BROWN BAG LUNCHEON

The next brown bag luncheon will be held at noon, Friday November 11th in the conference room on the 3rd floor of King North. Bring your winter wear and join us in the Arctic zone to hear this month's presentation by Jean Baugh entitled "Holidays for Holidayze." It's sooner than you think.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

The annual LSO Christmas bazaar (i.e. craft/bake sale) will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday Nov. 22 in the Staff Lounge of King North. Come get some goodies as well as help raise money for LSO, including the Christmas Luncheon. See you there!

CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON

This year's Christmas luncheon is tentatively scheduled for Friday, Dec. 16. Because of popular demand, we will be back in the paperback reading room this year. If you have not paid your LSO dues, now would be a good time to do so in order to avoid paying at the door.

ABOUT THE STAFF

CORRECTION -- It was inadvertently reported in last month's Wax Bean that Ruth Baynard replaced Valerie Boggs. Ruth did not replace Valerie but works along with Valerie in CSR. Laura Douglas took Valerie's old job in Periodicals/Newspapers/Microtext.

Welcome to our newest staff members: Michael Markiw, a new cataloger, and Mary Warner, a filer. Both are located in the Cataloging Department.

THIS WEEK'S INTERVIEW

KAREN CRONEIS, Mathematical Sciences Librarian and current LSO president, has been at UK since July 1981. She received her B.S. in Math Education from Ohio State and survived a year's stint as a junior/senior high school teacher. She then worked as an AV technician in a public library for a year before getting her M.S.L.S. from Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio. Before coming to Lexington, Karen was in the Peace Corps for four years, teaching calculus and coordinating library activities in Mamfe, Cameroon, West Africa. Here at UK, she is also teaching Math 123, Elementary Calculus, and taking courses toward a masters in statistics. (Now we all know FOR SURE she's weird--and she knows it too!) Among her hobbies is writing cutesy little ditties for the WAX BEAN, certainly a sign of a frustrated Harlequin writer.

Contrary to rumours that abound, the Mathematical Sciences Library

DOES exist in the basement of Patterson Office Tower and it IS possible to find the place. (Ask Terry Warth for directions.) Karen will be happy to give you the 50-cent tour when you stop by!

See, that wasn't so bad! I'm sure you can do even better! Why don't you interview yourself (and/or someone else, a dear "friend", perhaps?) and submit it to the WAX BEAN editor, Toni Powell, Agriculture Library? Be a celebrity! See your name in print! PUBLISH!!!

FROM THE STAFF

Thanks for the card, the contribution to the Cancer Society in honor of my sister Miss Edna Madison and your words of comfort. We thank you.

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME IS...

Well, we may incur the wrath of the serials catalogers, but a name change is being considered for the GREEN BEAN. As we are a democratic group, LSO has decided to run a RENAME THE GREEN BEAN contest with the appropriate prize for the winning entry (if there is one). The names will be considered by a panel of judges and the winning entry will be announced at the Christmas Luncheon. Details about the contest will be coming in future WAX BEANS (we aren't that organized folks). The contest rules are very simple -- send your entry and the rationale along with your name to Toni Powell, Agriculture Library, before December 1st. That gives the judges time to consider all the entries and fight it out. Put your thinking caps on and let's see if you can come up with a name that will be good for another 10 years.
