Plans For Senior Commencement Are Announced Here

Iowa Head To Speak At Program June 4 In Memorial Coliseum

Commencement week plans for approximately UK students were announced this week by University officials.

Principal speaker for the 87th annual commencement program, scheduled for 8 p.m. (DST) Friday, June 4, in Memorial Coliseum, will be Dr. Virgil Melvin Hancher, president of the State University of Iowa. Other speakers for the commencement week program will include Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, minister ecumenical of the First Christian Church in Louisville, who will deliver the baccalaureate address, and Dean Elva J. Stahl, Jr., of the College of Law, who will speak at the annual UK Alumni Association banquet.

This year's baccalaureate program will be held at 4 p.m. (DST) Sunday, May 30, in Memorial Coliseum.

Alumni Association officials have scheduled the annual banquet for Thursday, June 3. Exact details for the alumni program will be announced later.

The commencement speaker has been president at State University of Iowa since 1946. Prior to accepting this position, Dr. Hancher was a member of a Chicago law firm.

Dr. Hancher holds the B.A. degree in Jurisprudence from Oxford University, where he was a Rhodes scholar. The speaker also received the M.B. and Juris Doctor degrees from the University of Iowa.

The commencement speaker was a recent visitor to Lexington, serving as a member of the special committee for the Air Force charged with selecting a site for the proposed Air Force Academy.

Dr. Carpenter has served as chancellor of Transylvania College and is a former minister of both the First Christian Church in Richmond and the First Christian Church in Chattanooga, Tenn.

The annual commencement luncheon will be held on Friday, June 4, preceding the graduation ceremony is another phase of commencement week plans. A speaker for the luncheon program will be selected later, the announcement stated.

WAA Schedules Spring Elections

All women who have accumulated four points through intramural sports participation are eligible to vote for the new WAA officers, Marie Edwards, a representative of the athletic association, has announced.

The WAA election will be held Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Women's Gym.

The slate includes: president, Shirley Duncan; vice-president, Janet Asselt; Mary Estes; secretary, Billie Sue Jones; Ann Gordon; and treasurer, Dot McPhail, Marie Edwards.

All trophies won by groups during this year in intramural sports, letters, medals, and appreciation plaques will be awarded at the annual WAA banquet Monday, May 24, at the Student Union. Dr. Frank Dickey, head of the Department of Education, will present the awards.

Judging Contest To Be Held Here

Seventy-five students, representing eight state colleges and universities, arrived at the University campus yesterday to participate in the Southern Intercollegiate Livestock Judging Contest today. University students will compete in the contest but will not be eligible for awards since they are the hosts for the event.

Trophies, contributed by Lexington business interests, will go to winners in judging beef cattle, hogs, and sheep. Awards will be made at breakfast at the Student Union Building Saturday morning. The breakfast will be sponsored by Block and Brink.

Colleges planning to attend include Mississippi State College, Southeastern Louisiana, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Louisiana State University, University of Florida, University of West Virginia, University of Georgia, and University of Tennessee.

The annual University judging contest for UK students will be held only May 20.

Kentuckian To Be Out In Summer

Distribution of the 1954 Kentuckian, UK's yearbook, will begin sometime near the opening of the summer school session.

Ray Jones, business manager of the yearbook, said this week that plans for mailing the annual to graduating seniors and subscribers have been completed.

Plans for distribution follow: Graduating seniors wishing to have Kentuckians mailed to their homes or business address may make arrangements between 1 and 4 p.m. (DST) Monday, May 17, through Friday, May 21, at the Kentuckian Office, Room 210 of the Journalism Building.

Mailing forms will be 25 cents. Seniors unable to make arrangements personally may write Ray Jones, care of the Kentuckian Office, Journalism Building, giving the name and address to which the Kentuckian is to be sent. The 25-cent mailing fee should be enclosed in coin, he said.

Jones has asked that students making arrangements by mail include the college from which they are graduating.

Subscribers to the 1954 Kentuckian who wish annuals mailed to them should bring the numbered receipts given them when they purchased the yearbook in the Kentuckian Office along with the mailing fee, Jones said.

Subscribers may also make arrangements by mail, enclosing the receipts and mailing fee in coin, he said.

