Gethsemani

March 26, 1960

Dear Victor?

Your special delivery reached me this morning-- is there such a thing as air mail from Lexington to Gethsemani? Anyway, everyting is all right, I will be expecting you next Saturday and hoping that the weather then turns out as beautifully as what we have today. It would be ideal for a sandwich "under the cedars". I am glad to see what I hope is the end of all this snow. May you have a very pleasant and fruitful visit with your friends, and I will look forward to seeing you, with proofs etc, next week.

Will you please pass the enclosed note about some books to Carolyn?

God bless you, then.

With every good wish-- Cordially in Christ

fr Louis
