

The University Senate met in regular session at 3:00 p.m., Monday, September 9, 1974, in the Court Room of the Law Building. Chairman Stanford Smith presided.

Since there was a breakdown in the postal procedure and some members of the University Senate did not receive the notice of the meeting until too late to attend, the absent members are not being included as a part of these Minutes and all Senators who were not at the meeting will be given an explained absence.

The minutes of the meeting of May 6, 1974 were approved as circulated.

On behalf of the College of Pharmacy, Professor Harry B. Kostenbauder presented Resolutions on the death of Dr. David E. Guttman. Following his presentation the Senators were asked to stand for a moment of silence in tribute and respect to Dr. Guttman and in acceptance of the Resolutions.

DAVID E. GUTTMAN

David E. Guttman, Professor in the Division of Pharmaceutics and Pharmaceutical Analysis of the College of Pharmacy, died of cancer June 30, 1974. He is survived by his wife, Estelle, and his three children, Steven, Jeremy, and Leslie.

A native of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, Dr. Guttman received his Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy from the College of Pharmacy, University of Alberta. His doctorate was attained at the University of Wisconsin, in 1956.

Dr. Guttman became a well known person in American Pharmacy. He served in pharmaceutical industry for several years at the Upjohn Company and Smith Kline & French Laboratories, but he spent most of his professional years as a pharmaceutical educator at Ohio State University, the State University of New York at Buffalo, and the University of Kentucky. Author of numerous scientific articles on pharmaceutics and pharmaceutical analysis, Dr. Guttman was widely recognized as an authoritative teacher and researcher in these areas. In addition to his great commitment to teaching and research, an involvement from which he derived great satisfaction and to which he gave much energy, was his work on the Revision Committee of the United States Pharmacopeia; he served the United States Pharmacopeia through this Committee, in various capacities, continuously since 1962. Dr. Guttman was an active participant on various committees of the Conference of Teachers of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. He was a member of the Executive Committee of the Academy of Pharmaceutical Sciences; and, he had served on the Committee on Analytical Profiles in the Pharmaceutical Analysis and Control Section, and as Chairman of the Basic Pharmaceutics Section of the Academy.

Dr. Guttman was widely known in American scientific pharmacy. He was respected by those who knew him not only as an exceptionally able scientist and educator, but as a fine, warm and genial person. As a tribute to this beloved colleague and friend, and to further the science to which he contributed so effectively, an effort will be made to establish at Kentucky the David E. Guttman Lectures, to be given annually by prominent pharmaceutical scientists and educators.

Thus, it is with great regret that we mark the death of this fine gentleman and outstanding scientist. The faculty of the College of Pharmacy wishes to express to Mrs. Guttman and the children its deep sympathy and sorrow in losing Dr. David E. Guttman as a colleague and friend.

Mr. Chairman, the Faculty of the College of Pharmacy respectfully asks that the University Senate appropriately note the loss of this member of the University's scholarly community and that these sentiments be spread upon the minutes of this meeting of the University Senate, and asks further that a copy of the same be sent to Mrs. Guttman and the children.

Chairman Smith made the following introductory remarks:

It has been traditional at the first meeting of the Senate each fall to introduce to this body a variety of individuals. Perhaps the most important group of individuals are those who are newly elected Senators. We would be pleased if those individuals who have just been elected to the Senate would please rise and be recognized by their colleagues. It is a pleasure to welcome all of you back and particularly a pleasure to welcome new Senators to this body. You may not know from reading the rules and regulations -- it is not always obvious to us in the course of our deliberations -- that this body legally, is one of the most powerful University Senates anywhere in the world. You assume a rather august responsibility and considerable honor by being elected by your colleagues. It is a pleasure to welcome you and we look forward to working with you over the next several years.

