U. K. Mourns Guy A. Huguelet

The shadow of death has cast its grim reflection across the campus of the University of Kentucky and across the hearts of the alumni, the members of the University Board of Trustees and the administrative staff.

Guy A. Huguelet, '14, chairman of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, member of the Alumni Executive Committee, member of the board of the Athletics Association and long-time supporter and friend of his Alma Mater, succumbed to a heart attack on July 23.

Here was a man who had devoted years of his life and his invaluable business acumen to the promotion of a better University of Kentucky. Here was an alumnus who had found time, although involved in innumerable personal, business, civic and social commitments, to give of his love and loyalty—unstintingly—to Alma Mater.

The University of Kentucky always has been fortunate in the unselfish loyalty of her sons and daughters. Guy A. Huguelet was in the forefront of those who were never too busy, never too involved in personal obligations to devote their undivided attention to the needs and hopes of a great University.

He was not easily expendable. However, it is not for us to doubt; rather it is for us to accept the will of God in all things and to be deeply grateful that Guy Huguelet was permitted to give so much, for so long a time, to the building of his University. His activities were so varied, his interests so wide that his imprint remains, not only within the confines of the campus but in his community, in his state and throughout the south which he loved.

Perhaps his life will be a lesson to others and through his untimely passing there may come others to take up the cudgel and to follow in his footsteps of devoted service.

His lovely wife and children have our deep sympathy in the loss of him whom they so gallantly shared with us.

Executive Committee meets second Monday night of each month, September through May 6:30 p.m. Colonial Room, Lafayette Hotel, Lexington

1956 Will Be The Year Of Decision

In the February and May issue of the KENTUCKY ALUMNUS we presented to you the anticipated program of the future for your Alumni Association, and urged you to attend the annual meeting in May and to cast your vote, either for or against an enlarged fund-raising plan whereby we hope to grow in size and scope and usefulness.

More than 400 of you attended the luncheon on May 28, at which time we held the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, and at that meeting a majority voted to cast their lot with the future, and to endorse the proposed program.

You will be notified through the columns of this magazine, by direct mail, and by word of mouth, of this new plan, but we believe that it is only fair to you to begin now to prepare you for the plan which we hope will make your Association more powerful, more independent and, thus, more influential.

Briefly, we voted on a four-point program, as follows:

1. To inaugurate the fund drive in the spring of 1956, at which time the Association expects to have a ruling from the Director of Internal Revenue giving all contributors to the Alumni Fund deductions on their tax returns.
2. Employ an assistant to the executive secretary, preferably a male graduate of the University, at a salary to be established by the steering committee after interviews with the person selected.
3. That the Executive Committee be authorized to borrow sufficient funds from our life membership cumulative Fund to finance the campaign and reorganization for the first three years.

4. Recommend to the general membership that as of 1956-57 the annual dues be changed from the current two and three dollar memberships to one classification of ($5.00) five dollars per membership, which will include subscriptions to the Kentucky Kernel if desired, the Kentucky Alumnus and all other privileges of membership.

These points were voted on separately at the annual meeting, and all of them passed, which means that when your dues come due next spring the minimum membership will cost $5.00 and there will be no joint husband and wife dues.

You will see in your minutes of the annual meeting, published in this issue, that an amendment was offered to the recommendation that dues be raised to $5.00, the amendment reading that the Kentucky Kernel be sent only to those members who requested it. Both the amendment and the motion, advancing the dues to $5.00, were passed by the membership.

THIS MEANS THAT AS OF 1956, WHEN YOU PAY YOUR MEMBERSHIP DUES OF $5.00 YOU MUST REQUEST THAT THE KERNEL BE SENT TO YOU. OTHERWISE YOU WILL RECEIVE THE MAGAZINE ONLY.

Next year really will be a year of decision for you and for your University. If you feel that your University is a part of your life, if you feel that your support is necessary to it, as it undoubtedly is, and if you feel that without your moral and financial backing your Alumni Association cannot fulfill its purpose, then you will carry in your heart a sense of responsibility of partnership and love which will inspire you to give a little more and help a lot in your University's efforts to achieve greatness.

Baker, Covington Head UK Alumni

Dawson, Curlin And Townsend On Board

Homer L. Baker, of Louisville, general manager of the Louisville Cement Co., has been elected president of the UK Alumni Association for 1955-56 and Will Ed Covington, of Ashland, an associate of the Standard Slag Co., of Youngstown, Ohio, is vice president for the fiscal year which began June 1.

The three newly elected members of the executive committee, chosen with the president and vice president by the active membership in a mail ballot last spring, are R. R. Dawson, Bloomfield, president of the R. R. Dawson Bridge Co.; William P. Curlin, of Frankfort, former Kentucky Commissioner of Highways and now connected with the Kentucky Concrete Pipe Co., and William H. Townsend, prominent Lexington attorney and historian. The three board members are elected for three-year terms.

The new officers and board members were introduced at the annual alumni banquet held on May 28 at the Student Union, at which time the new president announced the nine appointive members of the board who will serve with him this year. They are: Mrs. Hampton C. Adams, Lexington; James Allen, Winchester; Edward Bennett, Frankfort; Paul G. Blazer, Jr., Ashland; J. David Francis, Bowling Green; William Gant, Owensboro; T. H. Hardwick, Lexington; J. Ray Jenkins, Elizabethtown, and A. E. Walker, Mt. Sterling.

At the May meeting of the executive committee of the UK Alumni Association a graduating senior and a member of next year's senior class were selected to serve as honorary members of the committee next year. They are: James Levin, of Williamsburg, 1955 graduate, and Helen Vance Gilb of Lexington, a 1956 graduate.

H. L. Roydon, '23, P.O. Box 3707 Phoenix, Ariz., wants a 1923 Annual. Any alumnus having one to spare is requested to contact him at above address.

1905 Celebrates Golden Jubilee

Sixteen members of the class of 1905 returned last May to celebrate the Golden Anniversary of their graduation, and with pomp and circumstance were presented to President H. L. Donovan by Homer L. Baker, president of the UK Alumni Association, at the University's 88th annual commencement exercises.

Escorted to the commencement platform by Lt. Robert L. Able of the Department of Military Science and Tactics, the members of the 1905 class were individually presented to President Donovan, and then were given Half Century Club certificates by President Baker. Following commencement the entire class held a reunion luncheon at the Lafayette Hotel.

Those present for the occasion were: Edgar Allen Cline, Kansas City, Mo.; Harry G. Edwards, Jacksonville, Ill.; George Hubbard Gilbert, Lawrenceburg; William Henry Grady, Louisville; Clarence Walter Ham, Lexington; Fayette Johnston, Lexington; Mrs. Inga Werness Kirby, Flint, Mich.; Max West Powell, Winnetka, Ill.; Wilmott Kenney Prewitt, Mt. Sterling; V. D.

AT THE THRESHOLD OF GREATNESS!

Last April the Newcomen Society of North America honored President H. L. Donovan and the University of Kentucky. President Donovan was guest of honor and delivered the address on the occasion of the Newcomen Society's "1955 Kentucky Dinner" held April 14 in Lexington.

This address by President Donovan, in which he brought out certain epochal events in the University's history is one of the finest exposition's of a University travails and history which has ever been recorded. Printed for the Necomen Society by the Princeton University Press, a number of copies are still available in the office of President Donovan.

If you wish to obtain a copy for your library, please address your request to Miss Lucy Hogan, President's Office, University of Kentucky.

'55 Reunions Hit New High In Gaiety

'30 Class Draws Largest Numbers

UK's new week-end reunion plan, inaugurated last May 28, 29 and 30 as a prelude to commencement, was a huge success, judging from the numbers and the enthusiasm evident at all reunion functions.

The class of 1930, celebrating its 25th reunion under the local chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence (Kathleen Fitch) Shropshire, carried off honors as the class with the largest attendance, which reunion was highlighted by a party at the Campbell House on Saturday evening, following the annual alumni banquet.

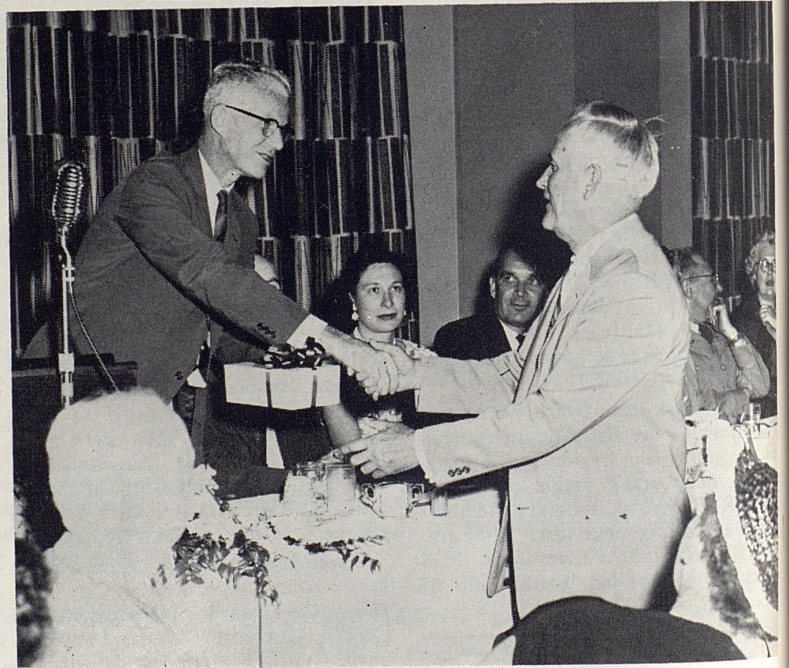

John Benson of Pittsburgh, president of the 1930 class, presided at the party at the Campbell House, and Waller Jones of Lexington served as master of ceremonies.

The local class committee, headed by the Shropshires, had worked out detailed plans for a wonderful reunion, highlighted by the presentation of gifts in various classifications of "the fattest," the "smallest waistline," the "least hair," the "most children," etc. Nearly one hundred members of the class enjoyed the festivities and pronounced the reunion the best ever.

Alumni Day opened Saturday, May 28, with registration in the Music Room of the Student Union from 10 to 12 a.m. Coffee, cokes and cookies were served to the reuners by the Alumni Association. At 12:30 the alumni adjourned to Donovan Hall, new residence hall for men, where lunch was served, followed by the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, at which outgoing President Newton W. Neel, of Henderson, presided. At the close of the meeting Mr. Neel introduced Mr. Guy A. Huguelet, chairman of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, who presided at the dedication of Donovan Hall. President H. L. Donovan, for whom the new building has been named, gave a brief address concerning the size and beauty of the building, as well as its cost.

From 3 until 5 p.m. the alumni

President Newton W. Neel presented souvenirs of the occasion to the alumnus who travelled the greatest distance and to the oldest alumnus present. At top, the Hon. Augustus Owsley Stanley, former Kentucky Governor and U.S. Senator, of the class of 1890, Washington, D.C., received the gift as the representative of the oldest class, and below, Charles Rainey, '15, of Fallbrook, Calif., is rewarded for coming the longest distance.

Guy A. Huguelet Succumbs July 23

Guy A. Huguelet, 64, chairman of the board of Southeastern Greyhound Lines, died at 10:10 a.m. July 23 at St. Joseph's Hospital. He had been a patient there since June 28 and had undergone surgery.

Huguelet was one of Lexington's most prominent business and civic leaders and he was a pioneer in the bus transportation field in the South.

Under his direction, Southeastern Greyhound Lines grew from a small isolated passenger motor carrier to the world's largest intercity bus line. Last fall, Southeastern merged with Dixie and Teche Greyhound Lines and Huguelet became chairman of the board of the merged companies, still known as Southeastern Greyhound Lines. He said then that he planned to retire from active duty "sometime late in 1955" after the merger was completed.

Huguelet was born in Charleston, S. C., Jan. 1, 1891, and was a son of George Arthur and Mamie Melchers Huguelet. He was an only child. He attended Charleston schools.

He joined the Southern Railway System in 1906 at Charleston and resigned in 1912 to enter the University of Kentucky College of Law, receiving his LL.B. degree in 1914. He returned to Southern, serving at Charleston, Washington and St. Louis.

He was admitted to the bar in Kentucky in December, 1914. He left Southern in April, 1915, to begin practice of law at Lexington. He did court reporting to augment his earnings as a young lawyer.

