diagrams explaining the purpose of the ditches. If the students knew what the digging was for they might not be so bitter toward it."

Ham Station Is Operated By UK ROTC

By T. J. Clark
The Signal Corps section of the 268th Area Service Unit, ROTC, reports considerable activity through their radio station K4WAV. Recently K4WAV made contacts with stations around the world, according to Lt. Col. Robert H. McAtee, Signal professor of Military Science and Tactics.
K4WAV regularly operates in Second Army networks, but when off duty the station is authorized to operate as an amateur station. Recently UK students W. B. Valentine, Mac Wood, and Ronald Walker, all licensed amateur operators, have been participating in a world-wide distance contest. Working K4WAV's two transmitters, communications with stations all over the globe have been established. Countries contacted include states of the British Isles, France, Germany, Belgium, Spain, several South American republics, and Australia. Traffic has been handled from numerous American and U. S. possession stations.
UK's Signal Corps station was established as a link in the Army's emergency communications system. This system includes the MARS network, which recently swung into action during the flood of January 14-15 in Owensboro and Calhoun.

Class-Goers Must Beware Of UK Building Projects

By Joe Lee
The Perils of Pauline were nothing compared to those faced by the UK student sojourning across the campus these days.
Class-goers must be constantly on the alert to avoid sump-holes, barb-wire fences, and other entrapments.
Take the case of Miss H. C. Last week she was hurriedly tripping across the campus from the grill five minutes late for her 9 o'clock class. She laterfully decided to take the short cut through the net-cut ditches behind the Administration Building.
Guess What?
Perhaps all of you are familiar with the jagged excavation in that area. Miss H. C. swear the hole is six feet deep. She was hanging onto the embankment with her toes, and her head wasn't touching the ground. She hung on until her shoes came off. Then she toppled in.
With arms pushing skyward, and legs gesticulating in a very unidyllic manner, she managed to free her face from the suctioning mud. She ruined her clothes and lost her

Wildcats Harriers Face Vandy In Opening Meet Tomorrow

By Bob Gorman

Kentucky's track team gets its first taste of competition tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. when they engage a veteran Vanderbilt Commodore aggregation in a dual meet here on Stoll Field.

The Commodores, with 15 letter-men returning and eight freshmen (several winners up to bolster the horde), may offer the toughest opposition the Cats will face all year. For the Vandy harriers, this will be their third meet of the season. They have already met Tennessee and Alabama, and will bring a 36-man squad to Lexington in an effort to reverse a 23-22 1/2 decision which the Wildcats won at Nashville last year.

The thinly squad of Coach Don Sexton was strengthened this past week with the addition of several members of the football team who were released from spring practice. Two members of the Vandy team that lost only one meet also reported for the first time this year.

Footballers Report

Footballers reporting were Cliff Lawson, Emory Clark, Tommy Filion, and Ed Hamilton, sprinters; John Evans, Wally Yowanski, Don King, and Ed Burnett, shot putters; Wendell Vance, a pole vaulter; Wilbur Jamerson, a pole vaulter; and Al Bruno, a javelin thrower and discus hurler.

The two track teamers who put their first appearances were Don Sexton, a middle distance runner, and Dick Griffith, who runs in the mile and two-mile events.

Lawson, Clark, Filion, and Hamilton will participate in the 100, 200 and 440-yard dashes, three events which the Wildcats won last year against Vandy. However, the Commodores will have Harrison Lamone and Billy Griswold, both two-year letter winners, to outdistance their bid for victory, while the Wildcat dash men are all relatively inexperienced.

Wildcats Harriers Face Vandy In Opening Meet Tomorrow

Kentucky appears to be strongest in the middle-distance events and in the hurdles. They have George Kirchner, Gordon Sither, and Arthur Nachand in the 440 and 880-yard dashes, and Tony Dallas and Guy Weeks in the 120 and 220-yard hurdles. Sither turned in a scizzling 54-second quarter-mile in the time trial last Wednesday afternoon and Kirchner has been rounding into the form that enabled him to come from behind to nip the Vandy entry in both events last year.

Dallas has never been defeated in any hurdle event in dual competition, while performing for Kentucky. He and Weeks will have to face Picky Ford, the Commodore's co-captain, and Jim Rich Roberts in the hurdles, but Dallas defeated both of these boys last year and Weeks was only a stride behind at the finish.

Bruno on Javelin, Discus

In the field events, the Wildcats have Bruno on the javelin, one of the few athletes in Kentucky history to win letters in three sports. Bruno last year was a member of the Wildcats' NCAA basketball championship team, and this year was the leading pass-receiver on the Orange Bowl football squad. He also lettered in basketball last year, despite being hampered by a bad shoulder most of the season. He will be counted on heavily in the javelin and discus events this year.

