

ODK chairman Barnes presents trophy to Joyce Jordan, ZTA. Mary Kassenbrock, ChIO, and George Dudley, ODK, look on.

Winner Announced In ODK Tag Sale

By Ed Barnes
Winning by a large margin the Zeta Tau Alpha's took top honors in the ODK Tag Sale contest. The ODK barely missed out the Tri-Delta for second place; Alpha Gamma Delta and Lambda Chi Chi tied for fourth place. The contest sponsored by ODK was to promote money for the University Athletic Fund and to boost school spirit by wearing the tags before the football game.

Beaming with the same excitement and bright personality that personified the Zeta's work from the very start, pretty Joyce Jordan, freshman from Manchester, accepted the ODK trophy from Ed Barnes, Louisville, chairman of the contest. The trophy is reported to be one of the largest ever presented to a sorority at the University.

Perry, junior from Lexington, represented Alpha Delta Pi. Other sorority chairmen were: Flo Baker, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Henry Jamison, Alpha Xi Delta; Elizabeth Reynolds, Kappa Alpha Theta; Martha Quinn, Delta Zeta; and Rosamond Newman, Kappa Delta.

The final results and winners for the University Athletic Fund and the fraternities will be announced at an early basketball game. The trophy to the winning students will be presented at that time.

The Pop Tags were familiar to many of the old students who had worn them last in 1942, but to many the traditional tags were as new as a Republican congress. Bill Carroll and George Dudley, two of the oldest ODK members, stated that they were highly pleased by the cooperation of the students in supporting the contest. "Perhaps," they said, "ODK can donate enough to the Athletic Fund for a down payment on another Ellen Allen."

Phi Beta Kappa Chooses Seven University Students

Six University seniors and one graduate were chosen for Phi Beta Kappa, national senior scholastic society, at the annual election, Dr. Paul O. Richter, secretary of the campus chapter, announced yesterday.

The students honored were: Katherine Nelson Crapster, Winchester; Wendell C. Demarcus, Knoxville, Tenn.; Margaret L. Sawin, Lexington; Horace Lee Skinner, Camden, Ark.; Mary Lou Witherspoon, Lawrenceburg; William W. Oliver, Hazard; Albert Bush Brooke, Jr., Charlotte, N.C.

Initiation for the newly chosen members is planned within the next few days. The election was held from the highest 10 per cent of the class.

Board Of Trustees Appoint Two New Department Heads
Two new department head appointments were approved by the executive committee of the University Board of Trustees at a meeting Friday.

Dr. Aubrey J. Brown was chosen head of the department of markets and rural finance in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Dr. G. D. Buckner, chemist in charge of animal nutrition, was named professor of civil engineering and head of the department of civil engineering in the College of Engineering.

Dr. Brown will succeed Dr. H. B. Poff, who resigned in 1945. Dr. Brown was a member of the faculty of Illinois, where he received his A. B. and Ph. D. degrees. An associate professor in geology and an assistant in the Experiment Station, he was engaged in research work and teaching in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Dr. Price will continue as professor of agriculture economics in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Dr. Price is a native of Princeton, Ky., was graduated with a B.S.C.E. from the University of Kentucky in 1921. Immediately following graduation Shaver joined the Kentucky Highway Department as chief engineer. His professional C.E. degree was received in 1931. He was appointed as an instructor in the C.E. school in 1931. Professor Shaver has been a member of the faculty continuously since that time. In 1932, he became assistant professor, and in 1938, associate professor.

Shaver has had a part in the development of such extensive University projects as the building of Stoll field, McLean stadium, and the new dormitory town and Shawnee town. His principal work involved the surveying and layout, drainage, materials testing, and construction.

Other appointments and staff changes appointed by the committee: Dr. W. S. W. Williams, state superintendent of public instruction, was named to the position of director of the Board of Trustees; Richard C. Stoll, Lexington, chairman of the Board of Trustees, was named to the position of chairman of the board; and Guy A. Linton, Lexington, member of the board of athletics.

Contusion College Elections, You Guess Who's Running
By Tom Duncan
Kernel News Editor
Voting in the most mixed-up Student Government Association election in many years will take place from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., Tuesday, November 26, in the Y lounge of the Union instead of both the Y lounge and McVey as originally announced.

But students need not get too excited about the chance to exercise their right to vote—in three colleges there will be no contest. In these schools the Constitutionalists seemingly gave up the show—no candidate of the party filed to run. Independent candidates who were not registered with the party, however, did file for the position, but with writhe-fearing typical of the whole lot, one of the applicants had not fulfilled the residency requirements. To top the rest, Bob Puryear, Claque clique who failed to file is a member of the party.