Huguelet served in civilian capacity during World War I with the Signal Corps in transportation in Washington, D. C. He resumed his Lexington law practice in 1918, and was assistant corporation counsel for the City of Lexington from 1924 to 1929.

While practicing law he was associated with R. W. Keenon in the law firm of Keenon & Huguelet, which later became Keenon, Huguelet & Odear. He has not been active in the practice of law since 1930, but he had maintained his identity as a lawyer and was an associate of the law firm of Stoll, Keenon and Park. He was a member of the American Bar Association, the Kentucky Bar Association, and the Fayette County Bar Association.

He entered the passenger motor transportation field in the early stages of the industry in 1923 at Lexington. He was prominent in organizing several earlier carriers in Kentucky, and on Oct. 1, 1926, was one of the organizers of Southeastern Greyhound Lines, then known as Consolidated Coach Lines.

He was secretary and counsel of the original company, and soon was made president of Southeastern Greyhound, a position he maintained until last September, when he was elevated to chairman of the board.

Southeastern Greyhound was listed as an independent company on the New York Stock Exchange until it was merged in 1951 into the Greyhound Corp. Huguelet was a member of the executive committee and a director of the First National Bank & Trust Co.; director of the Lafayette Hotel; director of the Lafayette Drug Co.; secretary and director of the Southern Belle Dairy Co., Inc., Somerset; president and director of the Somerset Catering Co., Cabometer, Inc., Anniston, Ala.; Metal Specialists, Inc., St. Petersburg, Fla., and a director of the Kentucky Research Foundation. He also had oil interests in Texas.

Huguelet was president and a director of the Keeneland Association, a member of the board of trustees and chairman of the executive committee of the University of Kentucky. He also was a director of the University of Kentucky Athletic Association and a member of the executive committee of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association. College football was his favorite sport.

He was a member of the American Branch of the Newcomen Society of England, Filson Club, Henry Clay Memorial Foundation, John Bradford Society, Kentucky Historical Society, and a life member of the Huguonot Church Council. He has been listed in Who's Who in America since 1946. He was an Episcopalian, a Sigma Nu and a registered Independent in politics.

He was a member of the Lexington

Club, the Lexington Country Club, the Pendennis Club of Louisville, American Yachtsmen's Association, Thoroughbred Club of America, Florida Yacht Club and Ponte Vedra Club of Jacksonville, Cumberland Lake Yacht Club, and Idle Hour Country Club, of which he was a member of the board of governors.

He maintained a summer home at Harbor Springs, Mich. Yachting and cruising were his principal hobbies. He had owned boats in Florida and maintained a cabin cruiser on Lake Cumberland.

Huguelet's latest civic activity was to serve as chairman of the campaign to obtain $1,000,000 for a new St. Joseph's Hospital.

Huguelet was married in 1917 to Mary Lovell Whitney of Lexington. She died in 1927. In 1929, he married Mrs. Angeline McCormick DeLong, a widow.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John L. Christian, St. Louis, and Mrs. Douglas S. Bradley, Lexington; a son, 2nd Lt. Guy A. Huguelet Jr., stationed at Camp Rucker, Ala.; a stepson, Joe C. DeLong Jr., Lexington, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Frank B. Johnson, Lexington.

The body was taken to the W. R. Milward Mortuary.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock July 25 at the Church of the Good Shepherd, the Rev. Clarke Bloomfield officiating. Burial was in the Lexington Cemetery.

'55 Reunion Hits New High were guests of President and Mrs. Donovan at a reception on the lawn at Maxwell Place, and at six p.m. the annual alumni banquet was held at the Student Union.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m., and Monday morning at 10 a.m. the 88th annual commencement was held in Memorial Coliseum.

Classes returning were: 1905, 1907, 1915 and 1930 for special reunions; and 1921, '22, '23, and '24, and 1941, '42, '43, and '44, for regularly scheduled reunions.

ALUMNUS

1907 Celebrates Its 48th!

Makes Plans For Golden Anniversary

The class of 1907, biennial reunion class which comes back regularly, over mountains, across rivers and through deserts, returned last May for its 48th reunion, and approximately 50 per cent of the living members of the class were present.

The group established headquarters at the Lafayette Hotel, and in addition to attending the various reunion functions, the 1907 class held a dinner on Sunday evening, at which class members, wives and husbands were present.

Class members came back from as far away as Palo Alto, Calif., and Midland, Texas, New York, Birmingham, Ala., Baton Rouge, La., Chicago and Columbus, Ohio.

A. M. Kirby, Palo Alto, Calif., president of the class presided at the dinner meeting, at which time Mr. J. J. Yager of Buffalo, N. Y., introduced a proposal that the class membership make up a fund within the next two years, and in 1957, when they celebrate their Golden Jubilee, to present the fund to the University for such use and purpose as the class will designate at that time. The idea was unanimously adopted, and the president appointed Mr. Yager, and Louis Hillenmeyer and C. A. Mahan, both of Lexington, as custodians of the fund.

The Cover—

The AUGUST ALUMNUS was ready to go to press, featuring the class of 1905 on the cover, when the sad news of Guy A. Huguélet's death reached the office.

With sorrow and regret we changed the make-up of the magazine so that Mr. Huguélet's picture could be used.

This is by way of explanation to the class of 1905 whose picture has been relegated to page 27. We are sure they will understand.

Virgil Couch, '30, director of the Industry Office of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, Battle Creek, Mich., addressed his classmates and fellow alumni at the annual reunion banquet last May. In his speech, Mr. Couch told a large body of alumni that it is "good business to put your shoulder to the wheel in support of the University's future developments."

Back row, same order: W. S. Hamilton, Louisville; F. H. Lawson, Libertyville, Ill.; Col. B. E. Brewer, Lexington; Robert S. Hart, Lexington, Ben F. Scherffius, Murray, Ky.; Louis Hillenmeyer, Lexington; J. M. Sprague, Birmingham, Ala.; J. J. Yager, Buffalo, N. Y.; R. L. Acker, Cincinnati; A. S. Karsner, Lexington; William D. Woodward, Baton Rouge, La.; and James S. Stigers, Frankfort.

KY. MAN IN ATOMIC RESEARCH PROGRAM

Ed Hermann, '42, of Ft. Mitchell, Ky., formerly chief of sanitation at Los Alamos, New Mexico, has left the atomic energy plant to study for his doctorate at the University of Texas, and to work as research engineer at Balcones Research Center.

The research program is sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission and deals with operation of waste water oxidation, ponds, biological treatment of laboratory wastes, and removal of radio-active isotopes.

Mr. Hermann was with the T.V.A. in Knoxville, Tenn., immediately following his graduation from UK, he then taught in the Army training program at his Alma Mater, served for a period with the U.S. Navy during World War II and attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he obtained his master's degree.

Before going to Los Alamos he was associated with Loomis Engineers in northern Kentucky.

Two Of Country's Coveted Awards Go To UK Graduates

Two 1955 graduates of the University of Kentucky—both English majors—are winners of two of the most coveted awards offered in this country.

They are Barbara Joyce Lake, of Winchester, and Jack L. Nelson, of Lexington. Miss Lake has accepted an educational exchange award under the Fulbright program, which will enable her to study one year in England. Mr. Nelson has been named a Danforth Fellow and has selected Harvard University for advance study.

In addition to winning the Fulbright grant Miss Lake was named a Woodrow Wilson Fellow for the current year. Although she chose the Fulbright grant in preference to the other, she will be known as an honorary Woodrow Wilson Fellow. She will spend the academic year 1955-56 at the University of Liverpool as a general student in the department of English Literature. She will sail from New York September 14.

Mr. Nelson will enter Harvard in September. His appointment is for one year, with expectation of annual renewal throughout the years of graduate study if the record is distinguished.

Both young alumni were graduated from UK May 30 with high distinction in English. Following their graduate study, both plan to teach English.

UNIVERSITY GIVEN ENGINEERING GRANT

A $10,000 grant to aid deserving engineering students has been made to UK by the David B. Steinman Foundation.

Dr. Steinman, a New York engineer, who recently directed the reworking of Brooklyn Bridge, set up the Foundation. The suspension bridge expert, a friend of Dean D. V. Terrell, is an honorary member of the Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers.

Dean Terrell said the grant would probably be used in $100 and $500 amounts on an "honor loan scholarship" basis. In this program, a student would be expected, but not required, to repay the loan sometime after graduation.

Sullivan Awards To Alumna And Outstanding Graduates

Miss Emma Woerner

AG STAFF MEMBERS HONORED FOR WORK

The United States Department of Agriculture has given recognition to two members of the Agricultural Extension staff of the University for their outstanding work.

They are Russell Hunt, field agent in agronomy, and Clyde Watts, county agent in Carroll county.

The two were among 119 persons from several states to get recognition last June in Washington, D.C. Each was presented with the Superior Service award.

Mr. Hunt is a 1918 graduate of the UK College of Agriculture. His citation reads: "For his success in assisting rural families to adopt better and more productive farming practices, thereby greatly increasing family income, improving family living conditions and providing greater security."

Mr. Watts is a 1923 graduate of UK's College of Agriculture. His citation was "for encouraging families to adopt improved farm and home practices which improved the economic, social and physical well-being of the people in Carroll county."

The University of Kentucky's Sullivan Medallions were presented this year to an outstanding alumna of the institution, and to two graduating seniors who had distinguished themselves in scholarship and leadership during their four years at UK.

The awards, made at the 88th annual commencement exercises on May 31, went to Miss Emma Woerner, '05, retiring principal of the J. M. Atherton High School, Louisville and to Miss Ann Marie O'Roark, Washington, D. C. and Leslie W. Morris, II, Lexington, the 1955 graduates.

Miss Woerner was graduated in 1905 from UK, after which she journeyed to Straight Creek, Ky., to teach in the primary grades in Bell county. After five years experience as a rural teacher she returned to Louisville where she taught at practically all levels in the Louisville city schools. In 1924 she became principal of Atherton, a position she held until her retirement at the end of last year's school term.

Her citation said Miss Woerner was "a dedicated educator, on call as counselor, teacher, friend and arbiter. Her service has attracted attention not only on a statewide level, but on a national level as well. By enriching the lives of thousands of Kentucky students, Miss Emma J. Woerner has proven herself not only an outstanding educator but also a loyal and true Kentuckian whose ideals of service, character, leadership and courage will live forever."

Miss O'Roark, daughter of Col. Dulaney L. O'Roark, is the third generation of her family to be graduated from UK. Her grandfather, the late L. S. O'Roark, '10, was a distinguished engineering school graduate. Her father holds a B.S.M.E. degree from UK in 1931, and her uncle, Granville J. O'Roark, was graduated in 1933. Her brother, Dulaney, Jr. is presently a student at the University.

Both Miss O'Roark and Mr. Morris were graduated with high distinction.

Members Of Allen Clan Spent 31-Year Total As U. K. Students

Eight Children Hold 7 Degrees

With Betty Sue Allen's graduation from the University of Kentucky in June 1954, Mr. and Mrs. Elva D. Allen of Henderson, Kentucky, R.R. No. 1, probably heaved a sigh of relief. This ended a 19-year period which saw one or more of their 8 children enrolled at the University continuously—7 of them in the College of Agriculture. The long "seige" began in the fall of 1935 when Cyrus D. entered the College of Agriculture. He was followed in February 1936 by Carl W. Both obtained B.S. degrees in Agriculture in 1939—Cyrus in May and Carl in August.

In the fall of 1938, Raymond E. followed and was a junior in the College of Agriculture when he joined the Air Corps in April 1941 as a flying cadet. By this time the pattern was fairly well set. Anna Mae entered Home Economics as a dietetic major in 1940 and was graduated in 1944. Rozella was in Home Economics—entering in 1941 and being graduated in 1945.

Martha Jean, probably to break the monotony, entered the College of Commerce and was ready to start her senior year when other more important events took place. H. Donald got back in the groove when he entered as an Agriculture student in 1947 and finished in 1951. Betty Sue was a Home Economics major—entering in 1950.

Since leaving the University of Kentucky, the Allens have been active in their chosen professions. They have been interrupted somewhat by both World War II and the Korean War; but like other events, they have been taken in regular stride without missing a step. Briefly, the record runs something like this.

Cyrus worked for the Agricultural Extension Service for a while and then the sub-station at Princeton. He was farming near New Albany, Indiana, when called to duty from the Reserves in early 1942. He served as an infantry officer until after V.J. day. He is back farming at Borden, Indiana, and teaches a veteran's agriculture class. He was married to Irene Birk, Ex. 1939, in October 1939 and they have two children.