Jones said that a limited number of Kentuckians will be available for sale after the senior and subscription copies are distributed. Subscriptions to extra copies will be on a "first come, first served" basis, he said.

The price for extra copies will be 50 plus the 25-cent mailing fee.

Troupers' Show Continues Tonight

The second half of the UK Troupers' annual "Big Show" will begin today at 7:30 p.m. (DST) in Memorial Coliseum.

This year's event—which began last night—features acts of tumbling, square, tap, aerobic, and soft shoe dancing and several novelty presentations.

Tickets for the show may be obtained from members of Troupers' at the door.

Students Entering Law Must Apply

All students now enrolled at UK who expect to enter the College of Law next September are requested to make application for entrance Monday in Room 101 of the Administration Building. Robert L. Mills, registrar, has announced.

Library Displays First Editions

Original letters and first editions of several English romantic poets have been placed on display in the main foyer of the Margaret I. King Library.

Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, director of libraries, announced Wednesday that the display is open to the public.

Articles in the exhibit belong to W. Hugh Peal, New York attorney and former UK student, who spoke here last week at the annual Phi Beta Kappa dinner. Peal has been in talk at the banquet on these letters and editions.

Fraternity Probation Postponed One Year

Any fraternity or sorority failing to meet the 13 required standing during a year of social probation will continue on probation for a second year, instead of being immediately eligible for revocation.

The new rules specify that if any fraternity again fails to meet the required scholastic standings at the end of the second year of probation, then the organization must show cause why its charter should not be revoked.

The urgency of the fraternity scholastic problem is emphasized by the fact that 11 UK fraternities failed to meet the 13 standing this semester.

Under the previous rules, the charters of these fraternities would have been revoked if the organizations failed to make the required standing during a year of social probation.

Classical Honorary Selects Officers

The UK chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, national classical honorary, elected its officers for the coming year at a meeting last week in the Student Union Building.

Nelson Britt, a junior in pre-law, was elected president; Neilson Dale, a sophomore in pre-law, vice-president; Martha Lou Breit, a junior in commerce, corresponding secretary; Clayton Garland, junior classical major, recording secretary; and Marshall White, sophomore in psychology, was elected treasurer.

Harold L. Mann, sociology junior, was accepted as a pledge in the organization.

The final meeting of the year for Eta Sigma Phi will be a picnic supper at the home of Dr. Jonah W. D. Skiles, head of the Department of Ancient Languages and Literatures, on May 25.

The new president of the UK chapter, Nelson Britt, was recently elected secretary of the national organization of Eta Sigma Phi at a national convention in St. Louis.

Chorus, Orchestra To Give 'Requiem'

"Requiem" written in 1908 by Johannes Brahms, is a mass for the dead. According to musical history, it was not written for any particular church, but rather, part of the memorial service of Brahms' mother.

Six Sections To Be Given
Six sections of the total work will be presented. The program will begin with "Benedicite" and then "Requiem."

The new chorus will follow with "Benedicite" as the grass—the grass withereth and the flower thereof decayeth—the redeemed of the Lord shall return again and come rejoicing. This section is presented in march style.

Charles Sims, freshman member of the UK chorus, will do the third section, "Lord, make me to know my days that I must perish. Lord, what do I wait for—my hope is in Thee."

The fourth chorus, which is the best known part of the work, has as its main theme "How lovely is thy dwelling place, Oh Lord of Hosts."

Sally Hoffman is soloist. Sally Hoffman, junior chorus member, will be soprano soloist in the fifth chorus. She will sing, "Ye now are sorrowful. Howbeit, ye shall again hold me and your heart shall be joyful." This is the theme of the promise of resurrection.

The final chorus to be presented on the program is "Here on earth we have no continuing place, we shall not all sleep when He cometh," ending in a final note of triumph.

"For death shall be swallowed in victory. Death, where is thy triumph? Death, where is thy sting?"

Research Bureau Answers Questions On Atomic Plant

Many of the questions which have confronted the American public concerning labor-management relations at the Atomic Energy plant near Paducah were answered in a report published Monday by the UK Bureau of Business Research.

The bulletin, prepared by Reed Tripp, Keith Mann, and Frederick Downs, traces of all labor-management conflicts which have occurred in the Paducah area of western Kentucky during the past four years.