Confusion may have reignited student government, but the party with more than half coming from the Claque, Eastman, Independent campaign manager has been conducting a very active program. But of his 10 candidates were found to be ineligible, and, although his literature says that Ellis Johnston is the Independent candidate from law, the only candidate to register from that school is one W. Philham Johnston.

Back to the department of utter confusion—in the Constitutionalists did not even select their candidates under the new appointment system, passed Monday, November 11. The party held no meeting after the new system was approved. Wednesday night party leaders began trying to pull strings to get the lot out of the fire. But it was too late—voting was closed Tuesday afternoon.

Annual Cat-Vol Scrap Winds Up Coach Bryant's First Season

Team's Physical Condition And Spirit Best This Year
UK Victory Might Bring Bowl Bid
Kentucky's football Wildcats generally have an ambition in general—a good season—but one objective in particular—victory over Tennessee Volunteers. The 1946 quest for this success takes place Saturday in Knoxville's Shields-Walking stadium, where the Cats and Vols meet in the 42nd renewal of a series which began in 1892. A crowd of 40,000, "including at least 3,000 Wildcats," is expected to be on hand to see the contest for the old brag, with Tennessee probably a one-touchdown in scoring this season.

The Vols have won the "bunch-back" trophy 17 times in that long series. Three years have found it in the Bluegrass; home six miles east of Knoxville. In the first game, incidentally, Kentucky humiliated Tennessee—33-0, thereby scoring more points than in the last three tries prior to this season. Not since 1935 has a Bluegrass team topped a previous year's performance; that victory was by a 27-0 margin over a Bill Bottom-coached eleven. The Cats have never defeated Bob Neyland, whose era of bowl games began in 1942. Neyland's triumphs that total 10 straight. No game was played in 1943 when both schools were inactive on the gridiron, but two hills were contested in 1944. Last year the Vols, coached by John Barron, will who is now at Arkansas, realized a 16-0 win.

Neyland Back at UT
There's hardly any basis for comparison between the current edition of Wildcats and previous representatives, since the advent of Coach Paul Bryant and a new dawn in Kentucky football, so the boys in blue hold better than an outside chance of scoring first tonight the Orange and White. Neyland, who reached the rank of brigadier-general in World War II, is back at the old helm, has led them to seven bowl games and a new dawn in Kentucky football, so the boys in blue hold better than an outside chance of scoring first tonight the Orange and White. Education Gives Capacity For Work, Educator Says
"Whatever else education means, it ought to lead to a well-disciplined mind, the characteristics of which are the capacity for hard and systematic work, concentration, accuracy of knowledge and the power to hold what we gain," Dr. Edward Mims, professor emeritus at Vanderbilt University, told University students at a convocation held Wednesday morning in Memorial hall.

Dr. Mims expressed the belief that there are so many conflicts between different types of institutions and between various departments in these institutions that one finds it difficult to emphasize some things that ought to be characteristic of any educational plan of system.

Dr. Frank H. Randall, University speaker, and Dean Leo M. Chamberlain presided over the convocation. Invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. John P. Baggett, pastor of the First Methodist church.

COME!
Bid The Boys Goodbye Tonight
A send-off pep rally for the Wildcat football squad on its last trip of the season to Knoxville for the Tennessee game tomorrow afternoon will form tonight at 7:30 in front of the stadium.

Leaves of absence: Ernest G. Trimble, associate professor of psychology, is returning to the Main and the Union station where the team is scheduled to leave at 10:30 p. m.

A pep rally at the station will begin at 7:45 and will consist of music by the band and cheers. Howard Stephenson, president of the Student Government association, will represent the student body in presenting to Coach Bryant and the team a check for trophies. The cheerleaders will exhibit University sheep in the stock pavilion.

In announcing the plans for the last pep rally of the 1946 football season, Dr. Mims said that the Wildcats' every student to be present at tonight's rally. "With Tennessee, the Wildcats' perennial foe, topping off an already successful football season, Saturday night is a dedicated Tennessee game rally the most enthusiastic pep program yet arranged. Ladies conceded."

The crowning of Tom Cobb and Sylvia Smith as "Ag College King and Queen," plus corn-husking, milksmaid, horse-harnessing and "husband-calling" contests, stock exhibits, door prizes, stunts and music, will highlight the annual fall festival, first since 1942, to be held Friday and Saturday nights in the stock pavilion.