There are a number of groups and individuals who are responsible for the day-to-day operation of this body and are responsible for the preparation of those documents that ultimately reach the floor of the Senate. I would like to introduce to you now those members of your leadership so that you may recognize them and, as the occasion warrants, transmit business to them. As you know, the Senate is directed, in an executive sense, by the Senate Council which has an elected Chairman, and has an office which is located in the Administration Building. I am Stan Smith, Chairman of the Senate Council, through December, 1974. There are, in addition, the following members of the Senate Council:

Constance Wilson, College of Social Professions

Robert Ogletree, College of Education

Stephen Diachun, Department of Plant Pathology

Joseph Krislov, Department of Economics, who is chairman-elect of the Senate Council, and will assume the chairmanship January 1, 1975

William Wagner, Department of Chemistry, who is serving a one-year term replacing Malcolm Jewell who is on leave

Fred Zechman, Department of Physiology and Biophysics

Roger Eichhorn, College of Engineering, and Secretary of the Senate Council

Robert W. Rudd, Department of Agricultural Economics

Paul Sears, Department of Chemistry, who is an ex officio member of the Senate Council in his capacity as a faculty voting member of the Board of Trustees

Michael Adelstein, Department of English, serving as ex officio member of the Senate Council in his capacity as a faculty voting member of the Board of Trustees

David Mucci, ex officio member, as President of the Student Body Bette Dollase, College of Arts and Sciences, elected voting student member

Rebecca Westerfield, College of Law, elected voting student member

The Senate Council meets weekly, and sometimes more often. This semester they will be meeting on Wednesday afternoons at 3:30. Those meetings are normally held in the old Board Room of the Administration Building. The Senate Council meetings, as well as the meetings of this body, are subject to House Bill 100, and are open to the public. Obviously, any members of the Senate are welcome to attend, as well as anybody else.

In addition to the Council, there is a group of unsung heroes, the standing committees, and the chairmen of those Committees. I would like to introduce the chairmen who will be serving during the coming year so that you will be able to direct your concerns and interests to the appropriate people:

Joseph Jones, Chairman, Library Committee

Harry Barnard, Chairman, Rules and Elections Committee

William Peters, Chairman, Admissions and Academic Standards Committee

Betty Rudnick, Chairman, Student Affairs Committee

Rudolph Schriels, Chairman, Teaching, Learning and Advising Committee

Donald Ivey, Chairman, Academic Planning and Priorities Committee

James Criswell, Chairman, Academic Organization and Structure Committee

Willis Sutton, Chairman, General Studies Committee

Paul Forand, Chairman, Academic Programs Committee

John Walker, Chairman, Research Committee

Margaret Jones, Chairman, Special Teaching Programs Committee

At the moment, Professor Jean Pival is continuing as Chairman of the Community College Committee, and we have yet to make a firm commitment on the Chairman for the Academic Facilities Committee.

These 13 standing committee chairmen and a dozen or so Senate Council members, are your representatives who are charged with conducting much of the day-to-day business of the Senate. We would be pleased to hear from any of you at any time and will attempt to provide you with any and all information that we can. The Council Office is in the basement of the Administration Building and is staffed with an administrative assistant some part-time help, and the Senate Council Chairman who is there approximately half of the time.

There are a number of items to report to you -- actions which have occurred since the Senate last met -- and since we last had an opportunity to provide you with a public record of the goings and comings of this body. Among events over the summer which may be of interest to you, are material passed by this body late in the spring of 1974, generally called the Krislov Report, which was submitted to the President. There were several meetings between myself, Dr. Sears, and the President, concerning detailed wording and codification. Several draft documents were considered by the Senate Council and eventually the President reached his decisions, and codifications have been prepared. Of all the recommendations which this body submitted to the President, there was one after much soul-searching which was rejected by him, and that is the request that a faculty member who is not reappointed be given a statement of the reasons why. All the rest of the recommendations which were submitted by this body to the President have been accepted in substantially the form they were presented and have been implemented in the appropriate fashion to be incorporated into the appropriate documents, with one exception -- that is our recommendation changing the nature of credit for prior service -- which requires that the Governing Regulations be changed by the Board of Trustees before that Recommendation can be implemented. An appropriate document to go to the Board of Trustees has been prepared and will be placed on the table at the next Board meeting, which is September 17, and then must wait the mandatory period, which would be the subsequent Board meeting, at which time we hope the Board will see fit to pass that recommendation. On the assumption that they will see fit, appropriate changes in the Administrative Regulations have been prepared and, in fact, the faculty Advisory Committee which this body recommended to be a part of that process, has been named. That one provision will not go into effect until after December when the Board of Trustees action makes it legal. If you would like further details on that particular action, copies of many of those documents have already been circulated and the rest of them are available in the Council office for your perusal.