Carl also worked for the Agricultural Extension Service for a year and re-entered the University of Kentucky to do graduate work in Farm Economics in 1940. Within days after being granted a M.S. degree in August 1941, he was called to duty with the Army Air Corps. Shortly after being released from active duty as a Lieutenant Colonel in 1946, he started doing research and graduate work at Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa. For the past 5 years, he has been an associate professor of agricultural economics at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Virginia. He was granted a Ph.D. degree from Iowa State College in 1954. He was married to Marion Kuebler, Home Economics 1940, in May 1939; and they have two children.

Raymond won his wings as a pilot and was commissioned five days after Pearl Harbor. He served as a pilot during the War and was killed in the service in June 1946. He was married to Carolyn Hall, Ex. 1940, in December 1941 and two children survive.

Anna Mae taught school a year at Henderson, Kentucky and then interned in Dietetics at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago for a year. After this, she worked in Louisville as a dietician. She was married to M/Sgt. Walter T. Jordan USAF, in 1947, and

THE K

Alumnus Is Head Of Steel Corporation

Robert R. Estill, ex. '13, of Lexington, has been elected president of the Green River Steel Corporation.

Mr. Estill is a retired employee of the U.S. Steel Corporation. He joined the company in 1938 as superintendent of its Lynch, Ky., coal mines in Harlan county. When he retired recently, he was superintendent of its fluorospar properties in Crittenden county.

Mr. Estill was lent by U.S. Steel in 1947 to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, military governor of Germany, to serve as American chairman of United States and United Kingdom coal control in Germany. He kept the post 14 months.

He is a veteran of World War I, was chief engineer for the Great Southern Refining Co. at Lexington from 1919 to 1925 and from 1925 to 1930 was with the Consolidation Coal Co. at Jenkins, Ky., as superintendent of mines and superintendent of mechanization. From 1930 to 1933 Mr. Estill was West Virginia State mine inspector and director of safety.

For five years after that, until he joined U.S. Steel, he was general manager of three small coal operating companies in Southern West Virginia, in which he held an interest. He retired from U.S. Steel last August, a year before his required retirement date.

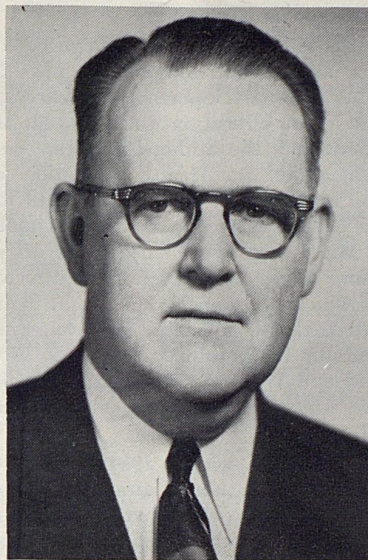

THREE UK MEN FORM LAW PARTNERSHIP

Thomas P. Bell, '48, Walter C. Cox, '48, and Darrell B. Hancock, '49, Lexington attorneys, have formed an association for the practice of law. They will have offices at 404-08 Citizens Union Bank building, along with County Judge Dan E. Fowler, A.B. '32, LL.B. '33.

Judge Fowler and Bell were in partnership formerly, but the partnership was dissolved when Fowler became county judge since state law prohibits a county judge from being a member of a firm.

All three attorneys are UK graduates. Bell is a native of Fayette county, Cox of Garrard county and Hancock of Webster county. All three are World War II veterans and all are member of the Fayette and Kentucky Bar Associations.

UK Man Is Chairman Of Board Of World's Biggest Bank

Jesse W. Tapp

Jesse W. Tapp, B.S. in Ag. '20, Honorary Doctor of Laws, '53, formerly of Corydon, Ky., has been elected chairman of the board of directors of the world's biggest bank, the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association in San Francisco.

Since last September Mr. Tapp has been vice chairman of the board. Before that he was executive vice president of the bank.

A native of Henderson county, Mr. Tapp has been with the bank since 1939, except for a period between 1943 and 1945 when he was president of Axton-Fisher Tobacco Company in Louisville.

He has done post graduate work at Harvard University and the University of Wisconsin. Before joining the bank, Mr. Tapp was an economist in Washington for the Department of Agriculture and was an investment analyst in New York.

Mrs. Tapp is the former Isabelle C. Dickey, also a graduate of the University.

UK Graduate Heads Camp Breckinridge

Col. James C. Smee, '38, of Lexington, a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, has been made commanding officer of Camp Breckinridge, Ky. The camp was reopened to serve as a training site for National Guard and U.S. Army reserve units this summer.

The 41-year-old colonel was born in Lexington where he was educated. Following his graduation from UK he remained here to instruct in military tactics. He saw combat in the Pacific theater with the 25th Infantry Division in World War II. He earned three bronze stars in combat.

In 1949 he became head of the military department of the University of Nevada. He was assigned to the South Korean Capitol Division as its senior U.S. Army adviser in 1951. In 1953 Colonel Smee was graduated from the Army's Command and General Staff School at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

Colonel and Mrs. Smee have four children.

Col. E. R. Young Is CO At San Antonio

Col. Edward R. Young, Corps of Engineers, who is a graduate of UK with a civil engineering degree, has been named commanding officer of San Antonio, Texas, General Depot.

Colonel Young has an extensive background in Army supply activities. For the past year he has served as engineer supply officer at San Antonio. Prior to that he was the deputy army engineer at First Army Headquarters, Governor's Island, N. Y. His overseas assignments include tours of duty in Korea, France and England.

He entered the Army on active duty in May 1942, and was graduated from the Air Force Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB, Ala., in 1943. His decorations include the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star Medal.

Col. and Mrs. Young claim Clearwater, Fla., as their permanent address.

Service Awards Go To Alums, UK Staff

Four of the six distinguished service awards given by the Kentucky Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at its annual meeting last spring in Louisville, were handed out to graduates of the University of Kentucky, faculty members or both.

The highest recognition which can go to men and women in the field of health, physical education and recreation in Kentucky, the awards were claimed by four UK men, as follows: John George Heber, athletic director and head football coach at Henry Clay High School, Lexington; Dr. Charles W. Hackensmith, a member of the faculty of the UK Department of Physical Education; Alfred M. Reece, Jr., swimming coach at UK and Dr. Don Cash Seaton, head of the University's Department of Physical Education. The first three men named hold degrees from UK.

Mr. Heber was cited for his enviable record as a coach, his program of physical education, "his steadfast attitude toward sound scholarship among athletes, his demand for good sportsmanship and team play, and his belief that the sound mental growth and physical welfare of young men under his direction is paramount."

Dr. Hackensmith was recognized for his many contributions to physical education development in Kentucky, the health education workshops he has conducted, the authorship of the current guide for Health Education in the high schools of Kentucky, and for 25 years of service to Kentucky schools.

Mr. Reece was cited for his active camp work, as a water front director in which program he has taught many hundreds of boys and girls to swim, and for his volunteer service as First Aid and Water Safety Instructor with the American Red Cross for the past 27 years.

Dr. Seaton, who in 1954 was the recipient of an honor award from the Southern District, American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, is the author of many bulletins and books on safety and physical education. He is a nationally recognized authority on safety in sports.

Members of Clan

they have four children. After being stationed in England with the Air Force, they live in Greenville, Mississippi, where Sgt. Jordan is with the Air Force.

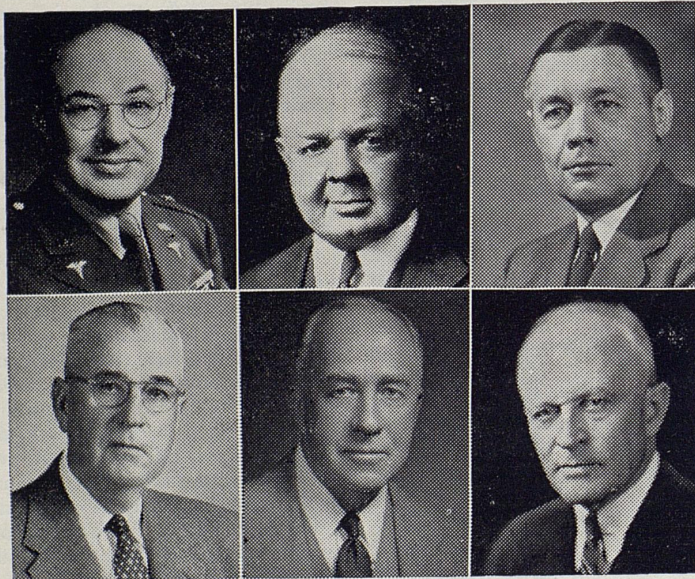

Rozella worked with the Tennessee Valley Authority in Chattanooga for about two years. Then she was Home Demonstration Agent at Madison, Indiana. She was married to Herman Hoffman in 1948, and they have four children. They reside in Madison, Indiana, where Mr. Hoffman is in the contracting business with his father.

Martha Jean's reason for not obtaining a degree is that marriage to Burt V. Halbert III, Business Administration 1948, seemed more appealing than the senior year at school. After a tour of duty in Germany with the United States Air Force, they reside in Lexington where they operate Providence Antiques on South Lime.

H. Donald went directly to the United States Air Force after graduation; and being commissioned a second lieutenant, he served most of his tour in Japan where he was married to Aiko Nakashima, a native of Nagasaki and a survivor of the atomic bombing of that town who also witnessed the actual fall of the bomb. They have one child. They reside on one of the home farms where Donald is gradually relieving his father of some of the management responsibilities connected with operating 1200 acres of farm land.

Betty Sue has been teaching school at Georgetown, Indiana, since last fall.

Summarizing, 31 years have been spent at the University of Kentucky by the eight Allen children, seven degrees from University of Kentucky, plus one from Iowa State College, four spouses, either graduates of University of Kentucky or ex-students, and 15 potential (so far) students of the second generation. Some of them are already mumbling about college; and in preparation for high school, one has already written for a catalogue.

NATIVE SONS WIN HONORARY DEGREES—Recipients of honorary degrees at the University of Kentucky's 88th annual commencement on May 30 include these six native Kentuckians: (top, l. to r.), Brig. Gen. Elbert DeCoursey, Washington, research scientist, Doctor of Science; Robert W. Woolley, Washington, lawyer and writer, Doctor of Laws; Judge James W. Cammack, Kentucky Court of Appeals, Doctor of Laws; and (bottom, l. to r.), H. D. Palmore, Frankfort, engineer and industrialist, Doctor of Science; Dr. Henry W. Cave, New York City, surgeon, scientist and author, Doctor of Science; and Tom Wallace, editor emeritus, Louisville Times, Doctor of Letters. President Harlan H. Hatcher of the University of Michigan, the commencement speaker, was named to receive the Doctor of Letters degree.

Homecoming Game With Rice Oct. 29

Before another ALUMNUS comes from the press, the 1955 homecoming football game will be a memory, so this is your one and only reminder that Saturday, October 29 is the date to circle on your calendar.

An intersectional opponent has been chosen by your Alumni Executive Committee for the Homecoming game, and the Wildcats will meet Rice on Stoll Field on October 29 at 2 p.m., but prior to the game there will be other events of interest to homecoming alumni.

That morning, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. registration for all alumni will be held in the lobbies of the Lafayette, Phoenix and Kentuckian Hotels, the Campbell House, the main foyer of Memorial Coliseum and the great hall of the Student Union.

From 11:30 to 1:30 a brunch will be served in the Bluegrass room of the Student Union, so that you may come to the campus early, find a parking place, and have lunch with your friends. This brunch will be served buffet style.

A feature event of the between-halves ceremonies that afternoon will be the presentation of the "Alumnus of the Year" award by representatives of Alma Magna Mater, and the crowning of the homecoming queen.

Following the game, the President and Mrs. Donovan will hold open house at Maxwell Place, and that night from 8:30 until 12 p.m. your Alumni Association will be your host at a free dance in Convention Hall at the Phoenix Hotel. Because of the large crowds always present at these dances, we have had to move the annual dance from the ballroom of the Lafayette to the larger Convention Hall at the Phoenix. Please note the change in location.