Friday night's festivities, according to Jim Welch, Block and Bridge president, will open with a short talk by Dean Thomas Cooper, followed by a dairy cattle showmanship contest. The contest winner, to be picked by Dr. Puryear, Ely, will receive a cup from Alpha Gamma Delta.

Dr. W. P. Garrigus, Block and Bridge sponsor, will open Saturday night with a sheep showmanship contest, judged by Professor E. S. McCreary, president of the contest. Climax of the festival will be the coronation of the King and Queen. Cobb will be crowned by Grove McCorn, Phi Upsilon Omicron president.

Block and Bridge president, will introduce the knights, Carl Bell and George Jim, and the attendants, Sue Warren and Marjorie Bradford. Other Saturday night events will include a corn-husking contest by agriculture professors, a husband-calling contest by wives of students and faculty members, and a chicken-picking contest by the girls of the agriculture college.

Alpha Gamma Delta will present a fast-track showmanship cup to the winner among beef cattle, swine, and sheep showmanship competitors. All three categories will be shown by members of the livestock management class. Prizes will be awarded winners by the way from the participant and club executive.

Music for both nights will be furnished by a colored band from Dunbar high school, Welch said, and nightly door prizes of apples and bananas will be given to the winners. Pork concessions will be handled by various clubs.

Stunts will be given throughout the festival by the following Block and Bridge prizes: Mike Duff, Philham Johnston, John Barron, Lindsey Horn, George Peas, James Hopp, Charles Beckman, Shirley Hays, John Barron, George Peas, Tom Baldwin, George Peas, Charles Eastman, Lewis Peas, Harold Love, Boone Rose Jr., Charles Shields, and Clarence Crabtree.

"Doors will be open for the exhibition at 7 p. m. each night," Welch announced, "and the program begins at 8 p. m. Fifty cents admission will be charged to support the Kentucky livestock judging team."

Time Out!

By O. C. Hayward Jr.

It's not often that a columnist gets an opportunity to put himself on the back. Instead, he usually has to spend most of his time correcting his mistakes or trying to explain how he was wrong.

Back in the summer when we were riding here on the football squad and reporting their progress, there appeared in the June 21 issue of the Kernel in this column a paragraph which read:

"All in all, with the squad that's out for practice now, the others who just recently finished spring practice, Kentucky may have a passing team next season. Remember 70% is usually considered passing."

Well, with the West Virginia victory tucked under their belt, the Wildcats already have a seven out of ten count which gives them a passing 70%. When we wrote the article, we figured the Georgia, Alabama, and Tennessee games as the ones on the deficit side of the ledger.

So far so good. But the team has shown up much better than we figured it would be, and has had little trouble winning in any of the seven victories. Now, only Tennessee, who hasn't looked too impressive this season, remains to be played.

All this and the fact that we just know we couldn't have picked a 10-game card completely right, leads us to believe that an 80% mark for the team is not only possible, but probable. And remember, 80% is darn good.

Any war, win or lose in tomorrow's game, the Wildcats will at least have a passing team. Seventy percent in the first year is more than the alumni bargained for when they hired Coach Bryant.

Coach Bryant and his staff of assistants, Coaches Leslie, Moseley, Ballisaris, Atkinson, and McCubbin have already more than met the demands expected of them. They have given Kentucky a winning team—the greatest we believe in Kentucky history—and have removed us from the welcome mat of the conference.

But to attend one of the pep rallies given by SUKY, a stranger would think that winning football to be students have shown about the same type of interest in pep rallies that they show in finals.

Sure we've had a lot of pep and school spirit at the games, but the team was playing right in front

WBKY Boasts Most Variety On Campus

By Tommy Underwood

A lot of people wander in and out of MeVey Hall's two front entrances these days but not too many of them know about "funny goings on" that are taking place in the building.

The explanation: MeVey's top deck houses a radio station, WBKY. UK radio medium succeeds in being informal and more fun than an out-of-town football game.

One evening the University's broadcasting unit was running a five show announcer Hugh Dunbar, equipped with earphones was listening to the chatter he had just introduced. Suddenly Mr. Dunbar ducked away from zooming planes, burning rockets, and rapid fire attack.

Someone had accidentally plugged the announcer's earphones into a record of sound effects. Another time early in the summer, an unlabeled fifteen minute transcription was being used over the air while an engineer labored over transmitter adjustments on a test broadcast.

A cheery young lady phoned the studio to wish the staff of WBKY a merry Christmas. The Friday afternoon broadcast was being tuned across the low band of his FM receiver on October 16, in Dallas, Texas.