The Council performed a number of other activities during the summer. Under the delegated authority provided by this body, calendars and revisions in calendars, have been approved for the University and the Colleges of Law, Medicine, Dentistry, and the appropriate circulations will be made. There have been a number of meetings with President Singletary concerning the proposed reorganization of the College of Arts and Sciences. As required by the Governing Regulations and Administrative Regulations we consulted with the President concerning the appointment of a Search Committee for a Dean for the College of Dentistry. The Council also considered, advised, and consulted with the President, as required, concerning some rather technical changes in the Governing and Administrative Regulations relating to Adjunct Series Titles for professors. Among one of the more burdensome jobs, we have completed the assignment of all Senators to standing Committees as required by the regulations insofar as possible in accord with the wishes which those people expressed as they came in. We could not satisfy all of you. Sometimes a Senator got his second or third choice instead of his first choice but we tried to do the best we could. In addition, the Council, as required by the regulations, has submitted to the President appropriate slates of names for inclusion on the Privilege and Tenure Advisory Committee, its Hearing Panel, the Faculty Code Advisory Committee, and the Area Committees.

As has been the policy in the past, the University Committee assignments will be circulated in toto. These should be coming out within the next few days. You will receive the composition of Senate committees, standing committees, et cetera.

We have continued to work in an area which is one with no particular glory but which is highly critical and that is in the refinement of definitions. This University, our Council on Public Higher Education, and various national bodies, are engaged in refining the way in which we handle data, record information, etc. These generally come under the heading of the NCHEM System -- a lot of highly technical material, much of which in the academic area is being concentrated in Professor Sear's Office in Institutional Planning.

As a part of the responsibilities of the Senate, the Academic Program Committee prepared and has continued to develop and use some rather detailed definitions of various kinds of programs: degree, non-degree, undergraduate degree programs. These will probably eventually be coming to this body for insertion in the Rules. In the meantime that is continuing.

As you are undoubtedly aware if you have seen the KERNEL lately, we have continued to be concerned, as we were last spring, over the confidentiality of student records, and we have continued to work with the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs and with other personnel in that division of the institution in an attempt to insure that the utilization of student grades and records is handled in an appropriate fashion which protects the confidentiality of student records. As a part of that we have asked the Student Affairs Committee to work with Vice President Zumbinkle in an attempt to explore the interface between the Office of Student Affairs and various academic segments of the institution in order to optimize all of our activities in that area; and that will be an area which presumably you will see in forthcoming reports.

In addition, the Council has been working with one of its ad hoc advisory committees composed of all the Associate Deans in the Colleges of the University. That body has concerned itself with several matters, one of which is the approach by the Deans' offices and elsewhere to the question of the confidentiality of records; a second, and very important one, deals with the preparation of an advising document. As you may not know, we have a large number of students out in our Community College System many of whom have just spent a year or two in that System, then transferred to a four-year institution sometimes this one and sometimes another. Several of our neighboring institutions have found it desirable to prepare a document which is available to faculty and students in the Community Colleges explaining in detail how courses taken at those institutions may be used when transferred to one of our sister institutions. This University and its University System components for which we are responsible, have not, in the past, prepared such a document; however, our ad hoc Committee of Associate Deans under the able leadership of Dr. John Robertson, is presently doing that and we anticipate that we will be provided a document which the Community College Senate Council, and faculty, and staff tell us is highly needed that will enable any student and any faculty member in a Community College of the University of Kentucky to determine exactly which courses which do not bear common numbers, will or will not transfer and be acceptable to any baccalaureate degree program in the University of Kentucky. In addition, it will contain information on options for meeting college requirements, University General Studies, and other related matters. Among other things, it will include specific names, phone numbers, and addresses of individuals to contact. And it is our hope that by providing this document and by making it widely available, we will facilitate the transfer of outstanding students, that we will improve communications in relation to our Community College System, and generally better serve the Commonwealth. We anticipate that the first draft of this material will be available in early October and that the final documents will be available and distributed before the end of the semester.