Published below is the 1955 football schedule:

Football Schedule—1955

Foreign Agriculture Service Names Shropshire Consultant

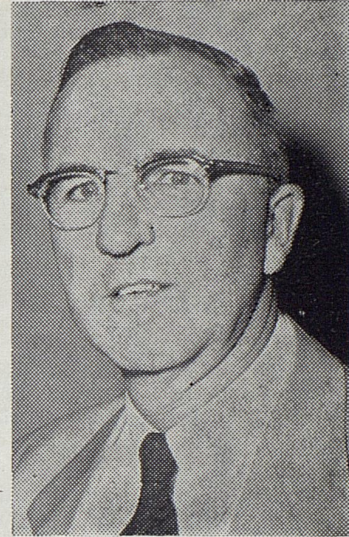

James S. Shropshire, '29, Fayette county farmer, has been named full-time consultant marketing specialist in tobacco to the Foreign Agriculture Service.

Effective last July 5, the appointment provides for an office in Washington. About a third of Mr. Shropshire's time will be spent in traveling all over the world in the interest of American tobacco.

Robert A. Owen, director of the FAS Tobacco division said in announcing the appointment that the position was created two years ago but had never been filled because of the lack of qualified people.

A native of Montgomery county, Mr. Shropshire has lived in Fayette county, on the same farm, since 1919. He has raised tobacco practically all his life. He received the B.S. degree in agriculture from UK in 1929 and spent two years in graduate work in agricultural economics and marketing. His experience also includes tobacco marketing in local warehouses. He served two years as chairman of the Fayette County Production and Marketing Administration (now Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee) and is a member of the Fayette County and Kentucky farm bureaus.

Mr. Shropshire served five years in the Infantry in World War II which he entered as a captain and was discharged as a lieutenant colonel. He participated in the invasion of Guadalcanal. He is now a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve.

Prior to entering service he was graduate manager of UK's student publication, Alumni secretary and director of the Student Union. His experience in carrying UK's budget problems to the Kentucky Legislature was "a very important factor in qualifying him for the appointment," according to Mr. Owen.

UK MAN RANKS FIRST IN MEDICAL SCHOOL

Lester Bryant, of Lexington, a 1951 graduate of UK, who received his medical degree at the University of Cincinnati's commencement exercises last June, received the Stella Feis Hoffheimer memorial prize for the senior medical student ranking first in scholarship.

The UK alumnus received the award at the Cincinnati College of Medicine alumni banquet held May 2. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bryant of Lexington, and is a 1947 graduate of Frankfort High School.

UK MAN ON HARVARD MED SCHOOL STAFF

Dr. Edward H. Kass, of Lexington, has been appointed assistant professor of medicine at the Harvard Medical School.

The Harvard Medical School is affiliated with a group of hospitals which are used for clinical teaching and investigation. Dr. Kass is also assistant physician at the Thorndike Memorial Laboratory of the Boston City Hospital. The Thorndike Laboratory was established in 1923 for medical research and is an integral part of the Harvard Medical Unit.

In addition to his teaching, Dr. Kass has written numerous articles for medical journals.

He received the A.B. (1939) and M.S. (1941) from the University of Kentucky, the Ph.D. (1943) from the University of Wisconsin and the M.D. (1947) from the University of Cal.

'30 GRAD IS GIVEN HONORARY BY UNION

Dr. Frank C. Davidson, B.A. in Journalism, '30, professor of drama at the City College of New York, received an honorary degree at Union College's (Barbourville, Ky.) 76th annual commencement exercises last May.

Dr. Davidson, a graduate of Union College and the University of Kentucky holds the master's degree from Yale University and the doctor of philosophy degree from New York University.

He is a native of Barbourville, and is the author of several plays and a regular television writer for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Harry M. Zimmerman

Seiberling Rubber Advances UK Man

Harry M. Zimmerman, a 1940 graduate of the University of Kentucky, has been appointed general manager of Seiberling Rubber Company's Plastics Division at Newcomerstown, Ohio.

A native of Louisville, Zimmerman received a bachelor of science degree in industrial chemistry in 1940. He was awarded a master's degree in chemical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1942.

Before joining Seiberling, Zimmerman was employed at the B. F. Goodrich Chemical Co. in Cleveland as a development engineer, technical service representative and sales representative.

Previously, he was a foreman and engineer for Goodrich at the synthetic rubber plant the company operated for the government in Louisville.

He is a member and past treasurer of the Akron Section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and is also a member of the Society of Plastics Engineers.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman and their five children will move to Newcomerstown later this year.

We need more members! Bring one in.

'48 GRADUATE WITH DEPAUW UNIVERSITY

A native of Louisville, Capt. James S. Tucker, has been assigned to Depauw University's Air Force unit here as adjutant and assistant professor of air science.

He graduated from Louisville Male high school and received the bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky in 1948.

An Air Force officer since 1948, Captain Tucker has served in England, France, and the continental United States.

Prior to receiving his current assignment, he completed the academic instructors course in the Air Command and Staff School at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala.

He recently returned from overseas duty in Fontainbleu, France, with Allied Air Forces Central Europe, air headquarters in the central European area for SHAEF.

UK MAN HEADS U.S. GERMAN SIGNAL POST

Lt. Col. Harold W. Rice of Philadelphia, formerly of Vanceburg, Ky., and a UK student before his graduation from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, has been named commander of the 771st Signal Procurement Center at Frankfurt, Germany.

Last stationed at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., Colonel Rice is now responsible for the procurement of all the U.S. Army Europe's signal supplies, including off shore procurement for Western European nations.

BEN KESSINGER, '47, LAW FIRM PARTNER

Ben L. Kessinger, '47, formerly of Horse Cave, Ky., United States Commissioner for the Eastern Kentucky Federal Judicial District, has become a partner in the Lexington law firm of Harbison, Kessinger, Lisle and Bush.

He has been associated in the practice of law with this firm since obtaining his law degree at UK in 1948, and he has served as U.S. commissioner since his appointment to that post in January, 1950.

During World War II he served in the U.S. Army three years, during which he saw action in the Philippines, and was discharged in 1946 with the rank of first lieutenant.

Army Medical Man 20 Years, Retires

Colonel Tom F. Whayne, Army Medical Corps, A.B. '27, formerly of Clinton, Ky., retired from the Army June 30th after more than twenty years' service. Colonel Whayne, who has been Chief of the Preventive Medicine Division in the Office of The Surgeon General since July 1951, has been appointed Professor of Preventive Medicine in the Department of Preventive Medicine and Public Health, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. He assumed his new post on July 1st.

Colonel Whayne entered the Regular Army in December 1934 after receiving his M.D. degree from the Washington University School of Medicine (St. Louis) and completing his internship at the Missouri Baptist Hospital, St. Louis.

In 1941 he was assigned as Chief of the Medical Intelligence Branch, Preventive Medicine Division, Office of The Surgeon General; and later he was assigned as Assistant Military Attache for Medicine, American Embassy, London, following which he became Chief of Preventive Medicine for the 12th U.S. Army Group during the active phase of the war in Europe.

From August 1945 to March 1946, Colonel Whayne served as Chief of the Preventive Medicine Division, Office of the Chief Surgeon, European Theater of Operations. Following this duty Colonel Whayne became Deputy Chief, Preventive Medicine Division, Office of The Surgeon General. He began his first tour of duty as chief of the division in August 1947.

Colonel Whayne studied at the Harvard School of Public Health from September 1948 to June 1950, where he earned degrees of Master of Public Health and Doctor of Public Health. He was certified a diplomate of the American Board of Preventive Medicine in 1949.

Colonel Whayne served as Military Advisor to the American Delegation to the First World Health Assembly, May and June 1948, and to the Sixth World Health Assembly, May 1953. He has also served as Army Medical Consultant to the American Board of Preventive Medicine in 1949 and from 1951 to the present time. He is the

R. D. McIntyre Named National President Of O. D. K. Society

R. D. McIntyre, professor of marketing at the University of Kentucky, has been elected national president of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership society, for a two-year term.

"Mr. Mac" as he is known to hundreds of College of Commerce graduates and former undergraduate leaders at UK, has been active in O.D.K. since the establishment of Nu Circle at the University in 1928, at which time he was initiated as a faculty member.

He has held numerous national offices in the society, and from 1931 to 1933 was chairman of O.D.K.'s national scholarship committee, served as a member of the general council from 1935 to 1937, was national treasurer from 1937 to 1953 and from 1953 until 1955 was national vice president.

In 1953 Professor McIntyre received O.D.K.'s Distinguished Service Key, the ninth key thus to be awarded.

Mr. Mac has served as president of the Central Kentucky Concert and Lecture Series, having held that office for 22 years until his resignation about a year ago.

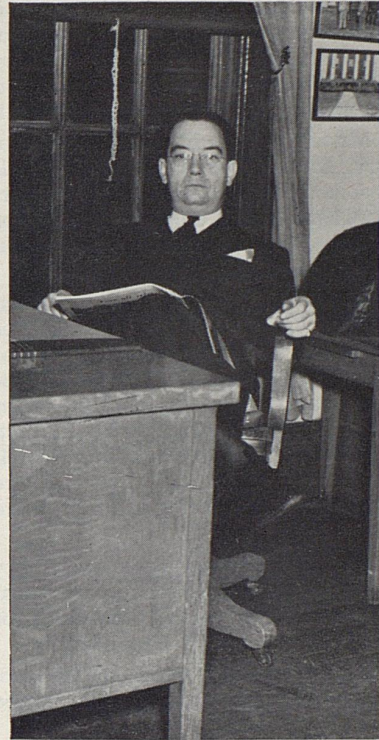

He is a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, Commerce honorary; Delta Sigma Pi; Alpha Delta Sigma and Phi Mu Alpha.

"Outstanding Young Man" Is UK Alumnus

Dr. Ivan Stewart, a native of Stanton, Ky., who holds both the B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Kentucky, has been selected as the author of numerous scientific publications.

He is a Fellow of the American Medical Association, American Public Health Association, New York Academy of Medicine, a member of the American Epidemiological Society, American Foundation of Tropical Medicine and member and former councillor, American Society of Tropical Medicine. He is also a member of the Delta Omega (honorary public health society) and Sigma Xi.

R. D. McIntyre

Winter Haven, Fla., Jaycees' "Outstanding Young Man of the Year."

Dr. Stewart, a 33-year-old biochemist who specializes in mineral nutrition of plants, has been a member of the staff of Florida's Lake Alfred Citrus Experiment Station since 1951. He received the Jaycee award for his outstanding contributions to the citrus industry and to agriculture as a whole.

He holds the doctor's degree from Rutgers University.

Dr. Stewart served with the Army's Chemical Warfare Service in both the European and Pacific theaters of operations during World War II.

The young scientist has been chosen to write a paper for an international convention in Switzerland on the peaceful uses of atomic energy. His paper will deal with the use of radioactive isotopes in agriculture.

Dr. and Mrs. Stewart and their two daughters make their home in Haines City, Fla.

L. Chauncey Brown Honored In Florida

L. Chauncey Brown, '06, former publisher of the St. Petersburg, Fla., Daily Independent and current president of the St. Petersburg Rotary Club, was named "Mr. Sun," outstanding citizen of the Sunshine City at St. Petersburg's Coronation Ball last April.

Mr. Brown, 35th president of Rotary, has covered many fields in his civic activities. He has served 12 years as Chamber of Commerce governor and was one of the founders of St. Petersburg Junior College.

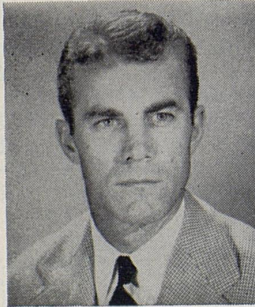

He is past president of the Community Chest, the Associated Dailies of Florida and the Quarterback Club; former commodore of the St. Petersburg Yacht Club; was co-chairman of the Community Chest drive in 1948 and 1949, chairman of the South Pinellas Chapter of the Red Cross and vice chairman of the Red Cross fund drive in 1953.

Mr. Brown was successively city editor, managing editor, general manager and president and publisher of the St. Petersburg Independent.

Mr. Brown is a native of Harrodsburg, and holds the B.M.E. degree from the University.

Ermal Allen Is Ky. State Golf Champ

Ermal Allen, '42, Kentucky backfield coach and former Wildcat backfield star, is the new Kentucky State golf champion, having won the honor over the Paintsville, Ky., course last June. He defeated Marvin Lear, a '51 UK graduate and former Wildcat golfer, now living in Lexington.

The Lexington resident and excite city titlist has played relatively little golf since his schoolboy days except as an occasional diversion, and Former Student Named As Ag Economist For Packing Co.