Top vocalists were Marjorie Hawkins, who was also doing a program for a commercial station, and Jo Ann Tally. WBKY was calling the football games in addition to its regular broadcasts.

Chief studio engineer Jimmy Hile, who contracted to build the new transmitter, headed a good staff of engineering students who were handling program engineering.

Bryant, and with all our efforts, we almost outdid Maryland's demands against your leaving. We're really thankful. Why aren't we already talking about bowl bids this time?

Guess it's just human nature.

Art Shires, all All-Americans. Mike was on the 1940 Rose Bowl outfit. He had had a successful career. He also calls this year's Tennessee schedule the toughest, say the Vols come from behind to whip five of their opponents.

The flanks were manned by Hightbell and Jordan, both towering above the six-foot mark. Hightbell caught passes for the winning touchdowns against Georgia Tech and Duke. His substitute, Powell, is just about as good, grabbed three heaves for all the scoring against Ole Miss.

Stiephenson at center completed the first string line, almost all of whom were on the 1942 Sugar Bowl squad. The famous "Duke" was a blocker, helped many a downward march, too. On two different occasions this year after an interception by Tennessee, every man on the opposing team was knocked down.

Backfield Men Apenity The backfield is rich in depth as well as talent. Ballistics' leader George may start at full, though Mark Major is the likely nominee. Gold and Hill are other candidates here, making the Vol's fullback berth his strongest in history.

Outstanding talent being aired by WBKY on its Monday-Wednesday-Friday night broadcasts were a couple of vets: Jack Fierabend, who plays a fine versatile player, sings nicely, and Louis Swain, announcer with a moon-river voice and a flair for difficult pronouncements and foreign dialects.

Chief studio engineer Jimmy Hile, who contracted to build the new transmitter, headed a good staff of engineering students who were handling program engineering.

Three students with serious experience in electronics were handling transmitter engineering chores. WBKY was ready for the FM boom.

WBKY was with all our efforts, we almost outdid Maryland's demands against your leaving. We're really thankful. Why aren't we already talking about bowl bids this time?

Guess it's just human nature.

"Dutch" was captain of the Wildcats football team in 1931-32 and was regarded as one of the best ends ever to play for Kentucky. After leaving college he played two seasons as an outfielder with a New York Yankee farm club.

He has been in the service since 1941, leaving for overseas in July of this year. He served as an athletic director for various Air Force establishments in this country, before going over.

Robert McDowell Allen, '06, of Newark, N.J., will represent the University of Kentucky at the inauguration of a new president and a new vice president of Bloomfield College and Seminary in Bloomfield, N. C., November 25.

Ida Schone, '43, of Webster Groves, Mo., writes the Alumni office that she is editor of the house organ for employees of the Wagner Electric corporation at St. Louis, Mo. There are about 5,000 employees in the St. Louis branch and about 600 elsewhere.

Miss Schone's sister, Ellen, who holds two degrees from the University obtained in 1940 and 1941, is now teaching school at Sarasota, Fla.

Elwood N. Chambers, '40, of Lexington, has been named a lieutenant colonel in the Kentucky National Guard and assigned to the organization of a field artillery battalion.

A native of Letcher county, Chambers enlisted in the National Guard prior to World War II. During service in the European theater, he reached the rank of lieutenant colonel. In 1944 he was graduated from the Army's Command and General Staff school at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. Headquarters for the new battalion will be at Lexington.

Helen E. Fry, '34, who has been serving as Army librarian at the Weisbaden, Germany headquarters of the U. S. Army Air Forces in Europe, came home recently for a six weeks leave.

FROM THE GREEKS

By Janet Sulzer

Nothing has been planned for this week-end here in Lexington by the societies and fraternities.

The KA's are having a post-game celebration in the Andrew Johnson hotel in Knoxville, tomorrow. Cas Lane is making the arrangements.

Bill and George Griffith will hold open house at their home near London for the KA's return from Knoxville Sunday.

The KD's entertained with an open house for the Phi Delts and Kappa Sigs last Saturday afternoon.

The Sigma Nu's were guests of the Delta Zetas at an open house Friday afternoon.

The Kappa Sigs held their fall formal Friday night at the Lexington Country Club. Bob Bledt's orchestra played. The arrangements were made by Bob Kaiser. About 200 guests were present.

The new ATO initiates were guests at dinner at the Phoenix hotel Sunday evening. A buffet supper and open house were given by the ATO's following the West Virginia game.