Prof. Tripp was lent to the UK bureau by the University of Wisconsin Department of Economics and Prof. Mann was lent by the Stanford University School of Law. Factors listed as causes of industrial unrest in the Paducah area follow:

1. Organization drives and struggles include recognition of the union.
2. The apparent inability of one side to recognize the economic strength of the other.
3. The varied employment and union backgrounds of employees, which made adjustment to local conditions difficult; the tremendous growth in union memberships, particularly in craft unions.
4. The resulting problems within local unions.

US Party Takes Arts And Sciences; Turnout Is 2,000

Charles Palmer and Wendell Norman, both Constitutionalists, are the new president and vice president of the Student Government Association.

Wednesday's election, which had one of the largest student turnouts in many years, brought victory to members of the Constitutional Party and seven members of the United States Party—a total of 21 new SGA representatives.

Almost 2,000 students voted, and other representatives will be sworn in at 6:30 p.m. (DST) Monday in Room 128 of the Student Union Building. A new secretary and treasurer will be elected within the assembly at that time.

Winners of Wednesday's election follow:
College of Arts and Sciences: Leslie Morris, USP; upperclassman; Debbie Schwartz, USP, upperclasswoman; Don Smith, USP, lowerclassman; Dan Whitehouse, USP, lowerclassman; Jack Freeman, USP, lowerclassman; and Liz Bell, USP, lowerclasswoman.

College of Education: Eleanor Shelton, Const., woman-at-large.
College of Law: Ed Fossel, Const., man-at-large.

Pershing Rifles Wins First Place At Drill Meet

Company C of Pershing Rifles returned from the Regimental Drill meet at Toledo, Ohio, last weekend with the first place trophy.

The drill meet consisted of five events and Company C, commanded by Captain Cyp E. Turner, received prizes in all five events.

Company C's Exhibition Platoon placed first in competition; a squad of eight men under the command of PR First Sgt. Larry B. Aicken placed first in the squad competition; a regular drill platoon under the command of PR First Lieut. Matt Franck placed third in straight drill competition; Edward E. Shegbert, a freshman, placed third in individual drill competition, and the rifle team under the command of PR Warrant Officer Charles D. Combs placed third on the firing range.

Among books which will be written are "Democracy and the Supreme Court," "State Constitutions and Local Finances in Oklahoma," "The Supreme Court and Judicial Review," and "Federal Protection of Civil Rights."

Prof. Carr is also the author of a volume on civil rights published by the Cornell University Press.

Dr. Jasper B. Shannon, professor of political science at UK, will preside at the lecture, which will be open to the public without charge.

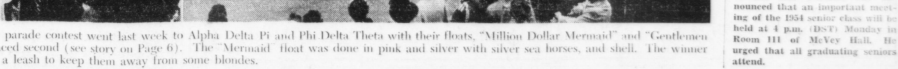

All lectures in the Blazer series are made possible through a fund established by Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Blazer of Ashland. The lectures are administered through the UK Department of History.

Whiteside Is Head Of Faculty Club

F. W. Whiteside Jr., professor of law, has been elected president of the UK Faculty Club, succeeding Maurice Chas, instructor in physical education.

Other new officers of the club are D. K. Blythe, assistant professor of civil engineering, vice president; W. W. Hayes, associate professor of economics, secretary; and Frank D. Peterson, comptroller, treasurer.

The new directors of the club were elected for this year. They are: Alfred C. Bruger, professor of sociology; and F. W. Whiteside Jr., professor of law, who was elected for the year.

HERE COME THE FLOATS!—Top honors in the May Day parade contest went last week to Alpha Delta Pi and Phi Delta Theta with their floats, "Million Dollar Mermaid" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Alpha Gamma Delta and Delta Tau Delta placed second (see story on Page 6). The "Mermaid" float was done in pink and silver with silver sea horses, and shell. The winner in the men's division showed a brumette holding three men on a leash to keep them away from some blondes.

Frats Should Help Themselves Regarding Required 1.3 Standing

IFC's plan to lower the present 1.3 scholastic requirement for fraternities failed to pass the UK faculty. The faculty did, however, pass an amendment which extended social probation to two years for all Greek groups which fail to make the 1.3 standing. We backed the IFC plan wholeheartedly but since the faculty has stood pat and refused to pass the plan, it's time for the fraternities to haul themselves up by their bootstraps and make the required standing.