Elliott S. Clifton, 32, formerly of Logan county, Ky., has been appointed agricultural economist for John Morrell and Co., meat packers, at Ottumwa, Iowa.

Mr. Clifton attended UK before World War II and following his return from army service he entered Western Kentucky State College and obtained his degree there in 1948. He then returned to UK and obtained his M.S. in Agriculture here in 1950.

Until his recent appointment he has served as assistant professor of the department of economics and sociology at Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa.

In 1951 he was granted the doctor of philosophy degree in agricultural economics at Iowa State.

Elliott S. Clifton

Former Students Honor Miss Buford

Miss Nancy Belle Buford, '04, who started teaching at New Castle, Ky., as a red-headed slip of a girl the fall immediately following her graduation from UK, was honored with a surprise party by her former students last June, just 50 years after she began her teaching career in New Castle.

Miss Nancy, retired now and living with her niece, Miss Pauline Buford, began and ended her teaching career in the Henry County seat—primary room, then eighth grade, high school, and finally, assistant principal. She taught 25 years and more at New Castle High, the Methodist Sunday school and tutoring private pupils when she quite teaching to nurse a blind sister.

Her former students, inspired by Mrs. Prentice Arnold, of Louisville, formerly Emily Whaley of New Castle when she went to school to Miss Nancy, decided a year ago to let the beloved teacher know that her students remember her, and her ideals, and so they gave the party.

Her alumni came from many places, his only tournament efforts in recent years have been in local affairs, including the city championship meet.

far and near, to pay her honor, and everything was perfect, from the orchid on her shoulder, sent by a former pupil who now lives in Miami, Fla., to the final touch—a gift box bulging in currency and presented, in the names of all of her former students, by L. G. "Floppy" Forquer, who also is a UK alumnus and former Wildcat football captain.

"This makes me so happy," said the soft prim voice her former students know so well.

In commenting on the occasion to the editor of the KENTUCKY ALUMNUS, Miss Buford said: "if you publish this, please make known my high regard for the dear people of my native town of New Castle."

David K. Blythe, assistant professor of civil engineering at the University of Kentucky, has been awarded a grant for study this summer at the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering at the University of California. He is one of 20 engineering instructors selected from a large group of applications for the grants.

Foes Pointing For 'Cats This Season

By KEN KUHN

UK Sports Publicity Editor

Although not a pessimist by nature or intent, Kentucky football chief Blanton Collier is given to taking a perfectionist's realistic view of any situation before pronouncing his judgment. And, when he carefully weighs all angles of the U.K. grid picture for 1955, he is prone to caution in all honesty that his second edition of Wildcats will be extremely fortunate to post as good a record as the 7-3 mark forged by the surprising club of last year.

That's about as close as you'll get to an outright guess from the 1954 Southeastern Conference "Coach of the Year" as to Kentucky's probable record in '55, but he unhesitatingly points out his reasoning.

"The way I feel," Collier explains, "is that our success last year was the result of the greatest effort I ever saw by a football team anywhere. This season, it looks to me like it is going to take an even greater effort to wind up with anywhere near as good a record as we had in 1954".

Lose Eleven Men

In the first place, the Kentucky mentor points out, the team will be missing eleven very valuable lettermen. Five of them were starters on last season's squad lost via the graduation route while a sixth man, veteran guard Duke Curnutte, would have been the regular right guard this season if he had not been lost after spring practice due to scholastic difficulties. Another severe blow came during the early summer when former star fullback, Allen (Bull) Felch, suffered a broken neck in a swimming accident just a few days before he was due to be discharged from the Army. The Wildcats' leading grounder as a sophomore in '53, Felch had two years of eligibility left and was being counted upon for a hurculean share of duty at the weak fullback spot this season.

The squad likely will have slightly better depth this season than last, but the fact remains that inexperienced men—whether untested sophs or a number two man of last year—will be operating at several different spots in the opening lineup and in front-line reserve roles. Twenty lettermen return for duty, but their general inexperience is reflected by the fact that more than half of them saw only 14 percent or less of a possible 600-minutes' action during 1954.

On the brighter side in the picture is the presence of one of the greatest aerial combines in Dixie grid history in the persons of quarterback Bob Hardy and his favorite target, Howie Schnellenberger. This stellar duo, who will serve as co-captains of the '55 Wildcats and who were unanimous choices on the preseason All-Conference eleven, already is being compared to the dangerous team of Dixie Howell to Don Hutson which catapulted to national fame at Alabama in the early thirties.

Hardy Sensational

Hardy, the "Duke of Paducah" who came out of nowhere two seasons ago to lead the Wildcats undefeated through their last eight starts, had a sensational year in '54 as he guided Kentucky's Split T forces to a third-place tie in the league standings despite the absence of a good running attack to keep the opposition honest. Relying on his passing ability when the ground game bogged down, he salvaged many a victory for the team and captured personal honors as the leading passer in the conference, became the first back in the league to gain 1,000 yards last season and was named to the All-SEC unit. Helping Hardy in his assault on the passing records of All-America predecessor Babe Parilli will be an improved Schnellenberger. The six-foot, 205-pound senior flank-man finished a close third in the conference pass receiving department last year and, in the absence of the two men who finished ahead of him, looms as the heir apparent to the league title this season.

Offsetting the obvious advantage of this great combination is the big gap in the forward wall left by the departure of both of last year's starting guards and a key reserve who was being counted on to plug one of the holes. And just who will take over at the right tackle spot vacated by graduated Co-Captain Pete Kirk remains a big question mark in pre-season planning. The top candidate seems to be promising but untested sophomore Lou Michaels. One of the most solid spots in the line will be the other tackle post, manned by standout Bill Wheeler—a prime candidate for All-Conference honors.

Shifts Backfield

In the backfield, several shifts have been made in experiments designed to take up the slack caused by the graduation or departure for other reasons of the starting left half and both the first and second string fullbacks. The forecast is for average speed, not too much size and questionable potential at fullback, the position classed as last year's biggest problem. The leading candidate for the middle back duties is Bob Dougherty, a promising 200 pounder. However, the sobering fact remains that he has not seen a minute of intercollegiate action for three years since he left the University of Cincinnati due to two years in the Marines and a season of inactivity necessitated by transfer rules. Unless Dougherty or some other prospect comes through to provide help in the running department, the outlook is for very little improvement (if any) in the Wildcats' attack operations. The aerial game apparently will have to carry the burden again in '55.

Turning from personnel to the difficulties imposed by one of the most imposing schedules ever arranged for a Wildcat eleven, the Kentucky chieftain hardly can choose which phase of his problem is the toughest.

There does not seem much to choose between the many tough opponents either. The card opens with an engagement against "darkhorse" Louisiana State in their home lair at Baton Rouge. The Tigers, under the direction of new head coach Paul Dietzel (former UK assistant under Bryant) and lowly-rated in pre-season polls, are in almost the exact same psychological position as the one that the Wildcats capitalized on last season. LSU was regarded by last year's UK gridders as the toughest physical team they faced and all reports indicate the Bayou Bengals will be even tougher this season.

Ole Miss Is First

Defending SEC champion and Sugar Bowl participant Ole Miss provides Kentucky with its first home grounds' test the next weekend and the word is out that the Rebels will be primed to take this one as the key to a potentially perfect season. After a tussle with upcoming Villanova at Philadelphia, Kentucky moves to Birmingham for a stiff test at the hands of revenge-minded Auburn. Collier rates the Tigers as one of the best teams in the league and points out that they have been picked in pre-season polls as the club most likely to give Georgia Tech a serious battle for the championship. Possibly even more dangerous, from a psychological standpoint, are the pair of league tilts coming next—Mississippi State and Florida. The two supposedly second-division elevens will have to be reckoned with carefully for signs of growing pains and this may be difficult, sandwiched in between crucial contests with Auburn and powerful Southwest Conference visitor Rice. The Owls provide Kentucky's homecoming opposition on Oct. 29 and they too will have a revenge motive since the Wildcats took their measure in an upset during the last meeting, at Houston in 1953. Rounding out the difficult card will be engagements with Vanderbilt, Memphis State and arch-enemy Tennessee. The Vols, smarting from two straight defeats at the hands of Kentucky, are under new management—Bowden Wyatt and Company—and by late season likely will be setting a stiff pace.

Opposition Ready

Aside from the obvious difficulties imposed by a schedule as imposing as the one that must be tackled in 1955, the one thing that worries Coach Collier most is the sobering fact that apparently the opposition—especially league foes—will be mentally ready for a top effort against Kentucky this season. While this might not seem a solid premise for excessive worry, Collier sees the mental attitude of a team as one of the most important ingredients of success, and when coupled with the Wildcats' many weakness, could easily spell trouble.

UK's Dr. Croft Receives Honor

Dr. Lysle W. Croft, A.B. '26, director of the University of Kentucky's Personnel Office, is one of nine college personnel specialists in the South to be named to the Regional Commission in Student Personnel.

Announcement of Dr. Croft's appointment to the newly formed commission was made at the University. The commission will carry on its work in affiliation with the Southern Regional Education Board and the Southern College Personnel Association.

The UK personnel director is the only Kentuckian who will serve on the commission. Chairman of the group is Dr. W. Max Wise, dean of student affairs at the University of Florida.

Chief task of the commission will be to make thorough studies of student personnel programs in the South. It also will encourage individual and co-operative research, investigate the anticipated need for trained student workers, and organize consultant services for institutions desiring assistance.

Dr. Croft has been associated with the University of Kentucky faculty and administrative staff since 1933, when he was appointed dean of men. In his present position, which he has held since 1938, he directs the University's student advisory program.

With Kentucky under the direction of a new coach and pegged as a second-division ball club in last season's advance ratings, the opposition tended to regard them lightly. The resulting "darkhorse" success seems to have created a sentiment of wariness regarding the Wildcats which, combined with an early spring outlook of slightly greater strength, caused U.K. to be rated fourth in the poll on probable conference finish—a sure tipoff that SEC teams don't intend to be caught napping again by the Collier men and that victory will not come as easy this fall.

Harry Conley Jr. of Somerset, a sophomore at the University of Kentucky, has been awarded a cash prize at the University for outstanding work in chemistry. He is the first recipient of the Alpha Chi Sigma Award for Chemistry majors.

Fayette Co. Alums Fete Spring Squads

Mrs. Elmer T. Gilb Is Head Of Group

Fayette county UK alumni entertained members of seven spring sports teams and their coaches with a box supper at Keeneland Race Course last May.

Varsity athletes who had competed in baseball, track, tennis and golf, and those competing in swimming, fencing and rifle were honored.

J. Ed Parker, III, outgoing president of the Fayette County UK Alumni Club presided, introduced the coaches and teams, and also presented a floor show put on by students of University School.

Mrs. Elmer T. (Stella Spicer) Gilb was elected president of the group for a two-year term. Other officers elected were: Samuel L. Huey, Jr., vice president; Mrs. John C. Owens, secretary and Henry O. Newman, treasurer.

New Board members are: Dorothy Honaker, Mrs. James Hisle, Mrs. Len Shouse, III, Helen Farmer, Jack Gilder, Fred Silhanek, David Yeiser, Dominic Fucci, Don Sturgill and Robin Griffin.

THREE GRIDMEN WIN CHEMISTRY HONORS

Three UK Wildcat backfield men were recognized last spring for outstanding scholastic records in chemistry during the past school year.

The school cited pre-medical students James R. Urbaniak, of Fairmont, W. Va., and Jack Freeman, of Danville, and chemistry major Philip H. Brawner of Bardstown.

Urbaniak, whose semester average of 94 topped his class of 220, received the annual freshman achievement award in chemistry for the highest first-semester average. He received another "A" the second semester.

Alumni of the late 20's will remember his father, Cecil J. Urbaniak, or "Urby," a fine halfback at UK in that era.

Freeman had an A and a B for his two semesters in chemistry and Brawner earned an A last semester.

Maryland, Idaho And Duke New Foes For UK Cagers

Xavier Off Slate As 24 Tilts Carded

By LARRY SHROPSHIRE, '30
Sports Editor, Lexington Leader

A 24-game basketball schedule for the 1955-56 season, including seven intersectional matches and participation in the local school's third annual holiday invitational tournament, has been announced for the Southeastern Conference Champion Kentucky Wildcats.

UK Athletic Director Bernie Shively said the card was arranged to pit the nationally famous cagers of Coach Adolph Rupp against outstanding competition from various sections of the country in addition to meeting the requirement of 14 games against conference foes.