Bill Lamb, social chairman, made the arrangements. The Delta Zeta pledges entertained the pledges of other societies Thursday afternoon. Carolyn Davis and Frank Sheehan were in charge of the arrangements.

The Delts entertained their dates with a buffet supper and house dance after the game Saturday. Jack McNeal and Ted Beck were in charge.

Sunday, the Delta Zetas will have a tea in honor of their housemother, Mrs. Timothy Pennington. Pat Hine is making the arrangements.

Although the emphasis has been on interfraternity relations this month, the Sigma Nus by inviting the Kappas to use the SN house for a Kappa open house, have set a precedent that is already being eagerly followed by other fraternities. Rumor has it that several other of the frat's immediately offered their houses to the Kappas and then fretted for not having thought of it first.

After the SN open house it was heard that the Delts were next to offer their house and services.

The 1947 Dream Girl of Kentucky is making the arrangements for Friday night at the chapter's annual formal dance which will be held at the Lexington Country Club.

The Dream Girl will be selected from candidates representing 10 social societies at the University. The presentation ceremonies will be broadcast over Lexington radio station WKLX.

Tulane Game First For UK Students

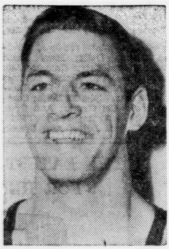

Coach Adolph Rupp's Southeastern basketball champions get their season under way next week with Thursday and Saturday night games in Alumni gym. Though the schedule opens Thursday night against Indiana Central, the starter from a student standpoint will be the weekend so against Tulane. For this is the first tilt assigned to UK entrants. It is in the group of games, for which odd-numbered activity books are good.

The Thanksgiving night inaugural has been allotted to the public because of Alumni gym's limited seating space, will be the second part of a sports double-header. Murray and Henry Clay High schools will meet in the annual Shrine football game on Stoll field that afternoon.

The Hoosiers won six, lost eight last year, are expected to employ fast break as typical strategy of basketballers. The Indianapolis school was signed after about 20 schools had been contacted according to Bernie Shively, athletic director.

Tulane brings a much more impressive record, having won 15 and lost only six in court campaigning last winter. The Green Wave is annually among the better SEC quintets.

Coach Rupp has not decided on a starting lineup. Jim Jordan, All-American at North Carolina, is expected to lead the team. Alex Groza, standout here prior to Army duty, Bob Brannan, All-American here before service in khaki, Ken Rollins, regular on the 1942-43 'cat five; Buddy Parker, another letterman; Joe Holland, from last year's team and Jack Tingle, star for two seasons are among those sure to see action.

"Wah-Wah" Jones will trade his molehills for cage tops next week, when he joins the basketballers. He was a starter on last year's quintet that won the Southeastern conference championship and the national invitational tournament and 28 of 29 games.

Alex Groza returns to Kentucky's basketball team after Army duty. He was mentioned as a possible All-American before entering the service midway in the 1944-45 season.

XX, SN Undefeated In Volleyball Play

As fourteen teams entered in the volleyball tournament continue to meet on the hardwood court, it becomes more and more apparent which teams will play in the elimination tourney.

Again the Sigma Xi's are presenting a strong aggregation, along with the Sigma Nu. Both teams are undefeated. Other teams that are showing well in the round-robin play are the SAE's, Phi Tau and Phi Sigma Kappas.

Only two more nights of play remain in preliminary bouts. After that the top four teams in each division, according to their win-loss percentage will be seeded in the tourney for the trophies.

Senior intramural manager, W. W. Cooper, said he hoped to have drawings made and be ready to start final contests on December 2. This would wind up the tourney before final exams start.

Finals in the tennis singles and doubles still remain to be played. Cooper said the final meets would be held just as soon as possible, and requests contestants to keep in touch with the intramural office. As soon as the winners are determined, presentation of trophies will be made.

Winter quarter intramurals will begin soon after the start of the quarter. Basketball will be featured, with boxing and wrestling. Plans for additional winter sports are being made.

Guignol Did It Again

By Casey Goman

This is the tenth Guignol review I have written since I entered the University, and, as always, Guignol did it again. Did it again, that is, and turned in an excellent performance.

Dunster Pettit, as Catherine Apley, dominates every scene in which she appears, and the regular fire-nights tell me that that is a habit of hers, for she is a member of Guignol of long standing.

Ed Mills, with his facility for becoming the person whom he is portraying, is a smooth and convincing old line Bostonian—even George Apley himself would approve, I think.

One of the finest characterizations on the set is that of Jane Willing. Her lines are pitiful, and Mrs. Ratchford plays them well.