There's an old saying, "If you don't help yourself, nobody else will." Well, that's the way it stands. IFC made a noble effort and failed. So now it's up to the fraternities themselves to show if they can make the grade. We can't say that IFC's attempt was a complete failure because as a result of their attempt the faculty did extend the social probation period.

The text of the amendment that was made is as follows: "If, during a year of social probation, a fraternity or sorority again fails to meet the specified standing, it shall continue on social probation for a second year. If during the second year of social probation a fraternity or sorority again fails to meet the specified standing, it shall immediately be prohibited from further pledging of initiation, and it shall be called upon to show cause why its charter should not be revoked. A final decision respecting the revocation of a charter or the renewal of pledging and initiation privileges shall be made by the University Faculty on the basis of evidence furnished and recommendations made by the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women."

Though we must concede that a 1.3 standing isn't very high and most UK students should be able to make it quite easily, we can't see why the required standing is set at a 1.3 instead of a 1.0 which is required for graduation. The explanation given for this is that the all-men's average is a 1.3 so there, therefore, the fraternities should be required to make a 1.3. It should be remembered, however, that in figuring the all-men's average, every fifth man is counted, while in the fraternity, every single active and pledge is counted.

The solution lies in the fraternities themselves. Each group should examine themselves objectively and decide where they need the most improvement. In most cases, it seems to be the pledges who pull down the standings. If the pledges need help, then a satisfactory study schedule should be worked out in order to raise their grades.

In the future, there will doubtless be other plans submitted concerning this situation which may or may not be passed. But the point is, fraternities, don't wait for those future plans, take the matter into your own hands and raise those standings. A 1.3 standing really isn't very high.

Study-Weary Seniors Want Out Of Finals

Attention all professors. The time of final examinations is drawing near for all seniors on the campus. We have slaved and strained for four, long, weary years. Last-minute term papers and assignments are driving us to nervous distraction. So why not grant our final plea and let graduating seniors out of exams?

Just think, kind professors, senior grades have to be in by Wednesday, May 26. That means preparing and giving exams over a week early. In addition, think of all the extra papers you will have to grade. Being such busy men, we know that there are many other things that you could do with that time—much more enjoyable things.

So listen to our grievance and try to understand our plight. Most of us have been in college seven previous semesters. During that time we have taken about six courses a semester. After inquiring among numerous students we find that the study time required for each of these subjects at final's time is at the least about six or seven hours. That means that, students put in from 36 to 42 hours of concentrated study during or right before examination week.

Now, since we seniors have already gone through seven final examinations weeks, we have put in from 252 to 294 hours, at the minimum, studying for final exams. Of course, that doesn't count the many other hours we have put in studying during our four years because we are discussing only the time spent studying for finals.

Now we agree, kind professors, that those studying hours were well spent and since the purpose of our coming to the University was to learn, this studying time was put to good use. But now as our eighth examination week faces us, we cry out in protest for one reason and one reason only—WE ARE TIRED.

If a graduating senior has a B average in a class, his professor can decide whether or not the student is to take the exam. So take pity, dear sirs, on the worn-out, nervous, and exhausted graduating seniors, and let us out of final exams.

"He wants to make sure the Prof won't forget he's a graduating senior!"

Look Magazine Has Done It Again With Absurd Story On Alger Hiss

By LESLIE MORRIS

Look magazine has done it again. We thought we'd seen the last of asinine, ridiculous articles—nothing after Whittaker Chambers' singular blurb several months ago concerning the ghost of Harry Dexter White? But "America's Family Magazine" is obviously attempting to prove that it can be consistently bad, and so, in their March 18 issue, the Cowles' Clan again shed their dripping dignity with the cover announcement of a startling scoop by one Jack Staples who "knew Alger Hiss in prison."

And so Look has made the full circle: from Chambers (who still sees pink elephants—oops, donkeys), to Mr. Staples, who—besides having the dubious distinction of Hiss' acquaintance at the Lewisburg pen—is principally known for his aversion to paying income taxes.