He will get good support, however, from Shelby Livville and Hal Hochstatter, two boys who have been showing much promise in practice. Livville is a discus man, and Hochstatter, a transfer student from Illinois junior college, participates in both events.

The high jump will be entrusted to bouncing Shifty Whitaker, letter man of the basketball team. Phil Shannon, and Tony Dallas, Whitaker has been clearing about 3' 10" in practice.

Cagers Invited Frosh Golfers To Sugar Bowl Defeated By Lafayette H. S.

For the seventh time in 14 years, the University of Kentucky basketball team has been invited to participate in the Sugar Bowl tournament, it was announced April 14. Other teams which will play in the annual tourney, to be held at New Orleans on Dec. 29 and 30, will be Bradley University of Peoria, Ill.; Syracuse University and the St. Louis U. Billikins.

St. Louis won the title in 1948; UK won last year, beating Bradley in the championship game. Bradley was runner-up this March in both the NIT and the NCAA playoffs at Madison Square Garden. The Peoria team loses four players from this season's squad—only one (Paul Unruh) being a starter.

The Cats played in the first Sugar Bowl tournament in 1937, when they shipped Pitt, 40-29 to take honors in the two-team meet. They returned for the 1939, 1949, 1946, 1948 and 1949 cage carnivals, winning the crown again in '39 and '49.

Which team the Ruppman will meet in the first round will not be announced until a later date.

The Reds got their last touchdown on a sustained drive from their own 42-yard line. With Farill throwing short ones and Bill Leskovar carrying through the line, they advanced 13-0 in favor of the Reds.

Sherty Jamerson, who has been switched from a defensive to an offensive player, upped the count to 20-0 in the third quarter with driving 45-yard run through the entire White team. He was tackled four times, but each time squirmed his way free until he hit pay dirt.

The Whites came back after this TD, and with Clayton Webb doing advanced from their own 30 to the Red 28, from where Farley shot a pass to End Bob Fry, who took the oval on the 15 and lugged it to the one before he was knocked out of bounds. Two plays later, Webb took a pitch-out free until he hit pay dirt.

Parley converted to make it 20-7.

The Reds got their last touchdown on a sustained drive from their own 42-yard line. With Farill throwing short ones and Bill Leskovar carrying through the line, they advanced 13-0 in favor of the Reds.

Notre Dame game in 1947 and the great Army-Navy game of that year. In this book Cohane reveals how the Army team was formed in 1890 to meet the challenge of a Navy team and lost this opening battle—Army's first football game—24-0. The team was organized by Dennis Michie, whose name today signifies the home field of the Cadets—Michie Stadium.

Then in 1891 the Cadets were on their way into capped the season with a brilliant 32-16 win over the favored Middlemide behind the famous Y-wedge with Michie the hero of the day.

Cohane continues to carry the Black Knights from the Hudson through their football campaigns including the crossing with Jim Thorpe's Carlisle Indians in 1912 (Carlisle winning 27-0 with Thorpe playing magnificent ball.) Playing in the defensive backfield for Army that day was a young back named Ike Eisenhower.

Described is the first Army-Notre Dame game of 1913 which the unknown "Fightin' Irish won 35-13 with Gus Dorcas passing to a great end, Knute Rockne.

After a drop in prestige during World War I Army rose back to the top in 1919 and 1920 as Gen. Douglas MacArthur enthusiastically backed the sport at the academy. Star of the team in 1920 was Earl Black, later the great coach of Army.

The latter part of the book deals with the great Army teams of the 1940's and particularly Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside—Glenn Davis and Felix "Doc" Blanchard—who became sports immortals at the Point.

Intersquad Grid Tilt April 21; Reds Romp Over Whites, 27-7

The annual Blue-White football game, claiming scoring practice, will be held next Friday, April 21. The tilt is tentatively scheduled to be played at night under the arc lights.

The game will be played without the members of the Orange Bowl squad, who have been released by Coach Paul Bryant. The game this year will give the fans a chance to see the new boys who otherwise would have to take a back seat if the regulars from last year participated.

An admission of 50 cents for university and high school students and $1.50 for others will be charged.

In the last full-game scrimmage with the entire squad taking part, the Reds quartered by Babe Parill, defeated the Whites, directed by Bill Farley, 27-7.

Parill, Farley Look Good

Both Parill and Farley showed near mid-season form as their passes were responsible for all the scoring. Two of Parill's tosses went for TD's, while Farley set up his team's marker with a pass that covered 58 yards.

The first quarter of the game was scoreless, but Parill found Don Fucci, who has been converted from a halfback to an end, with a 30-yard aerial that put the ball on the eight yard line early in the second period. After three line plays gained nothing, he shot the ball into the waiting arms of Dick Martin in the end zone for the score. Sherty Jamerson converted.