The set for The Late George Apley deserves mention, too. It is attractive, as are all Mr. Fowler's sets, and, in the main, authentic. There has been discussion over the one-color woodwork and walls, with the authenticists maintaining that the woodwork should be dark, but my vote stays with the set, as it is, I think.

John Rehm, Jack Penton, Frank Johnson, Dabney George, James Snyder, Marjorie VanArsdale, Douglas Hancock, Alice Dean, June Bridges, Phillip B. Bell, George Herndon and J. Reid Sterrett, with Ralph Carter taking Mr. Sterrett's part Friday and Saturday nights, complete the cast.

Frank Fowler, director, and his associate, Wally Briggs, did it, and it is exceedingly seable. And, it will run all next week, with the exception of Thanksgiving day. Tickets on sale at the box office.

The local Blue Devils of Coach John Heber won their third straight Central Kentucky Conference title this fall, were defeated only out of eight, was tied in an upset by Russellville, 7-7, completes its scheduled season against Park, Tenn. this week.

Henry Clay's hand will be on hand; Murray's musical representatives will come if rooming arrangements can be worked out. Tickets for the game are $2 for seats in the boxes, $1.50 for any other place in the stadium. Oleika Temple of Lexington is sponsor.

Information gives YOU the answers... who gives them to HER?

A lot of people take the Information Service of the Bell System for granted. Little do they realize what it takes to answer some two and a half million questions during a normal day.

Of course it takes operators... over 12,000 highly skilled "Information" operators.

But, in addition, it takes a staff of trained executive personnel.

They plan this service for cities and towns across the country so that "Information" can quickly find the latest listings of the many telephones within her area—from records that are brought up to date daily. And it is they who study operating methods and equipment in the never-ending search to make this service ever faster, ever better.

Is it any wonder that today, more than ever before, management is interested in young men with imagination and ambition... men to develop with the industry?

Many Memories Of Vol Games Among Kentucky Coaches

Not only does the Tennessee-Kentucky game represent the Wildcats' game of the year, but the renewal of an old rivalry to six of the seven coaches. The seventh mentor—and coach Mike Ballisaris—is a former Vol star himself, flanked against the Cats from 1939 through 1941.

Head man Paul Bryant, assistants Frank Moseley and Carnay Lashie, became exponents of the "Best Tennessee" theme while playing for Alabama's Crimson Tide. Ted Atkinson, three-year letterman at Vanderbilt and captain in 1941, also regards this as much more than a game, for the Commodores and Vols are bitter interstate rivals. Bill McCubbin and Eral Allen saw too many Vol victories while Wildcats warriors themselves.

Ballisaris has scored every Tennessee game this year, has been around so much that some Volunteer fans probably think he has stayed on as a coach. A victory over his old mates would be pleasant potition for the Pennsylvanian in his first year as a coach. Six of his former teammates, Drost, Mitchell, Price, Hubbell, Slater, and Gold, are still on the Tennessee roster. Price and Drost will start at guards, Hubbell at left end, Mitchell at quarterback and Slater at left half in Saturday's game.

The "Bear" has the most available memory of Tennessee outcomes, for the '34 and '35 Bama teams he played on topped the Vols every season. Moseley's mates had less luck against the Tennesseans, losing in Mose's sophomore and junior years, but winning in his seniority. He and Bryant played together in 1933. Lashie also saw two Tennessee triumphs over Alabama in his career at the Capstone, the same defeats that Moseley remembers, for the two were teammates in 1931 and '32. Lashie's first year on the varsity included a win over the Vols, however.

Vandy's Atkinson and UK's Allen and McCubbin have never seen their buddies on the winning side of a score against Tennessee. The closest Allen ever came to success was in 1941, when he flipped a pass to Bill Portwood early in the game for Kentucky's first score against the Vols since 1936. The tally put the Cats ahead for short-lived joy, but the game was a 20-0 success.

PHELPS, CUTCHIN TOP STATISTICS

"Dopey" Phelps leads Wildcat gridiron in three departments of individual statistics—total points scored, kickoff returns and punt run backs. The outstanding freshman has tallied 42 points on seven touchdowns. Phil Cutchin ranks second with 35, of which 20 have been counted on conversions. A field goal and two touchdowns complete his total.