Now we do not abhor Jack (#2467450) Staples for his little indiscretion, and goodness knows, this major-league hold-out sure got his reward—several years in the Penn. pen, to be exact. But we do resent being led into an article which is as empty as a Nevada rain-barrel.

What are the amazing revelations of ex-con Staples? Well—he states first that Hiss looks like any other human being (an amazing discovery). Second, we learn that Don Quixote is Hiss' ideal (which seems a trifle ludicrous). Third, that Hiss plans to write a rebuttal to Chambers' best-seller (and for the same reason—money). Fourth, now get this: that his most precious keep-keep is his Yalta briefcase. Every once in a while we felt that Jack was trying to be funny.

But after this parrying around, Hiss' "fellow inmate," a member of the Honor Block fraternity, gets down to business and really roots out some explosive, here-to-fore unrevealed facts, straight from the horse's shut-nose.

Q. Is Hiss a Communist? A. "I believe in God."

(Hiss.)

Q. What is Hiss' opinion of Chambers? A. "God will judge Whittaker Chambers."

Q. Did Hiss act to protect his wife? A. "My wife lives for me . . . she is loyal and loving (blah-blah) . . ."

Q. Did Truman sell him down the river? A. "If the Old Man had lived, I'd never be here."

The Old Man, by the way, is FDR, with whom Alger became terribly friendly after 1945.

And so, friends, as the sun sets over the purple hills at Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, we leave Alger Hiss "chewing with the rest of the men," not bitter at society, understand—just bored. And our author, somewhat homesick, and recalling the old bridge foomsomes with Hiss, Major-Gen. Bennett Meyers (now on leave), Rev. Kanawisher, and himself, signs off with this frank confession: "When I got out, the FBI came to see me. . . I told them that if I'd known anything important I'd have gone to see them," but since he admittedly didn't know anything, he went to see Look, instead. . .

While we're wretchedly off the subject of movies, we think we ought to commend the world renowned Republican blubber-boy and McCarthy apologist, Hezzer Fulton Lewis, Jr., for his remarkable column of April 28. Lewis has always been able to cram more vividness into fewer column inches than any other journalist alive, but his latest diatribe against his pet peeve, Eleanor Roosevelt, felt the proverbial cake.

Lewis manages to give Mrs. Roosevelt the following titles: "loquacious busybody . . . of Hyde Park," "this garrulous woman," "this turgid" (Webster's def: a brawling woman), "this presidential relic," "this let-not-be-harsh roamer," etc., etc. Thus the brave words of Mr. Lewis, and to him we say: to-look-with-you.

In passing we want to thank Charlie O'Connell for his nice letter about our Derby column. See you next week.

Your Attention! Butler Slips Up, Offers Apologies

By RONNIE BUTLER

TO SIGMA NU fraternity: apologies for a column poking fun at certain "overbearing tactics at a football game last year. It was all in fun, honest fellows. And, to Messrs. Jim Perry, Tom Brahan, and others concerned—congratulations for putting some life into the Kentuckian.

TO PERSHING RIFLES: apologies for any hints that the organization wastes time. Really, men, it's the greatest thing to hit the South. Those trophies look mighty good (so do the sponsors). Matt Frank, Bill Bohart, and General Custard will verify the lack of hostility on the part of the Toolbox—wasn't you?

TO THE CHI OMEGA sorority: apologies for showing the TV set through the Chapter Room wall in a moment of anger.

TO CHARLIE PALMER and WENDELL NORMAN: congratulations for your success in the SGA election. The same to everyone else, especially Sue Ann Hobgood, Debbie Schwartz, Bill Simpson, and Leslie Morris.

TO THE PHYSICS DEPARTMENT: deepest apologies for writing a story about the thimbigainig over there.

TO THE CHI OMEGA sorority: apologies for having sold your TV set after kicking it through the Chapter Room wall.

Distasteful Stories Should Be Reported

Dear Editor:

For the past several months the Kernel has been running stories mature and professional enough for a daily paper. The writing has been in error in places, but the basic material is fine. Ignoring distasteful occurrences does not make them less distasteful nor wipe them out.

If a student editor is given to believe that "something is wrong" it is his duty to tell the students about it in a student publication.