We have had some fun over the summer. As you undoubtedly recall, the last meeting of the Legislature passed a law which was signed -- House Bill 100 -- which has become known as the "Sunshine Law". That document, reduced to its essentials, specified that with a couple of exceptions, all public agencies are required to hold their meetings in public, not only to have their meetings open but to provide appropriate notice of agendas and so on for the press and anybody else who wishes to attend. We have sought opinions from our Counsel and we have seen advisory opinions from the Attorney General's Office and it is very clear that the Senate and the Senate Council are subject bodies of Bill 100 and as such are subject to the Sunshine Law, with the single exception of when we are discussing certain limited financial matters or when we are discussing personnel matters involving specific individual names. So if you are wondering why the Senate Council is suddenly being reported somewhat more frequently in the KERNEL and other documents, it is because we have the press present at these meetings and all of our documents are public. Other agencies at this institution have clearly been determined to be subject bodies. We are still exploring and attempting to determine whether such things as a department faculty or a college faculty or something else are or are not public agencies which are covered within the definition of the law. As we determine whether they are or are not, we will let you know.

We have had several meetings -- one a dinner with the Community College Senate Council back in July to explore a number of problems there, one of which will come to the floor later in this meeting. We have met with Dr. Downing, who is the new academic advisor in the Athletics Department and have reviewed some of the material he is proposing to institute and have generally expressed a concern about the interface between our athletic programs at the University.

In a more technical area, we have received and considered, along with the Undergraduate and Graduate Councils, the Blythe Report which relates to what is called "Standard Nine". This is a regional-wide proposal that would eliminate the distinction between residence credit and extension credit as we now use it. A joint study group of the Undergraduate Council, the Graduate Council, and the Senate Council has considered this in detail and specific proposals will be before the Undergraduate and Graduate Councils as soon as they start meeting, and they will be coming to this body in October and November. Obviously, many aspects of our programs will change if we no longer make any distinction between extension and residence credit. We are attempting to determine what will change, how it will change, why, and what particular and appropriate actions need to be taken.

There are a multitude of other activities. For instance, the Council, under delegated authority, approved the August 7, 1974 graduation list which has been circulated; and sent to our Committees a number of activities. We were able to obtain a statement of administrative feasibility and have sent to the Academic Program Committee proposed Ph.D. programs in Philosophy and Communications; and we have several others in the pipe which are coming along. I have previously noted the charges to the Student Affairs Committee. We have charged the Admissions and Academic Standards Committee, and some others, with a review of the way we handle "audit" grades. We discovered, interestingly enough, that if a student signed up for audit credit, that's that; he got audit credit without ever having to go to class. This is an easy way to get through the University -- get a transcript full of audited courses. This is being straightened out. We are anticipating receiving a report from the ad hoc committee to study the question of separating the granting of tenure and promotion, chaired by Professor Dallas High and already being called the High Report even though we have yet to receive it. We have received some changes in admission requirements to the Graduate School and they have been sent to committees. We have received a number of details defining electives and various other kinds of programs -- proposed changes in the Rules of the Law School. We have received one major item -- a request from the President to consider some proposals which he, in turn, received from the College of Arts and Sciences. They are generally known as the Arts and Sciences proposals but I should point out that, technically, they are not the Arts and Sciences proposals. The Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, in response to a request from the President sometime ago, prepared a list of recommendations and possible considerations which he sent to the President. The President received them. They fall into two categories -- some dealing with the internal organization for the College and some dealing with possible organizations which would involve splitting off units and re-combing units of Arts and Sciences and others in the institution. We received a request from the President that we evaluate these and advise him. The Senate standing Committee on Academic Organization and Structure, chaired by Professor Criswell, has received the request to do this -- both on the internal and external aspects. A number of other Senate standing Committees have received requests also to review these documents and attempt to determine if there is anything in their particular area of concern that should be called to the attention of the Academic Organization and Structure Committee. In addition, Vice President Cochran is meeting with a number of deans who are involved.