He called the schedule one of the most difficult ever planned for the Wildcats, who posted a 23-3 record and ranked second in the final national ratings last season.

Three new opponents for the Wildcats next winter are Maryland, Idaho and Duke. Each has faced Kentucky previously, but were not on the schedule last year.

They replace a pair of contests with Xavier and a second game with Temple.

Meeting the Wildcats for the first time since 1930. Maryland will play host to the Ruppmen in a new, 12,500-seat field house at College Park Dec. 15. Idaho's Vandals, a Pacific Coast Conference member tutored by former Murray Coach Harlan Hodges, will be met in Memorial Coliseum two days later, and the Duke Blue Devils, who represented the Southern Conference in the NCAA tournament last season, come to town Feb. 1.

Actually, 15 contests have been carded with SEC rivals, but the Louisiana State engagement Dec. 3 at Baton Rouge in which the Wildcats open their campaign is an extra tilt which will not count in conference standings.

Two games with LSU also were played last winter, when the UK hoopsters went unbeaten through their regular schedule except for two losses to Georgia Tech. Their setback came when they were clipped by Marquette in the NCAA play-offs.

Only players lost by graduation from that team were Capt. Bill Evans and Gayle Rose. Returnees expected to form the nucleus for next season, to be joined by stellar prospects moving up from frosh ranks, include Capt. Cookie Grawemeyer, Bob Burrow, Jerry Bird, John Brewer, Gerry Calvert, Earl Adkins and Ray Mills.

The Kentuckians will play 13 games at home, including a pair in the invitational tournament Dec. 20-21. Pairings are to be made at a later date, but teams already named to participate in the holiday event along with Kentucky are Utah, Minnesota and Dayton.

Only guest repeater from last year will be the Utes from the Skyline conference, a team which succumbed to Kentucky in the first round of the '54 tourney but rated a season-end nod from the Wildcats as the toughest team faced last season.

Dayton finished ninth in the final Associated Press poll (10th in UP) after forging into the finals of the NIT tournament. Minnesota, Big 10 kingpin, was one of the country's elite teams until a couple of late-season upsets knocked the Gophers out of the conference title.

Highlights in Kentucky's conference campaign promise to be a home-and-home series against Georgia Tech, which twice upset the Wildcats last season to break a record home-floor victory string of 129 games and become the first team since 1927 to beat Kentucky twice in the same season.

The Engineers come to Lexington Jan. 7 and the return game is set for Atlanta Jan. 30. Aside from the unusual revenge element of the Tech series, the big battle to decide the SEC title may come Feb. 25 at Montgomery, Ala., when the Ruppmen tangle with Johnny Dee's Alabama five.

A league date with Georgia Feb.

CLIFF BARKER TO COACH IN INDIANA

Cliff Barker, former Wildcat basketball star and member of Kentucky's 1948 Olympic team, has been named head coach at Eaton (Ind.) High School.

Cliff, whose home is in Yorktown, Ind., was graduated from high school there and played with the great Kentucky teams from 1947 through 1949. This will be his first high school coaching job, although he has had coaching experience while player-coach with his former UK teammates on the Indianapolis Olympians NBA team shortly after finishing at UK. He is now a salesman for a Muncie packing firm.

Barker had a distinguished World War II record, and was a German prisoner of war for more than two years.

The Athletics Association does not receive a ticket allotment for out-of-town basketball games. These tickets must be obtained direct from the competing school.

27 scheduled as a home game for the Bulldogs, is planned at a neutral site in Kentucky. Both Owensboro and Louisville are under consideration.

- The complete UK schedule:
- Dec. 3—At Louisiana State.
 - Dec. 10—Temple.
 - Dec. 12—DePaul.
 - Dec. 15—At Maryland.
 - Dec. 17—Idaho.
 - Dec. 20-21—UK Invitational (Minnesota, Utah, Dayton and UK).
 - Dec. 29—At St. Louis.
 - Jan. 7—Georgia Tech.
 - Jan. 12—Tulane.
 - Jan. 14—Louisiana State.
 - Jan. 21—At Tennessee.
 - Jan. 28—At Vanderbilt.
 - Jan. 30—At Georgia Tech.
 - Feb. 1—Duke.
 - Feb. 4—Auburn (at Montgomery).
 - Feb. 6—At Florida.
 - Feb. 11—Mississippi.
 - Feb. 13—Mississippi State.
 - Feb. 18—At DePaul.
 - Feb. 20—Vanderbilt.
 - Feb. 25—Alabama (at Montgomery).
 - Feb. 27—Georgia (at Louisville or Owensboro).
 - March 3—Tennessee.

Annual Report To The Alumni

The annual meeting of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association was held in conjunction with the Alumni Brunch, May 28th in Donovan Hall, the men's new residence hall.

Mr. Newton W. Neel, of Henderson, president of the Alumni Association, presided at the meeting.

Mr. H. D. Palmore, of Frankfort, made a motion that the minutes of the May meeting and the minutes of the annual meeting, June 1954, be filed as published. Seconded by Mrs. H. C. Adams, Lexington, the motion carried.

Miss Helen G. King gave the annual secretary's reports as follows:

It seems to one who works daily within the ivy-covered walls of this fine institution that now—at this time and in this place—is the appropriate moment to point to the group of men and women sitting before you at this special table marked 1905, and to say to you that every man and every woman who elects to go to college has just four years to be an undergraduate, but that it is his or her duty and privilege to be a good alumnus or a good alumna for fifty years.

And what does that time-honored phrase of being "a good alumnus" imply? It simply means that it is each graduate or former student's duty to interpret the University to the people as an educational activity—and whether this interpretation be to prospective students, parents, fellow-alumni, one's own community or the general public—it should be geared to the objective of interpreting, explaining, yea, and supporting the serious work of the University.

The purpose of this University, the cause to which it is dedicated, is to provide a good education to all of its students, and if it does that we will have good alumni. It is up to you, as good alumni, to support this institution's program in its many branches of teaching, extension and research and, in addition, to lend it solid moral and financial support. If I may paraphrase President Donovan's oft-quoted statement, "you cannot have a greater state without a greater state university," I would say you cannot have a greater University without a greater, stronger, more aggressive and more loyal body of alumni.

How can you be better alumni? That's easy. First, by supporting the Alumni Association and its program which, in the final analysis, is the program of your University. Your active membership, your financial and moral support are the bone and sinew of the University's strong right arm and when you weaken so weaken the physical and moral fibre of the institution.

It was the aim of your alumni board in 1954-55 to reach a membership total of 6,000. We failed. Our total for the current fiscal year was 5,211, more, it is true, than in any former year in the association's history—but still not enough.

Perhaps the fault has been ours, although we tried every means within our limited power to encourage you to join. Perhaps the fault is yours—indifference—procrastination—even downright disinterest—but, whatever the reason, all of us are failing our moral obligations when we neglect to join. We are letting our Alma Mater drag her wings when she should be soaring.

This University, with approximately 29,000 graduates and an equal number of former students should have a minimum annual membership of 10,000 and, until that goal is reached we will not be satisfied—and perhaps not even then!

Loyalty Fund contributions totaled enough to guarantee one more annual scholarship; but not enough to initiate two or three or even more. Fellow-alumni, we are getting there too late with too little—other institutions are passing us by.

In discussing alumni support of the University I think you should know that at a meeting of 56 top-level representatives of business and industry, who came together April 1, at Harriman, N. Y. for the Conference on Corporate Contributions jointly sponsored by the Council for Financial Aid to Education and Columbia University's School of Business, these executives, in 48 hours of stimulating discussion came up with one subject on which they were in complete agreement. It was the basis upon which a beneficiary institution should be judged. Termed "quality characteristics" they were listed as follows: (a) sound financial management; (b) evidence of substantial alumni support, and (c) accreditation by appropriate agencies.

The University of Kentucky qualifies for inclusion on a corporate giving program in the first and third requirement but does not qualify under the second. Only through your love and loyalty and personal sacrifice can we give evidence of substantial alumni support.

It will please you to know that the 1955-56 alumni loyalty fund scholarship recipient is a boy from Heath High School in McCracken county, who has written to the Alumni Association that "not only will it enable me to attend college, but it makes it possible for my family to keep my older brother in the University. I hope I can prove myself worthy of the confidence that has been placed in me." This year we are graduating our fourth loyalty fund scholarship recipient—a boy who made a straight "A" standing in engineering in his senior year. Next year we will continue the education of three and start another one off on his college career—we need your continuing and more substantial support.

Before I report to you on the accomplishments of your association during the year just ending, I wish to call your attention to the fact that in just ten years, 1965, your Alma Mater will celebrate its centennial. President Donovan and the Board of Trustees have appointed a committee of fifteen faculty members to begin a study of what the University can and should be in 1965. This committee, headed by Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the department of History, has, among its projected assignments, the study of the University's future building program, its curriculum, its quality of instruction, its budget, the salaries of its faculty and staff, and last but by no means least, the problem of marshalling the potential abilities of our alumni behind the University's over-all program.

Now—to our accomplishments in the year just closing.

The alumni executive committee collectively, and a steering sub-committee composed of members of the board, have spent almost the entire winter making a study of the financial and organizational structure of the Alumni Association, for the purpose of broadening its operations and instituting a new plan of development which will permit the association to realize its potential power. This plan will be presented to you a little later in this meeting, so I will not outline it now, but it has involved the purchase of more adequate equipment installed preparatory to an enlarged operation. Your financial report for the fiscal year which will end next Tuesday, will be published in the August ALUMNUS and will detail these expenditures.

Your Association has sponsored the annual alumni banquet, the annual sports banquets, coffee hours for students and faculty which are held during finals week in the music lounge of the Student Union among student-alumni-faculty events. Last fall, at the Maryland game, we brought back to the campus the 1904 football team for a 50-year anniversary celebration on Stoll Field.

As has been his custom for several years, President Donovan brought back to the campus in January the alumni club presidents and the executive board for a roundtable discussion of the University's problems, following which the group was the guest of the Athletics Association at the DePaul-Kentucky basketball game.

The Association sponsored the alumni brunch on homecoming day and the one you have just enjoyed, and was host to all returning alumni at a free dance in the ballroom of the Lafayette Hotel following the homecoming football game. We are planning similar functions next fall before and after the homecoming game with Rice on October 29th, but wish to call your attention to the fact that because of the numbers attending the dance, we have moved the function for next fall to the new convention hall at the Phoenix Hotel.

Your alumni organization sponsored the Alma Magna Mater award to the "Alumnus of the Year" between halves of the homecoming game last fall, which award went to our distinguished board member and former president, William H. Townsend. It also sponsors annually the Alma Magna Mater award to the graduating senior who has contributed the most unselfish service to the University. That award will be made here today.

This past February your secretary served on the Founders Day committee which brought back two alumni to the campus to be honored for their contributions to the fields of music and folk music; I have worked with the University KEA committee, the commencement committee, and as a member of a sub-committee of the Committee of Fifteen.

The Association has given wholehearted support and encouragement to the work of the Kentucky Medical Foundation and has invited representatives of the Foundation to speak to local alumni clubs. As you know, the Kentucky Medical Foundation is composed of a group of Kentucky farmers, doctors, professional and business men who have as their ultimate objective the establishment of a medical center at the University of Kentucky.

We have worked with alumni of the University in the employ of General Electric Company in an effort to encourage them to make tax-deductible contributions to the University, these contributions, under a plan instituted by GE to be matched by a similar sum from that corporation.

We have been considerably encouraged this year by the establishment of three insurance policies in favor of the Alumni Association. Two, from an anonymous member of the class of 1916 provide for a $5,000 benefit at death, direct to the Association, and another $5,000 to the Loyalty Fund. The other is an educational policy in the amount of $4,000 for the nephew of the second policy maker, which policy provides that if the nephew does not use the proceeds to pursue his education at the University of Kentucky the sum reverts to the Alumni Association. These are heartening trends and may serve as a guide to other alumni.

I have been asked to announce at this meeting that Berea College is celebrating its centennial this summer with the presentation of a pageant on the college campus and that, with the approval of the UK administration, the night of July 25 has been designated as UK night at Berea, and all alumni and friends of the University are urged to attend the pageant on that evening. A picnic lunch will be available, or, facilities for a "bring your own lunch" may be had. Reservations may be made by writing Wilderness Road, Berea, Ky.