A journalist works hard. He doesn't have time for clouds, "high-floating" or otherwise. It isn't easy to write, copyread, type, do paste-up work, plan pages, get your material on time, and half a million other things, perfectly. We're not on the staff, but my friends and I like the paper as it is, and we'll try doing something about it if it changes!

I-M Schedules 'Little 500' Bike Race; Softball And Track Meet Dates Reset

By GEORGE KOPER

Shades of the Indianapolis Speedway's Tony Vukovich, Troy Ruttman and the rest will have their big day on May 26, but Kentucky racing fans will get their chance to see the big show on Wednesday, May 26.

The intramural department is sponsoring a bicycle race patterned after Indiana University's "Little 500" event. The race will contain many features similar to the Hoosier's annual affair though on a much smaller scale.

The cyclists will cover a distance of seven and one-half miles or 30 laps around the Stoll Field track. Each team will be made up of five riders with each rider guiding the bike for two of the first ten laps. After completing the ten laps the men can ride in any order and for any distance.

Each fraternity or entering organization has to furnish its own bike. The only rule pertaining to the bikes is that racing bikes will not be allowed. Other than that they be stripped down in any fashion the contestants desire.

Due to the short space of time before the schedule date of the race, teams will not gain starting positions by time trials. Instead, a representative from each group will draw to determine starting positions. Racers will start in rows of five giving a considerable advantage to the racers in the first row though pot stops, spills and rider changes will help to offset the advantage.

Trophies will be presented to the winners and runner-ups besides points gained towards the all-year trophy. The all-year points will be scored on the usual basis, five points for each man on the winning team, three for the runner-up outfit and one for the third place finisher.

Entries are being accepted at the I-M office on the second floor of Alumni Gym. The tentative time of the race is 5 p.m., May 26.

Conflicts with the State high school track meet have forced postponement of the intramural track meet until Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m. Qualifying will be held on Thursday with finals slated for Thursday. Bob Clark, I-M director, urged all entrants to turn in their physical certificates to his office as soon as possible. Any one without the physical will not be allowed to run.

The softball tournament opened play Wednesday night. Results of Wednesday and Thursday's games were not available at the time of writing.

The tournament will resume play Monday. Monday's schedule: SAE-PSK and ZBT-AOR, 5 p.m., Stoll Field; SX-PA and FH-SN, 6 p.m., Stoll Field; PDT-ATO and LXA-KA, 5 p.m., U High Field.

SAE edged SX 8-7 to take first place in the wrestling meet. A split in two matches last Wednesday night gave SAE their victory margin.

Wendell Norman gave SAE their crown when he defeated Charles Mattingly, DTD, for the 146 pound title.

The other SAE finalist, C. M. Boone, lost to Gene Stathos, Ind., in the heavyweight class finals. Stathos pinned Boone in 1:02 of the second round to capture his title.

SAE and SX emerged with 27 points apiece towards the all-year cup.

Track Team Defeats UC, Hanover Harriers

Jess Curry continued to lead the trackmen of the University of Kentucky in a triangular track meet at Hanover College in Madison, Ind.

Curry captured four events in guiding Dr. Don Seaton's to 69 points, and a 22-point margin to the nearest competitor. The University of Cincinnati finished second with 46 points and the host team of Hanover was two points out of the Bearcats.

Curry won the 100-yard dash, the high and low hurdles, and the broad jump to finish the day's activities with 20 points.

Eddie Ernst was second for Kentucky with 10 points, winning the 200 and 440-yard dashes. Frank Scott captured the mile run and Billie Mitchell, the high jump for the Wildcats.

The half-mile relay team added the ninth first place for Kentucky's efforts.

TODAY'S QUIZ
WHAT MAKES A LUCKY TASTE BETTER?

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!

A Lucky tastes better for two important reasons: 1. Lucky Strike means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco.

2. That tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' fine tobacco... makes it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother.

That's why a Lucky tastes better. And naturally, better taste is why thousands of college students prefer Luckies to all other brands.

So, enjoy better taste. Be Happy—Go Lucky!