So we anticipate a full year of consideration of matters that are, if nothing else, not trivia, and which may change the structure of a significant portion of this institution, may change the basic way in which we do things, and some of the basic philosophies under which we operate. The Senate will be charged, with the assistance of its committees, with dealing with these questions.

We have scheduled some additional items for future meetings. One which may be of interest is that we have potentially scheduled an address by Fran Curci to the October meeting of this body on the academic aspects of athletic programs.

We have two additional announcements to call to your attention -- one, there will be a meeting of the AAUP Chapter, attended by President Singletary, the 18th of September and two, there are two elections to be conducted this fall, both of which you will be receiving ballots for within the next week or so. In one of these the faculty here and in the Community College System will be voting to elect a voting faculty member to the Board of Trustees; the other, members of the Senate will be voting to elect three members to the Senate Council to replace myself, Professor Wilson, and Professor Ogletree who are completing their terms on that body.

This is a summary of what has gone on this summer. It has not been dull. Somehow we seem to have enough paper in our office to keep it going. There are a number of significant activities coming forward to you -- certainly the A & S proposals, Standard Nine, and so on which may drastically change the nature of this institution depending upon what we do or do not do. It is this body which will decide. So you have an opportunity to address to this body and to our structure some fairly substantial issues dealing with the fundamental question of what is a university, what is higher education, and, more specifically, what is the University of Kentucky and what is it we do here and how do we do it. And I think it is entirely appropriate to say that this is the business of the faculty, and the business of this body, as the representatives of the faculty, ultimately to take that action. So it should be an interesting year.

In addition to that, however, there are a number of somewhat more mundane if no less important matters and we have two of them to place on the floor at this time. They have been circulated. One deals with the question of reapportionment -- how Senators are elected to this body -- and the other one deals with one of our standing committees.

Dr. Smith recognized the Secretary of the Senate Council, Professor Roger Eichhorn, who presented a motion, on behalf of the Senate Council, that the Rules of the University Senate be amended to delete Section I, 4.16, which reads:

4.16 Community Colleges -- The Committee on Community Colleges provides appropriate liaison between the University System and the Community College System. It may make recommendations to the University Senate on any matter relative to the Community College System which is in the purview of the University Senate.

and to add under Section I, 3.11 Purposes and Functions of the Senate Council, an additional paragraph, numbered 11. to read:

11. Act as the official channel of communication between the University Senate and the Community College Senate on all matters of mutual concern.

This proposal had been circulated to the faculty under date of August 30, 1974.

Chairman Smith reported that this recommendation had come from the Community College Committee; that it was strongly endorsed and supported by the Community College Senate Council; and approved by the University Senate Council.

Without debate, the Senate approved the proposal to eliminate the Senate standing Committee on Community Colleges from the Rules of the University Senate and to add an additional paragraph 11. to the duties of the Senate Council under Section I, 3.11 of the Rules.

Dr. Smith again recognized Professor Eichhorn, who presented a motion, on behalf of the Senate Council that Section I, paragraph 2.21, Rules of the University Senate, relating to the apportionment of Senators to various representative units, be changed to read as follows:

- 2.21 Elected Faculty Membership - The elected membership shall be chosen from the full-time teaching and research faculty with rank of Assistant Professor or higher. The total elected faculty membership shall equal 160. (Ideally, the fraction of the total faculty Senate seats which would be apportioned to an academic unit would be obtained by using the following formula:

$$\frac{1}{2} [F_u/F_e + S_u/S_e]$$

where F_u and S_u are respectively the number of eligible faculty and the number of full-time students in the unit, and F_e and S_e are the total eligible faculty and students, respectively, in all units. Usually the portion of the total faculty seats which would be ideally assigned to a unit will not be a whole number. For each unit a certain inequity will result, this being the non-negative deviation of a unit's actual percentage from its ideal percentage of the seats. The seats shall be apportioned to the units in a manner which minimizes the total inequity, subject to the condition that each unit gets at least one seat. If two units have identical ideal percentages and the minimum would be attained by giving them different representations, then the extra seat shall be allocated to one of them by a random process.) An administrative title below that of Dean shall not automatically make the holder ineligible.