A few moments later, John Notcliffe blocked Clayton Webb's punt on the 29. Parill picked up 15 yards on a fake pass and run. He then laced a handoff to Bill Leskovar and sponsored Fucci again—this time in the end zone. The pass attempt was wide, and the half ended.

Intramural Sports

By Lewis Dunbar

Low temperatures and cold wind failed to further delay the opening of the intramural softball season Wednesday as play got under way with two games on the sports field alongside Alumni Gym.

Led by the no-hit pitching of Fred Lawson, Breck Hall completely routed the Potlucks, 18-0, in three innings. Lawson walked only one man, who did not advance past first base.

Sam Nease's two homers and single circuit clouts by Bob Butler and Charlie Warner were the greatest noises in a 14-hit barrage pounded out by the Breckmen of Doc Wall.

The second game of the day followed the pattern of the first one as Henry Abraham allowed but one hit while his teammates were chomping the ball all over the park in Zeta Beta Tau's 16-2 massacre of the Triangles.

Some teams will have a short season this year as plans for competition have been changed to the form of a double elimination tournament.

The increasing cold weather forced postponement of games scheduled for yesterday and today.

Champs and Phi Tau Win

In intramural bowling two weeks ago, too late to make our last issue before the Easter vacation, the Phi Tau won the fraternity bowling crown by outrolling Alpha Sigma Xi, 286-283, in pin totals for three games.

The Phi Kappa Tau outfit, composed of George Conway, Tom Barnes, Steve Shelton, Tom Graham, Ted Mayo, Ken Ashby, Ed Burnett, and Ed Self, gained the final round by dumping Alpha Gamma Rho, 256-226.

ASP moved into the finals by winning over Alpha Tau Omega, 275-2216.

The Champs, independent bowling team which was seeded to play only the winner of the fraternity division for the overall championship, gained a 367 pin margin over Phi Kappa Tau, 247-249, in games April 5 for the winners trophy.

Champs players included Dan Wish, Jack Royce, Lew Calhoun, Mickey Miller, Bob Miller, and Mike Packer.

Bill Brook, P-E bowling and swimming instructor, supervised intramural bowling this year.

Nature Favored in Tennis Meet

One hundred-five men are entered in singles and 53 in doubles in the I-M tennis tournament now under way on the Rose Street and U-High courts.

Jim Maturu, Alpha Tau Omega, UK singles winner last year, is favored to gain the title again this season.

THE UNIVERSITY GOLF TEAM, shown above, has compiled thus far a record of two wins and two losses so far this season. They have beaten Xavier, Marshall and tied Vandy while losing to Louisville and Alabama. Today the linksmen take on Vanderbilt at the Lexington Country Club course. Shown above left to right are Lex Simmons, Ray Colton, Craig Wright, Johnny Owens, Capt. Bill Baker, Bud Lewis and Marvin Lear. Dale Barnstable is also a member of the '50 golf aggregation.

Marvin Lear shot a par 36 on the first nine and a 39 on the back nine for 75. This was the best round of the day.

Fencing Facts

Tomorrow afternoon will find the Kentucky bladesmen playing host to the University of Louisville at 2:30 in the UK gym. Kentucky fenced Louisville earlier in the season in a triangular meet with Notre Dame. Although Notre Dame won the meet by a top heavy score, Kentucky bested Louisville by the score of 19-7½.

That was before the eligibility ruling which took three men from the Wildcat team.

Tomorrow's battle should be a lot closer than the previous affair. All weapons will be fenced.

On the Saturday before the last Kentucky met Cincinnati in the second of their two meets. UC had beaten UK in their battle in Cincinnati at the first meet. Kentucky took them 12-11 in their second meet.

Captain Alan Solomon led his team with five victories, having fenced in two weapons. Sid Nease contributed three wins; Doug Brown and Bob Southall added two more; Charles Mitchell and Jim Ryan garnered 1½ apiece; and Dick Wiestain added one.

The UK fences close out their season next week at Nashville, Tenn., where they meet Vanderbilt for the second time. The only weapon to be fenced will be foil.

With a large freshman team to help the remaining varsity men, next year should find the Wildcats a team to contend with. The freshman team has had two meets to date, winning one while dropping a close decision. With this experience they will be a little more at ease in varsity competition. Freshman members include Bill Seiler, Ted Dunn, Bill Disney, Paul Wright, Bernie Silvers.

DisKentucky Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

THE UNIVERSITY'S spring sports and the opening of the major league baseball season will take a back seat around UK for at least the next two weeks as the racing season at nearby Keeneland is now in progress.

NO DOUBT the absenteeism at afternoon classes will be taking a sharp increase as the more solvent students journey out to the oval on Versailles pike to "clean up" or, as in most cases, get their semi-annual fiscal cleaning.

LEXINGTON has long been a racing center. The first track in the state was built here in 1797 and a new one replaced it in 1828, which continued in almost constant operation up until Keeneland was established.