Wallace Jones, flashy flanker running with 36, all via pass catches. Pullback Bill Chambers and Jack Harris, out since the Georgia game with injuries, have 18 each to their fourth. Jim Kennard and Gene Meeks have registered two six-pointers each. Charlie Bentley, George Sengle, Dennis Rice, Ben Heininger, Norman Klein, Bill Portwood, Jerry Claiborne, Dick Hensley have a touchdown apiece. Bill Schaffitz blocked punt against Xavier, Bill Boller's four conversions complete Wildcat scoring, except for one marker Eral Allen ran across before his ineptibility.

Cutchin is far ahead in passing, second in punting. He has tallied 363 yards on 25 tosses, has kicked 68 times for 1011—an average of 28.1. Boller is second among tossers, having heaved 11 times for 160 yards. George Blanda leads in punting after his 25 boots that have scored 1029 yards for an average of 39.6 per kick.

Jim Kennard's 166 yards in 26 tries—an average of 6.3 per effort—leads in this department. Phelps has gained 261 on 45 occasions for a 5.8 average. Carl Genito with 4.5, Chambers with 4.4, and Bill Moseley with 4.2 follow these two.

Phelps 42.3 average on 3 kickoff returns leads Chambers, who has run back seven for 229 yards and a 32.7 mark. "Dopey" is far in front on punt returns, however; he has travelled 242 yards in 10 times, an average of 24.2 per pallop. Rice with 15.5 in eight runs that garnered 124 yards, Meeks with a 11.3 average from six returns that netted 63 yards are other leaders in this phase of play.

Phelps, Cutchin, Big Claws In 'Cat Win Over W. Va.

Tennessee's Volunteers will probably be "half-minded" in Saturday's Knoxville fray since Kentucky's erratic pinch seems concentrated at these positions. Phil Cutchin at left half is the team's ace passer and field general; "Dopey" Phelps at the right one is leading punter-prodicer with 42 talled foot markers as the Cats won 13-0 over West Virginia Mountaineers Saturday in the 1946 home finale on muddy field.

Despite a steady drizzle, a near-jampy crowd was on hand as Kentucky registered its seventh success in nine starts and its best won-loss record since 1912. Passing was held to a minimum by the slippery pigskin, uniforms were so dirty it was difficult to tell who was who. Once in the third quarter on a Statue of Liberty play, when Phelps took the ball from Cutchin, many fans thought a Mountaineer had taken the pigskin. Phelps' jersey was so muddy. Another indication of weather's effect was the low total of pass attempts. The visitors tried eight, one more than the Wildcats, and each down completed two.

Cutchin's brilliant valdictory here was a brilliant valdictory here for Cutchin, so the Murray senior.

MUSING with Melton

By Baxter Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

The old saying of "Anything can happen and usually does" is particularly applicable to the Kentucky-Tennessee football feud which has its forty-second renewal in Knoxville Saturday. These "side-shows" are not necessarily confined to the game itself, as a resume of past performances will show.

"Shipreck" Kelly, as colorful as he was capable, is the subject of many tales about the "good of days." "Shipreck's" doggedness deed probably came in the 1931 Cat-Vol clash, when he ran up into Stoll field box seats to avoid Tennessee tacklers who allegedly were "laying for him." The "Wreck" is better remembered by the neighboring states, though, as a leading penman in the sad stories—from a Vol view—during his years on the varsity.

Cat Wins Costly

In that '31 game Tennessee could have won undisputed championship of the Southern conference—the Southeastern was two years away—by toping Kentucky. The Tennesseans were held to a 6-6 tie by the Wildcats, led by Kelly and Ralph Kercheval. Kercheval became one of the greatest all-time kickers, played professional ball almost a decade after leaving Kentucky. "Shipreck's" most recent news note was his marriage to Brenda Prazer, New York debutante and heir to millions.