Dr. Smith explained to the Senators that during the Spring Semester, 1973, the University Senate accepted a number of major recommendations from the Jewell Committee which resulted in a reorganization of the Senate; that one of these Rules' changes dealt with the apportionment procedure whereby representative Senators were elected from various units in the University; that the Jewell recommendations were subsequently codified by the Rules Committee, and reviewed by the Senate Council; and that following the 1974 Spring annual election of new members to the Senate, it was discovered that there was a questionable inconsistency or interpretation of the Rule dealing with the apportionment procedure. It was decided that the election which had already been conducted would stand but that the Senate Council and the Rules Committee would submit an alternative apportionment procedure to the Senate so that the full Senate could decide which of the two interpretations it wished to use. He stated that the discussions in the Jewell Committee and their report to the Senate had been based on the premise that the number of Senate seats assigned to a particular unit should be obtained in two ways: half of the seats would be obtained based on the ratio of the number of faculty members in the unit to the total number of eligible faculty in the University and the other half of the seats in the unit would be obtained from the ratio of the number of full-time equivalent students in a unit to the number of full-time equivalent students in the University, but that the Rules Committee codification interpretation had added the total number of full-time students and eligible faculty in each College to the total eligible faculty and full-time students in all Colleges to determine the apportionment.

The Senate voted to accept the Jewell Committee's intent for apportionment, namely, that half of the seats would be obtained based on the ratio of the number of faculty members in the unit to the total number of eligible faculty in the University and the other half of the seats in the unit would be obtained from the ratio of the number of full-time equivalent students in a unit to the number of full-time equivalent students in the University, and that Section I, paragraph 2.21 of the Rules be changed to read as presented in the motion.

There being no further business to come before the Senate, it adjourned at 3:45 p.m.

The candidates for August 7, 1974 degrees which had been circulated to the faculty and which were alluded to by Chairman Smith as having been approved by the Senate Council, by tacit delegation of this authority by the Senate, will be made a part of the minutes of this meeting in the bound University Senate Minutes which reside in the Office of the Dean of Admissions and Registrar.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY 40506

UNIVERSITY SENATE COUNCIL
10 ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

August 29, 1974

TO: Members, University Senate

FROM: University Senate Council

RE: AGENDA ITEM: University Senate Meeting
September 9, 1974
Change in the Rules of the University Senate, Section I, 2.21, relating to the apportionment of Senators to various representative units.

During the Spring Semester, 1973, the Senate accepted a number of major recommendations from the Jewell Committee which resulted in a reorganization of the Senate. One of these Rules changes dealt with the apportionment procedure whereby representative Senators were elected from various units in the University. During the summer and fall of 1973, the Jewell recommendations were codified by the Rules Committee. These codifications were reviewed the Senate Council and are contained in the latest edition of the University Senate Rules which may or may not reach you before this document does. During the Spring Semester, 1974, the annual election of new members of the Senate was held. After completion of that election, we discovered an inconsistency or questionable interpretation in the Rules relating to the apportionment of new members to various units. At that time, it was decided that the election which had already been conducted would stand; however, the Senate Council and the Rules Committee agreed to submit an alternative apportionment to the Senate so that the full Senate could decide which of two interpretations which we presently have of this question is in fact the one the Senate wishes to use.

Prior to the Jewell Committee report and the rules changes which followed therefrom, membership in the Senate was assigned to various units in proportion to the number of faculty in the particular unit. The Jewell Committee proposed and the Senate accepted the idea that membership in the Senate should be proportional to both the number of faculty members in a unit and the number of full time equivalent students enrolled in a unit. The discussions in the Jewell Committee and their report to the Senate were based on the idea that the number of Senate seats assigned to a particular unit should be obtained in two ways: half of the seats would be obtained based on the ratio of the number of faculty members in the unit to the total number of eligible faculty in the

Agenda Item, September 9, 1974
Apportionment

University. The other half of the seats in the unit would be obtained from the ratio of the number of full time equivalent students in a unit to the number of full time equivalent students in the University. Stated mathematically, this formula would be as follows:

$$1/2 [F_u/F_e + S_u/S_e]$$

Where F_u and S_u are respectively the number of eligible faculty and the number of full time students in the unit, and F_e and S_e are the total eligible faculty and students, respectively, in all units.