KENTUCKY and particularly the Chicago Bluegrass season, is regarded as the home of the American thoroughbred.

THE CIVIL WAR put a stop to many tracks. But here at Lexington, except for the fall of 1862 when Kirby Smith's Confederate Army was camped on the race course, meetings were held without interruption.

YEARS Ago Kentuckians didn't wait for race tracks to settle their arguments many times as to which man had the faster horse. They put up bets and rode a designated distance along the traveled byways of Lexington. These races became so frequent that some townspeople complained and the village chiefs had to act.

IN 1793, the city's trustees here in Lexington ruled horsemen of the main street—which was then South Broadway—because the charging horses frightened many citizens.

FINALLY in 1797 the first race track was built outside of Lexington, known as "Williams Race Track." When this became too little a new one was erected which operated for a span of 197 years.

KEENELAND eventually was developed and is one of the most unique courses in the nation, in that practically all of its profits are turned over to educational and charitable institutions.

With the 1950 major league baseball season practically here, we checked the Baseball Register magazine last week to learn the various universities and colleges that have contributed some of the top players in the game today.

Alabama Poly (better known as Auburn) has sent three present big leaguers up, with another one believed to be only one season away. From Auburn have come Gus Narhos, catcher for the N. Y. Yankees; Billy Hitchcock, of the Boston Red Sox; and Jimmy Outlaw, diminutive infielder of the Tigers. Willard Nixon, who was batting for the Auburn team against our cats just two seasons ago, was recently sent from the Red Sox to the Louisville Colonels for more experience.

Ohio U.'s lone alumna, Frankie Baumholtz, ex-Redding fly chaser.

Baseballers Attempt To Extend Win Streak

By Bob Gorham

The University baseball team meets the Vanderbilt Commodores today and tomorrow at Nashville in hopes of extending its three-game winning streak.

The squad was recently strengthened considerably when several members of the varsity football team were released in order to join the diamond athletes.

Among them were Ben Zarankas (Pitcher, Infielder and Outfielder); Babe Parrill (First Baseman and Outfielder); Dom Fucci (All-American Catcher); Doug Moseley (Outfielder) and Allen Hamilton (Outfielder).

Moseley and Parrill are sophomores and have had no previous varsity baseball experience, but are both rated as possible starters for Coach Neil Moseley's nine.

Jim Ryan, of Covington, is presently leading the team in batting with a robust .417 average.

Their latest victim was the University of Cincinnati, who fell 8-6, last Monday. Although pitched 12-10, the Cats punched their blows effectively while Frank Tucci and Al McLeod were keeping the Bearcats bingles scattered.

A four-run outburst in the fourth inning led to a 3-0 lead.

Billard Team Wins Second In Tournament

The University of Kentucky pocket billiard team placed second in the recent ten team Intercollegiate Telephone Billiard Tournament. It amassed a total of 419 points out of a possible 500. Ohio State was the winner of the tournament.

High point man for the team was Don Weaver, who totaled 90 points and had an average of 9. His high run was 20.

Other scoring for the team was as follows: Paul Jordan: 48 points, high run of 20, average of 8; Clemis Fox: 77; Tony Kavanaugh: 84 points, high run of 20, average of 8; and Jim Auman: 80 points, high run of 20, average of 8.

Jordan and Kavanaugh were competing in the tourney for the third and second year, respectively. The other three team members are first-year players.

by dropping a pair of close decisions to the Georgia Bulldogs, 5-2 and 6-4, on April 3 and 4 at Athens.

Handicapped because of bad weather in which to get in shape, the Cats nevertheless had a good account of themselves in their initial efforts. The Blue and White hurlers allowed only 16 hits in the two tilts of the heavy-hitting Bulldogs.

They also performed well in the field, committing only 4 errors.

Coach Neal Moseley said he was well pleased with the boys' efforts, and said C. M. Newton and Bob Hatchett turned in good mound jobs. Both boys went the route.

Net Team Takes On Vanderbilt

Coach Andy Paton's tennis team, with very little practice for this season so far, takes on Vanderbilt today at Nashville.

On April 9th, the University tennis team met its first defeat of the season, losing to Indiana University on the U-high courts by the score of 5-1.

The meet was called after the six singles matches because of bad weather, with Omar Tatum the only UK'er to win his match, taking straight sets of 6-2 and 6-4 from his Hooter foe.

The second match of the season, against Kalamazoo College of Michigan, set for April 9th, was cancelled because of the spring vacations.

Tomorrow afternoon, the netters will travel to Bowling Green where they will encounter the Western Kentucky State racqueters.

Members of this season's team include five seniors: Charlie Holland, Omar Tatum, Ken Kintzler, Jerry Chlubner and Ralph Tatum; three juniors: Bob Scherer, Dave Sproley and Bob Williams; and one graduate student, Moss Lubbers.—By Fred Lawson.