SIDELINE SLANTZ!

by
John K. Ryans

Kentucky's baseball Wildcats have not had too much luck this season, but there has been one bright spot throughout the whole campaign. This has been the play of Capt. Miles Willard, who has been a standout performer both offensively and defensively this season. Miles, who is in his final year here, came to UK on his football ability. He lettered twice in the grid sport at UK and was one of the finest kickers on Bryant's teams, until he suffered a leg injury in the 1952 season. Miles appeared in one football game the past grid season. He entered the opener with Texas A. & M. and booted the ball 37 yards from the end-zone. He spent the rest of the season as a student assistant. This will mark the third season that Miles has lettered in baseball, having previously lettered in 1952 and 53. Miles' batting average for the season, not including this week's games, is a robust .391. He has blasted three homers and has knocked in 17 of UK's 64 runs. Certainly Willard deserves to be named to the All-SEC baseball squad, if anyone in the conference does. Incidentally, Miles' little brother, Bill, a freshman on UK's team, is showing steady improvement as a second baseman and should keep up the Willard tradition.

Baseballers Top Transy As Coy Homers Twice

By DAVE NARDIMEN

Kentucky's Hugh Coy disproved the theory that pitchers can't hit Monday afternoon as the Wildcat baseball team trounced Transylvania, 10-2.

The curvilinear right-hander belted Transy hurler Andy Cristofield for two booming home runs over the left field wall, the blasts accounting for four runs. Coy also pitched well in scattering five Pioneer hits and striking out 10.

The game was marred by a mishap in the second inning in which senior shortstop Freddie Hunt broke a leg while sliding into second base on a steal. Hunt received a complete fracture of the small bone in his lower right leg and was taken to the UK infirmary for treatment.

Kentucky scored first in the second inning when Capt. Miles Willard patted Ken Lohkamp from third base with a one-bagger to left. Lohkamp was running for the injured Hunt.

Coy's first round-tipper came in the third frame with catcher Jim Morris on base. The Cats held the 2-0 margin for five innings as Coy held the Pioneers to one hit up to that point, a lead-off single by Bobby Hager.

In the Transy sixth, the game

Golf Team Loses To Vandy, 23-4

UK's golfers lost their seventh match of the season on Friday, as they were defeated by a strong Vanderbilt squad 23-4. This marked their second loss of the season to the Commodore squad. The match was played on the local course.

The Wildcat linkmen of Coach Johnny Owens will be seeking their fifth win of the season, when they meet Louisville today. The result of the match with Centre played on Wednesday at Danville was not available at press time.

UK's tennis team is showing a great improvement over their early season performances. Coach H. H. Downing's netters beat one of the Mid-West's finest teams, Cincinnati's Bearcats, by an 8-1 count last Friday. Bill Evans, George Koper, George Carey, Ted Phillips, and Joe Teague, swept individual matches, while doubles teams of Evans and Koper, Carey and Phillips, and Teague and Capt. Ed Rodman swept the doubles. UK's only defeat was suffered by Glenn Dorrath. The netters have won their last four straight matches, through Wednesday, and have allowed their opponents a total of only two points.

The official opening of the two football houses, Kitten Lodge and Kentucky Manor, was held last Sunday afternoon. A large crowd of visitors were conducted through the two residences by members of the UK grid team. Dr. and Mrs. Leo Chamberlain, Coach and Mrs. Blanton Collier, and Assistant Coaches Eral Allen and Clarence Underwood served as the welcoming committee. Wildcat gridlers now have homes that rank with the best in the country.

One of UK's most versatile athletes, Herb Hunt, ended his collegiate career in a sad note Monday, when he broke his leg sliding into second base in a game with Transylvania. Hunt will be remembered by Wildcat grid fans for years to come for his brilliant quarterback play in the UK-Tennessee football game in 1952. He scored one touchdown and passed for another, as UK tied the Vols by a 14-14 score. Hunt had only recently switched from the mound to shortstop for the Wildcat baseballers.

Baynham's believes in The Magic of Capezios by Capezio

What is the magic of Capezio? Tradition. A spirit of freedom and youth. American functionalism, American art. Sentiment of the theatre. Undeniable, mysterious, romantic, yet clearly apparent. Capezio owes its tradition to the ballet. From the very beginning in 1887, Salvatore Capezio fashioned footwear the greatest dancers were to make ballet history. As the ballet grew and gathered the moods of the nation to itself, Capezio was there with the footwear to to these moods. . . YOURS AT BAYNHAM'S IN LEXINGTON!