Your secretary has visited the following alumni clubs this past year; Morganfield, Henderson, Owensboro, Bowling Green, Hopkinsville, Russellville, Paducah, Atlanta, Ga., Knoxville, Tenn., Fulton, Hickman, Paris, Harrodsburg, Bardwell, Wickliffe, Mayfield, Benton, Elizabethtown, Dayton, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., Ashland and Carrollton. Dr. Hambleton Tapp, Dean Elvis J. Stahr, Jr., Coach Blanton Collier, Dr. Lyman Ginger, Mr. Bernie Shively and other members of the faculty have been cooperative and tireless in their work with the alumni and have visited other clubs including Madisonville and Charleston, W. Va. We are deeply indebted to these men and to President N. W. Neel, Mr. J. S. Watkins of the Board of Trustees, and Mr. Russell White, executive director of the Kentucky Medical Foundation for accepting similar assignments.

No report of the Alumni secretary could be concluded without mention of the interest of President Donovan in the affairs of the Association. His door is never closed to our problems, and I wish to thank him personally for his kindness and understanding. All of the administrative officials, the deans and many of the professors have helped to make the alumni program work this year and we are grateful to them all, especially to Dr. Tapp, Dean Stahr and Mr. Clay Maupin, who has audited our accounts.

Finally to President Neel, Vice-President Homer L. Baker, Mr. Shively to Mr. Guy A. Huguelet and Dr. Ralph Angelucci, alumni members of the Board of Trustees and to all of the members of the executive committee we say a heartfelt thanks for support and time and effort far above and beyond the call of duty.

To the alumni office staff, overworked but intensely loyal, I must also say, thanks again, girls.

Respectfully submitted,
Helen G. King
Executive Secretary

Mrs. Hampton C. Adams, of Lexington made a motion that the secretary's report be approved as read. Seconded by Mr. O. L. McElroy, of Eminence, the motion carried.

The cumulative report by the treasurer for the eleven month period and the annual report of the treasurer are as follows:

To the Board of Directors
University of Kentucky Alumni Association
Lexington, Kentucky

Dear Members of the Board:

I have examined the balance sheet of University of Kentucky Alumni Association, at May 31, 1955, and the related statement of income and expense for the fiscal year ended that date. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and the related statement of income and expense fairly present the financial position of University of Kentucky Alumni Association at May 31, 1955, and the results of its operations for the fiscal year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,
Oliver Clay Maupin, Jr.

Miss Helen G. King made a motion that the treasurer's report be approved as read. Seconded by Mrs. Hampton C. Adams, the motion carried.

Mrs. Hampton C. Adams, the Loyalty Fund chairman, reported that a total of $4,470.16 was collected for the Loyalty Fund during the fiscal year of 1954-55.

Mr. Neel announced the results of the election of officers for the year 1955-56 as follows: President, Mr. Homer L. Baker, Louisville; Vice-President, Mr. Will Ed Covington, Ashland; three executive committee members to serve for a three year term are: Mr. William H. Townsend, Lexington; Mr. R. R. Dawson, Bloomfield; and Mr. William P. Curlin, Frankfort.

Miss King presented the following plan for a new financial program for the Alumni Association: "Plans for a more comprehensive fund-raising program, involving an enlarged staff and an annual drive designed to raise funds for specific projects as well as for the operation of the Alumni Association, have been envisioned and outlined by the alumni executive committee.

"Alumni Association President, Newton W. Neel, appointed a steering committee last fall from the membership of the executive committee to study the needs of the Association in its relationship to financial support and the potential of the alumni, in order to make plans for a more adequate fund-raising program.

"This committee worked with the executive secretary in a comprehensive study, and the program which will be proposed to the general association today is the result of this study. The steering committee has made a determined effort to adapt to the UK Alumni Association's needs the best features of other university fund drives, at the same time trying to hold down initial costs.

"At the January meeting of the Alumni Executive Committee the steering committee outlined a proposal, to be brought before the general association at its annual meeting, which proposal was approved by the executive group subject to the vote of the general membership as follows:

FOUR-POINT PROGRAM

1. To inaugurate the fund drive in the spring of 1956, at which time the Association expects to have a ruling from the Director of Internal Revenue giving all contributors to the Alumni Fund deductions on their tax returns.
2. Employ an assistant to the executive secretary, preferably a male graduate of the University, at a salary to be established by the steering committee after interviews with the person selected. This person to be employed as soon after June 1, 1955 as it is feasible.

3. Recommend to the membership at the annual meeting on May 28th that the Executive Committee be authorized to borrow sufficient funds from our life membership cumulative fund to finance the campaign and reorganization for the first three years.
4. Recommend to the general membership that as of 1956-57 the annual dues be changed from the current two and three dollar memberships to one classification of five dollars per membership, which will include subscriptions to the KERNEL and ALUMNUS, and all other privileges of membership.

"If you, the voting alumni, place your stamp of approval on the subject, the new program will be initiated in the spring of 1956.

The initial kick-off will be a mail announcement, sent out to all graduates and former students of UK for whom we have good addresses, and possibly will contain a card specifying to what uses the money will be put, such as general operational expenses, the Loyalty Fund (scholarships), and specific projects undertaken each year or over a period of years, as recommended by the Alumni Executive Board under advisement with the Kentucky Research Foundation.

"We are including general operational expenses in our future financial drives with the ultimate purpose of relieving the University of the burden of subsidizing, even partially, the Alumni Association, and in the belief that we will never realize our potential value to the University until we can become financially independent.

"We will always include the Loyalty Fund, which supports the alumni scholarships, in every financial drive which we conduct, and, in addition, we will add specific projects to our fund-raising campaign which will further the best interests of the University."

After Miss King presented the new plan to the alumni, Mr. Neel asked for a discussion and a vote on each of the four points outlined. Each point was voted on separately.

1. Mr. George Hailey of Frankfort made a motion that the new fund drive be inaugurated in the spring of 1956. Seconded by Mrs. Hampton C. Adams of Lexington, the motion carried.

2. Mr. Guy A. Huguélet of Lexington made a motion that the Association employ an assistant to the executive secretary, this person to be employed as soon after June 1, 1955 as it is feasible. Seconded by Mr. John E. Brown, of Danville, the motion carried.
3. Mrs. Henry Taylor of Lexington, made a motion that the Executive Committee be authorized to borrow sufficient funds from the life membership cumulative fund to finance the campaign and reorganization for the first three years. Seconded by Dr. Lyman Ginger of Lexington, the motion carried.

4. Mr. O. L. McElroy, of Eminence made a motion that the annual dues be changed from the current two and three dollar memberships to one classification of five dollars. Mr. Herman Scholtz, of Warrenton, Va., offered an amendment to this resolution to the effect that the graduating seniors continue to receive one year's free membership, and for four succeeding years, until they have been graduated five years, that the dues remain at two and three dollars for them. After much discussion the amendment was voted on and defeated. Mr. Marcus Redwine then offered a second amendment, to the effect that the five dollar membership would automatically include subscription to the Kentucky KERNEL as well as the Kentucky ALUMNUS. Much discussion followed, with the concensus of opinion being that the KERNEL should be sent only to those members who requested it. This amendment failed also. A third amendment was offered by Dr. Ralph Angelucci, specifying that the KERNEL should be sent only to those who requested it. This amendment was voted on and passed. The original motion, as presented by Mr. McElroy and amended by Dr. Angelucci then was voted on and passed.

After the voting on the new financial plan Mr. Neel introduced William O. Billiter, Jr. of Winchester, president of Alma Magna Mater, a group of students whose parents and grandparents attended the University, who in turn presented the Alma Magna Award to Margaret Ann Holyfield, who was chosen as the outstanding senior of the year.

Having no other business to discuss the meeting was adjourned by Mr. Neel.

Respectfully submitted,

Office Secretary

Alma Magna Mater Honors Senior Girl

Margaret Ann Holyfield of Bluefield, W.Va., graduating senior at the University of Kentucky, was presented the UK Alma Magna Mater award on Reunion Day, May 28, which is given each year to an outstanding University senior.

The presentation was made at a ceremony conducted at the UK alumni brunch in Donoval Hall, new residence hall for men on the campus. This year's award was in the form of an engraved silver piece.

Alma Magna Mater is a campus organization composed of sons and daughters of UK alumni and former students. Bill Billiter, Winchester, president of the organization, said the award was made on the basis of "outstanding and unselfish service to the University for four years."

A graduate of Leatherwood high school in Slemp, Ky., Miss Holyfield is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Holyfield, Bluefield, W. Va. among other activities, she has been president of the Student Union Board, treasurer of Phi Upsilon Omicron, and she holds membership in the Home Economics Club and the Women's Administrative Council.

Charles Owen Hopkins, B.S., '48, is now a member of the technical staff of the Systems Division, Hughes Research and Development, Culver City, California. He was formerly an Assistant Professor of Psychology at Tulane University.

The University of Kentucky Broadcasting Service has been awarded a national citation for a radio program produced for radio stations in Kentucky. Word of the award came from the Institute for Education by Radio and Television at Columbus, Ohio. The institute is operated by Ohio State University. The program, concerned with safe driving, was prepared last April in co-operation with the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children and the Governor's Committee on Highway Safety.

OBITUARIES

DR. LENA MADESIN PHILLIPS, 74, founder of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, died in Marseille, France last May, where she had become suddenly ill while on a trip to Beirut.

A graduate of the University with an LL.B. degree in 1917, Dr. Phillips also held the LL.D. degree from UK, received in 1939.

She became ill at sea on May 9, three days after leaving New York for a meeting of professional women in Beirut, where she was to represent the American Federation of clubs. Doctors said death was caused by uremia. A native of Nicholasville, Dr. Phillips was an honor graduate from UK.

After a brief period of law practice in Lexington, she went to New York and during World War I developed a plan by which women in various businesses and professions could be effectively mobilized for wartime service. From this emergency organization grew the National Federation of Business and Professional Women from which rose the world federation. Dr. Phillips was considered its founder. She had served as president of the international federation since 1930.

Funeral services for Dr. Phillips were held in Marseille, with Dr. John Robinson of the Anglican Church officiating. U.S. Consul
General Cliss Wharton attended.

The body was brought back to Nicholasville for brief services and burial.

WILLIAM BALDWIN PHELPS, 44, Woodford county farmer and a graduate of UK in 1933, died unexpectedly of a heart attack last
May at his home near Versailles.

He was the son of Mrs. Ann Crenshaw Phelps '07, of Cloverport, and the husband of Mary Powell Elliott Phelps, '32. His two sisters, Mrs. John Scott Hunt of New Orleans, La., and Mrs. Gerald Langford, of Austin, Texas, also are UK graduates. In addition to the above, he is also survived by a daughter and a son.

Mr. Phelps was a member of St. John's Episcopal church in Versailles, and of the Kappa Alpha fraternity. Funeral services were held in the Versailles cemetery.

LEWIS EDWARD NOLLAU, 72, a member of the University of Kentucky College of Engineering faculty, died last April at the Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington, following a brief illness.

A graduate of UK in the class of 1904,
"Butch" Nollau, as he was fondly known to his classmates and hundreds of engineering students, joined the engineering faculty soon after graduation as instructor in woodshop and engineering drawing. He became a full professor in 1913.

His hobby was photography, and Professor Nollau, through the years, had recorded many important campus events with his camera.

Last year he celebrated the 50th reunion of his class of 1904.

Survivors include his wife, a daughter,
Miss Hazel F. Nollau, also a UK graduate, and a brother, Elmer, of St. Louis.

Funeral services were held in Lexington, and burial followed in St. Louis.

MRS. SUE LOCKETT MITCHELL NEEL, of
Henderson, a former UK student and wife of Newton N. Neel, Henderson city engineer and immediate past president of the UK Alumni Association, died last April at her home in Henderson following a two-year illness.

Mrs. Neel was a member of Alpha Xi
Delta social sorority at UK, and was active in campus affairs as an undergraduate.

Her daughter, Leslie, is currently a UK student.

Survivors include her husband, her daughter, her mother and one brother.

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church in Henderson, and burial followed in the Henderson cemetery.

THOMAS DAWSON WILLIAMS, 50, of Louisville, assistant general manager of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, died last May at Kentucky Baptist Hospital there following a three-months illness from a heart condition.

A native of Washington county, Mr. Williams was graduated from Bloomfield High School and attended the College of Engineering at UK. He was a member of the class of 1925.