However, the particular wording passed by the Senate subsequently approved by the Board of Trustees and codified in the Rules of the University Senate includes the phrase ". . . shall be proportioned equally." When the Rules Committee codified this material and advised the Secretary of the Senate concerning the number of seats to be assigned to each unit, the mathematical formula used in the second case was as follows:

Where the quantities in the formula have the same meaning as they do above, this second formula which is the one presently in the Rules, places a much greater emphasis on the student enrollment in the College than does the first proposal above which was apparently the original intent of the Jewell Committee. The second proposal is the one which is codified in the Rules and was used for the election in the spring, 1974.

If the Senate wishes to have the apportionment of Senate seats based on the first formula which was used by the Jewell Committee in its discussions, then it will be necessary to vote "yes" on the proposed Rules change which is attached. If the Senate wishes to use the interpretation which was used this past spring, and which is presently in the Rules of the University Senate, then it will be necessary for the Senate to vote "no" on the proposed Rules change.

There is a further complication. The apportionment Rules for the Senate are stated in the Governing Regulations of the University. The present Governing Regulations are, in the opinion of a number of people, consistent with the Rules change proposed here and inconsistent with the Rules of the University Senate. If this motion on the floor is defeated, we will probably want to request an 'official interpretation' of the Governing Regulations. If the present Rules of the University and the Governing Regulations statement are inconsistent but the Senate wishes to retain the procedure as presently codified, then it will be necessary to propose an amendment to the Governing Regulations changing the apportionment statement in that document.

Agenda Item, September 9, 1974
Apportionment

In summary, if the amended Rules change proposed here passes, the 1975 and subsequent elections will be conducted using the formula given first above, and no changes in the Governing Regulations will be necessary. If this proposed Rules change fails, the procedure used in the 1975 elections will be the same used in 1974 based on the second formula given above and the Council will prepare for your consideration at the next Senate meeting a recommended change in the Governing Regulations to produce consistency. In either event, those people elected during 1974 were elected during a legitimate election, conducting according to the Rules and will continue to hold their seats. The apportionment figures will be adjusted and the number of eligible seats up for election at a given time will be determined based on whichever formula the Senate approves. Where units have fewer seats under a new system than under the old, we will simply allow attrition to eliminate individuals from those positions until the unit's representation is down to the appropriate value. In no event will a Senator be deprived of his seat.

Present Rules

Section I, page 1

- 2.21 Elected Faculty Membership - The elected membership shall be chosen from the full-time teaching and research faculty with rank of Assistant Professor or higher. The total elected faculty membership shall equal 160. (Ideally, the fraction of the total faculty Senate seats which would be apportioned to an academic unit would be the ratio of the sum of the number of eligible faculty and full-time students in the unit to the total eligible faculty and students in all units. Usually, the portion of the total faculty seats which would be ideally assigned to a unit will not be a whole number. For each unit a certain inequity will result, this being the non-negative deviation of a unit's actual percentage from its ideal percentage of the seats. The seats shall be apportioned to the units in a manner which minimizes the total inequity, subject to the condition that each unit gets at least one seat. If two units have identical ideal percentages and the minimum would be attained by giving them different representations, then the extra seat shall be allocated to one of them by a random process.) An administrative title below that of Dean shall not automatically make the holder ineligible.

RE: AGENDA ITEM: University Senate Meeting
September 9, 1974
RE: Amendment to the Rules of the University
Senate to eliminate the Senate Standing Committee on Community Colleges.