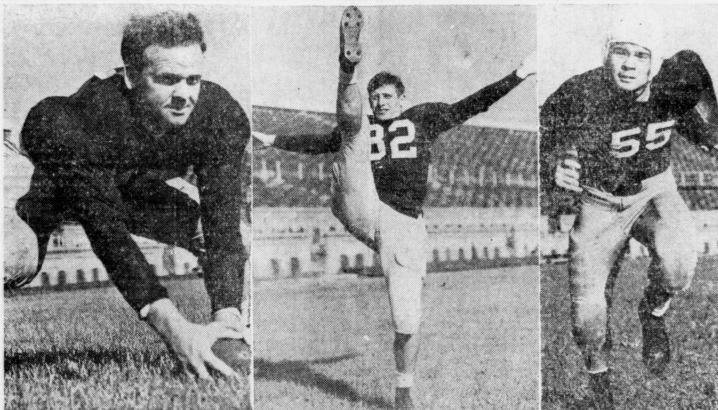

From 1929 to 1931, however, "Shipreck" probably thought as much of wedding bells as he did the Siberian garbage situation. Two Tennessee players in particular among football foes he married about. These three seasons were the hey-day of Backman and McEver, Tennessee's "touchdown twins," more commonly known as "Hack and Mack." Both made All-American selections, were kings in the Vol offense. Quarterbacking for Tennessee then was Bobby Dodd, now head coach at Georgia Tech. The Wildcats also knocked the Volunteers out of a conference title in 1929 by another Tennessee would have shared loop honors with "Lulu, except for that result. That was the tilt played in a snowstorm; McEver, back in safety position, rolled snowballs all afternoon as the two lines waged a great defensive battle.

And The Beer Keg

For many years an old beer keg has gone to the winner of the annual game. It rests near the Vol's bench one half, the Cats' the other. Tennessee failed to bring it to Lexington last year, but will no doubt have it at Shields-Watkins field Saturday. (Maybe they've had ownership so long, they "take things for granted.") Several years ago Lexington WCTU officials objected to the being called a "beer keg," the title of "water keg" was applied. The more popular version continues to be suppressed, however, and the barrel's one-time small contents were once again revealed in name.

UK band members might be interested in knowing that a 1930 musician had to leave his horns with a Knoxville cab driver in lieu of a fare. That same year the "Best Band in Dixie" was marching along a Knoxville street when a drunk fell into ranks, mumbled something about his old Army days.

A much more recent episode came in 1944, when the Cats again trekked to the UT site. Just 15 miles out of Knoxville a tunnel on the railroad fell in, the train reached town 16 hours later. No passage for cars or buses was available, as the dirt avalanche had happened in an inaccessible spot in the mountains. The Wildcats were due in Knoxville at 9 in the afternoon, got there at 3 the next morning. Ben Schackle of the whole affair is the fact that many out-of-state graders were in the traveling squad, took all the ribbing about Kentucky and Tennessee mountaineers seriously. They wouldn't even leave the train for a stretch, so certain were they of finding "hillbillies" or "revenuers." Tennessee won the game, 20-15.

No Bowl Teams Yet

No definite nominees have been named for the Tobacco Bowl contest December 14, but a huge list of possibilities has been narrowed down to about 18 candidates. Among these are Mississippi State, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Alabama, William and Mary, Delaware, St. Bonaventure, Penn State and Harbin-Simmons.

Kentucky is also among these, but the Cats are interested right now only in their tilt with the Vols this weekend. Rumor has it that a big bowl game awaits the Wildcats if they top Tennessee, but this lacks verification.

No Slip-Ups This Year

Many other episodes have occurred down through the years. For instance there are the times when Kentucky players slept little or none at all, because of boisterous parties in and around their hotel, self-appointed emissaries running up and down hotel corridors shouting "Yes, Vols," or a "Well beat you tomorrow" theme. Coach Paul Bryant is making sure nothing like that will happen this year. The Wildcats will stay in or around their Pullmans until game time, though the train reaches Knoxville shortly after midnight on the Kitten squad then.

Three seniors playing their last collegiate game will be co-captains of the Cats against Tennessee Saturday. They are halfbacks Phil Cutchin and Jesse Tunstall and center Charley Bill Walker. All have won three varsity letters in football, came back to UK to complete careers after military duty. Cutchin is second to Phelps among Wildcat scorers with 35 points, has accounted for almost half of the team's passing yardage and leads the Cats' attack. One other senior, Bill Portwood, will not be in uniform because of injury to UK to complete careers after military duty.

Ky. BeeCats Finish Season With 4-2-1 Final Count

Last week-end the Kentucky BeeCats listed a rousing 41-20 win over the Georgetown varsity to give them a final season count of four wins, two losses, and one tie. The junior varsity had little trouble in overcoming the Tigers, and Coach Bill McClubb used every man in the final engagement.

In addition to the Tigers, the Kentucky understudies have trampled Fort Knox twice this season and split with Miami university in two games. The tie on their record is a 7-7 affair played in their opening game with Morehead. The other loss was a 12-7 setback handed them by the Tennessee B-team. Although they have wound up their season the BeeCats will get together tomorrow morning and journey by special bus to Knoxville to witness the annual scrap between the two varsities. Several members of the JV's, who have been being pushed around all year by the big boys, may get to see action in the scrap. Any way they will be on hand to lend their moral support and maybe toss in a few suggestions from what they learned two weeks ago in their match on Shields-Watkins field.