After a short period with the Ky. State Department of Highways he joined the L & N in Louisville, and was subsequently stationed in Eastern Kentucky, Evansville, Ind., and Pensacola, Fla. through various promotions. He became assistant general manager of the L&N in 1952. He was a member of the Pendermis Club, the Big Spring Country Club and the executive committee of the UK Alumni Association.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Betty Merrifield Williams, a UK alumna; his daughter Carolyn Ann, now a UK student, and a cousin, R. R. Dawson, of Bloomfield, past president of the UK Alumni Association.

Funeral services were held at the Pearson Funeral Home in St. Matthews, and burial followed in Resthaven Memorial Park.

MRS. KATHLEEN BUHL YONTS, 39, of Lexington, died last May at Central Baptist Hospital, after an illness of several months.

A native of Williamsburg, Mrs. Yonts formerly taught school there. She attended Cumberland College, Eastern Ky. State College and the University of Kentucky. She held membership in the Ky. Mountain Club and Immanuel Baptist church.

Survivors include her husband, her parents, two sons, four sisters, and three brothers.

DR. WILLIAM RAY ALLEN, 70, zoology professor and curator of the Zoological Museum, at the University of Kentucky, died last April after a short illness. Dr. Allen came to UK in 1922, and once headed the Zoology department. He held degrees from Indiana University and formerly taught there, and at Kansas State College, Akron University and in elementary schools at Hartford City, Ind. He was a native of Ossian, Ind.

Survivors include his wife, three daughters, two sisters and a brother.

GEORGE THOMAS BERRY, 52, of Lexington, died last June at the Boiling Springs Country Club as the result of a heart attack.

A native of Lexington, Mr. Berry attended public schools there and the University of Kentucky. He was an army veteran of World War II and a member of the First Christian church of Mayfield.

Survivors include his wife, an uncle, two nieces and two nephews.

THOMAS EMMANUEL VAN METER, 51, died last May at his home on the Parkers Mill Road near Lexington, following a heart attack.

A member of the state park planning section of the Kentucky Department of Conservation, Mr. Van Meter was a native of Winchester, and attended school there, at Millersburg Military Institute and the University of Kentucky, from which school he was graduated in 1928 with B.S. degree in engineering. In 1931 he received his master's degree in mechanical engineering from UK.

A football letterman at UK, Mr. Van Meter was a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity. He belonged to Lexington Lodge No. 1, F and AM, Oleika Temple Shrine, the Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers and Maxwell Street Presbyterian church.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter and two sisters.

Funeral services were held in Lexington.

S. SEWELL COMBS, 76, vice president of Combs Lumber Company, Lexington, and a graduate of the University of Kentucky in 1916, died at St. Joseph's Hospital last May after a long illness.

A native of Frenchburg, he came to Lexington in 1895. He was a former director of the old Kentucky Association Race Track and a former president of the association. He formerly was a prominent owner of thoroughbreds.

He was named a member of the State Racing Commission by Gov. W. J. Fields in 1927 and served continuously on the commission until 1944. During his years of service he wrote all the revisions of the rules of racing in Kentucky.

He attended Powell county schools and the University, and was a member of the Epworth Methodist church and the Lexington Club.

Survivors include his wife, two nieces, and two nephews.

Funeral services were conducted at the W. R. Milward Mortuary Chapel, and burial followed in the Lexington cemetery.

CHARLES E. SHOUSE, 61, pressman for the Harrodsburg, Ky., Herald for about 30 years, died last April at the Veterans Hospital in Lexington after an illness of several months.

A former UK student, Mr. Shouse was a native of Rowan county and a member of St. Andrews Catholic Church. He had been in the printing business 42 years and at one time was associated with the Fritz Printing Co. in Lexington.

A veteran of World War I, he was an adjutant of Douglas Laws American Legion Post and the 40 and 8.

Survivors include his wife and father.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Andrews Catholic Church and burial followed in Spring Hill cemetery, Harrodsburg.

DR. SARAH ELIZABETH EADS, 77, of Lexington, a retired chiropractor, died at the home of her sister last May. She was the widow of H. M. Eads.

A native of Wayne county, she attended schools there and the University of Kentucky and was a graduate of the American College Department of Osteopathy in Chicago. She was a member of Eastern Star and the Calvary Baptist Church.

Survivors, besides her sister, include a daughter, another sister, and three brothers.

Funeral services were held at the W. R. Milward Mortuary Chapel and burial followed in Maple Grove cemetery, Nicholasville.

JAMES McGRADY, 56, of Lexington, a retired farmer, died last April at his residence, following a stroke. He had been in ill health for 18 months.

A native of Lexington, he was educated at St. Catherine's Academy, St. Mary's, Kansas, and the University of Kentucky. He was a member of St. Paul's Catholic church.

Survivors include an aunt and a number of cousins.

RICHARD J. COLBERT, 81, master commissioner of Fayette Circuit Court for 45 years, died last April at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington. He had been ill for several months.

During 45 years as master commissioner Mr. Colbert had the distinction of having none of his legal opinions reversed by higher courts. Many considered him one of the most analytical legal thinkers of Kentucky. As master commissioner he was the choice of seven circuit judges.

For 35 years, until he resigned last November, he was president of Lexington's Public Health Center. He was a member of the board of Julius Marks Sanatorium for many years and was a charter member of the Lexington Kiwanis Club. In 1928 he served as president of the Fayette County Bar Association. He was a member of St. Peter Catholic Church and the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Colbert was a member of the first Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission and served for eight years as a member and vice president. Active in Republican affairs he made one race for public office, being defeated by A. B. Chandler in 1942 in a race for U.S. Senator.

A native of Fayette county, he attended St. Catherine's Academy and the University of Kentucky. He took a course in law at Transylvania College and completed his studies at the University of Michigan. He was admitted to the bar in 1913.

Survivors include his son, Richard J. Colbert, Jr., a UK graduate, a granddaughter, one brother and three sisters.

Funeral services were held at St. Peter Catholic church, Lexington.

THOMAS H. COATES, 47, of Richmond, died last June in Charleston, W.Va., where he had been making his home. He was director of the merit system of West Virginia.

Formerly a teacher at Morehead State College and West Virginia Tech, Mr. Coates was a graduate of Eastern State College and held a master's degree from the University of Kentucky. He served as a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Survivors include his wife, two brothers, and three sisters.

Funeral services and burial were held in Richmond.

DR. WILLIAM JAY SCHOENE, 76, entomologist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va., since 1913 until his recent retirement, died last March in Venice, Fla.

A native of Henderson, Ky., Dr. Schoene was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1905. He would have celebrated his golden jubilee with his classmates this past May.

After study at Cornell, he went to the University of Chicago where he received his M.S. degree in 1911. In 1928 he received the Ph.D. degree from Ohio State University. He was a Mason and a member of Sigma Xi and several scientific societies.

Survivors include his wife, a son, three daughters, a brother and a sister.

Funeral services were held last April in the Blacksburg Presbyterian church where he was an elder.

JOE SHEPHERD, 36, former captain of the football teams at Louisville Manual High School and the University of Kentucky, died last April of a heart attack at his home in Miami, Fla.

He had been managing a used-car lot in Miami for a Louisville firm.

Mr. Shepherd, who played quarterback and captained the Wildcat grid team in 1940, also was a member of the baseball team and following his graduation served one year as a football coaching aide at UK.

Survivors include his wife and three children; his mother and one brother.

Funeral services and burial were held in Louisville.

HELEN WYLIE CLAPP, wife of Phillip S. Clapp of Portland, Oregon, died last April at her home following a long illness from cancer.

A resident of Jessamine county when she enrolled at the University, Mrs. Clapp held the A.B. degree from Asbury College, Wilmore, obtained in 1928 and the M.A. degree from UK.

A member, with her husband, of the faculty of Cascade College, Portland, they had served there for 20 years.

Memorial services for Mrs. Clapp were held at the Cascade College chapel on April 24, conducted by the Rev. John Stoltman, pastor of the First Methodist church at Vancouver, Wash. Private funeral services had been held previously in Riverview Abbey, Portland.

DR. JOSEPH E. ROEMER, 70, retired dean of George Peabody College for Teachers and more recently professor of elementary education at McMurry College, Abilene, Texas, died in a hospital in Leesburg, Fla., last July 1.

Dr. Roemer had retired from McMurry just a month before his death. He and Mrs. Roemer had gone to Leesburg to make their home.

A graduate of UK in 1914 and a top scholar, Dr. Roemer had served as professor of secondary education at the University of Florida from 1920 to 1931 before his assignment at Peabody. He was a past president of the Florida Education Association and a past president of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

Dr. Roemer was born in Sugar Grove, Ky., in Butler county.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. E. N. Higgins of Amarillo, Texas.

Funeral services and burial were held in Bowling Green.

J. PORTER LAND, 64, Fayette County Court Clerk for three consecutive terms, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital last July 5 following a long illness. Mr. Land probably was the most popular Democrat to hold office in Fayette county in recent years, proof of which being that when he announced for reelection in 1953 he was unopposed either by a Democrat or a Republican.

Mr. Land was a native of Jessamine county, the son of William L. and Margaret Porter Mathews Land. He was reared on a Fayette county farm by his mother, his father having died as a young man. He, his three brothers and two sisters learned farming there, and after graduation from Lexington High School he attended the College of Agriculture at the University of Kentucky, then returned to farming. He was a member of the Ky. Sheriff's Association, member and past president of the Ky. County Clerk's Association and of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity.

He and his wife made their home at Sleepy Hollow, a hundred-acre farm on the Athens and Walnut Hill Pike, where he engaged in scientific stock and thoroughbred breeding with emphasis on soil conservation and scientific farming methods.

Mr. Land is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Duncan Land, two sisters, two brothers, all of Lexington, and five nieces.

Funeral services were held at the W. R. Milward Mortuary chapel by the Rev. Steadman Bagby, pastor, and the Rev. Adolphus Gilliam, former pastor of the First Methodist church, of which he was a member. Burial followed in the Lexington cemetery.

Four University of Kentucky graduate students—two English scholars, a mathematician and a physicist—have been awarded $1,800 fellowships for a year's study at UK in their respective fields. Recipients are Thomas Gentry of Danville, English; William H. Snedegar Jr., of Lexington, physics; William Sowder of Roanoke, Va., English; and John Wells of Lexington, mathematics.

Prof. Harold E. Wetzel, head of the University of Kentucky's Department of Social Work, has been elected second vice president of the National Council on Social Work Education. This council is the one organization in the United States and Canada with primary responsibility for social work education.

The class of 1905 marched gaily and youthfully to the commencement platform on May 30 to receive the Half Century awards. This group is the vanguard of the class. West, Lexington; Fayette Johnston, Lexington. Back row, same order: James B. Sprake, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Harry C. Edwards, Jacksonville, Ill.; J. F. Shipp, Lexington; V. D. Roberts, Somerset; Herman F. Scholtz, Warrenton, Va.; and C. W. Ham, Lexington.

Homecoming October 29.

Fifty Years Ago? Couldn't Be—They're Too Young!

To the Members of the Alumni Association Of the University of Kentucky:

Dear Friends and Members of the Alumni Association:

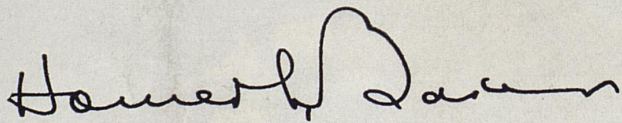

I appreciate the confidence you have placed in me as your President. I shall try to carry on the program of progress instigated by those who have preceded me. They contributed much—very much.

I have just read where one of our great industrialists has said, "A nation is no stronger than its industrial lifting power." That Great American Lift! What it has meant to American industry! What it could mean to our own University of Kentucky! A great group of people constantly giving a lift day by day, by word of mouth to some friend saying, "Give us a lift. Join up. Help us build. There is great power in a moving organization." The friend might ask, "Power for what?" Tell him, "Power to help build. Power to help grow. A tremendous working power that will enable us to build a greater University. Build something bigger and better than we have ever had before—a place where we can train greater numbers of young people. People who can contribute to education and industry and science. People who can help make our world a better place to live for all of us, our children and grandchildren who will follow. This takes planning and much work."

Could you contribute a part of your time and your money to a more worthy cause? Could you? Won't you help? Won't you join with us? Please do.

With this request, your prayers and a hope for God's guidance, I accept the challenge of the job.

Sincerely,

Homer L. Baker, President