For many years, the University Senate has had a standing Committee concerned with the UK Community Colleges. Early in the development of the Community College System, before it existed as a separate system, this Committee oversaw the University Senate's responsibilities to supervise the Community College System. However, for a number of years, the UK Community Colleges have operated as a separate system; in that time, they have become increasingly independent and have matured in many ways. One of them is the generation of their own Faculty Senate, their own Senate Council, and their own Rules and Procedures for operations. The University Senate, which deals with the University System, no longer has any formal responsibilities or authority over the University of Kentucky Community College System.

For the past several years, the only function of the Senate standing Committee on Community Colleges has been one of liaison to the University Community College System. Experience for the past several years indicates that a Senate standing Committee is not the most optimum mechanism for effective liaison for the Community College System.

The Senate standing Committee on Community Colleges has therefore recommended that it be abolished. The University Senate Council and the Community College Senate Council support this recommendation and suggest that future liaison between the Community College System and the University System be conducted by a joint Committee composed of members of the two Senate Councils.

PROPOSAL:

That the Rules of the University Senate be amended by deleting Section I, 4.16, and by addition in Section I, 3.11, of the following statement:

"Act as the official channel of communication between the University Senate and the Community College Senate on all matters of mutual concern."

September 12, 1974

Mrs. David E. Guttman
1852 Blairmont Court
Lexington, Kentucky 40502

Dear Mrs. Guttman:

The University Senate met Monday, September 9, 1974 and heard Memorial Resolutions read by Dr. Harry B. Kostenbauder on the death of Dr. Guttman. The Senate directed that these Resolutions be made a part of the Minutes of that meeting and that a copy be sent to you and your children with an expression of their sorrow in the loss of your husband.

The University of Kentucky has suffered a deep loss and we express our sympathy to you and your children.

Cordially,

Elbert W. Ockerman
Secretary, University Senate

DAVID E. GUTTMAN

David E. Guttman, Professor in the Division of Pharmaceutics and Pharmaceutical Analysis, of the College of Pharmacy, died of cancer June 30, 1974. He is survived by his wife, Estelle, and his three children, Steven, Jeremy, and Leslie.

A native of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, Dr. Guttman received his Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy from the College of Pharmacy, University of Alberta. His doctorate was attained at the University of Wisconsin, in 1956.

Dr. Guttman became a well known person in American Pharmacy. He served in pharmaceutical industry for several years at The Upjohn Company and Smith Kline & French Laboratories, but he spent most of his professional years as a pharmaceutical educator at Ohio State University, the State University of New York at Buffalo, and the University of Kentucky. Author of numerous scientific articles on pharmaceutics and pharmaceutical analysis, Dr. Guttman was widely recognized as an authoritative teacher and researcher in these areas. In addition to his great commitment to teaching and research, an involvement from which he derived great satisfaction and to which he gave much energy, was his work on the Revision Committee of the United States Pharmacopeia; he served the United States Pharmacopeia through this Committee, in various capacities, continuously since 1962. Dr. Guttman was an active participant on various committees of the Conference of Teachers of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. He was a member of the Executive Committee of the Academy of Pharmaceutical Sciences; and, he had served on the Committee on Analytical Profiles in the Pharmaceutical Analysis and Control Section, and as Chairman of the Basic Pharmaceutics Section of the Academy.

Dr. Guttman was widely known in American scientific pharmacy. He was respected by those who knew him not only as an exceptionally able scientist and educator, but as a fine, warm and genial person. As a tribute to this beloved colleague and friend, and to further the science to which he contributed so effectively, an effort will be made to establish at Kentucky the David E. Guttman Lectures, to be given annually by prominent pharmaceutical scientists and educators.

Thus, it is with great regret that we mark the death of this fine gentleman and outstanding scientist. The faculty of the College of Pharmacy wishes to express to Mrs. Guttman and the children its deep sympathy and sorrow in losing Dr. David E. Guttman as a ~~stimulating~~ colleague and ~~warm~~ friend.

Mr. Chairman, the Faculty of the College of Pharmacy respectfully asks that the University Senate appropriately note the loss of this member of the University's scholarly community and that these sentiments be spread upon the minutes of this meeting of the University Senate, and asks further that a copy of the same be sent to Mrs. Guttman and the children.
